(d) PRELIMINARY HEARINGS. The defenses specifically enumerated (1) [to] (7) in subdivision (b) of this rule whether made in a pleading or by motion, and the motion for judgment mentioned in subdivision (c) of this rule shall be heard and determined before trial on application of any party, unless the court orders that the hearing and determination thereof be deferred until trial.

Compiler's Notes

The compiler inserted the bracketed "to" near the beginning of this subdivision.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 substituted "(7)" for "(6)" and deleted "the" before "trial" at the end of the section.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Explanation of change: "(7)" has been substituted for "(6)" to correct misnumbering and conform to the defenses enumerated in subdivision (b) [Rule 12(b)].

(g) CONSOLIDATION OF DEFENSES IN MOTION. A party who makes a motion under this rule may join with it any other motions herein provided for and then available to him. If a party makes a motion under this rule but omits therefrom any defense or objection then available to him which this rule permits to be raised by motion, he shall not thereafter make a motion based on the defense or objection so omitted, except a motion as provided in subdivision (h)(2) hereof on any of the grounds there stated.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 89, L. 1963; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967, in the first sentence, substituted "any" for "the" before "other motions"; in the second sentence, substituted "but omits therefrom any defense or objection" for "and does not include therein all defenses and objections" and "on the defense or objection" for "on any of the defenses or objections"; inserted "a motion" after "except"; and substituted "subdivision (h)(2) * * * there stated" for "subdivision (h) of this rule."

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(g) and (h), as amended 1966.

Explanation of change: Where a dilatory defense is omitted from a preanswer motion, under the language of these subdivisions [Rule 12(g) and 12(h)] the cases are divided on the question of whether the defense can be included in the answer although it is not permitted in another motion. This amendment prevents the inclusion of such omitted defenses in the answer as well as in another preanswer motion. This change follows the provisions of the federal amendment, except that "improper venue" is not included in the enumeration in (h)(1)(A), because the times for making motions for a change of venue are specified in subdivisions (b)(ii), (iii) and (iv) of the Montana Rule [12(b)].

The substance of subdivision (g) has not been changed.

(h) WAIVER OR PRESERVATION OF CERTAIN DEFENSES.

(1) A defense of lack of jurisdiction over the person, insufficiency of process, or insufficiency of service of process is waived (A) if omitted from a motion in the circumstances described in subdivision (g), or (B) if it is neither made by motion under this rule nor included in a responsive pleading or an amendment thereof permitted by Rule 15(a) to be made as a matter of course.

(2) A defense of failure to state a claim upon which relief can be granted, a defense of failure to join a party indispensable under Rule 19, and an objection of failure to state a legal defense to a claim may be made in any pleading permitted or ordered under Rule 7(a), or by motion for judgment on the pleadings, or at the trial on the merits.

(3) Whenever it appears by suggestion of the parties or otherwise that the court lacks jurisdiction of the subject matter, the court shall dismiss the action.

(g) CROSS-CLAIM AGAINST COPARTY.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 13(h), as amended 1966.

Explanation of change: The amendment to Rule 13(h) incorporates by direct reference the revised criteria and procedures of Rule 19, as amended. The amendment also expressly refers to Rule 20 thus correcting an existing inadequacy by calling attention to the fact that a party pleading a counterclaim or a cross-claim may join additional persons when the conditions for permissive joinder of parties under Rule 20 are satisfied. Hereafter, for the purpose of determining who must or may be joined as additional parties to a counterclaim or cross-claim, the party pleading the claim is to be regarded as a plaintiff and the additional parties as plaintiffs or defendants as the case may be, and amended Rules 19 and 20 are to be applied in the usual fashion.

Rule 14. Third-party practice.

(a) WHEN DEFENDANT MAY BRING IN THIRD PARTY.

Insurance Coverage

Federal court dismissed action for declaratory judgment declaring obligations of casualty insurance company under an automobile casualty insurance policy which had allegedly been canceled prior to the time of the accident involving the automobile of the insured sued for injuries resulting from the accident, since the issues which did not involve federal law, could be solved in the state court wherein third-party complaint under this rule had been filed by the insured against the insurer in which the insured sought to hold the insurer to the terms of the policy, where the state court could dispose of the coverage problems first under M. R. Civ. P., Rule 42(b). Western Cas-

Discretionary Power of Court

Where it was very clear that the supreme court, upon a former appeal of the same case, was unanimous in its decision to affirm the jury verdict and as to the ineffectiveness of additur order, the fact that the supreme court affirmed the jury verdict and thereby finally determined the amount of the award withdrew any discretion that might have been otherwise possessed by the trial judge to allow amendments to the pleadings. State acting by and through State Highway Commission v. Schmidt, 148 M 316, 420 P 2d 153, 155.

Trial court's discretionary power to grant leave to amend pleadings may be limited by a decision of the supreme court upon a former appeal of the same case. State acting by and through State Highway Commission v. Schmidt, 148 M 316, 420 P 2d 153, 155.

Right to Amendment of Course

The motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim is not a responsive pleading within the provisions of this rule that complaint may be amended once as a matter of course before a responsive pleading is served. Rambur v. Diehl Lumber Co., 144 M 84, 394 P 2d 745, 748.

(c) RELATION BACK OF AMENDMENTS. Whenever the claim or defense asserted in the amended pleading arose out of the conduct, transaction, or occurrence set forth or attempted to be set forth in the original pleading, the amendment relates back to the date of the original pleading. An amendment changing the party against whom a claim is asserted relates back if the foregoing provision is satisfied and, within the period provided by law for commencing the action against him, the party to be brought in by amendment (1) has received such notice of the institution of the action that he will not be prejudiced in maintaining his defense on the merits, and (2) knew or should have known that, but for a mistake concerning the identity of the proper party, the action would have been brought against him.

The requirements of clauses (1) and (2) hereof are satisfied with respect to any city, village, town, school district, county, or public agency, board or officer of such public bodies, and with respect to the state or any state board, agency or officer thereof, to be brought into the action as defendant, if process is served as provided by Rule 4D(2)(g) and (h) for service upon such defendant.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 added the last sentence of the first paragraph and added the second paragraph.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(c), as amended 1966.

Explanation of change: This amendment is designed to avoid problems which have arisen in instances in which the complaint named the wrong defendant and the statute of limitations expired prior to an amendment correcting the error. Where the newly named defendant received notice of the action and knew or should have known that he was the intended defendant, it seems unjust to prohibit relation back.

The most serious difficulties under the Federal Rules have been in suits against the United States or an agency or officer thereof. The second paragraph of the federal amendment contains specific provisions for such cases and the second paragraph of this amendment adapts the federal provision to suits where the true defendant is the state or a political subdivision thereof.

The change will also further the objective of the provision of Rule 25(d) for automatic substitution of the successor public officer.

Amendment after Running of Limitations

If original complaint is timely filed, amended complaint dealing with same transaction set out in original complaint will relate back to original complaint, even though amended complaint changes legal theory of action, adds claim arising out of same transaction or states facts more specifically, and even though amended complaint is filed after running of statute of limitations. Rozan v. Rosen, 150 M 121, 431 P 2d 870.

(d) SUPPLEMENTAL PLEADINGS.

Notice

Trial court was justified in refusing to grant defendants' motion to amend their answer by adding an affirmative defense of compromise and settlement, even though it was represented that some sort of compromise settlement had been reached after filing of complaint and answer, since defendants had not given plaintiffs notice of this motion as required by this section. Montgomery v. Gehring, 145 M 278, 400 P 2d 403.

Rule 16. Pretrial procedure—Formulating issues.

Discretion of Court

Pretrial procedure is optional, it being left to trial court's discretion whether to utilize procedure and to what extent. Lenz v. Mehrens, 149 M 394, 427 P 2d 297.

Rule 17. Parties plaintiff and defendant—Capacity.

(a) REAL PARTY IN INTEREST. Every action shall be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest. An executor, administrator, guardian, bailee, trustee of an express trust, a party with whom or in whose name a contract has been made for the benefit of another, or a party authorized by statute may sue in his own name without joining with him the party for whose benefit the action is brought; and when a statute of the state of Montana so provides, an action for the use or benefit of another shall be brought in the name of the state of Montana. No action shall be dismissed on the ground that it is not prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest until a reasonable time has been allowed after objection for ratification of commencement of the action by, or joinder or substitution of, the real party in interest; and such ratification, joinder, or substitution shall have the same effect as if the action had been commenced in the name of the real party in interest.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 deleted the conjunction "but" between the present first and second sentences and made them separate sentences; and added the third sentence.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

A bailee is added to the list of real parties in interest; and a minor change is made in the text to make it clear that the specific instances enumerated are not exceptions to, but illustrations of, the rule, and carry no negative implications.

The provision that no action shall be dismissed on the ground that it is not prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest until a reasonable time has been allowed, after the objection has been raised, for ratification, etc., keeps pace with modern decisions which, in the interests of justice, are inclined to be lenient when an honest mistake has been made in choosing the party in whose name the action is filed.

(a) JOINDER OF CLAIMS. A party asserting a claim to relief as an original claim, counterclaim, cross-claim, or third-party claim, may join, either as independent or as alternate claims, as many claims either legal or equitable or both as he has against an opposing party or co-party.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 18(a), as amended 1966.

Explanation of change: Under the prior rule some courts have inferred that the standards of Rules 19, 20, and 22 relate to and limit Rule 18(a) in multiple party cases. Thus, Rule 20(a) resulted in a holding that, unless each claim arose from a single transaction or series of transactions and involved a question common to all defendants, there could be no joinder. Federal Housing Admr. v. Christianson, 26 F Supp 419 (D. Conn. 1939). This amendment is designed to overcome such decisions and to state clearly that a party asserting a claim (original claim, counterclaim, cross-claim, third party claim) may join as many claims as he has against an opposing party regardless of the fact that there are multiple parties. The joinder is subject to the court's power to direct appropriate procedure for trying the claims. See Rules 42(b), 20(b), 21. Joinder of parties is governed by other rules operating independently.

In addition to the changes in the Federal Rules the words "or co-party" are added to the Montana amendment for consistency with the provisions of this amendment for cross-claims and Rule 13(g).

Divorce Action

Where wife brought suit for divorce and husband filed cross complaint for adjudication of his right to property acquired by their joint effort, the general equity powers of the court were properly invoked by joining in a single action the prayer for divorce and adjudication of the dispute between the parties concerning property rights. Tolson v. Tolson, 145 M 87, 399 P 2d 754.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW*Assignor Bringing Action

Assignee of one-half interest of an overriding royalty agreement with plaintiff-assignor and defendant could not be joined as a party plaintiff in a suit to compel defendant to pay the other half interest to plaintiff whether assignor was a trustee for the assignee or they were tenants in common. Lowe & Lynn v. Flank Oil Co., 144 M 499, 398 P 2d 608.

Rule 19. Joinder of persons needed for just adjudication.

(a) PERSONS TO BE JOINED IF FEASIBLE. A person who is subject to service of process shall be joined as a party in the action if (1) in his absence complete relief cannot be accorded among those already parties, or (2) he claims an interest relating to the subject of the action and is so situated that the disposition of the action in his absence may (i) as a practical matter impair or impede his ability to protect that interest or (ii) leave any of the persons already parties subject to a substantial risk of incurring double, multiple, or otherwise inconsistent obligations by reason of his claimed interest. If he has not been so joined, the court shall order that he be made a party. If he should join as a plaintiff but refuses to do so, he may be made a defendant, or, in a proper case, an involuntary plaintiff. If the joined party objects to venue and his joinder would render the venue of the action improper, he shall be dismissed from the action.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 rewrote this rule. For text of former rule, see parent volume.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 19, as amended 1966.

Explanation of change: This is a substitution for existing Rule 19 in its entirety. The changes are intended to make clear that whenever feasible the persons materially interested in the subject of an action should be joined as parties so that they may be heard and a complete disposition made. When this comprehensive joinder cannot be accomplished the case should be examined pragmatically and a choice made between the alternatives of proceeding with the action in the absence of particular interested persons, and dismissing the action.

Even if the court is mistaken in its decision to proceed in the absence of an interested person, it does not by that token deprive itself of the power to adjudicate as between the parties already before it through proper service of process. But the court can make a legally binding adjudication only between the parties actually joined in the action. It is true that an adjudication between the parties before the court may on occasion adversely affect the absent person as a practical matter, or leave a party exposed to a later inconsistent recovery by the absent person. These are factors which should be considered in deciding whether the action should proceed, or should rather be dismissed; but they do not themselves negate the court's power to adjudicate as between the parties who have been joined.

The change straightens out difficulties in the wording of the old rule. The word "indispensable" is used only in a conclusory sense, that is, a person is "regarded as indispensable" when he cannot be made a party and, upon consideration of the factors mentioned in subdivision (b), it is determined that in his absence it would be preferable to dismiss the action, rather than to retain it. The factors mentioned in subdivision (b) of the rule are not intended to be exclusive and others may be applicable in particular situations. The court is to determine whether in equity and good conscience the action should proceed among the parties already before it, or should be dismissed.

Injured Party in Dispute between Insurers

Party who brought original action for injuries but who was not party to either of policies of insurance involved and was only indirectly interested in outcome of litigation between two insurance companies was improper party in declaratory action to determine which of two insurance companies was liable. National Farmers Union Property & Casualty Co. v. General Guaranty Ins. Co., 150 M 297, 434 P 2d 708.

(b) DETERMINATION BY COURT OF WHENEVER JOINDER NOT FEASIBLE. If a person as described in subdivision (a)(1)-(2) hereof cannot be made a party, the court shall determine whether in equity and good conscience the action should proceed among the parties before it, or should be dismissed, the absent person being thus regarded as indispensable. The factors to be considered by the court include: first, to what extent a judgment rendered in the person's absence might be prejudicial to him or those already parties; second, the extent to which, by protective provisions in the judgment, by the shaping of relief, or other measures, the prejudice can be lessened or avoided; third, whether a judgment rendered in the person's absence will be adequate; fourth, whether the plaintiff will have an adequate remedy if the action is dismissed for nonjoinder.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 rewrote Rule 19 in general and added Rule 19(d) as a separate subdivision of the rule.

Rule 20. Permissive joinder of parties.

(a) PERMISSIVE JOINDER. All persons may join in one action as plaintiffs if they assert any right to relief jointly, severally, or in the alternative in respect of or arising out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences and if any question of law or fact common to all these persons will arise in the action. All persons may be joined in one action as defendants if there is asserted against them jointly, severally, or in the alternative, any right to relief in respect of or arising out of the same transaction, occurrence or series of transactions or occurrences and if any question of law or fact common to all defendants will arise in the action. A plaintiff or defendant need not be interested in obtaining or defending against all the relief demanded. Judgment may be given for one or more of the plaintiffs according to their respective rights to relief, and against one or more defendants according to their respective liabilities.

This amendment fits into the amendment to Rule 18, and clarifies the antecedent of the word "them."

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 substituted "these persons" for "of them" near the end of the first sentence; and "defendants" for "of them" near the end of the second sentence.

The scope of this rule is procedural in nature and removes obstacles to joinder without affecting the substantive rights of the parties, so that in a suit by real estate agents against buyer and seller, judgment for plaintiff would not, in effect, make the buyer a party to a prior contract between the agents and the seller. *Wheat v. Rule 23. Class actions.

(a) PREREQUISITES TO A CLASS ACTION. One or more members of a class may sue or be sued as representative parties on behalf of all only if (1) the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable, (2) there are questions of law or fact common to the class, (3) the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class, and (4) the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class.

Compiler's Notes

The order of September 29, 1967 revised Rule 23 in general and rewrote Rule 23(a) in particular. For text of former Rule 23(a), see parent volume.

(b) CLASS ACTIONS MAINTAINABLE. An action may be maintained as a class action if the prerequisites of subdivision (a) are satisfied, and in addition: (1) the prosecution of separate actions by or against individual members of the class would create a risk of

(A) inconsistent or varying adjudications with respect to individual members of the class which would establish incompatible standards of conduct for the party opposing the class, or

(B) adjudications with respect to individual members of the class which would as a practical matter be dispositive of the interests of the other members not parties to the adjudications or substantially impair or impede their ability to protect their interests; or to the measures which can be taken to assure the fair conduct of these actions. It is designed to clear up difficulties in drawing distinctions between joint, common, secondary or several rights, and in defining categories in terms of "true," "hybrid," and "spurious," and to give a better guide to the extent and binding effect of judgments.

(2) the party opposing the class has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the class, thereby making appropriate final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief with respect to the class as a whole; or (3) the court finds that the questions of law or fact common to the members of the class predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, and that a class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy. The matters pertinent to the findings include: (A) the interest of members of the class in individually controlling the prosecution or defense of separate actions; (B) the extent and nature of any litigation concerning the controversy already commenced by or against members of the class; (C) the desirability or undesirability of concentrating the litigation of the claims in the particular forum; (D) the difficulties likely to be encountered in the management of a class action.

(c) DETERMINATION BY ORDER WHETHER CLASS ACTION TO BE MAINTAINED—NOTICE—JUDGMENT—ACTIONS CONDUCTED PARTIALLY AS CLASS ACTIONS.

(1) As soon as practicable after the commencement of an action brought as a class action, the court shall determine by order whether it is to be so maintained. An order under this subdivision may be conditional, and may be altered or amended before the decision on the merits.

(2) In any class action maintained under subdivision (b)(3), the court shall direct to the members of the class the best notice practicable under the circumstances, including individual notice to all members who can be identified through reasonable effort. The notice shall advise each member that (A) the court will exclude him from the class if he so requests by a specified date; (B) the judgment, whether favorable or not, will include all members who do not request exclusion; and (C) any member who does not request exclusion may, if he desires, enter an appearance through his counsel.

(3) The judgment in an action maintained as a class action under subdivision (b)(1) or (b)(2), whether or not favorable to the class, shall include and describe those whom the court finds to be members of the class. The judgment in an action maintained as a class action under subdivision (b)(3), whether or not favorable to the class, shall include and specify or describe those to whom the notice provided in subdivision (c)(2) was directed, and who have not requested exclusion, and whom the court finds to be members of the class.

(4) When appropriate (A) an action may be brought or maintained as a class action with respect to particular issues, or (B) a class may be divided into subclasses and each subclass treated as a class, and the provisions of this rule shall then be construed and applied accordingly.

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 23, as amended 1966.

Explanation of change: In order to avoid the necessity for awaiting final judgment before obtaining review by the supreme court of an order under subdivision (c)(1) refusing to permit a class action to be maintained as such, Rule (1)(b) of the Montana Rules of Appellate Civil Procedure is amended to make such an order appealable. There does not seem to be a corresponding necessity for direct appeal, as distinct from appeal from the final judgment, where the court determines that the action may be maintained as a class action.

(d) ORDER IN CONDUCT OF ACTIONS. In the conduct of actions to which this rule applies, the court may make appropriate orders:

(1) determining the course of proceedings or prescribing measures to prevent undue repetition or complication in the presentation of evidence or argument; (2) requiring, for the protection of the members of the class or otherwise for the fair conduct of the action, that notice be given in such manner as the court may direct to some or all of the members of any step in the action, or of the proposed extent of the judgment, or of the opportunity of members to signify whether they consider the representation fair and adequate, to intervene and present claims or defenses, or otherwise to come into the action; (3) imposing conditions on the representative parties or on intervenors; (4) requiring that the pleadings be amended to eliminate therefrom allegations as to representation of absent persons, and that the action proceed accordingly; (5) dealing with similar procedural matters. The orders may be combined with an order under Rule 16, and may be altered or amended as may be desirable from time to time.

(f) SECURITY FOR COSTS. Security for costs and charges, which may be awarded against a representative party, may be required by an opposing party. When required, all proceedings in the action must be stayed until an undertaking, executed by two or more persons, is filed with the clerk, to the effect that they will pay such costs and charges as may be awarded against the representative party by judgment, or in the progress of the action, not exceeding the sum of one thousand dollars. A new or an additional undertaking may be ordered by the court or judge, upon proof that the original undertaking is insufficient security, and proceedings in the action stayed until such new or additional undertaking is executed and filed.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Compiler's Notes

The order of September 29, 1967 re-wrote Rule 23 generally and added Rules 23(e) and 23(f).

Explanation of change: In addition to the changes of the Federal Rule [23], subdivision (f) is added to the Montana Rules in order to afford protection against selection of a representative party who may not be responsible for costs and charges.

Rule 23.1. Derivative actions by shareholders.

In a derivative action brought by one or more shareholders or members to enforce a right of a corporation or of an unincorporated association, the corporation or association having failed to enforce a right which may properly be asserted by it, the complaint shall allege with particularity the efforts, if any, made by the plaintiff to obtain the action he desires from the directors or comparable authority and, if necessary, from the shareholders or members, and the reasons for his failure to obtain the action or for not making the effort. The derivative action may not be maintained if it appears that the plaintiff does not fairly and adequately represent the interests of the shareholders or members similarly situated in enforcing the right of the corporation or association. The action shall not be dismissed or compromised without the approval of the court, and notice of the proposed dismissal or compromise shall be given to shareholders or members in such manner as the court directs.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 23.1, as adopted 1966.

Explanation of change: A derivative action by a shareholder of a corporation or by a member of an unincorporated association has distinctive aspects which require the special provisions set forth in the new rule. The next-to-the-last sentence recognizes that the question of adequacy of representation may arise when the plaintiff is one of a group of shareholders or members.

The court has inherent power to provide for the conduct of the proceedings in a derivative action, including the power to determine the course of the proceedings and require that any appropriate notice be given to shareholders or members.

The Montana amendment conforms to the 1966 federal amendment, except that it omits the federal provision that the complaint be verified and allege "(1) that the plaintiff was a shareholder or member at the time of the transaction of which he complains or that his share or membership thereafter devolved on him by operation of law, and (2) that the action is not a collusive one to confer jurisdiction on a court of the United States which it would not otherwise have." No reason is apparent for requiring a verified complaint in this type of action and not in others, and the allegations required by the federal amendment and omitted from this proposal appear to be designed to prevent abuse of federal jurisdiction and to be unnecessary in state practice.

Rule 23.2. Actions relating to unincorporated associations.

An action brought by or against the members of an unincorporated association as a class by naming certain members as representative parties may be maintained only if it appears that the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the association and its members. In the conduct of the action the court may make appropriate orders corresponding with those described in Rule 23(d), and the procedure for dismissal or compromise of the action shall correspond with that provided in Rule 23(e).

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Advisory Committee's Note

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 23.2, as adopted 1966.

Explanation of change: Although an action by or against representatives of the membership of an unincorporated association has often been viewed as a class action, the real or main purpose of this characterization has been to give "entity treatment" to the association when for formal reasons it cannot sue or be sued as a jural person under Rule 17. Rule 23.2 deals separately with these actions, referring where appropriate to Rule 23.

Rule 24. Intervention.

(a) INTERVENTION OF RIGHT. Upon timely application anyone shall be permitted to intervene in an action: (1) when a statute confers an unconditional right to intervene; or (2) when the applicant claims an interest relating to the property or transaction which is the subject of the action and he is so situated that the disposition of the action may as a practical matter impair or impede his ability to protect that interest, unless the applicant's interest is adequately represented by existing parties.

History: En. Sec. 24, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 rewrote item (2), substituting it for former items (2) and (3), allowing intervention when representation of applicant's interest might be inadequate and he might be bound by judgment and when applicant would be adversely affected by court's disposition of property.

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 24(a), as amended 1966.

Explanation of change: Subdivision (2) is changed because a class member who claims that his "representative" does not adequately represent him, and is able to establish that proposition with sufficient probability, should not, as was required under the prior rule, be put to the risk of having a judgment entered in the action which by its terms extends to him, and be obliged to test the validity of the judgment as applied to his interest by a later collateral attack. Rather he should, as general rule, be entitled to intervene in the action.

The amendment provides that an applicant is entitled to intervene in an action when his position is comparable to that of a person under Rule 19(a)(2)(i), as amended, unless his interest is already adequately represented in the action by existing parties. The Rule 19(a)(2)(i) criterion imports practical consideration, and the deletion of the "bound" language similarly frees the rule from undue preoccupation with strict considerations of res judicata.

The representation whose adequacy comes into question under the amended rule is not confined to formal representation like that provided by a trustee for his beneficiary or a representative party in a class action for a member of the class. A party to an action may provide practical representation to the absentee seeking intervention although no formal relationship exists between them, and the adequacy of this practical representation will then have to be weighed.

Subdivision (3) is deleted for if an absentee would be substantially affected in a practical sense by the determination made in an action, he should, as a general rule, be entitled to intervene, and his right to do so should not depend on whether there is a fund to be distributed or otherwise disposed of as was required under that subdivision. Intervention of right is here seen to be a kind of counterpart to Rule 19(a)(2)(i) on joinder of persons needed for a just adjudication: where, upon motion of a party in an action, an absentee should be joined so that he may protect his interest which as a practical matter may be substantially impaired by the disposition of the action, he ought to have a right to intervene in the action on his own motion.

(c) PROCEDURE. A person desiring to intervene shall serve a motion to intervene upon the parties as provided in Rule 5. The motion shall state the grounds therefor and shall be accompanied by a pleading setting forth the claim or defense for which intervention is sought. The same procedure shall be followed when a statute gives a right to intervene. When the constitutionality of an act of the legislative assembly affecting the public interest is drawn in question in any action to which neither the state nor any agency or officer thereof is a party, the court shall notify the attorney general of the state and the attorney general may within 20 days thereafter intervene in the same manner on behalf of the state.

Rule 28. Persons before whom depositions may be taken.

(b) IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES. In a foreign country, depositions may be taken (1) on notice before a person authorized to administer oaths in the place in which the examination is held, either by the law thereof or by the law of the United States, or (2) before a person commissioned by the court, and a person so commissioned shall have the power by virtue of his commission to administer any necessary oath and take testimony, or (3) pursuant to letter rogatory. A commission or a letter rogatory shall be issued on application and notice, and on terms that are just and appropriate. It is not requisite to the issuance of a commission or a letter rogatory that the taking of the deposition in any other manner is impracticable or inconvenient; and both a commission and a letter rogatory may be issued in proper cases. A notice or commission may designate the person before whom the deposition is to be taken either by name or descriptive title. A letter rogatory may be addressed "To the Appropriate Authority in [here name the country]." Evidence obtained in response to a letter rogatory need not be excluded merely for the reason that it is not a verbatim transcript or that the testimony was not taken under oath or for any similar departure from the requirements for depositions taken within the United States under these Rules.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 deleted "state or" after "In a foreign"; substituted "may" for "shall" after "depositions"; and rewrote the remainder of the Rule. For text of former Rule, see parent volume.

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 28(b), as amended 1963.

Explanation of change: The amendment of clause (1) is designed to facilitate depositions in foreign countries by enlarging the class of persons before whom the depositions may be taken on notice.

It makes clear that the appointment of a person by commission in itself confers power upon him to administer any necessary oath.

It negates the judicial requirement sometimes stated that letters rogatory will not issue unless the use of a notice or commission is shown to be impossible or impractical. It permits a sound choice between depositions under a letter rogatory and on notice or by commission in the light of all the circumstances.

In executing a letter rogatory the courts of other countries may be expected to follow their customary procedure for taking testimony. The last sentence of the amended subdivision provides, contrary to the implications of some authority, that evidence recorded in such a fashion need not be excluded on that account. Whether or to what degree the value or weight of the evidence may be affected by the method of taking or recording the testimony is left for determination according to the circumstances of the particular case.

(e) DEPOSITION TO BE TAKEN IN SISTER STATES AND FOREIGN COUNTRIES FOR USE IN THIS STATE. Whenever the deposition of any person is to be taken in a sister state or a foreign country, or any other jurisdiction, foreign or domestic, for use in this state, pursuant either to notice or stipulation, the Clerk or equivalent officer of any Court having jurisdiction at the place where the witness is to be served or the deposition taken, upon proof that notice has been duly served for taking of the deposition or that the parties have stipulated to such taking, may issue the necessary subpoenas or equivalent court instruments to require such witness to attend for the taking of the deposition at the time and place in the sister state or foreign country, or any other jurisdiction, foreign or domestic, designated in the notice or stipulation.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-8, Sept. 10, 1968, eff. Jan. 1, 1969.

Advisory Committee's Note

Officials in some sister states have insisted upon some specific authorization for the issuance of subpoenas by them for use in Montana litigation. The amendment provides that authority.

Rule 30. Depositions upon oral examination.*(b) ORDERS FOR THE PROTECTION OF PARTIES AND DEPONENTS.*Limitation of Examination

In a libel action it was not error for the trial judge to issue a minute entry order refusing to require the defendant to answer questions submitted by the plaintiff as the court has the power to limit the examination and protect him from annoyance, embarrassment or oppression.

(f) CERTIFICATION AND FILING BY OFFICER—COPIES—NOTICE OF FILING. (1) The officer shall certify on the deposition that the witness was duly sworn by him and that the deposition is a true record of the testimony given by the witness. He shall then securely seal the deposition in an envelope endorsed with the title of the action and marked "Deposition of (here insert name of witness)" and shall promptly file it with the court in which the action is pending or send it by registered or certified mail to the clerk thereof for filing.

This proposal is patterned after the 1963 federal amendment, and conforms to provisions of Rule 4 which permit the use of certified mail as an alternative to the use of registered mail.

Rule 33. Interrogatories to parties.

Any party may serve upon any adverse party, who has been served with process or who has appeared, written interrogatories to be answered by the party served or, if the party served is a public or private corporation or a partnership or association, by any officer or agent, who shall furnish such information as is available to the party. A party serving interrogatories upon an adverse party shall file the same in the court in which the action is pending. The interrogatories shall be answered separately and fully in writing under oath. The party answering the interrogatories shall set forth a verbatim re-copy of each of the interrogatories, followed by the answer thereto, and shall file the answers in the court in which the action is pending. The answers shall be signed by the person making them; and the party upon whom the interrogatories have been served for answer shall serve a copy of the answers upon every party who has made written appearance within 20 days after the service of interrogatories upon him, unless the court, on motion and notice and for good cause shown, enlarges or shortens the time. Within 20 days after service of interrogatories a party may serve written objections thereto together with a notice of hearing the objections at the earliest practicable time. Answers to interrogatories to which objection is made shall be deferred until the objections are determined.

Interrogatories may relate to any matters which can be inquired into under Rule 26(b), and the answers may be used to the same extent as provided in Rule 26(d) for the use of the deposition of a party. Interrogatories may be served after a deposition has been taken, and a deposition may be sought after interrogatories have been answered, but the court, on motion of the deponent or the party interrogated, may make such protective order as justice may require. The number of interrogatories or of sets of interrogatories to be served is not limited except as justice requires to protect the party from annoyance, expense, embarrassment, or oppression. The provisions of Rule 30(b) are applicable for the protection of the party from whom answers to interrogatories are sought under this rule.

Amendments

The amendment of April 1, 1965 added a third paragraph which read: "A party desiring to serve interrogatories upon an adverse party shall file and serve a copy thereof upon every other party. The party answering the interrogatories shall file the answers in the court in which the action is pending and serve a copy thereof upon every other party."

The amendment of November 28, 1966, in the first paragraph, inserted the second and fourth sentences and substituted "for answer shall serve a copy of the answers upon every party who has made a written appearance" for "shall serve a copy of the answers on the party submitting the interrogatories" in the fifth sentence; and deleted the paragraph added in 1965.

Commission Note to 1965 Amendment

This amendment is consistent with Rule 5. The requirement of service of interrogatories and answers upon all other parties to the litigation may save other parties additional time and effort in duplication of interrogatories resultant from lack of knowledge of what other parties have done. The requirement of filing of answers makes them available to judges who may want to see them.

Commission Note to 1966 Amendment

To put the interrogatories and answers into one document for convenience of use, and to remove any obstacle to the service of interrogatories which may result from the requirement of service upon "every other party."

Scope

Although this section should be liberally construed to make all relevant facts available to parties in advance of trial and to reduce the possibilities of surprise and unfair advantage, it cannot become a weapon for punishment or forfeiture, or an instrument for the avoidance of a trial on the merits. *Wolfe v. (b) REPORT OF FINDINGS. (1). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(2) Waiver of Privilege. Either by (1) requesting and obtaining a report of the examination ordered as provided herein, or by taking the deposition of the examiner, or by (2) commencing an action which places in issue the mental or physical condition of the party bringing the action, the party examined, or the party bringing the action, waives any privilege he may have in that action or any other action involving the same controversy, regarding the testimony of every person who has treated, prescribed, consulted, or examined or may thereafter treat, consult, prescribe or examine, such party in respect to the same mental or physical condition; but such waiver shall not apply to any treatment, consultation, prescription or examination for any mental or physical condition not related to the pending action. Upon motion seasonably made, and upon notice and for good cause shown, the court in which the action is pending, may make an order prohibiting the introduction in evidence of any such portion of the medical record of any person as may not be relevant to the issues in the pending action.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 rewrote clause (2). For text of former rule, see parent volume.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

This amendment extends the existing modification by Rule 35 of subparagraph 4 of R. C. M. 1947, sec. 93-701-4. The purpose is to facilitate the obtaining of competent medical testimony and the use of testimony of the original attending physician, especially in personal injury cases. The proposal coincides with the view recommended in Wigmore on Evidence (McNaughton rev. 1961), Vol. VIII, secs. 2380 and 2380a.

Rule 36. Admission of facts and of genuineness of documents.

The intent of this rule is that the party served shall make a sworn statement of the truth of any relevant matters of fact set forth in the request for admissions. Daniels v. Paddock, 145 M 207, 399 P 2d 740.

Discretion of Trial Court

Where defendant failed to file admissions on plaintiff's request and was not permitted to file them later or to reopen hearing on summary judgment, whether defendant's admissions, which were signed and verified by defendant's counsel as being made from a letter received from the defendant, met the intent of this rule was a matter within the discretion of the trial court. Daniels v. Paddock, 145 M 207, 399 P 2d 740.

Failure To Answer

Judge's Discretion

It was not an abuse of discretion for trial judge to allow witness for oil refinery to testify as to condition of ground about railroad tracks where plaintiffswitchman crushed his hand beneath wheel of oil tank car when he allegedly slipped in oil or grease on concrete walkway of refinery in trying to mount the train, even though railroad had not included witness' name in its answer to plaintiff's interrogatories, since witness was the oil refinery's and plaintiff, knowing oil refinery had been joined as a third-party defendant, had failed to seek disclosure from it, or a pretrial conference, and had allowed other witnesses to testify to the same matter at trial. *Wolfe v. (b) INVOLUNTARY DISMISSAL—EFFECT THEREOF. For failure of the plaintiff to prosecute or to comply with these rules or any order of court, a defendant may move for dismissal of an action or of any claim against him. After the plaintiff, in an action tried by the court without a jury, has completed the presentation of his evidence, the defendant, without waiving his right to offer evidence in the event the motion is not granted, may move for a dismissal on the ground that upon the facts and the law the plaintiff has shown no right to relief. The court as trier of the facts may then determine them and render judgment against the plaintiff or may decline to render any judgment until the close of all the evidence. If the court renders judgment on the merits against the plaintiff, the court shall make findings as provided in Rule 52(a). Unless the court in its order for dismissal otherwise specifies, a dismissal under this subdivision and any dismissal not provided for in this rule, other than a dismissal for lack of jurisdiction or failure to join a party under Rule 19, operates as an adjudication upon the merits.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 inserted "in an action tried by the court without a jury" before "has completed" in the second sentence and deleted the same phrase from the beginning of the third sentence; and, in the last sentence, substituted "failure to join a party under Rule 19" for "for lack of an indispensable party."

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 41(b), as amended 1963 and 1966.

Explanation of change: Under the prior text of the second sentence of this subdivision [Rule 41(b)], the motion for dismissal at the close of the plaintiff's evidence may be made in a case tried to a jury as well as in a case tried without a jury. But when made in a jury-tried case, this motion overlaps the motion for a directed verdict under Rule 50(a), which is also available in the same situation. This overlap has caused confusion. Accordingly it is amended to provide that the motion for dismissal at the close of the plaintiff's evidence shall apply only to nonjury cases (including cases tried with an advisory jury). Hereafter the correct motion in jury-tried cases would be a motion for a directed verdict. This amendment involves no change of substance.

The first sentence of Rule 41(b), providing for dismissal for failure to prosecute or to comply with the Rules or any order of court, and the general provisions of the last sentence remain applicable in jury as well as nonjury cases.

This amendment also changes the last sentence of this subdivision to accord with the amendment to Rule 19.

Failure To Prosecute

Case was properly dismissed for failure of plaintiff to prosecute where nothing was done to bring it to trial for over twelve years despite fact that defendant had shown no injury by delay, that attorneys had agreed to get together and try to work out agreement and that defendant had filed cross-complaint which was defensive in character. Cremer v. Braaten, 151 M 18, 438 P 2d 553.

Trial court abused discretion in dismissing action for failure of plaintiff to prosecute where case was returned by supreme court to lower court for new trial but trial court failed to set it for trial at next jury term as per order of supreme court. Jangula v. United States Rubber Co., 149 M 241, 425 P 2d 319.

Failure To State a Claim

This rule has no application to a motion to dismiss for failure to state a claim under Rule 12(b). Rambur v. Diehl Lumber Co., 144 M 84, 394 P 2d 745, 750.

Findings and Conclusions

Lower court ruling that "no cause of action or claim exists or has been proven" and "the same is hereby dismissed" was sufficient compliance with the Rules despite plaintiff's contention that findings of fact and conclusions of law did not meet requirements of Rules. Mondakota Gas Co. v. Becker, 151 M 513, 445 P 2d 745.

Insufficiency of Evidence

District court erred in not granting defendant's motions for dismissal and directed verdict where evidence, viewed in light most favorable to plaintiff, did not support verdict for him. MacDonald v. Protestant Episcopal Church, 150 M 332, 435 P 2d 369.

Defendant was entitled to have motion for involuntary dismissal granted where plaintiff wholly failed to establish prima facie case of negligence. Knowlton v. Sandaker, 150 M 438, 436 P 2d 98.

References

Whitcraft v. Semenza, 145 M 97, 399 P 2d 757.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Insufficient Evidence

Where plaintiff's property was damaged by the dropping of fire retardant from airplanes and at the trial he failed to show the lack of proper care under the circumstances, the trial court properly nonsuited plaintiff upon defendant's motion. Stocking v. Johnson Flying Service, 143 M 61, 387 P 2d 312.

No cause should be withdrawn from the jury unless evidence is susceptible of but one construction by reasonable men and that in favor of the defendant, or the evidence is in such condition that if the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, it would be the court's duty to set it aside. Jackson v. William Dingwall Co., 145 M 127, 399 P 2d 236.

Trial court properly granted directed verdict for defendant, employer and ranch foreman, where plaintiff, a ranch hand, was injured while riding atop a bobsled loaded with hay, since plaintiff failed to make out a prima facie case that tipping of bobsled was due to negligence. Jackson v. William Dingwall Co., 145 M 127, 399 P 2d 236.

(e) FAILURE TO SERVE SUMMONS. No action heretofore or hereafter commenced shall be further prosecuted as to any defendant who has not appeared in the action or been served in the action as herein provided within three years after the action has been commenced, and no further proceedings shall be had therein, and all actions heretofore or hereafter commenced shall be dismissed by the court in which the same shall have been commenced, on its own motion, or on the motion of any party interested therein, whether named in the complaint as a party or not, unless summons shall have been issued within one year, or unless summons issued within one year shall have been served and return made and filed with the clerk of the court within three years after the commencement of said action, or unless appearance has been made by the defendant or defendants therein within said three years. When more than one defendant has been named in an action, the action may within the discretion of the trial court be further prosecuted against any defendant who has appeared within three years, or upon whom summons which has been issued within one year has been served and return made and filed with the clerk within three years as herein required.

Amendment

The 1965 amendment inserted "as to any defendant who has not appeared in the action or been served in the action as herein provided within three years after the action has been commenced" in the first part of the first sentence; substituted "unless summons shall have been issued within one year, or unless summons issued within one year shall have been served and return made and filed with the clerk of the court" for "summons shall have been served and return made" in the latter part of the first sentence; and added the second sentence.

Commission Note to 1965 Amendment

This clarifies and brings together the laches provisions with respect to issuance and service of summons. At present Rules 4 C(1), 41(e), Section 93-3002, R. C. M. 1947, and Rule 12(b) all need to be referred to. This amendment incorporates the laches provision of Section 93-4705 (7), R. C. M. 1947, which was repealed by Chapter 13 of the 1961 Session Laws.

This amendment renders Section 93-3002, R. C. M. 1947, unnecessary, and that section superseded and added to Tables B and C.

How Raised

Where return was made more than three years after commencement of action, this subsection, since it is not a statute of limitations, could be raised by motion under Rule 12(b), rather than pleaded as an affirmative defense. Whitcraft v. Semenza, 145 M 97, 399 P 2d 757.

Pending Actions

Even though there was a lapse of a year between repeal of former section 93-4705, R. C. M. 1947, and adoption of this rule, which is identical, application of this rule to a pending action in which return was made more than three years after commencement of the action was proper, since not only was a reasonable time allowed before the effective date of the change, but the information was widely distributed. Whitcraft v. Semenza, 145 M 97, 399 P 2d 757.

Probate Matters

Rule does not apply to service of summons in suit on rejected claim in probate which is governed exclusively by statute providing for contesting rejected claims in probate. Werning v. McFarland, 149 M 137, 423 P 2d 851.

Renewal of Claim

A judgment is not res judicata unless it is on the merits, so that a dismissal under this rule, since it is not a statute of limitations, does not constitute a bar to another suit on the same claim. Whitcraft v. Semenza, 145 M 97, 399 P 2d 757.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Quashing Summons

District court exceeded its jurisdiction in denying motion to quash summons and dismiss action where the summons had not been served and returned within the three years required by this rule prior to 1965 amendment. State ex rel. Belwin, Inc. v. Davison, 148 M 345, 420 P 2d 842, 844.

Rule 42. Consolidation—Separate trials.

(b) SEPARATE TRIALS.

Insurance Coverage

Federal court dismissed action for declaratory judgment declaring obligations of casualty insurance company under an automobile insurance policy, which allegedly had been canceled prior to the time of the accident involving the automobile of the insured who was being sued for injuries resulting from the accident in the state court, since the issues, which did not involve federal law, could be solved in the state court wherein third-party complaint under M. R. Civ. P., Rule 14(a), had been filed by the insured against the insurer in which insured sought to hold the insurer to the terms of the policy, where state court could dispose of the coverage problem first under this rule. Western Casualty & Surety Co. v. Pinson, 255 F Supp 624, 625.

Permissive Joinder

Since this section allows for separate trials, practically, it seems desirable to give the broadest possible reading to the permissive language of Rule 20. Wheat v. Safeway Stores, Inc., 146 M 105, 404 P 2d 317.

Rule 43. Evidence.

(b) SCOPE OF EXAMINATION AND CROSS-EXAMINATION.

Plaintiff Called as Defense Witness

Where plaintiff appeared as her own only witness and was not cross-examined by the defendant who then called her as a defense witness, the defense was bound by her testimony even though it came after the plaintiff herself had rested her case. Close v. Ruegsegger's Estate, 143 M 32, 386 P 2d 739.

Statutory Proceedings

In statutory action brought to remove administrator for misappropriation of funds of estate, administrator could be examined as adverse witness since Rule 81, excluding statutory proceedings from Rules of Civil Procedure to extent that statutory proceedings are contrary to Rules, does not bar examination of administrator as adverse witness. In re Estate & Guardianship of Wyman, 149 M 525, 429 P 2d 629.

(e) EVIDENCE ON MOTIONS.

Summary Judgments

Oral testimony may be heard on motions for summary judgment. Daniels v. Paddock, 145 M 207, 399 P 2d 740.

(f) INTERPRETERS. The court may appoint an interpreter of its own selection and may fix his reasonable compensation. The compensation shall be paid out of funds provided by law or by one or more of the parties as the court may direct, and may be taxed ultimately as costs, in the discretion of the court.

Advisory Committee's Note

Explanation of change: This new subdivision authorizes the court to appoint interpreters (including interpreters for the deaf), to provide for their compensation, and to tax the compensation as costs.

Rule 44. Proof of official record.

(a) AUTHENTICATION.

(1) Domestic. An official record kept within the United States, or any state, district, commonwealth, territory, or insular possession thereof, or within the Panama Canal Zone, the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands, or the Ryukyu Islands, or an entry therein, when admissible for any purpose, may be evidenced by an official publication thereof or by a copy attested by the officer having the legal custody of the record, or by his deputy, and accompanied by a certificate that such officer has the custody. The certificate may be made by a judge of a court of record of the district or political subdivision in which the record is kept, authenticated by the seal of the court, or may be made by any public officer having a seal of office and having official duties in the district or political subdivision in which the record is kept, authenticated by the seal of his office.

(2) Foreign. A foreign official record, or an entry therein, when admissible for any purpose, may be evidenced by an official publication thereof; or a copy thereof, attested by a person authorized to make the attestation, and accompanied by a final certification as to the genuineness of the signature and official position (i) of the attesting person, or (ii) of any foreign official whose certificate of genuineness of signature and official position relates to the attestation or is in a chain of certificates of genuineness of signature and official position relating to the attestation. A final certification may be made by a secretary of embassy or legation, consul general, consul, vice-consul, or consular agent of the United States, or a diplomatic or consular official of the foreign country assigned or accredited to the United States. If reasonable opportunity has been given to all parties to investigate the authenticity and accuracy of the documents, the court may, for good cause shown, (i) admit an attested copy without final certification or (ii) permit the foreign official record to be evidenced by an attested summary with or without a final certification.

History: En. Sec. 44, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 rewrote all but the first sentence of this rule and divided it into two clauses; in the first sentence, the amendment inserted "kept within the United States * * * Ryukyu Islands" and substituted "by" for "with" before "a certificate that."

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 44, as amended 1966.

Explanation of change: The new provisions of subdivision (a)(1) on proof of official records kept within the United States are similar in substance to those heretofore appearing in Rule 44. There is a more exact description of the geographical areas covered.

Under subdivision (a)(2) foreign official records may be proved as heretofore, by means of official publications thereof.

The rest of subdivision (a)(2) aims to provide greater clarity, efficiency, and flexibility in the procedure for authenticating copies of foreign official records. It is provided that an attested copy may be obtained from any person authorized by the law of the foreign country to make the attestation without regard to whether he is charged with responsibility for maintaining the record or keep it in his custody. The amendment specifically permits use of the chain-certificate method of authentication.

Although the amended rule will generally facilitate proof of foreign official records, it is recognized that in some situations it may be difficult or even impossible to satisfy the basic requirements of the rule. Therefore the final sentence of subdivision (a)(2) provides the court with discretion to admit an attested copy of a record without a final certification, or an attested summary of a record with or without a final certification. Reasonable effort must be made to satisfy the basic requirements.

(b) LACK OF RECORD. A written statement that after diligent search no record or entry of a specified tenor is found to exist in the records designated by the statement, authenticated as provided in subdivision (a)(1) of this rule in the case of a domestic record, or complying with the requirements of subdivision (a)(2) of this rule for a summary in the case of a foreign record, is admissible as evidence that the records contain no such record or entry.

Explanation of change: Subdivision (b) [Rule 44(b)] is accommodated to the changes made in subdivision (a) [Rule 44(a)].

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 rewrote this rule. For text of former rule, see parent volume.

(c) OTHER PROOF. This rule does not prevent the proof of official records or of entry or lack of entry therein by any other method authorized by law.

History: En. Sec. 44, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 substituted "authorized by law" for "any applicable statute or by the rules of evidence at common law."

Rule 44.1. Determination of foreign law.

A party who intends to raise an issue concerning the law of a foreign country shall give notice in his pleadings or other reasonable written notice. The court, in determining foreign law, may consider any relevant material or source, including testimony, whether or not submitted by a party or admissible under Rule 43. The court's determination shall be treated as a ruling on a question of law.

the notice need not be given in the pleadings.

The rule affords a procedure for raising and determining an issue of foreign law. It does not require the court to take judicial notice of the foreign law.

Advisory Committee's Note

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 44.1, as adopted 1966.

Explanation of change: This is new and clears up uncertainty as to whether foreign law must be pleaded. Under this rule

The rule appears to be consistent with and complementary to Rule 9(d) and R. C. M. 1947, section 93-501-6.

Rule 46. Exceptions unnecessary.

Except as provided in Rule 52, with respect to findings by the court, formal exceptions to rulings or orders of the court are unnecessary; but for all purposes it is sufficient that a party, at the time the ruling or order of the court is made or sought, makes known to the court the action which he desires the court to take, or his objection to the action of the court and his grounds therefor; and, if a party has no opportunity to object to a ruling or order at the time it is made, the absence of an objection does not thereafter prejudice him.

History: En. Sec. 46, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-9, May 21, 1969, eff. July 1, 1969.

Advisory Committee's Note to May 21, 1969 Amendment

Explanation of change: The attention of the Committee has been invited to considerable confusion existing under the old wording of this rule, of Rule 52, and of Section 93-5305, R. C. M. 1947, which statute is now being superseded. It is thought by rewriting Rule 46 and Rule 52 the existing confusions can be avoided.

Amendments

The amendment of May 21, 1969 inserted "Except as provided in * * * findings by the court" at the beginning of this rule.

Exceptions to Findings and Conclusions

Effect of rule providing that formal exceptions are unnecessary but requiring aggrieved party to make objections and grounds therefor known to court, when considered with statute providing that no judgment will be reversed on appeal for defects in findings unless exceptions are made to findings complained of in lower court, is that counsel must point out exceptions to findings so that trial court may have opportunity to correct them and upon failure to do so, findings become final and judgment will not be reversed. Stapp v. Nickels, 150 M 220, 434 P 2d 141.

Rule 47. Jurors.

(b) MANNER OF SELECTION AND ORDER OF EXAMINATION OF JURORS. From the entire jury panel, an initial panel of 20 jurors shall be called in the first instance, and before any voir dire examination of the jury shall be had. Examination of all jurors in the initial panel shall be completed by the plaintiff before examination by the defendant. If challenges for cause are allowed, an additional juror shall be called from the entire panel immediately upon the allowance of challenge, and the juror called to replace the juror excused for cause shall take the number of the juror who has been excused, to provide a full initial panel of 20 jurors, whose examination shall be completed before any peremptory challenges are made. When the voir dire examination has been completed, each side shall have four peremptory challenges, and they shall be exercised by the plaintiff first striking one, the defendant then striking one, and so on, until each side has exhausted or waived its right. In event one or more alternate jurors are called, the next jurors remaining in the initial panel, if any, shall be called by the clerk to be the alternate jurors. In event all jurors remaining of original initial panel of 20 jurors, including those substituted for those jurors excused for cause, have been subjected to peremptory challenge, then the clerk shall call additional jurors from the remainder of the jury panel to provide alternate jurors who will be subject to challenge as provided by law. In event there is more than one party defendant, and should it appear that each defendant is entitled to peremptory challenges, then the original panel shall be increased to provide four additional jurors for each defendant who is entitled to exercise peremptory challenges. The clerk shall keep a record of the order in which jurors are called, and in event the entire initial panel has not been exhausted by challenges, the court shall excuse sufficient of the last called jurors until a jury of twelve persons and the determined number of alternates shall remain to make up the trial jury.

History: En. Sec. 47, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-9, May 21, 1969, eff. July 1, 1969.

Amendments

The amendment of May 21, 1969 inserted "and the juror called * * * who has been excused" in the second sentence.

Advisory Committee's Note to May 21, 1969 Amendment

Explanation of change: In some judicial districts the practice is that the replacement juror takes a new number at the bottom of the list, in others the replacement takes the same number as the juror excused. This amendment expressly adopts the latter and makes the practice uniform throughout the state.

Rule 50. Motion for a directed verdict and for judgment notwithstanding the verdict.

(a) MOTION FOR DIRECTED VERDICT—WHEN MADE, EFFECT. A party who moves for a directed verdict at the close of the evidence offered by an opponent may offer evidence in the event that the motion is not granted, without having reserved the right so to do and to the same extent as if the motion had not been made. A motion for a directed verdict which is not granted is not a waiver of trial by jury even though all parties to the action have moved for directed verdicts. A motion for a directed verdict shall state the specific grounds therefor. The order of the court granting a motion for a directed verdict is effective without any assent of the jury.

History: En. Sec. 50, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 added the last sentence, giving effect to an order for directed verdict even without the jury's assent.

Advisory Committee's Note to September, 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 50, as amended 1963.

Explanation of change: The practice, after the court has granted a motion for a directed verdict, of requiring the jury to express assent to a verdict they did not reach by their own deliberations serves no useful purpose and may give offense to members of the jury.

Circumstances Under Which Motion Should Be Granted

Denial of motion for directed verdict,

(b) MOTION FOR JUDGMENT NOTWITHSTANDING THE VERDICT. Whenever a motion for a directed verdict made at the close of all the evidence is denied or for any reason is not granted, the court is deemed to have submitted the action to the jury subject to a later determination of the legal questions raised by the motion. Not later than 10 days after service of notice of entry of judgment, a party who has moved for a directed verdict may move to have the verdict and any judgment entered thereon set aside and to have judgment entered in accordance with his motion for a directed verdict; or if a verdict was not returned such party, within 10 days after the jury has been discharged, may move for judgment in accordance with his motion for a directed verdict. A motion for a new trial may be joined with this motion, or a new trial may be prayed for in the alternative. If a verdict was returned the court may allow the judgment to stand or may reopen the judgment and either order a new trial or direct the entry of judgment as if the requested verdict had been directed. If no verdict was returned the court may direct the entry of judgment as if the requested verdict had been directed or may order a new trial.

made by lessor of destroyed building in suit by lessee claiming that premises were repairable, was cause for reversal where, viewing evidence most favorable to plaintiff lessee and considering as proven everything which evidence tended to prove, reasonable man could come to no other conclusion but that building involved was destroyed. Solich v. Hale, 150 M 358, 435 P 2d 883.

Granting Motion at End of Plaintiff's Case

Court erred in granting plaintiff's motion for directed verdict before defendant had opportunity to present his case, where defendant was precluded from offering evidence to rebut presumption of negligence raised by plaintiff's case in chief based on doctrine of res ipsa loquitur, notwithstanding fact that plaintiff had examined all witnesses to accident during his case in chief. Baker v. Rental Service Co., 150 M 166, 432 P 2d 624.

Motions provided by this subdivision shall be heard and determined within the times provided by Rule 59 for the hearing and determination of motions for new trial.

History: En. Sec. 50, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750, Sept. 7, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-9, May 21, 1969, eff. July 1, 1969.

Amendments

The amendment of September 7, 1965 added the second paragraph.

The amendment of September 29, 1967 substituted the present heading for "Reservation of decision on motion" and, in the second sentence of the first paragraph, substituted "Not later than 10 * * * judgment" for "Within 10 days after the reception of a verdict."

The amendment of May 21, 1969, in the second paragraph, substituted "Rule 59 * * * for new trial" for "Section 93-5606 of the 1947 Revised Codes of Montana in the case of motions for new trial."

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 50, as amended 1963.

Explanation of change: A motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict will not lie unless it was preceded by a motion for a directed verdict made at the close of all the evidence.

This departs from the federal amendment in providing that the time limit for making a motion for judgment n.o.v. is 10 days after service of notice of entry of judgment, rather than 10 days after entry of judgment as provided in the federal amendment. This is consistent with the provisions of Rules 59(b) (time for motion for a new trial) and 52(b) (time for motion to amend findings by the court).

Advisory Committee's Note to May 21, 1969 Amendment

Explanation of change: A housekeeping change to conform with superseding section 93-5606, R. C. M. 1947, by the amendment of Rule 59.

(c) MOTION FOR JUDGMENT NOTWITHSTANDING THE VERDICT—CONDITIONAL RULINGS ON GRANT OF MOTION.

(1) If the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict, provided for in subdivision (b) of this rule, is granted, the court shall also rule on the motion for a new trial, if any, by determining whether it should be granted if the judgment is thereafter vacated or reversed, and shall specify the grounds for granting or denying the motion for the new trial. If the motion for a new trial is thus conditionally granted, the order thereon does not affect the finality of the judgment. In case the motion for a new trial has been conditionally granted and the judgment is reversed on appeal, the new trial shall proceed unless the supreme court has otherwise ordered. In case the motion for a new trial has been conditionally denied, the respondent on appeal may assert error in that denial; and if the judgment is reversed on appeal, subsequent proceedings shall be in accordance with the order of the supreme court.

(2) The party whose verdict has been set aside on motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict may serve a motion for a new trial pursuant to Rule 59 not later than 10 days after service of notice of entry of the judgment notwithstanding the verdict.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Advisory Committee's Note

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 50, as amended 1963.

Explanation of change: The procedure where a party joins a motion for a new trial with his motion for judgment n.o.v., or prays for a new trial in the alternative has often been misunderstood. This amendment summarizes the practice. It does not alter the effects of a jury verdict or the scope of appellate review.

(d) MOTION FOR JUDGMENT NOTWITHSTANDING THE VERDICT—DENIAL OF MOTION. If the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict is denied, the party who prevailed on that motion may, as respondent, assert grounds entitling him to a new trial in the event the supreme court concludes that the trial court erred in denying the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict. If the supreme court reverses the judgment, nothing in this rule precludes it from determining that the respondent is entitled to a new trial, or from directing the trial court to determine whether a new trial shall be granted.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Advisory Committee's Note

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 50, as amended 1963.

Explanation of change: This subdivision does not attempt a regulation of all aspects of the procedure where the motion for judgment n.o.v. and any accompanying motion for a new trial are denied, since the problems have not been fully canvassed in the decisions and the procedure is in some respects still in a formative stage. It is, however, designed to give guidance on certain important features of the practice.

Rule 51. Instructions to jury—Objection.

Refusal to Give Instructions

Denial of offered instructions which were adaptable to defendant's theory of the case was prejudicial error where such denial deprived him of a possible defense of assumption of risk. Wollan v. Lord, 142 M 498, 385 P 2d 102, distinguished in 145 M 486, 488, 402 P 2d 41.

It is not error for the trial judge to refuse to give specific instruction where the subject in question has been adequately covered by other instructions. Holland v. Konda, 142 M 536, 385 P 2d 272.

Rule 52. Findings by the court.

(a) Upon a trial of a question of fact by the court in contested cases, its findings must be given in writing, filed with the clerk, and forthwith served upon all parties.

In granting or refusing interlocutory injunctions the court shall similarly set forth the findings of fact and conclusions of law which constitute the grounds of its action. The findings of a master, to the extent that the court adopts them, shall be considered as the findings of the court. Findings of fact and conclusions of law are unnecessary on decisions with respect to motions made under Rules 12 or 56, or any other motion except as provided in Rule 41(b).

History: En. Sec. 52, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-9, May 21, 1969, eff. July 1, 1969.

Amendments

The amendment of May 21, 1969 deleted the heading "Effect"; rewrote the first portion of the rule, making it a separate first paragraph; and, in the last sentence of the second paragraph, substituted "with respect to" for "of."

Advisory Committee's Note to May 21, 1969 Amendment

Explanation of change: Sections 93-5302, 93-5305, 93-5306, and 93-5307, R. C. M. 1947, are hereby superseded. The purpose of changing Rule 52, along with the change made in Rule 46, is twofold. It should eliminate the confusions that now exist with respect to the lack of necessity of making exceptions to the rulings and orders of the court, as distinct from the requirement that appropriate exceptions be made to findings of the court on trial of fact issues. In addition, it incorporates in this one rule the existing practice and procedure with respect to exceptions to findings of the court, and eliminates the necessity of researching for, and referring separately to, controlling statutes, case decisions, and rules, and then trying to correlate all three.

Appellate Review of Findings

Findings of fact made by trial court will not be disturbed where they are supported by preponderance of evidence. Western Foundry, Inc. v. Matelich, 150 M 228, 433 P 2d 789.

Sufficiency of Findings

Lower court ruling that "no cause of action or claim exists or has been proven" and "the same is hereby dismissed" was sufficient compliance with Rules despite plaintiff's contention that findings of fact and conclusions of law did not meet requirements of Rules. Mondakota Gas Co. v. Becker, 151 M 513, 445 P 2d 745.

References

Stokes v. Delaney & Sons, Inc., 143 M 516, 391 P 2d 698; Tolson v. Tolson, 145 M 87, 399 P 2d 754.

(b) In contested cases tried by the court, each party shall request in writing the findings of fact desired by such party either at the close of the evidence, or within such reasonable time thereafter as may be fixed by order of the court, and such requests shall be entered in the minutes of the court. No judgment shall be reversed on appeal for want of findings at the instance of any party who has failed to request such findings in writing as herein specified.

Within 10 days after copy of the finding or findings have been served or within such additional reasonable time thereafter not to exceed 30 days as may be ordered by the court upon good cause shown, a party shall serve on all other parties and file with the court in writing any exceptions which such party may have with respect to the finding or findings, and at the same time may move for an order to amend the findings, or to make additional findings. Within 15 days thereafter the court shall either deny the exceptions or the motion, or grant them in whole or in part, or otherwise amend or revise the original finding or findings, and if the court shall fail to act, the exceptions shall be deemed denied. The failure of the court to act, as well as any action taken by the court shall be deemed excepted to by all parties adversely affected thereby.

Amendments

The amendment of August 1, 1965 inserted "service of notice of" before "entry" in the former first paragraph, for text of which see parent volume.

The amendment of September 7, 1965 added the former second paragraph stating that motions hereunder should be heard and determined within time provided by section 93-5606 for new trial motions.

The amendment of May 21, 1969 deleted the heading "Amendment" and rewrote this rule.

Commission Note to August 1, 1965 Amendment

Under Rule 77(d) the prevailing party has 10 days after the entry of judgment to give the unsuccessful parties notice of such entry. The change in 52(b) is an adjustment to this provision, and is designed to meet the possibility that the prevailing party is the only party that knows of the entry of the judgment and waits 10 days before giving the unsuccessful party notice of such entry. The provision is similar to that found in Rule 59(b) and (e).

Advisory Committee's Note to May 21, 1969 Amendment

See Advisory Committee's Note under Rule 52(a).

Amendment of Findings and Judgment

A motion to alter, amend, and supplement findings of fact, conclusions of law and the judgment combined with a motion for a new trial, filed on September 28, 1965, was a motion contemplated by this rule and Rule 59(e) and was not governed by the time limits of section 93-5606. *State ex rel. ## DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Exceptions Required for Reversal

Under former statute which was superseded by this Rule, objections to findings of district court could not be raised for the first time upon appeal. Rozan v. Rosen, 150 M 121, 431 P 2d 870.

Mandate of former statute (superseded by this Rule) that findings of district court would not be reviewed on appeal unless exceptions were taken was not changed by fact that counsel on appeal was not same counsel who tried case in district court. Olsen v. United Benefit Life Ins. Co., 150 M 147, 432 P 2d 381.

Rule providing that formal exceptions are unnecessary if aggrieved party makes his objections and grounds therefor known to court and former statute (superseded by this Rule) providing that no judgment will be reversed on appeal for defects in findings unless exceptions are made in lower court were required to be read together with result that it was necessary for counsel to point out exceptions to findings so that trial court might have opportunity to correct them and failure to do so meant findings became final and judgment would not be reversed. Stapp v. Nickels, 150 M 220, 434 P 2d 141.

(c) Either at the time its original findings are filed in writing, or at the time any modifications have been made, the court shall promptly separately state its conclusions of law thereon, and direct the entry of the appropriate judgment.

60(b). Sowerwine v. Sowerwine, 148 M 195, 418 P 2d 859, 861.

Rule 55. Default.

(a) ENTRY.

Answer Filed after Entry by Clerk

Plaintiff was entitled to judgment by default where defendants filed answer after entry of default by clerk and receipt of notice of hearing on motion for default, but before actual hearing on the motion, since entry of default by clerk requires no notice to party in default, answer was filed after defendants had received notice of motion for default and defendants failed to move to set aside entry of default for "good cause shown" as they were entitled to do under rules. Sealey v. Majerus, 149 M 268, 425 P 2d 70.

(b) JUDGMENT. Judgment by default may be entered as follows:

(1). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(2) By the Court. In all other cases the party entitled to a judgment by default shall apply to the court therefor; but no judgment by default shall be entered against an infant or incompetent person unless represented in the action by a general guardian, committee, conservator, or other such representative, or guardian ad litem, who has appeared therein. If the party against whom judgment by default is sought has appeared in the action, he (or, if appearing by representative, his representative) shall be served with written notice of the application for judgment at least three days prior to the hearing on such application. If, in order to enable the court to enter judgment or to carry it into effect, it is necessary to take an account or to determine the amount of damages or to establish the truth of any averment by evidence or to make an investigation of any other matter, the court may conduct such hearings or order such references as it deems necessary and proper and shall accord a right of trial by jury to the parties when and as required by any statute of the state of Montana.

Amendment

The 1964 amendment inserted "an" before "account" in the final sentence of paragraph (2).

Answer Filed after Entry by Clerk

Plaintiff was entitled to judgment by default where defendants filed answer after entry of default by clerk and receipt of notice of hearing on motion for default, but before actual hearing on the motion, since entry of default by clerk requires no notice to party in default, answer was filed after defendants had received notice of motion for default and defendants failed to move to set aside entry of default for "good cause shown" as they were entitled to do under rules. Sealey v. Majerus, 149 M 268, 425 P 2d 70.

Clerk's Error

Entry of default judgment by clerk of court without requiring affidavit from plaintiff of amount due and owing rendered the judgment voidable but not void. Interstate Counseling Service v. Emeline, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 728. (Dissenting opinion, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 729.)

Motion to set aside default judgment because of plaintiff's failure to file affidavit of amount due and owing when it requested entry of default judgment was properly denied where defendant permitted judgment to be satisfied from her property, and no reason to avoid the voidable judgment had been presented. Interstate Counseling Service v. Emeline, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 728. (Dissenting opinion, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 729.)

Under Rule 61 omission of clerk of court to require affidavit of amount due under this rule before entry of default judgment in favor of plaintiff is not fatal unless refusal to take action with respect to the omission appears to the court inconsistent with substantial justice. Interstate Counseling Service v. Emeline, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 728. (Dissenting opinion, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 729.)

Divorce Proceedings

Where proper notice of hearing on application for judgment of divorce was given defendant in accordance with this rule and no relief different from that demanded in the complaint was granted in violation of M. R. Civ. P., Rule 54(c), an appeal on those grounds was dismissed by the supreme court on its own motion where no application to set aside the default or judgment was made under Rule 60(b). Sowerwine v. Sowerwine, 148 M 195, 418 P 2d 859, 861.

Ministerial Function

Clerk of court in entering a default judgment is performing a ministerial function and must follow procedures in detail and absolutely. Interstate Counseling Service v. Emeline, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 728. (Dissenting opinion, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 729.)

Nonprejudicial Error

Where record showed that defendant took no action for nearly three months after default judgment had been entered, defendant was not prejudiced by plaintiff's failure to give written notice of application for default judgment as required by paragraph (2) of this rule and district court did not abuse its discretion in denying defendant's motion to vacate the default judgment filed under M. R. Civ. P., Rule 55(c). Williams v. Superior Homes, Inc., 148 M 38, 417 P 2d 92, 94.

(c) DEFAULT—SETTING ASIDE—EXTENSION OF TIME, ETC.*Answer Filed after Entry by Clerk

Plaintiff was entitled to judgment by default where defendants filed answer after entry of default by clerk and receipt of notice of hearing on motion for default, but before actual hearing on the motion, since entry of default by clerk requires no notice to party in default, answer was filed after defendants had received notice of motion for default and defendants failed to move to set aside entry of default for "good cause shown" as they were entitled to do under rules. Sealey v. Majerus, 149 M 268, 425 P 2d 70.

Where record showed that defendant took no action for nearly three months after default judgment had been entered, defendant was not prejudiced by plain-tiff's failure to give written notice of application for default judgment as required by M. R. Civ. P., Rule 55(b)(2), and district court did not abuse its discretion in denying defendant's motion to vacate the default judgment filed under this rule. Williams v. Superior Homes, Inc., 148 M 38, 417 P 2d 92, 94.

Voidable Judgments

A default judgment entered prematurely pursuant to this section could not be set aside under M. R. Civ. P., Rule 60(b)(4), since Rule 60(b)(4) applies to void and not voidable judgments. Sowerwine v. Sowerwine, 145 M 81, 399 P 2d 233.

Fact that corporate defendant claimed sheriff had never served summons upon the corporation, sheriff did not remember service of the summons, and default was not taken until seven years after the

Rule 56. Summary judgment.*(a) FOR CLAIMANT.*Negligence Actions

Ordinarily, issue of negligence is not susceptible of summary adjudication but should motion for summary judgment be made, burden is on moving party to establish clearly that there is no factual issue to be determined and opposing party does not have burden of showing prima facie case. Mally v. Asanovich, 149 M 99, 423 P 2d 294.

(b) FOR DEFENDING PARTY.*Denial of Motion

In suit by guardians of patient for personal injuries sustained when patient was being X-rayed, district court erred in granting defendant-hospital's motion for summary judgment where there was an issue of fact as to whether radiologist was an independent contractor rather than an agent of the hospital. Kober v. Stewart, 148 M 117, 417 P 2d 476, 479.

Support Proceedings

Defendant was properly granted motion for summary judgment in action to enforce amount agreed upon for support in separation agreement which had been reduced by subsequent court modifications. Gessell v. Jones, 149 M 418, 427 P 2d 295.

(c) MOTION AND PROCEEDINGS THEREON. The motion shall be served at least 10 days before the time fixed for the hearing. The judgment sought shall be rendered forthwith if the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. Affidavits shall not be considered for any purpose on motion for summary judgment. A summary judgment, interlocutory in character, may be rendered on the issue of liability alone although there is a genuine issue as to the amount of damages.

Amendment

The 1965 amendment inserted "answers to interrogatories" in the first sentence.

Commission Note to 1965 Amendment

The amendment expressly includes "answers to interrogatories" among material which may be considered on motion for summary judgment. This conforms to an amendment to the Federal Rule adopted January 21, 1963, the Federal Rule having inadvertently omitted the phrase. The courts have generally reached by interpretation the result required by the amendment.

Burden of Proof

The moving party for a summary judgment has the burden of showing the absence of any genuine factual issue. Kober v. Stewart, 148 M 117, 417 P 2d 476, 478.

Matters Considered

While this rule does not mention oral testimony as material to be used at the summary judgment hearing, Rule 43(e) permits the use of oral testimony upon motions, so that oral testimony may be considered upon a motion for summary judgment. Daniels v. Paddock, 145 M 207, 399 P 2d 740.

In case in which plaintiff's deposition alone was sufficient to permit the trial judge to determine that the case contained no issue of material fact or controversy relating to the testatrix's incompetency, the trial court was correct in granting summary judgment and had no duty to anticipate possible proof that might have been offered under the pleadings. Silloway v. Jorgenson, 146 M 307, 406 P 2d 167.

Pleadings Not Controlling

On a motion for summary judgment the formal issues presented by the pleadings are not controlling and the court must consider the depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, oral testimony and exhibits presented. Hager v. Tandy, 146 M 531, 410 P 2d 447.

Principal and Agent

Purported agent and principal were entitled to summary judgment where plaintiff wholly failed to establish prima facie case of negligence on the part of either even though evidence raised question of fact as to existence of agency since it would be impossible to impute negligence to principal where negligence had not been established against supposed agent. Knowlton v. Sandaker, 150 M 438, 436 P 2d 98.

Proof of Issue of Fact

Motion for summary judgment was properly granted where it was apparent from record that there was no genuine issue as to any material fact, notwithstanding aggrieved party's argument on appeal that had he been allowed to go to trial he would have presented proofs establishing genuine issue of fact, since aggrieved party presented no such proofs at hearing on original motion nor at hearing on motion to vacate judgment. Brown v. Thornton, 150 M 150, 432 P 2d 386.

Purpose

The general purpose of this rule is to dispose promptly of actions in which there is no genuine issue of fact, thereby eliminating unnecessary trial, delay, and expense. Silloway v. Jorgenson, 146 M 307, 406 P 2d 167.

Res Judicata

Where supreme court affirmed lower court judgment dismissing complaint for failure to state a claim upon which relief could be granted under Rule 12(b), the judgment was not res judicata as to a second amended complaint under this section where matters outside the pleadings were presented to and not excluded by court. Rambur v. Diehl Lumber Co., 144 M 84, 394 P 2d 745, 749.

Rule 59. New trials—Amendment of judgments.

(a) GROUND. A new trial may be granted to all or any of the parties and on all or part of the issues for any of the reasons provided by the statutes of the state of Montana. On motion for a new trial in an action tried without a jury, the court may take additional testimony, amend the findings of fact and conclusions of law or make new findings and conclusions, set aside, vacate, modify or confirm any judgment that may have been entered or direct the entry of a new judgment.

History: En. Sec. 59, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-9, May 21, 1969, eff. July 1, 1969.

Amendments

The amendment of May 21, 1969 made no change in this rule.

Appellate Review

In condemnation proceeding, where state appraised land at $18,000, condemnee appraised it at $95,000 and jury awarded condemnee $21,000, granting of new trial because award was inadequate was not such an abuse of trial judge's discretion as to warrant reversal in spite of the fact there was no rebuttal of state's only expert witness. State Highway Commission v. Greenfield, 145 M 164, 399 P 2d 989.

Inadequacy of Award

Court abused discretion in granting new trial "upon the grounds of insufficiency of the evidence to justify the verdict in that the verdict awarded by the jury to the plaintiff is wholly inadequate" where there was conflict in evidence and where it was question for jury whether injuries suffered by passenger were caused by grossly negligent operation of car or whether passenger assumed risk of going into car driven by man who had several drinks. Heen v. Tiddy, 151 M 265, 442 P 2d 434.

Jury Misconduct

New trial was properly granted where foreman of jury made his own investigation at the scene of the accident after hearing testimony and informed the other members of jury, during their deliberation, of the results of his investigation. The foreman was guilty of misconduct upon which verdict could be impeached by affidavits of jurors. Goff v. Kinzie, 148 M 61, 417 P 2d 105, 107.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Right To Appeal

Defendant was entitled to appeal, in spite of time limitation of section 93-5606 for filing bill of exceptions where motion for new trial was combined with motion to amend findings and request for review of facts, conclusions of law and judgment, since limitation under section 93-5606 did not apply prior to enactment of new rules of civil procedure. Crissey v. State Highway Commission, 147 M 374, 413 P 2d 308.

(b) TIME FOR MOTION. A motion for a new trial shall be served not later than 10 days after service of notice of the entry of the judgment.

History: En. Sec. 59, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-9, May 21, 1969, eff. July 1, 1969.

Amendments

The amendment of May 21, 1969 made no change in this rule.

(c) TIME FOR SERVING AFFIDAVITS. When a motion for new trial is based upon affidavits they shall be served with the motion. The opposing party has 10 days after such service within which to serve opposing affidavits, which periods may be extended for an additional period not exceeding 20 days either by the court for good cause shown or by the parties by written stipulation. The court may permit reply affidavits.

History: En. Sec. 59, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-9, May 21, 1969, eff. July 1, 1969.

Amendments

The amendment of May 21, 1969 made no change in this rule.

(d) TIME FOR HEARING ON MOTION. Hearing on the motion shall be had within 10 days after it has been served, or within 10 days after the party opposing the motion for new trial has served his affidavits as set forth in subparagraph (c) hereinabove except that at any time after the notice of hearing on the motion has been served the court may issue an order continuing the hearing for not to exceed 30 days. In case the hearing is continued by the court, it shall be the duty of the court to hear the same at the earliest practicable date thereafter, and the court shall rule upon and decide the motion within 15 days after the same is submitted. If the court shall fail to rule upon the motion within said time, the motion shall, at the expiration of said period, be deemed denied.

The decision on the motion may be entered in the minutes of the court, or may be made in writing in chambers or in any county in the state where the judge may be, and be filed with the clerk of court in the county where the action is pending. Upon the hearing, reference may be had in all cases to the pleadings and the orders of the court on file, and reference may also be had to any depositions and documentary evidence offered on the trial, and to the proceedings on the trial and, when necessary, reference may be had to the notes of the court reporter.

If the motion is not noticed up for hearing and no hearing is held thereon, it shall be deemed denied as of the expiration of the period of time within which hearing is required to be held under this Rule 59.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-9, May 21, 1969, eff. July 1, 1969.

Compiler's Notes

The amendment of Rule 59 by Supreme Court Order No. 10750-9 enacted this subparagraph as Rule 59(d) and designated former Rules 59(d) and 59(e) as 59(e) and 59(f), respectively.

Advisory Committee's Note to May 21, 1969 Amendment

Explanation of change: Section 93-5606, R. C. M. 1947, is hereby superseded.

There has been some confusion by reason of ambiguous language in section 93-5606, R. C. M. 1947, a hold-over statute from the practice which existed before the rules were adopted, and because of the necessity of researching for, and referring to, the case decisions under the statute spelling out the jurisdictional time limits and the effect thereof. It is felt that by incorporating our practice into this one rule, and eliminating the necessity of referring to statutes and case decisions, that it will be easier for the practitioner to comply.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Appellate Review

The appellate court may not disturb the findings of the trial court in ordering a new trial without a showing of abuse of discretion. Campeau v. Lewis, 144 M 543, 398 P 2d 960.

Disqualification of Judge

Section 93-901 does not permit disqualification of a judge pending motion for a new trial under this rule. State ex rel. Peery v. District Court, 145 M 287, 400 P 2d 648.

Judge's Discretion

The jury is delegated the task of finding the facts, but the trial judge has the discretion to prevent a miscarriage of justice by granting a new trial if there is an insufficiency of evidence to support the verdict. Campeau v. Lewis, 144 M 543, 398 P 2d 960.

Purpose of Rule

The purpose of this rule is to give a trial judge power to prevent what he considers a miscarriage of justice. Campeau v. Lewis, 144 M 543, 398 P 2d 960.

(e) ON INITIATIVE OF COURT. Not later than 10 days after entry of judgment the court of its own initiative may order a new trial for any reason for which it might have granted a new trial on motion of a party. After giving the parties notice and an opportunity to be heard on the matter, the court may grant a motion for a new trial, timely served, for a reason not stated in the motion. In either case, the court shall specify in the order the grounds therefor.

Compiler's Notes

The amendments of Rule 59 by Supreme Court Order No. 10750-9 designated this former Rule 59(d) as Rule 59(e).

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 added the second sentence and made changes in phraseology.

Scope

This rule permits the trial judge to order a new trial on his own initiative for the same reasons one could be ordered pursuant to section 93-5603 and is subject to the same interpretations as expressed in previous opinions on motions for new trials before adoption of the rule. Campeau v. Lewis, 144 M 543, 398 P 2d 960.

Time Limits

Combined motion for new trial and to alter, amend and supplement findings of fact, conclusions of law and judgment was not subject to time limits of former section 93-5606 requiring prompt hearing on new trial motion and superseded by this rule. State ex rel. Rozan v. District Court, Sixteenth Judicial District, 147 M 532, 416 P 2d 19, 21. See also Crissey v. State Highway Commission, 147 M 374, 413 P 2d 308.

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 59(d), as amended 1966.

Explanation of change: The purpose of this amendment is to make it clear that a court, after notice and opportunity to be heard, may grant a new trial even though a motion for new trial has been made, for a ground not stated in the motion. Some cases have held otherwise.

(f) MOTION TO ALTER OR AMEND A JUDGMENT. A motion to alter or amend the judgment shall be served not later than 10 days after the service of the notice of the entry of the judgment, and may be combined with the motion for a new trial herein provided for. This motion shall be heard and determined within the time provided hereinabove with respect to a motion for a new trial.

History: En. Sec. 59, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750, Sept. 7, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-9, May 21, 1969, eff. July 1, 1969.

Compiler's Notes

The amendment of Rule 59 by Supreme Court Order No. 10750-9 designated this former Rule 59(e) as Rule 59(f).

Amendments

The amendment of September 7, 1965 added a second paragraph which read: "Motions provided by this subdivision shall be heard and determined within the time provided by Section 93-5606 of the 1947 Revised Codes of Montana in the case of motions for a new trial."

The amendment of May 21, 1969 added "and may be combined with the motion for a new trial herein provided for" to the first sentence; substituted the second sentence for the former second paragraph added in 1965; and made changes in phraseology.

Additur

This rule did not give the district court power to order an additur to a condemnation award as a condition of denying motion for new trial. State Highway Commission v. Schmidt, 143 M 505, 391 P 2d 692.

Time Limit

A motion to alter, amend, and supplement findings of fact, conclusions of law and the judgment, combined with a motion for a new trial filed on September 28, 1965 was a motion contemplated by this rule and Rule 52(b) and was not governed by the time limits of section 93-5606. State ex rel. Rozan v. District Court of Sixteenth Judicial District, 147 M 532, 416 P 2d 19, 21.

Rule 60. Relief from judgment or order.

(b) MISTAKES—INADVERTENCE—EXCUSABLE NEGLIGENCE—NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE—FRAUD, ETC. On motion and upon such terms as are just, the court may relieve a party or his legal representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for the following reasons: (1) mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect; (2) newly discovered evidence which by due diligence could not have been discovered in time to move for a new trial under Rule 59(b); (3) fraud (whether heretofore denominated intrinsic or extrinsic), misrepresentation, or other misconduct of an adverse party; (4) the judgment is void; (5) the judgment has been satisfied, released, or discharged, or a prior judgment upon which it is based has been reversed or otherwise vacated, or it is no longer equitable that the judgment should have prospective application; or (6) any other reason justifying relief from the operation of the judgment. The motion shall be made within a reasonable time, and for reasons (1), (2), and (3) when a defendant has been personally served, whether in lieu of publication or not, not more than 60 days after the judgment, order or proceeding was entered or taken, or, in a case where notice of entry of judgment is required by Rule 77(d), not more than 60 days after service of notice of entry of judgment. When from any cause the summons in an action has not been personally served on the defendant, the court may allow, on such terms as may be just, such defendant or his legal representative, at any time within 180 days after the rendition of any judgment in such action, to answer to the merits of the original action. A motion under this subdivision (b) does not affect the finality of a judgment or suspend its operation. This rule does not limit the power of a court to entertain an independent action to relieve a party from a judgment, order, or proceeding, or to grant relief to a defendant not actually personally notified as may be required by law, or to set aside a judgment for fraud upon the court.

History: En. Sec. 60, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750, Aug. 1, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of August 1, 1965 substituted "within 60 days when a defendant has been personally served, whether in lieu of publication or not, calculated from the date of service of notice of entry of the judgment or order or action taken in the proceeding" for "not more than one year after the judgment, order or proceeding was entered or taken" after "for reasons (1), (2), and (3)" in the second sentence; and inserted the third sentence.

The amendment of September 29, 1967 rewrote the second sentence; and substituted "required" for "provided" in the last sentence.

Commission Note to August 1, 1965 Amendment

The purpose of this amendment is to make the Montana practice correspond to practice under the last sentence of R. C. M. 1947, § 93-3905 (which was repealed with the adoption of the Rules of Civil Procedure), as construed in Smith v. Collis, 42 Mont. 350, 365-370 (1910). The time within which the motion may be made is shortened, but considered adequate.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: None.

The federal rule measures the time for the motion for reasons (1), (2), and (3) from time the "judgment, order, or proceeding was entered or taken." The Montana rule measures the time from the "date of service of entry of the judgment or order or action taken"; but Rule 77(d), requiring notice of entry, is confined to judgments in actions in which an appearance has been made. This amendment, using the federal rule language adjusted to the requirements of Montana Rule 77(d), is for the purpose of avoiding ambiguity and litigation as to what, if any, time limit is imposed in cases of orders, and proceedings, and judgments where no appearance has been made.

Change of Counsel

Motion to have judgment vacated as to date and redated so as to permit moving party to file exceptions to findings or take other steps counsel deemed necessary for protection of client was improperly denied, and was abuse of discretion where moving party had inadequate time in which to obtain present counsel when conflict of interest arose with prior counsel. Schmidt v. Lloyd, — M —, 447 P 2d 485.

Discretion of Court

Where record showed that defendant took no action for nearly three months after default judgment had been entered, defendant was not prejudiced by plaintiff's failure to give written notice of application for default judgment as required by M. R. Civ. P., Rule 55(b)(2), and district court did not abuse its discretion in denying defendant's motion to vacate the default judgment under M. R. Civ. P., Rule 55(c). Williams v. Superior Homes, Inc., 148 M 38, 417 P 2d 92, 94.

Excusable Neglect

Defendant's contention that "personal problems drove all thought of lesser problems from his mind" was not sufficient to set aside a default judgment under subsection 1 of this section. Dudley v. Stiles, 142 M 566, 386 P 2d 342.

Judgment Obtained by Fraud

Court of equity has inherent power, independent of statute, to vacate judgment obtained by fraud in violation of last sentence of Rule 60(b) even though party seeking relief was not necessary party in original action and motion to vacate was not made within liberal time limits prescribed by rule but was nevertheless timely considering that aggrieved party engaged attorney to file motion to vacate within thirty days after discovery of existence of judgment. Selway v. Burns, 150 M 1, 429 P 2d 640.

Probate Matters

Final decree of distribution and discharge in probate will not be set aside on ground of inadvertence or fraud either under statute or Rule 60(b) in absence of manifest abuse of court's discretion in case where moving party had every opportunity to protect his claim in probate and failed to do so. Werning v. McFarland, 149 M 137, 423 P 2d 851.

Voidable Judgment

This rule does not apply to voidable judgments. Interstate Counseling Service v. Emeline, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 728. (Dissenting opinion, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 729.)

This rule has no application to prematurely entered default judgments since it applies to void and not voidable judgments. Sowerwine v. Sowerwine, 145 M 81, 399 P 2d 233.

Waiver of Right to Relief

Where proper notice of hearing on application for judgment of divorce was given defendant in accordance with M. R. Civ. P., Rule 55(b) and no relief different from that demanded in the complaint was granted in violation of Rule 54(c), an appeal on those grounds was dismissed by the supreme court on its own motion where no application to set aside the default or judgment was made under this rule. Sowerwine v. Sowerwine, 148 M 195, 418 P 2d 859, 861.

(c) TIME FOR HEARING AND DETERMINING MOTIONS. Motions provided by subdivisions (a) and (b) of this rule shall be heard and determined within the times provided by Rule 59 in the case of motions for new trials and amendment of judgment.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750, Sept. 7, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-9, May 21, 1969, eff. July 1, 1969.

Amendments

The amendment of May 21, 1969 substituted "Rule 59" for "section 93-5606 of the 1947 Revised Codes of Montana" and "trials" for "trial"; and added "and amendment of judgment."

Rule 61. Harmless error.

Clerk's Error

Omission of clerk of court to require affidavit of amount due under Rule 55(b) (1) before entry of default judgment in favor of plaintiff is not fatal unless refusal to take action with respect to the omission appears to the court inconsistent with substantial justice. Interstate Counseling Service v. Emeline, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 728. (Dissenting opinion, 144 M 409, 396 P 2d 727, 729.)

Contributory Negligence

Submitting issue of contributory negligence to jury was harmless error in light of substantial evidence showing that defendant was not negligent and substantial evidence that even if defendant was negligent plaintiff was not injured in accident or injury was not result of defendant's negligence. Brown v. Reel, 148 M 381, 421 P 2d 454.

In a wrongful death action by father of eight and one-half year old boy, who, while riding a bicycle, was struck and killed by automobile, court's instruction that deceased boy was incapable of contributory negligence and court's refusal of defendant's offered instruction on contributory negligence was not reversible error, irrespective of question of boy's capacity, since there was no substantial credible evidence of contributory negligence in fact on part of deceased boy. Graham v. Rolandson, 150 M 270, 435 P 2d 263.

Joint Enterprise

Court's rulings with respect to issue of joint enterprise, if error, was harmless error, since driver was sole proximate cause of accident in which passenger suing owner of cattle was injured when car struck cattle on highway. Ratcliff v. Murphy, 150 M 31, 430 P 2d 627.

Poll of Jury

Lower court abused discretion in granting new trial based solely on ground that it had erred in refusing request for poll of jury since error, if any, was harmless in light of evidence affirmatively showing that verdict was rendered in open court in presence of all counsel, that in response to question by judge, foreman of jury advised him they had agreed upon verdict, and that following reading of verdict signed by foreman, judge inquired of jury if it was true verdict of at least eight of them and jury answered in affirmative. Martello v. Darlow, 151 M 232, 441 P 2d 175.

(e) STAY IN FAVOR OF THE STATE OF MONTANA OR AGENCY THEREOF.

Eminent Domain Proceeding

Where state highway commission filed notice of appeal and perfected their appeal after writ of execution under section 93-9918 had issued, the appeal stayed the judgment although no bond was filed as required by section 93-8011, since under this rule no security was required from the state. Robertson v. State Highway Commission, 148 M 275, 420 P 2d 21, 24.

Rule 68. Offer of judgment.

Rule 65. Injunctions.

References

Holtz v. Babcock, 143 M 341, 389 P 2d 869.

Rule 68. Offer of judgment.

At any time more than 10 days before the trial begins, a party defending against a claim may serve upon the adverse party an offer to allow judgment to be taken against him for the money or property or to the effect specified in his offer, with costs then accrued. If within 10 days after the service of the offer the adverse party serves written notice that the offer is accepted, either party may then file the offer and notice of acceptance together with proof of service thereof and thereupon judgment shall be entered. An offer not accepted shall be deemed withdrawn and evidence thereof is not admissible except in a proceeding to determine costs. If the judgment finally obtained by the offeree is not more favorable than the offer, the offeree must pay the costs incurred after the making of the offer. The fact that an offer is made but not accepted does not preclude a subsequent offer. When the liability of one party to another has been determined by verdict or order or judgment, but the amount or extent of the liability remains to be determined by further proceedings, the party adjudged liable may make an offer of judgment, which shall have the same effect as an offer made before trial if it is served within a reasonable time not less than 10 days prior to the commencement of hearings to determine the amount or extent of liability.

History: En. Sec. 67, Ch. 13, L. 1961; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 added the last sentence.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: Fed. R. Civ. P. 68, as amended 1966.

This logical extension of the concept of offer of judgment is suggested by the common admiralty practice of determining liability before the amount of liability is determined.

Fraud on Court

Although proper procedure was followed under rule providing for offer of judgment, conduct of parties in perpetrating fraud on court required that judgment be vacated on motion of aggrieved beneficiary who was not party to suit against estate. Selway v. Burns, 150 M 1, 429 P 2d 640.

IX. APPEALS

Rule 72. Appeal from a district court to the supreme court.

Rule 72. Appeal from a district court to the supreme court.

When an appeal is permitted by law from a district court to the supreme court of Montana, or in any case where original proceedings are commenced in the supreme court, such appeal or original proceeding shall be taken, perfected, and prosecuted pursuant to the provisions of the Montana Rules of Appellate Civil Procedure and controlling statutes to the extent that they are not superseded by the Montana Rules of Appellate Civil Procedure.

Amendments

The 1965 amendment rewrote this section. For previous text, see parent volume.

Advisory Committee's Note

Subdivision (a) of Rule 41, M. R. App. Civ. P. merely adapts the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure to these Appellate Rules.

(e) TRANSMITTAL OF FILE ON REMOVAL. Upon being served with a notice of the removal of any state district court action to the district court of the United States, district of Montana, the clerk of such state district court shall promptly deliver to the clerk of court of the district court of the United States, district of Montana, all papers then in the original state court file, or theretofore issued and subsequently file only the notice of removal and such papers as were filed with the notice of removal.

Rule 86. Effective date—Statutes superseded.

(a) EFFECTIVE DATE AND APPLICATION TO PENDING PROCEEDINGS. These Rules became effective January 1, 1962. In accordance with Chapter 16, Laws of 1963, proposed amendments to these rules shall be first prepared by the advisory committee, which shall distribute copies thereof to the bench and resident bar of the state for their consideration and suggestions. Submission of proposed amendments to the court shall be made by the advisory committee only after the advisory committee has considered suggestions received from the bench and bar. Submissions to the court shall be noticed by the court by mailing notice, containing copies of the submitted proposals to all district judges and resident attorneys licensed to practice in the Montana courts as shown by the records of the clerk of the court, and the court will receive written suggestions and objections within the time fixed in the notice, which shall be not less than ninety (90) days thereafter. Oral hearings on proposals will be held only on special order of the court. Amendments adopted by the court will become effective on January 1 unless a different time be fixed in the order.

The court will annually, at least thirty (30) days prior to January 1, cause to be published all amendments to these rules which are to become effective on the succeeding January 1, and transmit the same to all judges and resident lawyers of the state. Such rules as are to become effective at times other than January 1 will be published and transmitted at least thirty (30) days prior to their effective date. These rules and amendments govern all proceedings and actions brought after they take effect, and also all further proceedings in actions then pending, except to the extent that in the opinion of the district court their application in a particular action pending when the rules or amendments take effect would not be feasible, or would work injustice, in which event the procedure existing at the time the action was brought applies.

Amendment

The 1964 amendment divided subdivision (a) into two paragraphs; inserted the second, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth sentences of the first paragraph and the first and second sentences of the second paragraph; substituted "These rules and amendments" for "They" at the beginning of the third sentence of the second paragraph; inserted "or amendments" after "particular action pending when the rules" in the latter part of the third sentence of the second paragraph; and substituted "became effective" for "will take effect" in the first sentence of the first paragraph.

Relation Back of Complaint

Question of relation back of complaint amended after adoption of Rules is governed by provisions of Rules even though action originated prior to effective date of Rules in absence of finding by court having jurisdiction that Rules should not control. Rozan v. Rosen, 150 M 121, 431 P 2d 870.

Retroactive Application

The giving effect to the service of summons provisions of Montana Rules of Civil Procedure, Rule 4, subd. B, when the operative facts of the case to which the rule applied had taken place prior to the effective date provided in this section, was not a prohibited retroactive application of Rule 4, subd. B, within the meaning of section 12-201. Weber v. Hydroponics, Inc., 226 F Supp 117, 118.

District court had the power to consider motion under procedure that was in effect when the motion was filed where the court believed application of amended rule would work an injury. State ex rel. Rozan v. District Court of Sixteenth Judicial District, 147 M 532, 416 P 2d 19, 21.

Rule 4B(1), M. R. Civ. P., applied to act of alleged malpractice occurring in Montana prior to effective date of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure and doctor who had not resided in Montana since the effective date of the rules could properly be served with process, under Rule 4D(3), in California. *State ex rel. - Rule 1. Scope of rules—From what judgment or order an appeal may be taken.
- 2. What the court may review on an appeal from a judgment.
  - 3. Suspension of the rules.

Rule 1. Scope of rules—From what judgment or order an appeal may be taken.

These rules govern procedure in appeals in civil cases to the supreme court of Montana from Montana district courts and original proceedings in the supreme court of Montana. The party applying for original relief is known as the petitioner and the adverse party as the defendant. The party appealing is known as the appellant, and the adverse party as the respondent.

A party aggrieved may appeal from a judgment or order, except when expressly made final by law, in the following cases:

(a) From a final judgment entered in an action or special proceeding commenced in a district court, or brought into a district court from another court or administrative body.

(b) From an order granting a new trial; or refusing to permit an action to be maintained as a class action; or granting or dissolving an injunction; or refusing to grant or dissolve an injunction; or dissolving or refusing to dissolve an attachment; from an order changing or refusing to change the place of trial when the county designated in the complaint is not the proper county; from an order appointing or refusing to appoint a receiver, or giving directions with respect to a receivership, or refusing to vacate an order appointing or affecting a receiver; from an order directing the delivery, transfer, or surrender of property; from any special order made after final judgment; and from such interlocutory judgments or orders, in actions for partition as determine the rights and interests of the respective parties and direct partition to be made. In any of the cases mentioned in this subdivision the supreme court, or a justice thereof, may stay all proceedings under the order appealed from, on such conditions as may seem proper.

(c) From a judgment or order granting or refusing to grant, revoking or refusing to revoke, letters testamentary, or of administration, or of guardianship; or admitting or refusing to admit a will to probate, or against or in favor of the validity of a will, or revoking or refusing to revoke the probate thereof; or against or in favor of setting apart property, or making an allowance for a widow or child; or against or in favor of directing the partition, sale, or conveyance of real property, or settling an account of an executor, or administrator, or guardian; or refusing, allowing, directing the distribution or partition of any estate, or any part thereof, or the payment of a debt, claim, legacy, or distributive share; or confirming or refusing to confirm a report of an appraiser setting apart a homestead.

All questions raised on an order overruling a motion for a new trial or on an order changing or refusing to change the place of trial under R. C. M. 1947, section 93-2906 subdivisions 2, 3 or 4 thereof may be raised and reviewed on an appeal from the judgment.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967, in clause (b), inserted "or refusing to permit an action to be maintained as a class action;" near the beginning of the first sentence.

Advisory Committee's Note

Section 93-8003, R. C. M. 1947, is restated and clarified. The effect of section 93-8004 (3), referring to "an order changing or refusing to change a place of trial," is limited by providing for appeals from orders re change of venue only in cases where the motion for change is based upon subdivision 1 of section 93-2906.

Since these rules only apply to appeals from district courts to the Montana supreme court, the provisions of sections 93-8001 and 93-8002 are not superseded in so far as they refer to appeals in actions in police or justice's courts: a judgment or order in a civil action in police or justice's courts, except when expressly made final, may be reviewed as prescribed in R. C. M. 1947, sections 93-7901 to 93-7908.

This adds to appealable orders an order under Rule 23(c)(1), Montana Rules of Civil Procedure, refusing to permit a class action to be maintained as such. It does not permit appeal from an order permitting a class action to be maintained as such. See Advisory Committee's Note to Rule 23 of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure.

Denial of Change of Venue

Specification of error arising from trial court's order denying motion for change of venue was not properly before supreme court because timely appeal was not made from order as required by rules. Sealey v. Majerus, 149 M 268, 425 P 2d 70.

Denial of Motion

Where district court exceeded its jurisdiction in denying motion to quash summons and dismiss action where the summons had not been served and returned within the three years required by M. R. Civ. P., Rule 41(e) the order was not appealable under this rule. State ex rel. Belwin, Inc. v. Davison, 148 M 345, 420 P 2d 842, 844.

Writ of supervisory control was proper where lessor's motion to dismiss sublessees' action for breach of lease agreement, to which sublessees were not parties, was denied by the district court, the order denying the motion to dismiss not being appealable under this rule. State ex rel. Buttrey Foods, Inc. v. District Court, 148 M 350, 420 P 2d 845, 847.

Denial of Writ of Assistance

Although denial of writ of assistance, placing purchaser at sheriff's sale under mortgage foreclosure into possession of lands involved, by district court was appealable under rule either as "an order directing * * * surrender of property" or as "any special order made after final judgment," writ of supervisory control to compel the district court to issue writ of assistance was available as remedy since remedy by appeal was neither speedy nor adequate. State ex rel. Foss v. District Court, Fourth Judicial District, — M —, 446 P 2d 707.

Order Denying Summary Judgment

Although order denying summary judgment is nonappealable at time it is made because of its interlocutory character, it is nonetheless reviewable under appellate rule providing that all nonappealable intermediate orders or decisions properly excepted or objected to which involve merits or necessarily affect judgment are reviewable on subsequent appeal from final judgment. Brown v. Midland Nat. Bank, 150 M 422, 435 P 2d 878.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Dismissal of Action

An order granting a motion to dismiss was not appealable under former section 93-8003. Payne v. Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co., 142 M 406, 385 P 2d 100; Rambur v. Diehl Lumber Co., 143 M 432, 391 P 2d 1.

Injunctions and Restraining Orders

Order denying county commissioner's motion to quash temporary injunction against use of real property valuations made by private appraisal group and relied on by reclassification officer appointed by commissioners to determine 1965 tax assessment rolls was appealable under former section 93-8003. State ex rel. Keast v. Krieg, 145 M 521, 402 P 2d 405.

Sustaining of Demurrer

Notwithstanding that former statute providing for appeals gave party against whom demurrer was sustained plain and speedy remedy by appeal, court would not dismiss application for supervisory writ where judgment sustaining demurrer also stayed proceedings and expressly accorded losing party right to apply for supervisory writ. State ex rel. Cave Constr. Co. v. District Court, Third Judicial District, 150 M 18, 430 P 2d 624.

Rule 2. What the court may review on an appeal from a judgment.

Upon appeal from a judgment, the court may review the verdict or decision, and any intermediate order or decision excepted or objected to within the meaning of Rule 46 of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure, which involves the merits, or necessarily affects the judgment, except a decision or order from which an appeal might have been taken.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule incorporates R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8022.

Correction of Erroneous Judgment

Case would be remanded to district court for purpose of amending, by incorporating appropriate terms, a judgment which omitted defaulting codefendant who was jointly and severally liable on obligation. White v. Nollmeyer, 151 M 387, 443 P 2d 873.

Denial of Change of Venue

Specification of error arising from trial court's order denying motion for change of venue was not properly before supreme court because timely appeal was not made from order as required by rules. Sealey v. Majerus, 149 M 268, 425 P 2d 70.

Objections First Raised on Appeal

In condemnation proceedings by the state highway commission to condemn a right of way for an interstate highway which divided ranch into two large tracts making an underpass necessary, alleged error of trial court in its preliminary order of condemnation of ordering commission at its own expense to install, construct and maintain the underpass on the ground that the commission had previously agreed to install the underpass, could not be raised for the first time on appeal where the question was not raised at the time of the trial in the lower court. State ex rel. State Highway Commission v. Wheeler, 148 M 246, 419 P 2d 492, 496.

Order Denying Summary Judgment

Although order denying summary judgment is nonappealable order at time it is made because of its interlocutory character, it is nonetheless reviewable under appellate rule providing that all nonappealable intermediate orders or decisions properly excepted or objected to which involve merits or necessarily affect the judgment are reviewable on subsequent appeal from final judgment. Brown v. Midland Nat. Bank, 150 M 422, 435 P 2d 878.

Rule 3. Suspension of the rules.

In the interest of expediting decision upon any matter before it, or for other good cause shown, the supreme court may, except as otherwise provided in Rule 21(b), suspend the requirements or provisions of these rules on application of a party or on its own motion and may order proceedings in accordance with its direction.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is taken from Rule 2 of the Federal Draft. Its purpose is explained by the Federal Advisory Committee's Note. Adjusted to state practice, this purpose is to make clear the power of the supreme court to expedite the determination of cases of pressing concern to the public or to the litigants by prescribing a time schedule other than that provided by the rules. The rule also contains a general authorization to the supreme court to relieve litigants of the consequences of default where manifest injustice would otherwise result. Rule 21(b) prohibits the supreme court from extending the time for taking appeal.

II. APPEALS FROM JUDGMENTS AND ORDERS OF DISTRICT COURTS*Rule 4. How taken.

5. Time for filing notice of appeal.
6. Undertaking for costs on appeal.
7. Stay of judgment or order pending appeal.
8. Sureties and their justification.
9. The record on appeal.
10. Transmission of the record.

13. Acts of executors, administrators or guardians valid when appointment vacated.
14. Ruling against respondent may be reviewed.
15. Remedial powers of the supreme court.
16. Remittitur must be certified to the clerk of the district court.

Rule 4. How taken.

(a) FILING THE NOTICE OF APPEAL. An appeal shall be taken by filing a notice of appeal in the district court. Failure of an appellant to take any step other than the timely filing of a notice of appeal does not affect the validity of the appeal, but is ground only for such action as the supreme court deems appropriate, which may include dismissal of the appeal.

(b) JOINT APPEALS. If two or more persons are entitled to appeal from a judgment or order of the district court and their interests are such as to make joinder practicable, they may file a joint notice of appeal, or may join in appeal after filing separate notices of appeal as a single appellant.

(c) CONTENT OF THE NOTICE OF APPEAL. The notice of appeal shall specify the party or parties taking the appeal; and shall designate the judgment or order appealed from. Form 1 in the Appendix of Forms is a suggested form of notice of appeal.

(d) SERVICE OF NOTICE OF APPEAL. The clerk of the district court shall serve notice of the filing of a notice of appeal by mailing a copy thereof to counsel of record of each party other than the appellant, or, if a party is not represented by counsel, to the party at his last known address, and shall mail a copy of the notice of appeal to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk of the district court shall note on each copy served the date on which the notice of appeal was filed. If an appellant is represented by counsel, his counsel shall provide the clerk with sufficient copies of the notice of appeal to permit the clerk to comply with the requirements of this rule. Failure of the clerk to serve notice shall not affect the validity of the appeal. The notice shall be sufficient notwithstanding the death of a party or his counsel. The clerk shall note in the docket the names of the parties to whom he mails copies, with the date of mailing.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned after Rule 3 of the Federal Draft, but excludes references to criminal cases, habeas corpus proceedings and bankruptcy. Nothing other than the filing of a notice of appeal in the district court is required for the perfecting of an appeal. In the interest of providing the supreme court with prompt notice that its jurisdiction has been invoked, the rule directs the clerk of the district court to forward a copy of the notice of appeal to the clerk of the supreme court. The requirement that the appellant furnish the clerk with the necessary number of copies of the notice of appeal and that the clerk endorse on each copy served the date on which the notice was filed are for the convenience of the clerk and litigants respectively.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Service on Respondent

Where notice of appeal was not served on the respondent party within six months of the date of judgment, the supreme court could not acquire jurisdiction even though notice was filed with the district court within the statutory period. Seiffert v. Police Commission of Helena, 144 M 52, 394 P 2d 172.

Rule 5. Time for filing notice of appeal.

The time within which an appeal from a judgment or an order must be taken shall be 30 days from the entry thereof, except that in cases where service of notice of entry of judgment is required by Rule 77(d) of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure the time shall be 30 days from the service of notice of entry of judgment, but if the state of Montana, or any political subdivision thereof, or an officer or agency thereof is a party the notice of appeal shall be filed within 60 days from the entry of the judgment or order or 60 days from the service of notice of the entry of judgment. If a timely notice of appeal is filed by a party, any other party may file a notice of appeal within 7 days of the date on which the first notice of appeal was filed, or within the time otherwise provided by this rule, whichever period last expires.

The running of the time for filing a notice of appeal is suspended as to all parties by a timely motion filed in the district court by any party pursuant to the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure hereafter enumerated in this sentence, and the full time for appeal fixed by this rule commences to run and is to be computed from mailing by the clerk of notice of the entry of any of the following orders made upon a timely motion under such rules: (1) granting or denying a motion for judgment under Rule 50(b); (2) granting or denying a motion under Rule 52(b) to amend or make additional findings of fact, whether or not an alteration of the judgment would be required if the motion is granted; (3) granting or denying a motion under Rule 59 to alter or amend the judgment; (4) denying a motion for a new trial under Rule 59.

Upon showing of excusable neglect, the district court may extend the time for filing the notice of appeal by any party for a period not to exceed 30 days from the expiration of the original time prescribed by this rule.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967, in the first sentence of the first paragraph, inserted "a judgment or" before "an order"; substituted "except that * * * the time" for "and the time within which an appeal from a judgment must be taken"; deleted "as provided in Rule 77(d) of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure" after "entry of judgment"; and inserted "or any political subdivision thereof" after "state of Montana."

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned after Rule 4 of the Federal Draft. (Provisions for appeals in bankruptcy, petitions for impeachment, under the Railway Labor Act, under the Interlocutory Appeals Act, and in criminal cases, are omitted.) It materially shortens the time for taking an appeal.

The Federal Draft provides that the notice of appeal shall be filed within 30 days "of the date of the entry of the judgment order appealed from." The change, which measures the time from service of notice of entry of the judgment, is for the purpose of avoiding uncertainty as to what is a judgment and reducing the possibility of lack of knowledge of the entry of the judgment or order.

The provision for added time for appeal by other parties after notice of appeal is filed by one party is new. The Federal Advisory Committee Note explains this as follows: "It not infrequently happens that a party considers himself aggrieved by the final judgment but is willing to abide by it if it is to be the final result of the action. Such a party should be protected against the possibility that another party may file a final hour appeal and thereby oblige the forbearing party to undergo the expense of an appeal without the opportunity of presenting his own grievance" to the supreme court.

The time limit for taking an appeal would not prevent the taking of an appeal at any time after the entry of the judgment or order and before service of notice of entry.

The final paragraph permits an extension of the time for taking an appeal by the district court "upon a showing of excusable neglect." In view of the ease with which an appeal may be taken—the filing of a simple notice with the clerk of court—and the unlikelihood that there will not be actual notice of the entry of the judgment or order, it would be an extraordinary case which would justify an extension. But the district court should have the authority to extend time in extraordinary cases where injustice would otherwise result. The phrase "by any party" makes it clear that the district court may extend the time allowed for filing a cross or separate appeal after an initial appeal has been filed.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: None.

Since Rule 77(d), M. R. Civ. P., only requires service of notice of entry of judgment in cases where an appearance has been made, no time appears to be provided for filing notice of appeal from judgments in default cases. This amendment is designed to supply the deficiency.

The addition of the phrase, "or any political subdivision thereof," is added to make it clear that the 60-day provision applies to cities, counties, etc.

Rule 6. Undertaking for costs on appeal.

(a) [Form of undertaking—Time for filing]. Within 10 days after service of notice of appeal an undertaking for costs on appeal shall be filed in the district court, or a deposit of the money in the amount thereof be made with the clerk of the district court to abide the event of the appeal, or the undertaking be waived by the adverse party in writing. The undertaking must be executed on the part of the appellant by at least 2 sureties, or by a corporate surety as may be authorized by law, to the effect that the appellant will pay all damages and costs which may be awarded against him on the appeal, or on the dismissal thereof, not exceeding five hundred dollars. If the undertaking on appeal is not filed within the time specified, or if the undertaking filed is found insufficient, and if the action is not yet docketed with the supreme court, an undertaking may be filed at such time before the action is so docketed as may be fixed by the district court. After the action is so docketed, application for leave to file an undertaking may be made only in the supreme court. The undertaking for costs herein provided may be combined in a single document with a supersedeas bond under Rule 7.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

Rules 7 and 8 of the Federal Draft contain provisions for appeal bonds and the stay of judgments and orders. These provisions are not followed in the rule. Rather Rules 6, 7 and 8 hereof are substituted. These provisions are believed to be more in accord with state practice and to better fit into Montana statutes than do the provisions of the Federal Draft. This rule supersedes R. C. M. 1947, sections 93-8005, 93-8006, 93-8012, 93-8015, and compares with Federal Rule 73(c) and (e).

The amount of the undertaking has remained at $300 since 1895, and the rule would increase it to $500. Also, express provision is made for corporate sureties as may be authorized by law. Such authorization is found in R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8711.

Rule 7. Stay of judgment or order pending appeal.

(a) [Stay upon entry of judgment—Undertaking]. Upon entry of a judgment or order a party may apply to the district court on notice or ex parte for a stay of the execution of the judgment or order. The court in its discretion may grant said stay for such period of time and under such conditions as the court deems proper, including restraining the party from disposing of, encumbering, or concealing his property. Upon service of notice of appeal, if the court has made no such order or the appellant desires a stay for a longer period than ordered, he may present to the district court and secure its approval of a supersedeas bond which shall have such surety or sureties as are required for an undertaking for costs on appeal prescribed by Rule 6(a). The bond shall be conditioned for the satisfaction of the judgment or order in full together with costs, interest, and damages for delay, if for any reason the appeal is dismissed or if the judgment or order is affirmed, and to satisfy in full such modification of the judgment or order and such costs, interest, and damages as the supreme court may adjudge and award. When the judgment or order is for the recovery of money not otherwise secured, the amount of the bond shall be fixed at such sum as will cover the whole amount of the judgment or order remaining unsatisfied, costs on the appeal, interest, and damages for delay, unless the district court after notice and hearing and for good cause shown fixes a different amount or orders security other than the bond. When the judgment or order determines the disposition of property in controversy as in real actions, replevin, and actions to foreclose mortgages, or when such property is in the custody of the sheriff or when the proceeds of such property or a bond for its value is in the custody or control of the court, the amount of the supersedeas bond shall be fixed at such sum only as will secure the amount recovered for the use and detention of the property, the costs of the action, costs on appeal, interest, and damages for delay. On application, the supreme court in the interest of justice may suspend, modify, restore, or grant any order made under this subdivision.

(b) [Sale of perishable property]. If the judgment or order appealed from directs the sale of perishable property, the district court may order the property to be sold and the proceeds thereof to be deposited, to abide the judgment of the supreme court.

(c) [Cases in which stay of proceedings not allowed]. No stay of proceedings shall be allowed upon a judgment or order which adjudges the defendant guilty of usurping, or intruding into, or unlawfully holding public office, civil or military, within this state; or which grants a writ of mandamus, or of prohibition, against a tribunal, corporation, public officer, or board, commanding certain acts to be done which ought to be done by such tribunal, corporation, public officer, or board, and not involving the payment or allowance of money or its equivalent.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule supersedes subdivisions (a) and (d) of Rule 62 of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure. It also supersedes section 93-8013 in so far as applicable to appeals from district courts to the supreme court. However, since these rules do not apply to appeals from police and justices' courts, section 93-8013 is not superseded in so far as it provides that in cases where an undertaking is required on appeal by the provisions of sections 93-7901 to 93-7908, "a deposit in the court below of the amount of the judgment appealed from, and three hundred dollars in addition, shall be equivalent to filing the undertaking; and . . . the undertaking or deposit may be waived by the written consent of the respondent." Also section 93-8014 is superseded, and subdivision (c) of this rule is patterned after the last part of that section.

The provision of this rule that, upon entry of a judgment or order a party may apply to the district court on notice or ex parte for a stay of execution, is designed to afford time to obtain a supersedeas bond during which the status quo is maintained by court order. The power of the supreme court recognized by the last sentence of subdivision (a) supplements the power of the district court.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Eminent Domain Proceeding

Where state highway commission filed notice of appeal and perfected its appeal after writ of execution under section 93-9918 had issued, the appeal stayed the judgment although no bond was filed as required by this section, since under Rule 62(e), no security was required from the state. Robertson v. State Highway Commission, 148 M 275, 420 P 2d 21, 24.

Rule 8. Sureties and their justification.

(a) [Liability of surety—Enforcement]. In cases where an undertaking on appeal or supersedeas bond with sureties is required, the provisions of R. C. M. 1947, sections 93-8710 to 93-8715, inclusive, apply. By entering into an undertaking on appeal or supersedeas bond given pursuant to Rules 6 and 7, the surety submits himself to the jurisdiction of the district court and irrevocably appoints the clerk of the district court as his agent upon whom papers affecting his liability on the bond or undertaking may be served. His liability may be enforced on motion without the necessity of any independent action. The motion and such notice of the motion as the district court prescribed may be served on the clerk of that court, who shall forthwith mail copies to each surety whose address is known.

(b) [Justification of sureties]. A party may except to the sufficiency of the sureties to any bond or undertaking mentioned in this rule at any time within 30 days after the filing of such bond or undertaking; and unless they or other sureties, within 20 days after service of notice of such exception, justify before a judge of the district court, or the clerk thereof, upon 5 days' notice to the other parties of the time and place of justification, execution of the judgment or order appealed from is no longer stayed.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

The provisions of subdivision (a) of the rule with respect to proceedings against sureties is patterned after Rule 8(b) of the Federal Draft. Subdivision (b) of the rule follows the existing Montana practice provided by R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8013, but the language is changed to avoid confusion where there are cross appeals or mixed forms of relief and to make it clear that either appellant or respondent, or both, may except to the sufficiency of sureties on a bond or undertaking furnished by the other.

Rule 9. The record on appeal.

(a) COMPOSITION OF THE RECORD ON APPEAL. The original papers and exhibits filed in the district court, the transcript of proceedings, if any, and a certified copy of the docket entries prepared by the clerk of the district court shall constitute the record on appeal in all cases.

(b) THE TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS—DUTY OF APPELLANT TO ORDER—NOTICE TO RESPONDENT IF PARTIAL TRANSCRIPT IS ORDERED—COSTS OF PRODUCING. Within 10 days after filing the notice of appeal the appellant shall order from the reporter a transcript of such parts of the proceedings not already on file as he deems necessary for inclusion in the record. In all cases where the appellant intends to urge insufficiency of the evidence to support the verdict, order or judgment in the district court, it shall be the duty of the appellant to order the entire transcript of the evidence. Wherever the sufficiency of the evidence to support a special verdict or answer by a jury to an interrogatory, or to support a specific finding of fact by the trial court, is to be raised on the appeal by the appellant, he shall be under a duty to include in the transcript all evidence relevant to such verdict, answer or finding. Unless the entire transcript is to be included, the appellant shall, within the time above provided, file and serve on the respondent a description of the parts of the transcript which he intends to include in the record and a statement of the issues which he intends to present on the appeal. If the respondent deems a transcript of other parts of the proceedings to be necessary he shall within 10 days after such filing and service order such parts from the reporter or procure an order from the district court requiring the appellant to so do.

The cost of producing the transcript shall be paid by the appellant, or he shall make satisfactory arrangements with the reporter for the payment of such cost; but, if the appellant considers that any part of the record designated by the respondent for inclusion is unnecessary for the determination of the issues presented, he shall advise the respondent, and the district court may impose upon the respondent the cost of producing any part which it deems unnecessary for the determination of the issues.

The reporter shall certify the correctness of the transcript.

(c) STATEMENT OF THE EVIDENCE OR PROCEEDINGS WHEN NO REPORT WAS MADE OR WHEN THE TRANSCRIPT IS UNAVAILABLE. If no report of the evidence or proceedings at a hearing or trial was made, or if a transcript is unavailable, the appellant may, within 10 days from the hearing or trial or such time extended as the district court may for good cause shown permit, prepare a statement of the evidence or proceedings from the best available means, including his recollection. The statement shall be served on the respondent, who may serve objections or propose amendments thereto within 10 days after service. Thereupon, the statement and any objections or proposed amendments shall be submitted for settlement and approval to the district judge who handled the proceedings, and as settled and approved shall be included by the clerk of the district court in the record on appeal. A judge may settle and approve such record after he ceases to be a judge. If such judge before the statement is settled and approved dies, is removed from office, becomes disqualified, is absent from the state, or refuses to settle and approve the statement, it shall be settled and approved in such manner as the supreme court may direct.

(d) AGREED STATEMENT AS THE RECORD ON APPEAL. In lieu of the record on appeal as defined in subdivision (a) of this rule, the parties may prepare and sign a statement of the case showing how the issues presented by the appeal arose and were decided in the district court and setting forth only so many of the facts averred and proved or sought to be proved as are essential to a decision of the issues presented. If the statement conforms to the truth, it, together with such additions as the court may consider necessary fully to present the issues raised by the appeal, shall be approved by the district court and shall then be certified to the supreme court as the record on appeal and transmitted thereto by the clerk of the district court within the time provided by Rule 10. Copies of the agreed statement may be filed as the appendix required by Rule 25.

(e) CORRECTION OR MODIFICATION OF THE RECORD. If any difference arises as to whether the record truly discloses what occurred in the district court, the difference shall be submitted to and settled by that court and the record made to conform to the truth. If anything material to either party is omitted from the record by error or accident or is misstated therein, the parties by stipulation, or the district court, either before or after the record is transmitted to the supreme court, on proper suggestion or of its own initiative, may direct that the omission or misstatement be corrected, and if necessary that a supplemental record be certified and transmitted. All other questions as to the form and content of the record shall be presented to the supreme court.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned after Rule 10 of the Federal Draft.

Subdivision (a). This subdivision provides for the use of the original trial record as the official record on appeal, and judgment rolls are nowhere provided for in these Rules. This use of the trial record is now provided for in all federal circuit courts.

Subdivision (b). The Federal Advisory Committee's Note states: "The appellant is required to serve a statement of the issues which he intends to present on appeal if only a part of the proceedings is transcribed solely to allow the appellee to determine whether the partial transcript will be adequate for the determination of the issues presented by the appeal. Such a statement is not the equivalent of an assignment of errors, which is nowhere required in the proposed rules, and the statement would not result in limiting the issues on appeal. The precise statement of the issues presented by the appeal is to be made in the brief. An appellee who can show that he was misled by the statement required by this subdivision and in consequence failed to designate for transcription material parts of the reported proceedings may seek relief under subdivision (e) of this rule."

The second and third sentences of this subdivision following the title are added to the Federal Draft to make the duty which rests on the appellant more specific. Also, the second paragraph of this subdivision has been expanded to afford protection to an appellant against payment of costs of a transcript of unnecessary portions of the proceeding ordered by a respondent. And the last paragraph, requiring the reporter to certify the correctness of the transcript, has been added to the Federal Draft.

Subdivision (c). The provision of the Federal Draft for settlement has been expanded, patterned after section 93-5508; also, because memories are short, there has been added a time limit for the preparation of the statement.

Subdivisions (d) and (e) are the same as the provisions of the federal draft, adjusted to the Montana court system.

Cost of Transcript

Under rule providing that court "may impose upon the respondent the cost of producing any part of the record which it deems unnecessary for the determination of the issues," court determined that cost of portion of transcript ordered by respondent, which did not bear on any issue presented upon appeal, should be assessed against respondent. Ratcliff v. Murphy, 150 M 31, 430 P 2d 627.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Evidence Not in Record

Merits of appeal could not be determined where purported transcript on appeal did not contain certificate of judge that records included in the transcript had been used at the hearing. Anderson v. Mennie, 144 M 105, 394 P 2d 853, 854.

Late Presentment of Bill

A bill of exceptions presented after the time prescribed in former section 93-5505 was a nullity and could not be considered on appeal. Anderson v. Mennie, 144 M 105, 394 P 2d 853, 854.

Notice of Appeal

Where appellant sought to amend notice of appeal from a nonappealable order so as to make it an appeal from final judgment, the supreme court acquired no jurisdiction to allow such amendment when the statutory provisions for time and manner of appeal were not complied with. Payne v. Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co., 142 M 406, 385 P 2d 100.

Rule 10. Transmission of the record.

(a) TIME FOR TRANSMISSION—NUMBER OF COPIES OF TRANSCRIPT—DUTY OF APPELLANT. The record on appeal, including the transcript necessary for the determination of the appeal, shall be transmitted to the supreme court within 40 days after the filing of the notice of appeal unless the time is shortened or extended by an order entered under subdivision (c) of this rule. Six copies of each transcript must be lodged with the clerk of this court for filing. Promptly after filing the notice of appeal the appellant shall comply with the provisions of Rule 9(b) and shall take any other action necessary to enable the clerk to assemble and transmit the record. If more than one appeal is filed, each appellant shall comply with the provisions of Rule 9(b) and this subdivision, and a single record shall be transmitted within 40 days after the filing of the final notice of appeal.

(b) DUTY OF CLERK TO TRANSMIT THE RECORD. When the record is complete for purposes of the appeal, the clerk of the district court shall transmit it to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk shall number the documents comprising the record and shall transmit with the record a numbered list of the documents, identifying each with reasonable definiteness. Documents in bulky containers and physical exhibits other than documents shall not be transmitted by the clerk unless he is directed to do so by a party or by the clerk of the supreme court. A party must make advance arrangements with the clerk of the district court for the transportation of bulky or weighty exhibits and with the clerk of the supreme court for their receipt. Transmission of the record is effected when the clerk of the district court mails or otherwise forwards the record to the supreme court. The clerk of the district court shall indicate, by endorsement on the face of the record or otherwise, the date upon which it is transmitted to the supreme court.

(c) EXTENSION OF TIME FOR TRANSMISSION OF THE RECORD—REDUCTION OF TIME. The district court may extend the time for transmitting the record. The request for extension must be made within the time originally prescribed or within an extension previously granted, and the district court shall not extend the time to a day more than 90 days from the date of filing of the first notice of appeal. If the district court is without authority to grant the relief sought or has denied a request therefor, the supreme court may on motion extend the time for transmitting the record or may permit the record to be transmitted and filed after the expiration of the time allowed or fixed. A motion for an extension of time for transmitting the record made in either court shall show that the inability of the appellant to cause timely transmission of the record is due to causes beyond his control or to circumstances which may be deemed excusable neglect. If a request for an extension of time for transmitting the record has been previously denied, the motion shall set forth the denial and shall state the reasons therefor, if any were given.

The district court or the supreme court may require the record to be transmitted and the appeal to be docketed at any time within the time otherwise fixed or allowed therefor.

(d) RETENTION OF THE RECORD IN THE DISTRICT COURT BY ORDER OF COURT. The supreme court may provide by rule or order that a certified copy of the docket entries shall be transmitted in lieu of the entire record, subject to the right of any party to request at any time during the pendency of the appeal that designated parts of the record be transmitted.

If the record is required in the district court for use there pending the appeal, the district court may make an order to that effect, and the clerk of the district court shall retain the record and shall transmit a copy of the order and of the docket entries together with such parts of the original record as the district court shall allow and copies of such parts as the parties may designate.

If the record is retained in the district court by order of either court, the clerk of the district court shall retain it subject to the order of the supreme court, and transmission of the copy of the docket entries shall constitute transmission of the record.

(e) STIPULATION OF PARTIES THAT PARTS OF THE RECORD BE RETAINED IN THE DISTRICT COURT. The parties may agree by written stipulation filed in the district court that designated parts of the record shall be retained in the district court unless thereafter the supreme court shall order or any party shall request their transmittal. The parts thus designated shall nevertheless be a part of the record on appeal for all purposes.

(f) RECORD FOR PRELIMINARY HEARING IN THE SUPREME COURT. If prior to the time the record is transmitted a party desires to make in the supreme court a motion for dismissal, for a stay pending appeal, for additional security on the undertaking on appeal or on a supersedeas bond, or for any intermediate order, the clerk of the district court at the request of any party shall transmit to the supreme court such parts of the original record as the party shall designate.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is taken from Rule 11 of the Federal Draft.

Subdivision (a). This subdivision fixes the time for transmission rather than for filing at 40 days after the filing of the notice of appeal, thus enabling the parties to know with certainty precisely when the complete record must be transmitted to the supreme court. The only justification for delay between filing the notice of appeal and the transmission of the record to the supreme court is the time required for securing a transcription of the trial proceedings. If the appellant is prevented from securing the necessary transcript within the 40-day period by circumstances beyond his control, he may seek an extension of time for transmitting the record.

The requirement that the appellant take any other action necessary to enable the clerk to assemble and transmit the record emphasizes the primary responsibility of the appellant for effecting timely transmission of the record. His responsibilities include, for example, the payment of any required fee or charge.

Subdivision (b). The appellant is allowed 40 days between the filing of the notice of appeal and the transmission of the record in order to allow him to secure the necessary transcript. If the transcript is available sooner, the allowance is unnecessary, and either party may oblige the clerk of the district court to transmit the record forthwith. On the other hand, unless the record contains the necessary transcript, the clerk is not to transmit it.

Subdivision (c). Cause for extension of the time by either the district or the supreme court must be shown. The final sentence permits any party to expedite the appeal in cases in which the record is complete by obtaining an order that the record be transmitted and the appeal docketed at a date earlier than otherwise allowed or fixed.

Subdivision (d). This subdivision permits the record to be retained in the district court by order of the supreme court, or order of the district court subject to the order of the supreme court. Especially in cases where the judgment or order does not dispose of the entire litigation, retention of the record in the district court may be a convenience for counsel and the district court. In some cases there may be no need for the transmission of the record, and the labor and expense of transmission may be saved.

Subdivision (e). This subdivision permits parties to stipulate against transmission of designated parts of the record free from the fear that a mistake may substantially affect the scope of the appeal. The final sentence makes it clear that a stipulation that designated parts of the record not be transmitted in no way diminishes the record itself. In effect, a party may at any time revoke his stipulation against transmission of parts of the record.

Subdivision (f). The substance of this subdivision was taken from Fed. R. Civ. P., Rule 75(j).

Rule 11. Docketing the appeal—Filing of the record.

(a) DOCKETING THE APPEAL. Within the time allowed or fixed for transmission of the record, the appellant shall pay to the clerk of the supreme court the fee for filing the record on appeal fixed by section 82-503 of the 1947 Revised Codes of Montana, and the clerk shall thereupon enter the appeal upon the docket. If an appellant is authorized to prosecute the appeal without prepayment of fees, the clerk shall enter the appeal upon the docket at or before the time of filing the record. An appeal shall be docketed under the title given to the action in the district court with such addition as is necessary to indicate the identity of the appellant

(b) FILING OF THE RECORD. Upon receipt of the record by the clerk of the supreme court following its timely transmittal, and after the appeal has been timely docketed, the clerk shall file the record. The clerk shall immediately give notice to all parties of the date on which the record was filed.

(c) DISMISSAL FOR FAILURE OF APPELLANT TO CAUSE TIMELY TRANSMISSION OR TO DOCKET APPEAL. If the appellant shall fail to cause timely transmission of the record or to pay the filing fee if a filing fee is required, any respondent may file a motion in the supreme court to dismiss the appeal. The motion shall be supported by a certificate of the clerk of the district court showing the date and substance of the judgment or order from which the appeal was taken, the date on which the notice of appeal was filed, and the expiration date of any order extending the time for transmitting the record; and by proof that 7 days' notice in writing has been served on the appellant that application will be made for dismissal of the appeal. The clerk shall docket the appeal for the purpose of permitting the court to entertain the motion, without requiring payment of the filing fee, but the appellant shall not be permitted to appear without payment of the fees unless he is otherwise exempt therefrom. Instead of filing a motion to dismiss the appeal, the respondent may cause the record to be transmitted and may docket the appeal, in which event the appeal shall proceed as if the appellant had caused it to be docketed.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned after Rule 12 of the Federal Draft, with adjustments to state practice. The provision of section 82-503 for a fee for filing the "transcript" on appeal will apply to the "record" on appeal pursuant to these rules.

The appellant's responsibility with respect to docketing and filing are specified. The appellant may pay the filing fee at any time after filing the notice of appeal, and it is then the duty of the clerk of the supreme court to enter the appeal on the docket. The appellant's responsibility is (1) to pay the filing fee at or before the time allowed or fixed for transmission of the record, and (2) to insure that the record is transmitted to the supreme court within the time allowed or fixed for its transmission. The clerk of the supreme court is directed to assign to cases on appeal the title which was used in the district court in the interest of facilitating future reference and citation and location of cases in indexes.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Notice of Appeal

Where appellant sought to amend notice of appeal from a nonappealable order so as to make it an appeal from final judgment, the supreme court acquired no jurisdiction to allow such amendment when the statutory provisions for time and manner of appeal were not complied with. Payne v. Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Co., 142 M 406, 385 P 2d 100.

Rule 12. Effect of dismissal.

The dismissal of an appeal is in effect an affirmance of the judgment or order appealed from, unless the dismissal is expressly made without prejudice to another appeal.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule incorporates R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8020.

Rule 13. Acts of executors, administrators or guardians valid when appointment vacated.

When the judgment or order appointing an executor, or administrator, or guardian is reversed on appeal, for error, and not for want of jurisdiction of the court, all lawful acts in administration upon the estate performed by such executor, or administrator, or guardian, if he have qualified, are as valid as if such judgment or order had been affirmed.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule incorporates R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8016.

Rule 14. Ruling against respondent may be reviewed.

Whenever the record on appeal shall contain any order, ruling, or proceeding of the trial court against the respondent, affecting his substantial rights on the appeal of said cause, together with any required objection or exception of such respondent, the supreme court on such appeal shall consider such orders, rulings, or proceedings, and the objections and exceptions thereto, and shall reverse or affirm the cause on said appeal according to the substantial rights of the respective parties, as shown upon the record. And no cause shall be reversed upon appeal by reason of any error committed by the trial court against the appellant, where the record shows that the same result would have been attained had such trial court not committed an error or errors against the respondent.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule incorporates R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8023, but eliminates references to bills of exceptions and statements of the case properly settled because these rules nowhere provide for such bills and statements.

Rule 15. Remedial powers of the supreme court.

When the judgment or order is reversed or modified, the supreme court may make complete restitution of all property and rights lost by the erroneous judgment or order, so far as such restitution is consistent with protection of a purchaser of property at a sale ordered by the judgment, or had under process issued upon the judgment, on an appeal from which the proceedings were not stayed; and for relief in such cases the appellant may have his action against the respondent, enforcing the judgment for the proceeds of the sale of the property, after deducting therefrom the expenses of the sale.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule incorporates R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8024, substituting "supreme court" for "appellate court" and eliminating the provision for damages when the appeal is made for delay. Rule 32 covers the matter of damages.

Rule 16. Remittitur must be certified to the clerk of the district court.

When judgment is rendered upon the appeal, it must be certified by the clerk of the supreme court to the clerk of the district court from which the appeal is taken. The clerk of the district court must enter at length in the records of the court the certificate received. Also, in cases of appeal from a judgment, the clerk must enter a minute of the judgment of the supreme court on the docket against the original entry; and in cases of appeal from an order, he must enter a minute against the entry of the order appealed from, containing a reference to the certificate, with a brief statement that such order has been affirmed, reversed, or modified by the supreme court on appeal.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule incorporates the substance of

R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8025, but eliminates references to the judgment roll, which is nowhere provided for in these rules.

III. ORIGINAL PROCEEDINGS—EXTRAORDINARY WRITS

Rule 17. Acceptance and manner of conducting.

Rule 17. Acceptance and manner of conducting.

(a) WHEN ACCEPTED. The supreme court is an appellate court but it is empowered by the constitution of Montana to hear and determine such original and remedial writs as may be necessary or proper to the complete exercise of its jurisdiction. The institution of such original proceedings in the supreme court is sometimes justified by circumstances of an emergency nature, as when a cause of action or a right has arisen under conditions making due consideration in the trial courts and due appeal to this court an inadequate remedy, or when supervision of a trial court other than by appeal is deemed necessary or proper.

(b) HOW COMMENCED AND CONDUCTED. Proceedings commenced in the supreme court originally to obtain writs of habeas corpus, injunction, review, mandate, quo warranto, supervisory control, and other remedial writs or orders, shall be commenced and conducted in the manner prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure for the conduct of such or analogous proceedings and by these additional rules. All papers filed shall conform to the requirements of Rule 27.

(c) APPLICATIONS—WHEN FILED. The moving party's application shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court one hour prior to its presentation to the court.

(d) APPLICATIONS—WHAT TO CONTAIN. The application for the issuance of any of the above writs or orders must set forth, in addition to the other requisite matters, the particular questions and issues anticipated or expected to be raised in the proceeding, and also the fact which renders it necessary and proper that the writ should issue originally from the supreme court; the said matters will be taken into consideration by the court in determining the necessity and propriety of accepting jurisdiction and granting the alternative writ or order to show cause. Each application shall also set forth as exhibits, without repetition of title of court and cause, a copy of each judgment, order, notice, pleading, document, proceeding or court minute referred to in the application, or necessary to make out a prima facie case or to substantiate the pleading or conclusion or legal effect. A memorandum of authorities must be filed with the application.

(e) APPLICATIONS—HOW AND WHEN PRESENTED. The supreme court will receive and hear original applications in open court on any day when the court is in session; but at least an hour's prior notice of such presentation shall be given by counsel to the chief justice or acting chief justice. Not over fifteen minutes shall be allowed for the presentation of any such application unless on prior request further time is granted.

(f) ISSUANCE OF ALTERNATIVE WRIT OR ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE. This court will, as promptly as possible after the presentation of an application, either dismiss the same, issue an alternative writ, order to show cause, or such other remedial writ or order as it deems expedient.

(g) BRIEFS. At or before the time set for final hearing, each party shall serve and file his brief in full conformance with Rules 20, 23 and 27, and containing a statement of the facts and of the points of law applicable, with the authorities relied upon.

(h) HEARING—WHEN HAD. Unless otherwise ordered the hearing shall be had at the time fixed for the return. At or prior to said return time the opposing party shall serve and file, without waiver, any and all pleadings and motions desired to be presented, including answer or return, and all issues shall be argued at the hearing, the applicant opening and closing, and the parties being allowed the same time as upon argument of appeals. If testimony becomes necessary a reference will be ordered.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule incorporates Montana Supreme Court Rule IV, with changes in subdivisions (e) and (f) designed to recognize that on original applications the court is not limited to the issuance of alternative writs or orders to show cause, but may issue whatever remedial writ or order it deems expedient.

Alternative Writs

State highway commission, ordered by district court to produce certain appraisals under discovery rules, was entitled to have order reviewed on allegations that order required production of irrelevant and privileged matter in excess of lower court's jurisdiction, that it was not an appealable order and that commission had no remedy at law, which allegations were sufficient to authorize issuance of alternative writ. State Highway Commission v. District

IV. APPEALS IN FORMA PAUPERIS

Rule 18. Applications and manner of proceeding.

Rule 18. Applications and manner of proceeding.

(a) APPLICATION TO DISTRICT COURT. A party who desires to proceed on appeal in forma pauperis shall file in the district court a motion for leave so to proceed together with an affidavit showing, in the detail prescribed by Form 2 of the Appendix of Forms, his inability to pay the fees and costs of the appeal or to give security therefor, his belief that he is entitled to redress, and a statement of the issues he intends to present on appeal. If the motion is granted, the party may proceed on appeal without further application to the supreme court and without payment of fees or costs or the giving of security therefor. If the motion is denied, the district court shall state the reasons for the denial.

(b) APPLICATION TO THE SUPREME COURT. If the motion for leave to proceed on appeal in forma pauperis is denied by the district court, a motion for leave so to proceed may be filed in the supreme court within 30 days after entry of the order of denial. The motion shall be accompanied by a copy of the affidavit filed in the district court and of the statement of reasons for denial given by the district court.

(c) FORM OF BRIEFS, APPENDICES AND OTHER PAPERS. Parties allowed to proceed in forma pauperis may file briefs, appendices and other papers in typewritten form.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned after Rule 23 of the Federal Draft, but omits the last clause of the Federal Draft reading "and may request that the appeal be heard on the original record without an 'appendix.'" This change is made because these rules do not adopt the appendix system of Rule 30 of the Federal Draft. See Rule 25. This rule is believed to be consistent with R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8625.

V. GENERAL PROVISIONS

- Rule 19. Record of commissions and oaths.

Rule 19. Record of commissions and oaths.

(a) COMMISSIONS AND OATHS. The commissions and oaths of the justices and the clerk of this court, and the attorney general shall be recorded in the records of this court.

(b) MINUTES OF COURT. The minutes of this court shall be approved by the chief justice (or in his absence by the associate justice having the shortest term to serve), and attested by the clerk.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule incorporates Montana Supreme Court Rule I.

Rule 20. Filing and service.

(a) FILING. Papers required or permitted to be filed must be placed in the custody of the clerk within the time fixed for filing. Filing may be accomplished by mail addressed to the clerk, but filing shall not be timely unless the papers are actually received within the time fixed for filing. If a motion requests relief which may be granted by a single judge, the judge may permit the motion to be filed with him, in which event he shall note thereon the dates of filing and shall thereafter transmit it to the clerk.

(b) SERVICE OF ALL PAPERS REQUIRED. Copies of all papers, including any transcript, filed by any party and not required by these rules to be served by the clerk shall, at or before the time of filing, be served by the party or person acting for him on all other parties to the appeal or review. Service on a party represented by counsel shall be made on counsel.

(c) MANNER OF SERVICE. Service may be personal or by mail. Personal service includes delivery of the copy to a clerk or other responsible person at the office of counsel. Service by mail is complete on mailing.

(d) PROOF OF SERVICE. Papers presented for filing shall contain acknowledgment of service by the person served or proof of service in the form of a statement of the date and manner of service and of the names of the persons served, certified by the person who made service. Proof of service may appear on or be affixed to the papers filed. The clerk may permit papers to be filed without acknowledgment of proof of service but shall require such to be filed promptly thereafter.

cluding any transcript" has been added to subdivision (b) to make it clear that copies of any transcript are to be served on all parties. The first paragraph of Montana Supreme Court Rule III is superseded.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is taken from Rule 25 of the Federal Draft, but the phrase "in-

Rule 21. Computation and extension of time.

(a) COMPUTATION OF TIME. In computing any period of time prescribed by these rules, by an order of court, or by any applicable statute, the day of the act, event, or default from which the designated period of time begins to run shall not be included. The last day of the period shall be included, unless it is a Saturday, Sunday or a legal holiday. When the period of time prescribed or allowed is less than 7 days, intermediate Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays shall be excluded in the computation.

(b) EXTENSION OF TIME. The court for good cause shown may upon motion extend the time prescribed by these rules or by its order for doing any act, and may thereby permit an act to be done after the expiration of such time if the failure to act was excusable under the circumstances; but the court may not extend the time for filing a notice of appeal, except as provided in Rule 5.

(c) ADDITIONAL TIME AFTER SERVICE BY MAIL. Whenever a party is required or permitted to do any act within a prescribed period after service of a paper upon him and the paper is served by mail, 3 days shall be added to the prescribed period.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned after Rule 26 of the Federal Draft. There are omitted provisions of the Federal Draft with respect to petitions for allowance, applications for permission to appeal, appeals from advisory agencies, and a definition of "legal holiday." A definition of "legal holiday" is contained in R. C. M. 1947, section 19-107.

It is believed that these provisions are consistent with R. C. M. 1947, section 90-407.

Rule 22. Motions.

Unless another form is prescribed by these rules, an application for an order or other relief shall be made by filing a motion in writing for such order or relief. The motion shall state with particularity the grounds therefor and shall set forth the order or relief sought. If a motion is supported by briefs, affidavits or other papers, they shall be served and filed with the motion. Motions for procedural orders may be determined ex parte. The supreme court may authorize disposition of motions for procedural orders by a single judge. If a motion seeks dismissal of the appeal or other substantial relief, any party may file an answer in opposition within 7 days after service of the motion, or within such time as the court may direct. Motions, supporting papers and any response thereto may be typewritten.

At the time of filing a motion counsel shall present a proposed order, together with sufficient copies for service upon all counsel of record.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule supersedes Montana Supreme Court Rule XI. It is patterned after Rule 27 of the Federal Draft, but the last sentence of the Federal Draft requiring the filing of three copies of motions and supporting papers has been omitted. Also, there has been added as a last paragraph the amendment of the Montana Supreme Court Rule XI, effective January 1, 1965.

Rule 23. Briefs.

(a) BRIEF OF THE APPELLANT. The brief of the appellant shall contain under appropriate headings and in the order here indicated:

(1) A table of contents, with page references, and a table of cases (alphabetically arranged), statutes and other authorities cited, with references to the pages of the brief where they are cited.

(2) A statement of the issues presented for review.

(3) A statement of the case. The statement shall first indicate briefly the nature of the case and its disposition in the court below, e.g.: "The plaintiff brought this action in the district court to recover damages for the wrongful death of her husband. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff. On motion of the defendant the trial judge entered judgment for the defendant n. o. v. on the ground that there was no evidence to support a finding of negligence on the part of the defendant. From this judgment the plaintiff appeals."

There shall follow a statement of the facts relevant to the issues presented for review, with references to the pages of the parts of the record at which material facts appear (see subdivision (e)).

(4) An argument. The argument may be preceded by a summary. The argument shall contain the contentions of the appellant with respect to the issues presented, and the reasons therefor, with citations to the authorities, statutes and pages of the record relied on.

(5) A short conclusion stating the precise relief sought.

(b) BRIEF OF THE RESPONDENT. The brief of the respondent shall conform to the requirements of subdivision (a) (1) to (4), except that a statement of the issues or of the case need not be made unless the respondent is dissatisfied with the statement of the appellant.

(c) REPLY BRIEF. The appellant may file a brief in reply to the brief of the respondent. The reply brief must be confined to new matter raised in the brief of the respondent. No further briefs may be filed except with leave of court.

(d) REFERENCES IN BRIEFS TO PARTIES. Counsel will be expected in their briefs and oral arguments to keep to a minimum references to parties by such formal designations as "appellant" and "respondent." It promotes clarity to use names or descriptive terms such as "the employee," "the injured person," "the taxpayer," etc.

(e) REFERENCES IN BRIEFS TO THE RECORD. Whenever a reference is made in the briefs to the record, the reference must be to particular parts of the record, suitably designated, and to specific pages of each part, e. g., Answer, p. 7; Motion for Summary Judgment, p. 3; Transcript, p. 231. Intelligible abbreviations may be used. If reference is made to an exhibit, reference shall be made to the pages of the transcript on which the exhibit was identified, offered, and received or rejected.

(f) REPRODUCTION OF STATUTES, RULES, REGULATIONS, ETC. If determination of the issues presented requires the study of statutes, rules, regulations, etc., or relevant parts thereof, they may be reproduced in the brief or in an addendum at the end, or they may be supplied to the court in pamphlet form. No such reproduction is required, unless ordered by the supreme court.

(g) LENGTH OF BRIEFS AND COSTS. Except by permission of the court briefs shall not exceed 50 pages of standard typographic printing or 70 pages of printing by any other process of duplicating or copying, exclusive of pages containing the table of contents, tables of citations and any addendum containing statutes, rules, regulations, etc. For purposes of assessing costs under R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8606, reasonable costs shall be limited as follows: For appellant's brief fifty (50) pages; for respondent's brief forty (40) pages; for reply brief fifteen (15) pages. In addition, reasonable costs for briefs shall be limited to $250 for appellant's brief and $200 for respondent's brief.

(h) BRIEFS IN CASES INVOLVING CROSS APPEALS. If a cross appeal is filed, the plaintiff in the court below shall be deemed the appellant for the purposes of this rule and Rules 25 and 26, unless the parties otherwise agree or the court otherwise orders. The brief of the respondent shall contain the issues and argument involved in his appeal as well as the answer to the brief of the appellant.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned after Rule 28 of the Federal Draft, adjusted to state practice. The second paragraph of subdivision (e) of the Federal Draft is omitted, since these rules do not adopt the "appendix" system of Rule 30 of the Federal Draft. See Rule 25.

Also, in the Federal Draft, subdivision (f) requires reproduction of statutes, rules, regulations, etc. This has been changed, so that reproduction is permissive, unless ordered by the supreme court.

Rule 24. Brief of an amicus curiae.

A brief of an amicus curiae may be filed only if accompanied by written consent of all parties, or by leave of court granted on motion. A motion for leave shall identify the interest of the applicant and shall state the reasons why a brief of an amicus curiae is desirable. A motion of an amicus curiae for leave to participate in the oral argument will be granted only for extraordinary reasons.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is taken from Rule 29 of the Federal Draft. It follows the practice of a majority of federal circuits in requiring leave of court to file an amicus brief unless the litigants consent to its filing.

Rule 25. The appendix to the briefs.

(a) USE OF AN APPENDIX. At any time before final decision, the supreme court may order an appendix to any brief. Also, either the appellant or respondent may, if he deems it desirable, prepare, file and serve with his brief an appendix.

(b) CONTENTS OF THE APPENDIX. Unless otherwise ordered by the supreme court, an appendix shall contain: (1) the relevant docket entries in the proceeding below; (2) any relevant pleading and relevant portions of the charge, finding and opinion; (3) the judgment, order or decision in question; and (4) such other parts of the record as any party deems it essential for the judges of the court to read in order to decide the issues presented. In designating parts of the record for inclusion in the appendix, the parties shall have regard for the fact that the entire record is always available to the court for reference or examination and shall not engage in unnecessary designation.

(c) ARRANGEMENT OF THE APPENDIX. At the beginning of the appendix there shall appear a chronological list of the parts of the record which it contains. Each part of the record shall be listed by the descriptive title given to that part by the reference made to it in the briefs. The page or pages of the appendix at which each part of the record thus listed appears shall be set out opposite each listing in a column at the right, so as to permit immediate location in the appendix of the parts of the record referred to in the briefs and contained in the appendix.

The relevant docket entries in the proceeding below shall follow the list of contents. Thereafter, the parts of the record shall be set out in chronological order. The original paging of each part of the record set out in the appendix shall be indicated by placing in brackets the number of the original page at the place where that page begins. Omissions in the text of papers or of testimony must be indicated by asterisks. A question and its answer may be contained in a single paragraph.

(d) REPRODUCTION OF EXHIBITS. Exhibits may be contained in a separate volume, suitably indexed.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

Rules 30 and 31 of the Federal Draft, require post-brief appendices, unless dispensed with by court rule or order. The rule does not follow the Federal Draft at this point. Rather, under this rule the supreme court may order an appendix, or either party may if he chooses use an appendix. When an appendix is used it is to be filed and served with the brief.

Rule 26. Filing and service of briefs.

(a) TIME FOR FILING BRIEFS. The appellant shall serve and file his brief within 30 days after the date on which the record is filed. The respondent shall serve and file his brief within 30 days after service of the brief of the appellant. The appellant may serve and file a reply brief within 14 days after service of the brief of the respondent, but, except for good cause shown, a reply brief must be served and filed at least 3 days before argument.

(b) NUMBER OF COPIES TO BE FILED AND SERVED. Ten copies of each brief shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court unless otherwise ordered by the court, and one copy of each brief shall be served on counsel for each party separately represented. The clerk will not accept a brief for filing unless it is accompanied by acknowledgment or proof of service as required by Rule 20.

(c) CONSEQUENCES OF FAILURE TO FILE BRIEFS. If an appellant fails to file his brief within the time provided by this rule, or within the time extended, a respondent may move for dismissal of the appeal. If a respondent fails to file his brief, he will not be heard at oral argument except by permission of the court.

Rule 27 (a)      RULES OF APPELLATE COURT PROCEDURE

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned after Rule 31 of the Federal Draft.

Subdivision (a) follows the time fixed for filing of briefs provided in the Federal Draft, and that is the time now allowed by a majority of the federal circuits.

Subdivision (b) of the Federal Draft is omitted, since it provides a post-brief time for filing the appendix. Under Rule 25 an appendix must be filed and served with the brief, unless otherwise ordered by the supreme court.

Subdivision (b) of this rule is patterned after subdivision (c) of the Federal Draft. The number of copies to be filed and served, however, are adjusted to fit state practice and the present requirement of Montana Supreme Court Rule II.

Subdivision (c) of this rule follows subdivision (d) of Rule 31 of the Federal Draft.

Rule 27. Form of briefs, the appendix, motions and other papers.

(a) FORM OF BRIEFS, APPENDICES AND SEPARATE VOLUMES OF EXHIBITS. Briefs, appendices and separate volumes of exhibits may be produced by standard typographic printing or by any duplicating or copying process capable of producing a clear black image on white paper. Typewritten copies of briefs, appendices and separate volumes of exhibits may not be submitted without permission of the chief justice of the supreme court, except in behalf of parties allowed to proceed in forma pauperis. Pica solid is the smallest letter and the most compact form of composition allowed for all printed matter. Briefs, appendices and separate volumes of exhibits shall be on white uncalendered book paper in book or booklet form. If produced by the standard typographic printing process, the pages shall be ten inches long and seven inches wide, with a margin on the outer edge not less than one inch wide and on the inner edge not less than two inches wide. If produced by a duplicating or copying process, the pages shall be eleven inches long and eight and one-half inches wide, with a margin on the outer edge not less than one inch wide and on the inner edge not less than two inches wide. The pages shall be fastened at the side and numbered at the top.

(b) TYPEWRITTEN PAPERS AND MOTIONS. Papers not required to be produced in a manner prescribed by subdivision (a) of this rule shall be plainly and legibly written by a typewriter with a new black ribbon and new black carbon paper of good grade, in double spacing, except that quotations may be single spaced, on one side only of white typewriter paper, eight and one-half inches wide and thirteen inches long, numbered at the bottom, with a ruled margin of one and one-half inches on the left-hand side of the page and one inch on the right-hand side, and numbered lines, not more than thirty-two lines to the page. The pages shall be bound at the left-hand side into volumes not containing more than two hundred fifty pages; provided, however, that if the pages number fifty or less they may be bound at the top.

In collating typewritten papers the copies shall not be mixed, but each copy shall consist throughout of uniform pages. Each page of every copy shall be opaque and each line of print thereon plainly legible. The difficulty of examining transparent, illegible and nonuniform typewritten copies has become so great that this rule will be strictly applied and papers not complying with it will not be received.

(c) FIRST PAGE AND COVER. All papers shall be bound in cardboard or pasteboard covers, unless bound at the top under subdivision (b) of this rule, in which case they may be bound in cover paper. On the first page and cover of all papers must be stated the title of this court, the title of the case as in the court below, adding to the words "Plaintiff" and "Defendant," the words "Appellant" and "Respondent" as the case may require, the names of counsel for appellant and respondent, the title of the papers, as "Appellant's Brief," "Appendix to Appellant's Brief," etc., and the venue from which the appeal is taken.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

Rule 32 of the Federal Draft is adjusted to conform to the paper and forms prescribed for state practice and Montana Supreme Court Rule II, as amended effective January 1, 1965. The provisions requiring the use of pica type and two typewritten originals are stricken as being obsolete or unnecessary.

Rule 28. Prehearing conference.

The court may direct the attorneys for the parties to appear before the court or a judge thereof for a prehearing conference to consider the simplification of the issues and such other matters as may aid in the disposition of the proceedings by the court. The court or judge shall make an order which recites the action taken at the conference and the agreements made by the parties as to any of the matters considered and which limits the issue to those not disposed of by admission or agreements of counsel, and such order when entered controls the subsequent course of the proceedings, unless modified to prevent manifest injustice.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is taken from Rule 33 of the Federal Draft.

Rule 29. Oral argument.

(a) NOTICE OF HEARING—POSTPONEMENT. The clerk shall advise all parties of the time and place at which oral argument will be heard. A request for postponement of the hearing must be made by motion filed reasonably in advance of the date fixed for hearing.

(b) TIME ALLOWED FOR ARGUMENT. Upon oral argument of an appeal or original proceeding, 40 minutes will be allowed appellant or applicant and 30 minutes to respondent. If counsel is of the opinion that additional time is necessary for the adequate presentation of his argument, he may request such additional time as he deems necessary by motion filed reasonably in advance of the date fixed for hearing. A party is not obliged to use all of the time allowed, and the court may terminate the argument whenever in its judgment further argument is unnecessary.

(c) ORDER AND CONTENT OF ARGUMENT. The appellant or applicant is entitled to open and conclude the argument. The opening argument shall include a fair statement of the case, and the closing argument shall be limited to rebuttal of respondent's argument. Counsel will not be permitted to read at length from briefs, records or authorities.

(d) CROSS AND SEPARATE APPEALS. A cross or separate appeal shall be argued with the initial appeal at a single hearing, unless the court otherwise directs. If a case involves a cross appeal, the plaintiff in the action below shall be deemed the appellant for the purpose of this rule unless the parties otherwise agree or the court otherwise directs. If separate appellants support the same argument, care shall be taken to avoid duplication of argument at the hearing.

(e) NONAPPEARANCE OF COUNSEL—FAILURE TO FILE BRIEFS. If counsel for a party fails to appear to present argument, the court may hear argument on behalf of a party whose counsel is present, and the case will be decided on the briefs and the argument heard. If no counsel appear for any party, the case will be decided on the briefs unless the court shall otherwise order.

(f) SUBMISSION ON BRIEFS. By agreement of the parties, a case may be submitted for decision on the briefs, but the court may direct that the case be argued.

(g) USE OF PHYSICAL EXHIBITS AT HEARING—REMOVAL. If physical exhibits other than documents are to be used at the hearing, counsel shall arrange to have them placed in the courtroom before the court convenes on the date of the hearing. After the hearing counsel shall cause the exhibits to be removed from the courtroom unless the court otherwise directs. If exhibits are not reclaimed by counsel within a reasonable time after notice is given by the clerk, they shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the clerk shall think best.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned after Rule 34 of the Federal Draft, but the time provisions are more liberal than those of the Federal Draft which allows 30 minutes to each side. It is intended that the time be afforded to opposing interests rather than to individual parties, as is true under the Federal Draft. Thus, if there are multiple appellants they have together but 40 minutes, and multiple respondents have a total of 30 minutes. The 40 minutes for the appellant or applicant may be divided between the opening and closing statement, as the appellant or applicant chooses.

In other particulars this rule follows the usual practice among the federal circuits.

Rule 30. Entry and notice of orders and judgments.

(a) ENTRY AND NOTICE. The notation of a judgment or order in the docket constitutes entry thereof. Upon entry of a judgment or order, the clerk shall promptly mail to all parties a copy of the judgment or order, and notice of the date of entry thereof.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned after Rule 36 of the Federal Draft. The purpose is to clarify what constitutes an entry of a judgment or order. The provision for mailing by the clerk is for the convenience of the parties but does not affect the time for taking an appeal, which is controlled by Rule 5. As to the entry of judgments, see M. R. Civ. P., Rule 58.

Rule 31. Interest on judgments.

If a judgment for money in a civil case is affirmed, whatever interest is allowed by law shall be payable from the date the judgment was rendered or made in the district court. If a judgment is modified or reversed with a direction that a judgment for money be entered in the district court, the mandate shall contain instructions with respect to allowance of interest.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

The language of Rule 37 of the Federal Draft is modified to conform to R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8622.

Rule 32. Damages for appeal without merit.

If the supreme court is satisfied from the record and the presentation of the appeal, that the same was taken without substantial or reasonable grounds, but apparently for purposes of delay only, such damages may be assessed on determination thereof as under the circumstances are deemed proper.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

The language of Montana Supreme Court Rule XIX is substituted for that of Rule 38 of the Federal Draft.

Rule 33. Costs.

(a) COSTS ON APPEAL. Costs on appeal will be taxed as provided by R. C. M. 1947, section 93-8606, and if not otherwise provided by the Court in its decision, will automatically be awarded to the successful party against the other party. All costs on appeal shall be claimed as provided by section 93-8621, R. C. M. 1947.

(b) COSTS OF BRIEFS AND APPENDICES. The cost of printing or otherwise producing briefs and appendices shall be taxable at rates not higher than specified in Rule 23(g).

(c) OTHER COSTS TAXABLE. Costs incurred in the preparation and transmission of the record, the cost of the reporter's transcript, if necessary for the determination of the appeal, the premiums paid for cost of supersedeas bonds or other bonds to preserve rights pending appeal, and the fee for filing notice of appeal shall be taxed in the district court as costs of the appeal in favor of the party entitled to costs under this rule.

(d) COSTS IN ORIGINAL PROCEEDINGS. Costs in original proceedings, including reviews other than by appeal, will be taxed as provided by R. C. M. 1947, sections 93-8602, 93-8603, 93-8604 and 93-8611, and if not otherwise provided by the court in its decision, will be awarded to the successful party against the other party; provided, however, that costs awarded to plaintiff or relator in special proceedings to review inferior court rulings, orders or judgments will ordinarily be assessed against the real party in interest, namely, the party interested in upholding the inferior court's action, rather than against the state, county, municipality, subdivision, judge or justice.

(e) UNNECESSARY COSTS. Whenever it appears that the successful party has caused any redundant, useless or unnecessary matter to be incorporated in the record, briefs, or appendices, whether on appeal or in a special proceeding, he shall not recover as part of his costs so much of the expense as is occasioned thereby.

(f) NOTATION BY CLERK. The clerk of the supreme court shall, in all cases, include in the order of judgment of affirmance, reversal or modification on appeal, or for the issuance of a peremptory writ in an original proceeding, and in the remittitur, peremptory writ or judgment, a clause awarding the costs in accordance with this rule or the special order of this Court, to be recovered after claim and ascertainment or taxation thereof in the manner prescribed by law; and the clerk shall also furnish therewith an itemized statement of such costs as have been paid by him.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-8, Sept. 10, 1968, eff. Jan. 1, 1969.

Amendments

The amendment of September 10, 1968, in subdivision (a), added the last sentence; in subdivision (b), deleted "in the supreme court" after "taxable" and deleted a second sentence reading "A party who desires such costs to be taxed shall state them in a verified bill of costs which he shall file with the clerk, with proof of service, within 14 days after entry of judgment"; in subdivision (c), substituted the present caption for "costs taxable in the District Court[s]"; in subdivision (f), inserted "the" before "costs in accordance", deleted "in the supreme court" before "in accordance" and substituted "by" for "to" before "him."

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is a combination of Rule 39 of the Federal Draft and Montana Supreme Court Rule XVIII. With some adjustment of language, subdivision (a) is taken from the Montana Rule; subdivisions (b) and (c) from the Federal Draft; and subdivisions (d), (e) and (f) from the Montana Rule.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 10, 1968 Amendment

The amendments to Rule 33(a), (b), (c) and (f) are to make it clear that all costs on appeal are claimed in the court below after remittitur and eliminate the former duplication of cost bills in both the supreme court and district court.

Rule 34. Petitions for rehearing.

When, in appeals or special proceedings, it is ordered that remittitur, peremptory writ or judgment issue forthwith, no petition for rehearing will be entertained. In all other cases a petition for rehearing may be filed within 10 days after the decision of the supreme court has been rendered, unless the time is shortened or enlarged by order, and the adverse party shall have 7 days thereafter in which to serve and file his objections thereto. Extensions of time will be granted only upon showing of unusual merit, and in no event in excess of 10 days. A petition for rehearing may be presented upon the following grounds and none other: That some fact, material to the decision, or some question decisive of the case submitted by counsel, was overlooked by the court, or that the decision is in conflict with an express statute or controlling decision to which the attention of the court was not directed. Oral argument in support of the petition will not be permitted. Six copies of the petition and six copies of objections thereto, which may be in typewritten form, shall be filed with the clerk.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 10750-7, Sept. 29, 1967, eff. Jan. 1, 1968.

Amendments

The amendment of September 29, 1967 substituted "fact" for "facts" following the colon; deleted a former, next to last sentence reading "No reply to a petition for rehearing will be received unless requested by the court, but a petition for rehearing will not ordinarily be granted in the absence of such a request"; and substituted "and six copies of objections * * * form" for "produced in accordance with Rule 27(a)."

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned in part after Rule 40 of the Federal Draft. However, the first sentence is added from Montana Supreme Court Rule XV, as is the statement of the grounds for the petition and the procedure for serving and filing objections; also the 14 days for filing provided in the Federal Draft has been shortened to conform to state practice, and the number of copies required has been reduced from 25 to 6. The second sentence provides for filing of the petition within 10 days after "the decision of the supreme court has been rendered," rather than after "entry of judgment" as provided by the Federal Draft. The purpose is to avoid uncertainty as to when a judgment has been entered, which might exist under the language of the Federal Draft where the mandate of the supreme court is returned to the district court and there entered.

Advisory Committee's Note to September 29, 1967 Amendment

Source: None.

This amendment would dispense with requests by the court as a condition to filing replies to petitions for rehearing, and would permit petitions and objections thereto to be typewritten in the form prescribed by Rule 27(b).

Rule 35. Notice and copy of decision—Remittitur—Mandate from United States supreme court.

(a) NOTICE AND COPY OF DECISION TO BE FURNISHED. Upon the decision of a cause, notice thereof, together with a copy of the court's written decision, will immediately be mailed to counsel for each party.

(b) REMITTITUR — WHEN ISSUED — WHEN COPY OF OPINION TO ACCOMPANY. Remittitur may, in cases where it is deemed proper, be ordered forthwith; otherwise the same shall be issued promptly upon expiration of time for filing petition for rehearing, or, if such petition is filed, then upon the denial thereof, unless a modification of the decision is made which permits a further petition for rehearing. A copy of the opinion must accompany the remittitur when the judgment or order of the trial court is reversed or modified and the case remanded for further proceedings other than the entry of a final judgment or order terminating the proceedings in the trial court.

(c) MANDATE FROM UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT—PROCEDURE THEREON. Upon receipt by the clerk of the supreme court of Montana of a mandate from the supreme court of the United States in any case at law or in equity theretofore taken from the supreme court of Montana to the supreme court of the United States, it shall be the duty of said clerk forthwith to issue under his hand and the seal of the supreme court of Montana a remittitur to the district court by which the judgment was rendered, commanding such court to take such action in the premises as by the mandate shall be proper, and said remittitur shall also contain therein a recital in haec verba of the said mandate, and all the costs subsequent to the appeal from said district court shall be taxed in such remittitur.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule incorporates Montana Supreme Court Rules XIV, XXI, and XXII.

Rule 36. Voluntary dismissal.

If the parties to an appeal or other proceeding shall sign and file with the clerk an agreement that the proceeding be dismissed, specifying the terms as to payment of costs, and shall pay whatever fees are due, the clerk shall enter the case dismissed, and shall give to each party a copy of the agreement filed; but no mandate or other process shall issue without an order of the court. An appeal may be dismissed on motion of the appellant upon such terms as to costs as may be agreed upon by the parties or fixed by the court. If an appeal has not been docketed the appeal may be dismissed by the court from which the appeal was taken upon the filing in that court of a stipulation for dismissal signed by all parties, or upon motion and notice by the appellant.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is taken from Rule 42 of the Federal Draft.

Rule 37. Substitution of parties.

(a) DEATH OF A PARTY. If a party dies after a notice of appeal is filed or while a proceeding is otherwise pending in the supreme court, the personal representative of the deceased party may be substituted as a party on motion filed by the representative or by any party with the clerk of the supreme court. The motion of a party shall be served upon the representative in accordance with the provisions of Rule 20. If the deceased party has no representative, any party may suggest the death on the record and proceedings shall then be had as the supreme court may direct. If a party against whom an appeal may be taken dies after entry of a judgment or order in the district court but before a notice of appeal is filed, an appellant may proceed as if death had not occurred. After the notice of appeal is filed substitution shall be effected in the supreme court in accordance with this subdivision. If a party entitled to appeal shall die before filing a notice of appeal, the notice of appeal may be filed by his personal representative, or, if he has no personal representative, by his attorney of record within the time prescribed by these rules. After the notice of appeal is filed substitution shall be effected in the supreme court in accordance with this subdivision.

(b) SUBSTITUTION FOR OTHER CAUSES. If substitution of a party in the supreme court is necessary for any reason other than death, substitution shall be effected in accordance with the procedure prescribed in subdivision (a).

(c) PUBLIC OFFICERS—DEATH OR SEPARATION FROM OFFICE.

(1) When a public officer is a party to an appeal or other proceeding in the supreme court in his official capacity and during its pendency dies, resigns or otherwise ceases to hold office, the action does not abate and his successor is automatically substituted as a party. Proceedings following the substitution shall be in the name of the substituted party, but any misnomer not affecting the substantial rights of the parties shall be disregarded. An order of substitution may be entered at any time, but the omission to enter such an order shall not affect the substitution.

(2) When a public officer is a party to an appeal or other proceeding he may be described as a party by his official title rather than by name; but the court may require his name to be added.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is taken from Rule 43 of the Federal Draft.

Rule 38. Cases involving constitutional questions where the state is not a party.

It shall be the duty of counsel who challenges the constitutionality of any act of the Montana legislature in any suit or proceeding in the supreme court to which the state of Montana, or any agency thereof, or any officer or employee thereof, as such officer or employee, is not a party, upon the filing of the record to give immediate notice in writing to the court of the existence of said question, specifying the section of the Code or the chapter of the session law to be construed. The clerk shall thereupon certify such fact to the attorney general of the state of Montana.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule is patterned after Rule 44 of the Federal Draft.

Rule 39. Calendar—Withdrawal of records.

(a) PLACING CAUSES UPON CALENDAR. Thirty days after the appellant's brief has been filed, the cause shall be placed on the calendar as ready for oral argument.

(b) SETTING CAUSES FOR ARGUMENT. As often as found convenient, causes on the calendar will be set for argument by the court in the chronological order in which they have been placed on the calendar, except such causes as are determined entitled to precedence or as otherwise ordered by the court. Oral arguments will not be heard during the months of July and August.

(c) ADVANCEMENT OF CAUSES. Appeals from orders dissolving, refusing to dissolve, granting or refusing to grant writs of injunction, appeals from orders dissolving or refusing to dissolve attachments, appeals from orders appointing or refusing to appoint receivers, appeals from orders or judgments holding appellant in custody, and workmen's compensation appeals, are entitled to precedence and will, upon motion of either party, be advanced on the calendar.

(d) PERMISSION TO TAKE RECORD FROM CLERK'S OFFICE. The records and other papers of the supreme court shall not be taken therefrom except by counsel pursuant to a written order of a justice of the court, which order shall specify the time the same may be retained out of the clerk's office; provided, that the court or a justice thereof may require the same to be returned within a shorter period upon notice. The clerk shall preserve each order and counsel's receipt until the papers therein mentioned shall be returned.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

Montana Supreme Court Rules XIII and XVI have been substituted for the provisions of Rule 45 of the Federal Draft.

Rule 40. Appeals from injunction orders.

Upon appeal from an order dissolving or refusing an injunction, if the appellant desires to continue in force the injunction order dissolved by the district court, or to obtain such injunction order pending the appeal, he shall apply to the district court under Rule 62 of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure. In the event the relief there requested be not granted he may file in the supreme court his sworn application, setting forth the proceedings appealed from and the relief desired, and present with it to the supreme court, a verified copy of the affidavits or evidence used on the hearing in the district court. Such application will be heard ex parte and without argument, and the court, upon such record will make such order in the premises as may be proper.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule incorporates the substance of Supreme Court Rule XXIII, as amended effective April 3, 1963.

Rule 41. Statutes and rules amended.

[This rule amended Rule 72 of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure, and R. C. M. 1947, sections 93-5708, 93-8001, 93-8002, 93-8013 and 93-9905, subdivision 3. For text of amendments see the designated sections.]

Rule 42. Applicability in general.

(a) SPECIAL STATUTORY PROCEEDINGS. The statutory proceedings listed in Table A of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure and any other special statutory proceedings, whether or not listed in said Table A, are excepted from these rules in so far as they are inconsistent or in conflict with the procedure and practice provided by these rules.

(b) APPEALS TO DISTRICT COURTS. These rules do not supersede the provisions of statutes relating to appeals to or review by the district courts, which shall govern procedure and practice relating thereto in so far as they are not inconsistent with these rules.

(c) RULES INCORPORATED INTO STATUTES. Where any statute heretofore or hereafter enacted, whether or not applicable to a special statutory proceeding or listed in any table appended hereto, provides that any act in a civil proceeding in a district court or in the Montana supreme court shall be done in the manner provided by law or as in a civil action or as provided by any statute superseded by these rules, such act shall be done in accordance with these rules and the procedure thereon shall conform to these rules, in so far as practicable.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

Advisory Committee's Note

This Rule is patterned after Rule 81 of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure. It excepts inconsistent special statutory proceedings and appeals to and reviews by the district courts to the extent that they are governed by inconsistent statutes and it is impracticable to incorporate procedures provided by these rules. But statutes such as sections 93-9302, 93-9303, 93-9718, 93-9719, and 93-9922, which contain catch-all references to the applicability of statutes which have been superseded, are brought into line with these rules in so far as practicable.

Rule 43. Title—Effective date—Statutes superseded.

(a) TITLE. These Rules shall be known as the Montana Rules of Appellate Civil Procedure and may be cited as M. R. App. Civ. P.

(b) EFFECTIVE DATE AND APPLICATION TO PENDING PROCEEDINGS. These rules will take effect on January 1, 1966. They govern all appeals and original proceedings brought after they take effect, and also all further proceedings in appeals and original proceedings then pending, except to the extent that in the opinion of the supreme court their application in a particular appeal or original proceeding pending when the rules take effect would not be feasible, or would work injustice, in which event the procedure existing at the time the appeal or original proceeding was brought applies.

(c) STATUTES AND RULES SUPERSEDED. Upon the taking effect of these rules all statutes and rules, and parts thereof, in conflict herewith, and the statutes and rules listed in Tables A, B, and C, in so far as they relate to civil proceedings, are superseded in respect of practice and procedure on appeals from the district courts to the supreme court and in original proceedings brought in the supreme court.

History: En. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11020, Dec. 10, 1965, eff. Jan. 1, 1966.

of the Montana Rules of Civil Procedure. Subdivision (c) refers to statutes and rules only in so far as they relate to civil proceedings, to make it clear that criminal proceedings are in no way affected by these rules.

Advisory Committee's Note

This rule incorporates provisions similar to those contained in Rules 85 and 86

Where defendant was convicted of a felony under the first portion of a consolidated information and of a misdemeanor under the second portion and the trial court adjudged that the sentences be served concurrently, the sentence for the felony should be served in the state prison and credit for the misdemeanor fine should be given at the same time, and any remaining time under the misdemeanor at the end of the state prison term should be served in the county jail. State v. Bogue, 142 M 459, 384 P 2d 749.

94-117. (10726) To constitute crime there must be unity of act, etc.*Criminal Negligence

Insofar as the offense of involuntary manslaughter is concerned under section 94-2507, the proof of culpability is supplied by evidence of criminal negligence. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617, overruled on another point, 134 M 519, 525, 333 P 2d 1017, 1021.

It is wholly unnecessary in involuntary manslaughter cases to superimpose upon the requirement of the element of criminal negligence the further requirement that a determination must be made as to whether the act resulting in death might ordinarily be classified as malum in se or merely malum prohibitum, for, if that act is done in a manner which is criminally negligent, it thereby becomes malum in se and thereby includes the element of mens rea. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617, overruled on another point, 134 M 519, 525, 333 P 2d 1017, 1021.

Under a prosecution for involuntary manslaughter, irrespective of the character of the unlawful act, whether malum in se or merely malum prohibitum, the criminality of the act resulting in death is established if that act was done negligently in such a manner as to evince a disregard for human life or an indifference to consequences. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617, overruled on another point, 134 M 519, 525, 333 P 2d 1017, 1021.

Instructions Respecting Specific Intent

Refusal to instruct that in every crime there must exist union or joint operation of act and intent or criminal negligence as provided by statute was not error in prosecution for second degree assault under which general nonstatutory intent to do harm willfully, wrongfully and unlawfully is an element but under which specific statutory intent to do any particular kind or degree of injury to victim is not an element. State v. Fitzpatrick, 149 M 400, 427 P 2d 300.

Since specific intent was not necessary element of second degree assault, refusal of instruction thereon was proper even though defendant claimed that high degree of intoxication precluded formation of intent, assault statute not requiring proof of specific intent. State v. Warrick, — M —, 446 P 2d 916.

Involuntary Manslaughter

Wilful or evil intent is not an element of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Pankow, 134 M 519, 333 P 2d 1017, 1021.

References

State v. Holdren, 143 M 103, 387 P 2d 446.

94-118. (10727) Intent, how manifested, and who considered, etc.*Evidence of Specific Intent

Finding of jury that defendant was able to form specific intent to commit first degree assault as required by statute was properly inferred from evidence that, although intoxicated, defendant turned off lights inside apartment, reached into a nearby drawer and prepared revolver for action, surrendered to police, walked out of apartment under own power with hands in air and after arrest had no difficulty recounting recent events to police. State v. Lukus, 149 M 45, 423 P 2d 49.

Intent to Defraud

Proof of intent to defraud may consist of reasonable inferences drawn from affirmatively established facts, and where defendant was sufficiently conscious at the time to recognize the fraudulent nature of the check he was of adequate mental ability to form an intent to defraud by uttering the check knowing of its fraudulent nature. State v. Cooper, 146 M 336, 406 P 2d 691.

Cross-References

Competency of accused, mental disease or defect excluding responsibility as affirmative defense, sec. 95-503.

Effect of Intoxication on Confession

Confession of intoxicated defendant was voluntary and admissible in light of evidence that he was able to recite in great detail events occurring prior to and during act charged. State v. Chappel, 149 M 114, 423 P 2d 47.

Evidence of Insanity

Defendant was entitled to plead insanity as bar to conviction for first degree murder, but failed to sustain burden of proof by a preponderance of testimony, as required by statute, in view of evidence that his activities on day of shooting were normal, he was quite calm after shooting occurred and he knew right from wrong at time of shooting, according to psychiatrist. State v. Sanders, 149 M 166, 424 P 2d 127.

Intoxication

Since specific intent is not element of second degree assault, the court was correct in refusing defendant's offered instruction that jury could take degree of intoxication into account in arriving at verdict in so far as it affected defendant's capacity for willfulness and intent. State v. Warriek, — M —, 446 P 2d 916.

While voluntary intoxication is generally no defense to a criminal charge, it may be a defense where a specific intent is an essential element of the crime charged. Alden v. State, 234 F Supp 661, 672, affirmed in 345 F 2d 530.

Intoxication As Affecting Degree of Crime

In murder prosecution, jury was properly instructed that if killing was done by defendant with malice aforethought, but defendant was incapable of premeditation and deliberation because of intoxication then crime was second-degree murder, and that if defendant was so intoxicated at time of killing that he was incapable of harboring malice aforethought, crime was manslaughter. State v. Brooks, 150 M 399, 436 P 2d 91.

Defendant was entitled to plead insanity as bar to conviction for first degree murder, but failed to sustain burden of proof by preponderance of testimony, as required by statute, in view of evidence that his activities on day of shooting were normal, he was quite calm after shooting occurred and he knew right from wrong at the time of the shooting, according to psychiatrist. State v. Sanders, 149 M 166, 424 P 2d 127.

Instructions

Refusal to give instruction under subd. 6 of this section was not reversible error in view of other instructions given. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 289.

94-204. (10732) Who are principals.

"Accomplice" Defined

An accomplice is one who knowingly, voluntarily, and with common intent with the principal offender unites in the commission of a crime. State v. Harmon, 135 M 227, 340 P 2d 128.

Aiding and Abetting

While the statute defines larceny as the taking of property from the person of another yet it is sufficient to show the defendant's guilt that he aided or abetted in the commission of the crime. State v. Maciel, 130 M 569, 305 P 2d 335, 336.

Conspiracy

A coconspirator may be found guilty of a crime committed by his fellow conspirator whether the fellow conspirator is alive or dead, competent or incompetent, at the time of his trial. State v. Alton, 139 M 479, 365 P 2d 527, 535.

All participants in a conspiracy may be found guilty of any of the degrees of murder or one or more may be found guilty of each degree. State v. Alton, 139 M 479, 365 P 2d 527, 538.

All parties to a conspiracy are guilty whether their part in the conspiracy is large or small, and whether or not that part is to be carried out at a distance from the other conspirators. State v. Alton, 139 M 479, 365 P 2d 527, 538.

Felony Murder Rule

Where defendant hired two men to set fire and burn his service station, and during the course of the arson the two men were burned and subsequently died, the defendant was guilty of first degree murder under the felony murder rule since any death directly attributable to a plot to commit arson makes all the conspirators in the arson plot equally guilty of first degree murder. State v. Morran, 131 M 17, 306 P 2d 679.

Injury to Perpetrator of Crime

A bartender who worked after hours for the sole purpose of making illegal sales of liquor and signaling prostitutes as to the arrival of prospective customers was in pari delicto and could not recover from his employer for an injury received during such employment. Lencioni v. Long, 139 M 135, 361 P 2d 455.

Instructions

Where a verbal declaration of one co-defendant that he and the other co-defendant were partners was given in evidence, it was error for the court to refuse defendant's instruction that such verbal declaration is insufficient to establish a partnership. Although a partnership was immaterial because of this section and section 94-6423, yet the jury may have given full consideration to the declaration and found defendant guilty on the strength thereof. State v. Keller, 126 M 142, 246 P 2d 817, 821.

Kidnaping

Defendant was guilty of confining prison guard secretly against his will in violation of section 94-2602 where the evidence showed that defendant, an inmate of the state prison, walked behind prison guard with a knife, after another inmate had disarmed the guard, until the inmates had placed the guard in isolation. State v. Frodsham, 139 M 222, 362 P 2d 413, 419.

Operation and Effect

Under this section and section 94-6423, evidence was sufficient to sustain a conviction of assault in the second degree where defendant was at the scene of the crime and was admittedly a participant therein; it is not necessary to show that he actually fired any one of the guns. State v. Simon, 126 M 218, 247 P 2d 481, 484.

Presence at Scene of Crime

Even though there was no evidence placing defendant at scene of crime, he could be held as an accomplice in burglary prosecution in view of possession of stolen property and other corroborating evidence. State v. Gray, — M —, 447 P 2d 475.

Defendant need not have been present at scene of crime to be guilty of larceny. State v. Gray, — M —, 447 P 2d 475.

(1) Desert or abandon such child or ward without providing necessary and proper shelter, food, clothing and medical care for such child or ward; or

(2) Wilfully omit, without lawful excuse, to provide necessary and proper shelter, food, clothing and medical care for such child or ward.

A person who violates this section is guilty of a felony and shall, upon conviction, be punished by imprisonment for not less than one (1) year nor more than five (5) years in the state prison. The court may suspend such sentence if the defendant shall furnish a bond in such penal sum, and with such surety or sureties as the court may fix, conditioned that he will furnish his child or ward with necessary and proper shelter, food, care, and clothing. In case of failure to comply with the conditions of such bond, the court may order such person to appear before the court and show cause why sentence should not be imposed, whereupon the court may pass sentence or may modify the order and take a new bond and further suspend sentence as may be just and proper. The judge may declare a bond forfeited and may, in his discretion, order the face amount of such bond used to support the persons deserted, abandoned or neglected.

him this section making it a felony to desert and abandon children under 15 years of age, and also sections 94-301 and 94-302 which make it a misdemeanor to omit without lawful excuse to furnish necessary board, clothing, shelter or medical attention to children under the age of 16 years, the court abused its discretion in refusing to grant the defendant's motion to change his plea of guilty since there was a misunderstanding as to what the defendant pleaded guilty. State v. McBane, 128 M 369, 275 P 2d 218. (Dissenting opinion, 128 M 369, 275 P 2d 218, 222.)

Amendment

The 1963 amendment substantially rewrote this section. For previous text, see parent volume.

CHAPTER 6—ASSAULTS

Section 94-602. Assault in second degree.

94-601. (10976) Assault in the first degree defined—penalty.*Criminal Intent

The element of felonious intent in every contested criminal case must necessarily be determined from the facts and circumstances of the particular case, this for the reason that criminal intent, being a state of mind, is rarely susceptible of direct or positive proof and therefore must usually be inferred from the facts testified to by witnesses and the circumstances as developed by the evidence. State v. Maden, 128 M 408, 276 P 2d 974, 978.

Evidence of Intent

Finding of jury that defendant was able to form specific intent to commit first degree assault was properly inferred from evidence that, although intoxicated, defendant turned off lights inside apartment, reached into nearby drawer and prepared revolver for action, surrendered to police, walked out of apartment under own power with hands in air and after arrest had no difficulty in recounting recent events to police. State v. Lukus, 149 M 45, 423 P 2d 49.

Instructions on Intent

In prosecution for first-degree assault, instruction dealing with intent and proof thereof was properly given since intent is essential element of crime and must be proven. State v. Gallagher, 151 M 501, 445 P 2d 45.

Operation and Effect

In a prosecution for assault in the first or second degree the prosecution had to prove by satisfactory evidence, that when the defendant pointed a gun at a person he intended to commit a felony upon that person; instructions defining the felony must be given to the jury so that the jury can determine if the evidence showed such intended felony. State v. Quinlan, 126 M 52, 244 P 2d 1058, 1059 (the court was not in agreement on this however, see the dissenting opinions of two judges on pages 1060, 1063).

Penalty

Defendant charged with assault in first degree was properly sentenced to state prison for 18 years which was within the statutory term for the offense of which the jury found him guilty and during trial on first day of assault charge he pleaded guilty to three prior felony convictions charged in same information charging assault in first degree. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 408.

Sufficiency of Information

Amended information complying with rules of pleading was not subject to demurrer or dismissal and evidence introduced thereunder was not subject to objection. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 406.

94-602. (10977) Assault in second degree. Every person who, under circumstances not amounting to the offense specified in the last section:

(1) With intent to injure unlawfully, administers to, or causes to be administered to, or taken by another, poison, or any other destructive or noxious thing, or any drug or medicine, the use of which is dangerous to life or health; or,

(2) With intent thereby to enable or assist himself, or any other person, to commit any crime, administers to, or causes to be administered to, or taken, by another, chloroform, ether, laudanum, or any other intoxicating narcotic, or anesthetic agent; or,

(3) Wilfully or wrongfully wounds or inflicts grievous bodily harm upon another, either with or without a weapon; or,

(4) Wilfully and wrongfully assaults another by the use of a weapon, or other instrument or thing likely to produce grievous bodily harm; or,

(5) Assaults another with intent to commit a felony, or to prevent or resist the execution of any lawful process or mandate of any court or officer, or the lawful apprehension or detention of himself, or of any other person, is guilty of an assault in the second degree, and is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than one nor more than six years, or by a fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or both.

History: En. Sec. 401, Pen. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 8313, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 10977, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 129, L. 1961. Cal. Pen. C. Secs. 216, 222, and 245.

Amendment

The 1961 amendment increased the maximum term of imprisonment from five to six years.

Instructions on This Section

Instructions defining the felony intended to be committed must be given to the jury in a prosecution of assault in the first or second degree so that the jury may determine if the evidence showed an intended felony. State v. Quinlan, 126 M 52, 244 P 2d 1058, 1059.

Refusal to instruct that in every crime there must exist union or joint operation of act and intent or criminal negligence as provided by statute was not error in prosecution for second degree assault as defined in subdivision (4) of this section which requires only general nonstatutory intent to do harm wilfully, wrongfully and unlawfully and does not require specific statutory intent to do any particular kind or degree of injury to victim. State v. Fitzpatrick, 149 M 400, 427 P 2d 300.

Specific intent is not a necessary element of crime of second degree assault in willful or wrongful infliction of grievous bodily harm upon another, and court properly refused instruction thereon notwithstanding statute providing that there must be unity of act and intent since latter statute is not applicable if specific intent is not an ingredient of crime charged. State v. Warrick, — M —, 446 P 2d 916.

Since specific intent is not an element of second degree assault in willful and wrongful infliction of grievous bodily harm upon another, court was correct in refusing offered instruction that jury could take defendant's degree of intoxication into account in arriving at verdict in so far as it affected defendant's capacity for willfulness and intent. State v. Warrick, — M —, 446 P 2d 916.

Subd. 4

Operation and Effect

Evidence was insufficient to justify a conviction of second degree assault with a deadly weapon where it was disclosed that the defendant was hunting jack rabbits at the time; that he never knew the prosecuting witness prior to the day of the alleged assault; that the rifle was extremely sensitive and would fire upon being brushed against an object such as clothing or even a change in temperature might fire the gun; and that the defendant was an instructor in firearms in the army during the war and would not have missed from the distance of eight feet had he been aiming at the prosecuting witness. State v. Smith, 126 M 124, 246 P 2d 227, 228.

Evidence was sufficient to justify a conviction under this section when it was shown that defendant was with a group of boys who fired a barrage of shots at a house and some of the pellets hit the house; the fact that the prosecuting witness had moved to a position away from the line of fire did not prevent the attack from being an assault upon him and sustained the charge that the guns were fired toward him and in his direction. State v. Simon, 126 M 218, 247 P 2d 481, 482, 483, 484.

Proof of Offense Different Than That Charged

Where defendant was charged with assault in the second degree as defined in subd. 4, it was error to introduce evidence that the defendant in pointing the firearm was resisting a lawful arrest by the sheriff in violation of subd. 5. State v. Storm, 124 M 102, 220 P 2d 674, 675.

Specific Intent

Specific intent needs to be proved in second degree assault charges only under subdivisions 1, 2 and 5 of this section. State v. Straight, 136 M 255, 347 P 2d 482, 487.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Where evidence did not show that defendant pointed gun at sheriff after he was handed paper by deputy which purported to be a warrant, evidence was insufficient to support a conviction under either subd. 4 or 5 of this section. State v. Storm, 124 M 102, 220 P 2d 674, 678.

Sufficiency of Information

Information charging defendant with unlawfully threatening another by pointing a loaded revolver at him charged a criminal offense. State v. Storm, 124 M 102, 220 P 2d 674, 675.

An information charging that the defendant committed the crime of assault in the second degree by wilfully, wrongfully, unlawfully, and feloniously assaulting a human being by wounding and inflicting grievous bodily harm contrary to the form, force and effect of the statute, was sufficient to let the defendant know specifically the crime with which he was charged. State v. Straight, 136 M 255, 347 P 2d 482, 486.

94-603. (10978) Assault in third degree.

Instructions

It was error to refuse defendant's instructions defining assault in the third degree, and instead instructing the jury as to assault in the first and second degree but omitting any instructions defining what felony was intended to be committed by assaulting a person with a gun. Even though, in an information charging second degree assault, it was not charged specifically that a belt was used in the assault, admission of evidence that a belt was used was not error. State v. Straight, 136 M 255, 347 P 2d 482, 487.

Denial of state's second application for leave to file information charging assault on ground that probable cause was not shown was an abuse of discretion where supplementary proof as to probable cause in the form of affidavits of deputy county attorney and six witnesses and copy of police report were filed, the district court, in denying first application for failure to have witnesses endorsed thereon having commented that probable cause existed. State ex rel. McLatchy v. District Court, 144 M 216, 395 P 2d 245, 248.

While mere recital of injuries was not medically precise or overwhelmingly persuasive, but did show that injuries had been inflicted and that doctor, who was to testify at trial, had examined the victim, there was sufficient evidence stated in the information to establish probable cause that a second degree assault had been committed. State ex rel. Pinsoneault v. District Court, 145 M 233, 400 P 2d 269.

Under section 94-6423 information containing single count charging the crime of second degree assault was proper where only one crime was involved, namely, second degree assault, with at least two different ways of committing that crime; one by a direct assault and the other by aiding and abetting. State v. Zadick, 148 M 296, 419 P 2d 749, 751.

gun. Since the jury had no way of knowing what felony, if any, the defendant intended to commit upon a person by pointing a gun at him, the jury should have been allowed to consider whether or not defendant was guilty of third degree assault. State v. Quinlan, 126 M 52, 244 P 2d 1058, 1059.

94-605. (10980) Use of force not unlawful.

Subd. 3

Excessive Force—Preventing Trespass

In prosecution for first degree assault, defendant who fired bullet through apartment door striking investigating police officer, who was privileged to open apartment door to limit of night latch and who announced that he was policeman, used excessive force. State v. Lukus, 149 M 45, 423 P 2d 49.

Operation and Effect

Evidence failed to justify a conviction of assault with a deadly weapon when it was shown that the defendant was merely exercising force in defense of his home, inasmuch as the prosecuting witness came to defendant's cabin in the company of another fellow who had intruded in defendant's home and lived there without defendant's permission and who the de-defendant had to forcibly evict, and also someone had been stealing log poles from the defendant. State v. Nickerson, 126 M 157, 247 P 2d 188, 192, 193.

Subd. 4

Intent

Under this section, in order to convict one standing in loco parentis of assault upon a child, it is not necessary to prove either express or implied malice or permanent injury. It is up to the jury to determine from the facts and circumstances of each individual case whether the manner of punishment is reasonable and the degree moderate. State v. Straight, 136 M 255, 347 P 2d 482, 490.

CHAPTER 7—BIGAMY AND INCEST

94-702. (11026) Exceptions.

Voidness of Former Marriage

Under this section voidness of former marriage must have been declared by a court of competent jurisdiction; such a determination of voidness cannot be made under section 48-111 by the person involved to avoid being charged with bigamy under this section and section 94-701. State v. Crosby, 148 M 307, 420 P 2d 431, 433.

94-705. (11029) Incest.

Amendment of Information

There was no substantial change in the charge where the court allowed the state to amend an information charging defendant with incest by changing "fornication" to "adultery." Whether the defendant was married and unmarried at the time is not a material ingredient of the offense. In either event the defendant is guilty, if the intercourse charged is proved. State v. Kuntz, 130 M 126, 295 P 2d 707, 710.

CHAPTER 8—BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION

94-804. (10856) Improper attempts to influence jurors, referees, etc.

Operation and Effect

Where the evidence discloses that the defendant conversed with a grand juror privately at the latter's home it cannot be construed to be in the regular course of proceedings and thus within the exception to this section. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 990.

94-806. (10858) Embracery.

Operation and Effect

After a person has been discharged as a grand juror, the crime of embracery could not be committed even though the defendant thought he was influencing a grand juror. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 987.

CHAPTER 9—BURGLARY AND HOUSEBREAKING—POSSESSION OF BURGLARIOUS INSTRUMENTS AND DEADLY WEAPONS

Section 94-901. Burglary defined.

94-904. Word "enter" defined.

94-901. (11346) Burglary defined. Every person who enters any house, room, apartment, tenement, shop, warehouse, store, mill, barn, stable, out-house, or other building, tent, motor vehicle and aircraft, vessel, or railroad car, with intent to commit grand or petit larceny or any felony, is guilty of burglary.

Amendments

The 1949 amendment inserted the word "automobile" and the word "or" before "railroad car."

The 1957 amendment substituted the words "motor vehicle and aircraft" for the word "automobile."

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 17, Laws 1957 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 18, 1957.

Aiding Another in Entry

To support a conviction of two persons for burglary, it is not essential that the entry shall be by both, but if one of them entered and was aided by the other in so doing both are guilty, since burglary may be committed by being present and aiding another in entering. State v. Harmon, 135 M 227, 340 P 2d 128.

Burglary Tools as Evidence

Burglary tools may be introduced and received into evidence only after proof is made connecting the tools with the accused or the crime and, where it does not appear from the evidence that the tools were ever in the possession or under the control of the defendant or that they were in any way connected with the alleged crime, their admission as evidence is error. State v. Filacchione, 136 M 238, 347 P 2d 1000.

Proof of Intent—Circumstantial Evidence

An express intention to commit a felony or larceny does not have to be proved, but it may be manifested by circumstances connected with perpetration of the offense without any positive testimony as to express intent. State v. Board, 135 M 139, 337 P 2d 924.

Truck

The legislature has made it clear that an automobile and truck are to be considered two distinct and separate vehicles for registration and tax purposes. It does not make sense to hold that the legislature intended, in making entry into an automobile burglary, to have intended the word "automobile" as a general term, and to include automobiles, trucks, busses and the like. Had the legislature intended to use a general term, it would have used the term "motor vehicle." Certainly no interpretation should be given any word which would make an act a crime unless it is clear that the legislature intended that interpretation should be given such word. State v. Duran, 127 M 233, 259 P 2d 1051, 1052. (See, however, the dissenting opinion, 127 M 233, 259 P 2d 1051, 1054.)

94-902. (11347) Degrees of burglary.

Failure to Prove Time Crime Was Committed

Where the information alleges nighttime or first degree burglary it is essential that the state prove the crime occurred during the nighttime as provided in section 94-905. When the evidence is that the crime took place sometime between 3:15 a.m. and 8:00 a.m. and that on the particular day the sun rose at 5:56 a.m. a conviction of nighttime burglary cannot stand. State v. Fitzpatrick, 125 M 448, 239 P 2d 529, distinguished in 135 M 139, 144, 337 P 2d 924, 927.

94-904. (11349) Word "enter" defined. The word "enter," as used in this chapter, includes the entrance of the offender into such house, room, apartment, tenement, shop, warehouse, store, mill, barn, stable, outhouse, or other building, tent, automobile, vessel, or railroad car, or the insertion therein of any part of his body, or of any instrument or weapon held in his hand, or used or intended to be used, to threaten or intimidate the inmates, or to detach or remove the property.

Section 94-1002. Certain buildings declared nuisances.

94-1001. (11123) Definition of "person" and "building."*Operation and Effect Actions for the prosecution of gambling laws may be prosecuted under either of these sections or under sections 94-2401 and 94-2404, or under each and all of such sections. State ex rel. Replogle v. Joyland Club, 124 M 122, 220 P 2d 988, 1000.

Fact that county attorney proceeded under this law for abatement of gambling nuisance, rather than under sections 94-2401 and 94-2404 for criminal punishment, is not a matter of which the defendant can complain on appeal. State ex rel. Replogle v. Joyland Club, 124 M 122, 220 P 2d 988, 1000.

94-1002. (11124) Certain buildings declared nuisances. Every building or place or tract of land under one ownership used for the purpose of lewdness, assignation, or prostitution, and every building or place or tract of land under one ownership wherein or upon which acts of lewdness, assignation, or prostitution are held or occur, and any building, place or tract of land under one ownership wherein or upon which gambling or those other illegal acts prohibited by chapter 24 and chapter 30, Title 94 Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, are carried on or occurs, contrary to any of the laws of the state of Montana, or wherein any wine rooms are conducted or maintained, contrary to the laws of the state of Montana, or wherein any opium or coca leaves, their salts, derivatives, and preparations thereof are sold or given away or used contrary to the laws of the state of Montana, is a nuisance which shall be enjoined, abated, and prevented as hereinafter provided, whether the same be a public or private nuisance.

Amendment

The 1959 amendment inserted the words "or tract of land under one ownership" the first two times it appears and substituted the words "place or tract of land under one ownership wherein or upon which gambling or those other illegal acts prohibited by chapter 24 and chapter 30, Title 94 Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, are" for the words "wherein gambling is."

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 268, Laws 1959 repealed all acts or parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Date

Illegal Use of Premises by Vendee

Where vendee-madam sought to void mortgage given vendor-madam on property used exclusively for prostitution, on the grounds that vendor-madam knew the property was to be used in violation of the laws and public policy of Montana, bare knowledge of the illegal purpose was not sufficient to void the contract in the absence of more active participation on the part of the seller. Carroll v. Beardon, 142 M 40, 381 P 2d 295.

Permanent Injunction during Hearing

A permanent injunction against the use of defendant's premises as a house of prostitution and an order of abatement cannot be granted pursuant to this section while a motion to strike is pending and before issues have been finally joined. State ex rel. Harrison v. Baker, 135 M 180, 340 P 2d 142.

Punch Boards

Premises wherein punch boards are operated may be abated as a nuisance inasmuch as punch boards constitute a lottery and play at lottery is gambling. Sections 84-5701, 84-5702 (since repealed) and 94-2401 which assume to authorize the use of punch boards as trade stimulators violate § 2, Art. XIX of the Montana Constitution, which prohibits the legislature from authorizing lotteries, and therefore are invalid and do not prevent the abatement of the premises as a nuisance. State ex rel. Harrison v. Deniff, 126 M 109, 245 P 2d 140.

94-1003. (11125) County attorney to abate nuisance, etc.

Procedural Rules Applicable

A suit under the provisions of this section is a civil suit, and is governed by the same rules applicable in other injunction suits where no other statutory direction is given as to the manner in which the court shall proceed. State ex rel. Harrison v. Baker, 135 M 180, 340 P 2d 142.

94-1004. (11126) Verification of complaint—temporary injunction.

Law Applicable

The procedure for the abatement of a nuisance per se provided by the statute is that set forth by this law and the general procedure for the issuance of an injunction in ordinary civil cases has no application. State ex rel. Bergland v. Bradley, 124 M 434, 225 P 2d 1024.

Order Quashing Injunction Appealable

Where temporary injunction enjoining defendant from conducting the business constituting a nuisance as described in the complaint was quashed same day of issuance and an order issued enjoining defendant from operating "any of the games of chance described in the complaint contrary to the laws of the State of Montana," such order was appealable. State ex rel. Olsen v. 30 Club, 124 M 91, 219 P 2d 307, 309.

Quashing Injunction Prior to Hearing

Where complaint and affidavits showed prima facie that premises constituted a nuisance per se, it was error to quash the temporary injunction issued thereunder when defendant filed affidavit under provisions of section 93-4211, but injunction should have remained in effect until a hearing was had. State ex rel. Olsen v. 30 Club, 124 M 91, 219 P 2d 307, 309.

Verified Complaint

A complaint filed by a person other than the county attorney, if verified on information and belief pursuant to section 93-3702, is sufficient for the issuance of a temporary injunction. State ex rel. Bergland v. Bradley, 124 M 434, 225 P 2d 1024.

or transport any such articles below a common standard or figure, or by which they agree to keep such article or transportation at a fixed or graduated figure, or by which they settle the price of such article, so as to preclude unrestricted competition, is punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not less than twenty-four (24) hours or more than one (1) year, or by fine not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), or both.

Amendments

The 1967 amendment inserted "or to agree * * * organization or corporation" after "in any way controlled" and made minor changes in style.

Insurance Business

Since this section prohibits conspiracies in restraint of trade in the insurance business, federal district court, because of the provisions of the McCarran Act (15 U. S. C. § 1 et seq.), would have no jurisdiction of a suit for violation of the Sherman and Clayton Acts involving the business of insurance, unless the suit fell within an exception to the McCarran Act. 94-1431. (10777) Accounts of expenditures by political committees and other persons—statement. (1) Every political committee shall have a treasurer, who is a voter, and shall cause him to keep detailed accounts of all its receipts, payments, and liabilities. Similar accounts shall be kept by every person, who in the aggregate receives or expends money or incurs liabilities to the amount of more than fifty dollars ($50) for political purposes, and by every political agent and candidate. Such accounts shall cover all transactions in any way affecting or connected with the political canvass, campaign, nomination, or election concerned.

Every payment shall be accounted for by a receipted bill stating the particulars of expense. (3) Any person not a candidate for any office or nomination who expends money or value to an amount greater than fifty dollars ($50) in any campaign for nomination or election, to aid in the election or defeat of any candidate or candidates, or party ticket, or measure before the people, shall, within ten (10) days after the election in which said money or value was expended, file with the secretary of state in the case of a measure voted upon by the people, or of state or district offices for districts composed of one (1) or more counties, or with the county clerk for county offices, and with the city clerk, auditor, or recorder for municipal offices, a verified itemized statement of such receipts and expenditures for every sum paid in excess of five dollars ($5), and shall at the same time deliver to the candidate or treasurer of the political organization whose success or defeat he has sought to promote, a duplicate of such statement and a copy of such receipts.

(4) The books of account of every treasurer of any political party, committee, or organization, during an election campaign, shall be open at all reasonable office hours to the inspection of the treasurer and chairman of any opposing political party or organization for the same electoral district; and his right of inspection may be enforced by writ of mandamus by any court of competent jurisdiction.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment divided the section into subsections, omitted the requirement of submitting vouchers for expenditures over $5 with expense statements, inserted requirement that accounts be verified, and made minor changes in style.

94-1454. (10800) Political criminal libel.

Compiler's Note

This section may be partially superseded by sec. 94-1475.

to publish, print, mimeograph, type or otherwise produce any dodger, bill, handbill, pamphlet or other document which is designed to aid, injure or defeat any candidate or any political party or organization or measure before the people unless it is stated therein the name of the chairman or secretary, or the names of the other officers of the political or other organization publishing, printing, mimeographing, typing or otherwise producing such dodger, bill, handbill, pamphlet or other document or the name of some voter who is responsible therefor with his residence and street address, if any, together with the name of the publisher, printer or the producer thereof with his residence and street address, if any, or his place of business.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 74, L. 1951.

Title of Act

CHAPTER 18—FALSE PERSONATION AND CHEATS

- Section 94-1805. Obtaining money, property or services by false pretenses.
 94-1822. Inducing engagement as an advertising agency for sale of real property by misrepresentation of fact concerning services—penalty.
 94-1823. Unlawful to obtain credit, goods, or service by false use of credit device.
 94-1824. Unlawful to obtain communication service without intention to pay.
 94-1825. Theft or unlawful retention of credit device.
 94-1826. Unlawful possession of counterfeit or stolen credit device.
 94-1827. Notice may be in person or in writing.
 94-1828. Use of false device as evidence of knowledge of falsity.
 94-1829. Credit device violation as misdemeanor or felony.
 94-1830. Communications originating or terminating in state.
 94-1831. Obtaining accommodations with intent to defraud.

94-1805. (11410) Obtaining money, property or services by false pretenses. Every person who knowingly and designedly, by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses, defrauds any other person of money or property, including evidence of indebtedness, or who knowingly and designedly obtains the service of another by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses, or who causes or procures others to report falsely of his wealth or mercantile character, and by thus imposing upon any person obtains credit, and thereby fraudulently receives services or gets into possession of money or property, is punishable in the same manner and to the same extent as for larceny of the money or the value of the property or services so obtained.

Amendment

The 1959 amendment inserted the words "or who knowingly and designedly obtains the service of another by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses"; inserted the words "receives services or" and substituted the words "the value of the property or services" for the word "property."

Application

A defendant charged under section 94-1806 with obtaining property by means of a confidence game cannot be convicted on evidence which shows that the defendant obtained such property "by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses" under this section because such crimes are separate and distinct offenses. State v. Allen, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 201. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205, 206.)

Check Payable to Defendant's Wife

Money received in form of check payable to defendant's wife was money received by defendant in light of evidence that family was living together, that money was used for household support of family and that defendant's wife acted in secretarial capacity in defendant's business operations; fact that defendant had not received check made out to him personally did not mean that element of crime of obtaining money by false pretenses had not been established. State v. Lagerquist, — M —, 445 P 2d 910.

Complaint in Justice Court

Use of term "feloniously" in complaint in justice court charging defendant with offense of obtaining money by false pretenses was not reversible error where complaint specifically stated that offense charged was misdemeanor. Petition of Brown, 150 M 483, 436 P 2d 693.

Evidence of an Offense Not Charged in the Information

When a county officer is charged with collecting illegal fees, by presenting a claim under the name of another to the county for work which was within his duties as county surveyor it was prejudicial error for the court to admit evidence of another claim submitted by the county surveyor to the county which offense was not charged in the information (Justices Bottomly and Angstman dissenting). State v. Hale, 126 M 326, 249 P 2d 495, 496.

Information

Where a statute uses general or generic words in defining the offense the information or indictment bottomed upon that statute must specify the particular facts which constitute the offense. State v. Hale,

129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 232, distinguished in 135 M 449, 453, 340 P 2d 157, 160, overruled on another point, 142 M 459, 462, 384 P 2d 749. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

An information may be drawn consistent with this section which is not vulnerable to the objection that it is bad for duplicity for charging an offense under section 94-3908 (presenting fraudulent claim to a county). State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 234, overruled on another point, 142 M 459, 462, 384 P 2d 749. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

Information which avers only that the defendant made a "false" or "fraudulent" representation is not sufficient. It must expressly allege the facts which made the stated pretense false. State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 231, overruled on another point, 142 M 459, 462, 384 P 2d 749. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

To characterize a representation as "false" or "fraudulent" does not suffice to state the offense. The particulars in which the representations relied upon are false must appear from facts directly and positively set out. State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 232, overruled on another point, 142 M 459, 462, 384 P 2d 749. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

Lesser Included Offenses

Crimes under Packaged Commodities Offered for Sale Act (90-601 et seq., since repealed) and under False Weights and Measures Act (94-1901 et seq.), both misdemeanors, were not lesser and included offenses of felony of obtaining money by false pretenses since misdemeanor statutes require "sale" while felony statute does not; in order for offense to be lesser and included within another offense which is greater, it is necessary that greater offense include every element of lesser offense plus other elements; although conduct might also have been chargeable under misdemeanor statutes, defendant was properly charged with felony of obtaining money or property by false pretenses since state has discretionary power to choose under which law it will charge a defendant and fact that there is an area in which two statutes overlap in prohibiting same act does not mean that defendant can only be prosecuted under the statute providing the lesser penalty. State v. Lagerquist, — M —, 445 P 2d 910.

Operation and Effect

When a county officer is charged with collecting illegal fees by presenting a claim under the name of another to the county for work which was within his duties as county surveyor, the public policy of this state under section 94-5516 is that, as a matter of defense, the county officer is entitled to offer evidence of his good faith or honest mistake and the value received by the county. State v. Hale, 126 M 326, 249 P 2d 495, 496.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Evidence that defendant exchanged bank draft in amount of $800 for victim's car when defendant had only $300 in bank was sufficient to sustain conviction for obtaining property by false pretenses even though victim never transferred automobile title to defendant. State v. Love, 151 M 190, 440 P 2d 275.

94-1806. (11411) Confidence games.

Application

Where evidence disclosed that all the defendant did, to induce the complaining witness to give him the ring, was, after she had broached the subject of oil wells, to say, in effect that he had an oil well in Louisiana from which he received $800 a month income, and that he would cut her in for $200 of that income. The jury could assume such statements were false, since, according to the complaining witness, neither the first $200 due July 15th, nor any other was ever paid to her. Defendant should have been prosecuted under section 94-1805 "obtaining money or property by false pretenses," not under this section "confidence games." State v. Allen, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205, 206.)

Confidence or Bunco Game

It is a crime to obtain or attempt to obtain money by the use of a confidence game. State v. Hale, 134 M 131, 328 P 2d 930, 934.

Construction of Statute

The element of confidence must be present in order to maintain an action under this section. State v. Hale, 134 M 131, 328 P 2d 930, 934.

The confidence games described in this section are those whereby an elaborate scheme is developed to play upon the credulity or sympathy or some other trait of the victim. State v. Hale, 134 M 131, 328 P 2d 930, 934.

Operation and Effect

A defendant charged under this section with obtaining property by means of a confidence or bunco game cannot be convicted on evidence which shows that defendant obtained such property "by false or fraudulent representation or pretenses" under section 94-1805, because such crimes are separate and distinct offenses. State v. Allen, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 201. (Dissenting opinions, 128 M 306, 275 P 2d 200, 205, 206.)

Separate and Distinct Crime

This statute covers a separate and distinct crime from that covered by section 94-2406. State v. Hale, 134 M 131, 328 P 2d 930, 934.

94-1822. Inducing engagement as an advertising agency for sale of real property by misrepresentation of fact concerning services—penalty. Any person engaged or purporting to be engaged as an advertising agency for real property who accepts or solicits money or other considerations for himself or for any other person, in connection with the execution by an owner of real property of any contract whereby such owner authorizes such person to serve as an advertising agency for the sale of such property, and who for the purpose of inducing the owner of such property to enter into such a contract makes or procures the making of any oral or written representation of fact with respect to the nature or extent of the services to be rendered for or on behalf of such owner by any such person under such contract, with reasonable ground for belief that such representation is not true, or who refrains from disclosing to such owner, any matter of fact pertinent to the nature or extent of the services to be rendered for or on behalf of such owner by any such person under such contract is guilty of a felony and shall be imprisoned for not less than one (1) year nor more than five (5) years.

(e) The person surreptitiously removed or attempted to remove his baggage.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 135, L. 1967.

Title of Act

An act making it unlawful for any person to obtain, with intent to defraud, food, lodging or other similar accommodations; enumerating circumstances which constitute prima facie evidence of intent to defraud; and repealing section 94-3550, R. C. M. 1947.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 135, Laws 1967 read "Section 94-3550, R. C. M. 1947, is repealed."

CHAPTER 19—FALSE WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

94-1902. (11429) Using false weights or measures.

False Pretenses

Crimes under Packaged Commodities Offered for Sale Act (90-601 et seq., since repealed) and under False Weights and Measures Act (94-1901 et seq.), both misdemeanors, were not lesser and included offenses of felony of obtaining money by false pretenses since misdemeanor statutes require "sale" while felony statute does not; in order for offense to be lesser and included within another offense which is greater, it is necessary that greater offense include every element of lesser offense plus other elements; although defendant's conduct might have been chargeable under misdemeanor statutes, charge of obtaining money or property by false pretenses, a felony, was nonetheless proper since state has discretionary power to choose under which law it will charge a defendant and fact that there is an area in which two statutes overlap in prohibiting same act does not mean that defendant can only be prosecuted under the statute providing the lesser penalty. State v. Lagerquist, — M —, 445 P 2d 910.

CHAPTER 20—FORGERY AND COUNTERFEITING

Section 94-2014. Production of false identification documents.

94-2001. (11355) Forgery of wills, conveyances, etc.

of forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1011.

Passing of Auditor's Warrant

Act Committed by Indian on Indian Reservation

State court was without jurisdiction to try an Indian for forgery of a check where the Indian attempted to cash the check on a store located within the boundaries of an Indian Reservation. The defendant is still a ward of the federal government and is still under the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal government for all acts and crimes defined and made punishable by the laws of Congress, when committed within the exterior boundaries of an Indian reservation. State ex rel. Bokas v. District Court, 128 M 37, 270 P 2d 396.

The statute when speaking of indorsements while not specifically mentioning auditors' warrants does cover "orders." The indorsement of an auditor's warrant amounts to the indorsement of an order within the meaning of the statute. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1011.

Substantial Evidence

Where it was shown at trial that defendant did not know checks paid to him for fixing car were forged, combined evidence was not substantial to overcome the presumption of innocence in proving that defendant had a fraudulent intent at the time he cashed the checks. State v. Phillips, 147 M 334, 412 P 2d 205.

Essential Elements

The essential elements of forgery are a false making of an instrument in writing, a fraudulent intent, and a writing which, if genuine, apparently might be of legal efficacy or the foundation of legal liability. State v. Cooper, 146 M 336, 406 P 2d 691; State v. Phillips, 147 M 334, 412 P 2d 205.

General Intent

The intent required under this section, as controlled by section 94-105, has to be a general intent only. State v. Cooper, 146 M 336, 406 P 2d 691.

Non-negotiable Instruments

The fact that a warrant is non-negotiable does not affect the question as to whether one who passes it when containing a known forged indorsement is guilty

Testimony of Person Forging Indorsement as Corroboration

The testimony of the person who forged the indorsement on a warrant and who was not implicated in the matter of passing or uttering the instrument is corroborating evidence to the testimony of an accomplice of the defendant charged with uttering the forged instrument, since the person who forged the indorsement is not an accomplice to the defendant who uttered the instrument as the making of the instrument and the uttering of it are two separate crimes although they both constitute forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1014. (See, however, the dissenting opinions in 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1016, 1018.)

Unnecessary for Instrument to Create Civil Liability

It is not necessary that the forged instrument should create civil liability before it can be held to be forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1011.

Uttering Forged Instrument

"Uttering" a forged instrument consists in offering to another the forged instrument with knowledge of the falsity of the writing and with intent to defraud. State v. Cooper, 146 M 336, 406 P 2d 691.

One possessed of fraudulent intent who either writes a forged instrument, or who knowingly utters a forged instrument, each act being separate and distinct from the other, or who commits both acts, is guilty of forgery. State v. Cooper, 146 M 336, 406 P 2d 691.

94-2007. (11361) Making, passing or uttering fictitious bills, etc.*Jurisdiction of Offense

An enrolled member of an Indian tribe was subject to prosecution in state court for forgery where check was obtained from Indian agency office on reservation but was cashed in a town outside the boundaries of the reservation. Petition of Fox, 141 M 189, 376 P 2d 726, 727.

The crime of forgery is committed in the place where the false, forged or counterfeit check is passed as true and genuine and the origin of the check has no bearing upon the crime. Petition of Fox, 141 M 189, 376 P 2d 726.

Passing False Check

The crime of forgery encompasses the passing of a check as true and genuine when in fact it is false, forged or counterfeit. Petition of Fox, 141 M 189, 376 P 2d 726.

Questions for Jury

Where defendant was charged with the crime of uttering and delivering a fictitious check, the intent to defraud and defendant's knowledge of the fictitious character of the check were questions for the jury. State v. Johnston, 140 M 111, 367 P 2d 891, 893.

Restitution

It is no defense under this section that defendant has made restitution. State v. Johnston, 140 M 111, 367 P 2d 891, 893.

94-2503. (10955) Degrees of murder.

Felony-murder Rule

Where the evidence disclosed that the defendant hired two men to set fire and burn his service station, and during the course of the arson the two men were burned and subsequently died, the defendant was guilty of first degree murder under the felony murder rule since any death directly attributable to a plot to commit arson makes all the conspirators in the arson plot equally guilty of first degree murder. State v. Morran, 131 M 17, 306 P 2d 679.

Under felony-murder rule, both parties were guilty of murder in first degree where evidence clearly showed that both had kidnapped and robbed victim even though evidence did not clearly show which of two shot and killed victim. State v. Corliss, 150 M 40, 430 P 2d 632.

Information reciting commission of robbery and alleging that in perpetration of robbery, defendant killed deceased charged murder in first degree as against defendant's contention that information charged him with two separate and distinct crimes, that of robbery and premeditated murder. In re Petition of Dixon, 149 M 412, 430 P 2d 642.

First and Second Degrees Distinguished

In murder prosecution, jury was properly instructed that if it found that killing was unlawfully done by defendant with deliberation, premeditation and malice aforethought, defendant was guilty of murder in first degree but if it believed that killing was unlawfully done with malice aforethought, although not deliberate and premeditated, or that defendant was incapable of premeditation and deliberation because of intoxication at time of killing, then crime was second-degree murder. State v. Brooks, 150 M 399, 436 P 2d 91.

Guilty of Lesser Offense

Where defendant was charged with murder in the second degree it was permissible for the jury to find him guilty of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 288.

Commutation of Sentence

Inmate of state prison, who along with his codefendant had been sentenced to life imprisonment on plea of guilty to first degree murder, was not entitled to release from custody because his codefendant had been released from prison after commutation of his sentence by the governor. Goff v. State, 139 M 641, 367 P 2d 557, 558.

Operation and Effect

Where there is evidence sustaining finding by trial court of murder in the first degree supreme court will not interfere with trial court's determination and the sentence of death. State v. Palen, 120 M 434, 186 P 2d 223, 224.

Sentence for Second-Degree Murder

Second-degree murder sentence of forty years in state prison imposed by trial judge, was not unduly harsh and unreasonable and was authorized by statute. State v. Brooks, 150 M 399, 436 P 2d 91.

94-2507. (10959) Manslaughter—voluntary and involuntary.

Subd. 2

Acts of Omission

Omission to perform an act required by law can be the basis for manslaughter. Hence, where evidence disclosed that a child, 5 months old, died due to starvation, and that his weight at death was only 5 pounds 14 ounces which was but ten ounces over his birth weight, and that the father and mother had the means with which to care for the child, the evidence would be sufficient to support the conviction of the parents for manslaughter. State v. Bischoert, 131 M 152, 308 P 2d 969.

The failure to obtain medical aid for one who is owed a duty is a sufficient degree of negligence as to constitute involuntary manslaughter provided death results from the failure to act. State v. Mally, 139 M 599, 366 P 2d 868, 872.

Burden of Proof

The state in prosecuting for manslaughter because of the failure to provide medical aid is not required as an element of their proof to show the ability on behalf of the defendant to furnish such aid. If a defendant could not obtain aid either through normal procedure or the poor laws, this is a matter for his defense. State v. Mally, 139 M 599, 366 P 2d 868, 872.

Criminal Negligence

Insofar as the offense of involuntary manslaughter is concerned, the proof of culpability is supplied by evidence of criminal negligence. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617, overruled on another point, 134 M 519, 525, 333 P 2d 1017, 1021.

It is wholly unnecessary in involuntary manslaughter cases to superimpose upon the requirement of the element of criminal negligence the further requirement that a determination must be made as to whether the act resulting in death might ordinarily be classified as malum in se or merely malum prohibitum, for, if the act is done in a manner which is criminally negligent, it thereby becomes malum in se and thereby includes the element of mens rea. State v. Strobel, 130 M 442, 304 P 2d 606, 617, overruled on another point, 134 M 519, 525, 333 P 2d 1017, 1021.

Wilful or evil intent is not an element of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Pankow, 134 M 519, 333 P 2d 1017, 1021.

Driving While Intoxicated

Defendant was properly convicted of involuntary manslaughter since driving automobile on public highway while intoxicated is an "unlawful act" within meaning of statute, notwithstanding contention that since defendant was a juvenile and "delinquent child" within meaning of Juvenile Act, he could only be punished civilly for his acts. State v. Medicine Bull, — M —, 445 P 2d 916.

Instructions

Where judge instructed the jury in the language of the statute thereby giving the jury the definitions of both voluntary and involuntary manslaughter, defendant could not complain on ground there was no evidence of voluntary manslaughter in the case where the jury found him guilty of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 289.

Where defendant was charged with second degree murder but the court withdrew the murder charge from the jury and presented the question of the guilt or innocence of the defendant for the crime of manslaughter, an instruction charging the jury that the state must prove the "intent" alleged in the information could properly have been modified to apply to the crime of manslaughter, however, conviction will not be set aside where it appears that no prejudice resulted. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 291.

Where evidence showed that defendant was drunk and that he drove his automobile at a high rate of speed into the rear of another automobile going the same direction, causing it to catch fire and killing the occupants, the contention of defendant that he could not remember the events which transpired at that time did not establish an accident and instruction on responsibility for deaths caused by accident was not necessary. State v. Souhrada, 122 M 377, 204 P 2d 792, 796.

In prosecution for involuntary manslaughter the issue is one of criminal negligence rather than intent and giving of instruction that "intent is not an element of involuntary manslaughter" was not erroneous. State v. Souhrada, 122 M 377, 204 P 2d 792, 797.

Since the word "feloniously" is not necessary in the information it was not necessary that the word "feloniously" be defined by the court's instructions and court's erroneous definition could not have been prejudicial particularly where other instructions clearly advised the jury of the elements of the crime. State v. Souhrada, 122 M 377, 204 P 2d 792, 797.

Where the court instructed the jury that in order to find the defendant guilty it must find that the defendant committed an unlawful act, not amounting to a felony, and that the unlawful act was the proximate cause of the injury and death; and then in a later instruction defined criminal negligence as such that amounts to a wanton, flagrant, or reckless disregard of consequences or wilful indifference of the safety or rights of others, the instructions taken as a whole are correct. For while the former may, standing alone, be inaccurate or even erroneous, yet as qualified and explained by other portions of the charge, in par materia, it fully and fairly submits the case to the jury. State v. Bosch, 125 M 566, 242 P 2d 477, 480.

Intent

A wilful or evil intent is not a requirement of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Pankow, 134 M 519, 333 P 2d 1017, 1021.

Murder and Manslaughter Distinguished

In murder prosecution, jury was properly instructed that if killing was unlawfully done by defendant without malice or if he was so intoxicated at time of killing that he was incapable of harboring malice aforethought, then crime was manslaughter. State v. Brooks, 150 M 399, 436 P 2d 91.

Operation and Effect

This section is a recognition of the frailty of human nature, and has as its purpose to reduce a homicide committed under the circumstances therein contemplated to the grade of manslaughter. State v. Messerly, 126 M 62, 244 P 2d 1054, 1056.

Photographs in Evidence

In a prosecution of defendant for failure to provide food to an infant child which resulted in the child's death, it was error to admit into evidence photographs of the body of the child which showed ghastly and gruesome looking sores or scars alleged to have been caused by dermatitis. The charge was for failure to provide food and not for the failure to provide medical care and such photographs in no way went to the proof of starvation. Their purpose could only arouse the human feelings of the jury without aiding them in further understanding the crime charged. State v. Bischert, 131 M 152, 308 P 2d 969, 973.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Where defendant had invited another person to stay or "bunk" with him for the night, and thereafter, while in his tavern, shot through the screen and door of his bedroom striking such person who was on the other side of the door, jury was justified in returning a verdict of guilty of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 289.

Defendant who deliberately drove his car around curve at a speed which he must have known was dangerous to human lives, those of himself and his passengers was properly convicted of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Pankow, 134 M 519, 333 P 2d 1017, 1019.

In order to convict a person for manslaughter because of failure to provide medical aid it must appear from the evidence that the defendant's failure to obtain medical aid was the proximate cause of death. State v. Mally, 139 M 599, 366 P 2d 868, 872.

Evidence of intoxication, based on testimony of arresting officer that defendant was glassy eyed, had smell of alcohol on his breath and had physical appearance indicating intoxication, and on testimony of companion of defendant that defendant had been drinking when they met and that while together, defendant had seven or eight beers, and on testimony of witness at scene of accident that defendant was unstable, could not walk very well and was very clumsy, was sufficient evidence to support verdict of involuntary manslaughter notwithstanding defendant's evidence that he had been knocked unconscious which resulted in his clumsy and awkward physical condition and that faulty mechanical condition of his pickup truck was proximate cause of decedent's death. State v. Medicine Bull, — M —, 445 P 2d 916.

Sufficiency of Information

Information for manslaughter against driver of death car was sufficient where it was in the prescribed form, complied with rules of pleading, and met the tests provided by section 94-6412. State v. Haley, 132 M 366, 318 P 2d 1084, 1085.

Verdict of Manslaughter on Charge of Murder

Where defendant was charged with murder in the second degree it was permissible for the jury to find him guilty of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 288.

If homicide is to be justified by self-defense, there must be evidence that party doing killing acted under influence of reasonable fear that someone was going to be murdered or seriously injured; court thus properly refused defendant's instruction relative to self-defense where there was no evidence whatever that defendant acted under reasonable apprehension of death or great bodily harm and where witnesses for state gave no indication that defendant acted in fear nor did defendant himself claim that he acted under any fear of harm. State v. Brooks, 150 M 399, 436 P 2d 91.

Sufficiency of Charge

Sufficiency of Evidence

Sufficiency of Information

An information under this section is sufficient if it contains a statement of facts constituting the offense charged in ordinary and concise language so as to enable a person of common understanding to know what was intended. State v. Randall, 137 M 534, 353 P 2d 1054, 1056.

its passage and approval. Approved March 2, 1961.

CHAPTER 27—LARCENY AND FALSIFICATION OF PUBLIC RECORDS AND JURY LISTS

Section 94-2702. Uttering fraudulent checks or drafts—evidence.

94-2704.1. Possession of stolen livestock as evidence of larceny.

94-2701. (11368) Larceny defined.

Agency

Where defendant was sole owner of corporate collection agency which contracted with other corporations to collect debts owed to them, defendant was an agent of the other corporations and was properly charged under that portion of this section covering embezzlement when he did not pay over agreed portions of debts which he collected on behalf of other corporation. State v. Holdren, 143 M 103, 387 P 2d 446.

Civil Liability

In action based upon indemnity bond issued by defendant to indemnify plaintiff against loss from fraud or dishonesty of its station agent, allegation in complaint that the agent while in possession of money and property belonging to plaintiff, had wrongfully and dishonestly appropriated plaintiff's products and cash money, sufficiently stated a cause of action on which to predicate civil liability. Waite v. Standard Accident Ins. Co., 132 M 220, 315 P 2d 989, 992.

Harmless Error

On the trial of defendant charged with committing larceny under this section by "taking" property, introduction of evidence by the state to prove that defendant committed larceny by "secreting" property, also provided for in the same section, was not prejudicial error where conviction was on a charge made with evidence which would also support conviction on a charge not made. State v. Rindal, 146 M 64, 404 P 2d 327.

Instructions

Conviction under this section requires proof of specific intent and an instruction that "when an unlawful act is shown to have been deliberately committed for the purpose of injuring another, it is presumed to have been committed with a malicious and guilty intent. The law also presumes that a person intends the ordinary consequences of any voluntary act committed by him" was erroneous. State v. Garney, 122 M 491, 207 P 2d 506, distinguished in 135 M 139, 147, 337 P 2d 924, 929.

Larceny by Indians on Indian Territory

A state district court was without jurisdiction to convict an Indian of larceny which occurred on Indian territory since under Acts of Congress (U. S. C. Tit. 18, §§ 1153, 3242) such an offense is within the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States. State v. Pepion, 125 M 13, 230 P 2d 961.

Proof of Intent

The intent required may be found from the facts and circumstances surrounding the transaction, but the mere existence of an unpaid debt does not demonstrate any intent fraudulently to appropriate the property. State v. Smith, 135 M 18, 334 P 2d 1099, 1102.

Sufficiency of Information

An information charging grand larceny by defendant, laid in the terms of this section is sufficient without particularity, so long as it enables the defendant to prepare a defense. State v. Fairburn, 135 M 449, 340 P 2d 157.

An information which charges the offense of larceny by a selling agent in the language of this section is sufficient and not vulnerable to a general demurrer; there is no requirement that the agency be detailed, and, as between owners, the amount of money stolen from each need not be particularized. State v. Fairburn, 135 M 449, 340 P 2d 157.

94-2702. (11369) Uttering fraudulent checks or drafts—evidence.

Any person who for himself or as the agent or representative of another or as an officer of a corporation, wilfully, with intent to defraud shall make or draw or utter or deliver, or cause to be made, drawn, uttered or delivered, any check, draft or order for the payment of money upon any bank or depository, or person, or firm, or corporation, knowing at the time of such making, drawing, uttering or delivery that the maker or drawer has no funds or insufficient funds in or credit with such bank or depositary, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft, or order in full upon its presentation, although no express representation is made with the reference thereto, shall upon conviction be punished as follows: If there are no funds in or credit with such bank or depositary, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of any part of such check, draft or order, upon presentation, then in that case the person convicted shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five (5) years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or by both such fine and imprisonment; if such check, draft or order be for a sum of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) or less, and there are some but not sufficient funds in or credit with such bank, or depositary, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order in full, then in that case the person so convicted shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six (6) months, or by a fine not exceeding three hundred dollars ($300.00) or by both such fine and imprisonment; if such check, draft or order be for a sum greater than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) and there are some but not sufficient funds in or credit with such bank, or depositary, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order in full upon its presentation, then in that case the person so convicted shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five (5) years, or by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or by both such fine and imprisonment. As against the maker or drawer thereof, the making, drawing, uttering or delivering of such check, draft or order as aforesaid shall be prima facie evidence of intent to defraud and of knowledge of no funds or insufficient funds, as the case may be, in or credit with such bank, or depositary, or person, or firm, or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order in full upon its presentation, provided such maker or drawer shall not have paid the drawee thereof the amount due thereon, within five (5) days after receiving notice that such check, draft, or order has not been paid by the drawee. The word "credit" as used herein shall be construed to mean an arrangement or understanding with the bank, depositary, person, firm or corporation, for the payment of such check, draft or order.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment made numerous changes in this section. For section prior to amendment see parent volume.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 135, Laws 1957, repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Evidence of Intent

In prosecution for uttering and delivering a fraudulent check evidence was properly received as to other checks drawn on prior occasions on banks in which defendant had no account as such testimony tended to show defendant's intent to defraud. State v. Tully, 148 M 166, 418 P 2d 549, 550.

Operation and Effect

Held, that where a person was convicted under this section, the proper procedure for review of errors was by appeal under the statutes and not by seeking at a later date the common-law writ of coram nobis. Were it shown that the defendant's case was exigent, as for example, that although innocent of any crime he was nevertheless arbitrarily sentenced and wrongfully imprisoned under that sentence, and if then the existing remedies by appeal as prescribed by our statutes and as well the usual writs to which this court customarily turns to prevent an injustice were found in truth inadequate, the court would not hesitate to design a further remedial writ so that the court could meet the emergency and attain the ends of justice, otherwise denied. State v. Zumwalt, 129 M 529, 291 P 2d 257, 260. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 529, 291 P 2d 257, 262 based on the opinion that the defendant was innocent of the crime charged and arbitrarily sentenced.)

Aiding and Abetting

While the statute defines larceny as the taking of property from the person of another yet it is sufficient to show defendant's guilt that he aided or abetted in the commission of the crime under section 94-6423 because all persons concerned in the commission of a crime are principals under section 94-204. State v. Maciel, 130 M 569, 305 P 2d 335, 336.

Disposal of Stolen Property

If the crime of larceny has been completed, i. e., the taking and carrying away of the property has come to an end, then anyone subsequently assisting the thieves in the disposal of the stolen property would not be guilty of larceny. State v. Guay, 138 M 362, 357 P 2d 19, 22.

Effect of Ownership Not Proven as Alleged

Where the information alleges the ownership of the property, such allegation must be proven; proof of a brand only is not sufficient proof of the ownership of an animal bearing such brand. State v. Elmore, 126 M 232, 247 P 2d 488, 492.

Felonious Nature of Crime

Crime denominated by this statute is a felony. Gransberry v. State, 149 M 158, 423 P 2d 853.

Larceny by Bailee

Where defendant charged with grand larceny by bailee did not deny that he received a check from the complaining witness, but his defense was that it was a loan instead of a payment for an automobile, evidence as to whether the check was a loan or payment for the automobile was admissible over objection that it permitted a witness to vary a written instrument by parol testimony. State v. Ahl, 140 M 305, 371 P 2d 7, 9.

Defendant, who admitted title to automobile in the complaining witness and that he accepted and took custody of a check, and agreed that the money was to pay for the automobile, but failed to deliver the automobile, requiring the complaining witness to again pay for it, violated his trust as bailee by appropriating the money to his own use and was guilty of grand larceny by bailee. State v. Ahl, 140 M 305, 371 P 2d 7, 10.

Multi-Count Information

Information in five counts, three of which alleged larceny of more than one cow, did not violate "former jeopardy" provision of constitution since each count states separate offense and since grand larceny statute makes theft of each separate animal a separate and distinct offense and since statute providing for joinder of offenses permits information to charge more than one offense in separate counts. State v. Johnson, 149 M 173, 424 P 2d 728.

Operation and Effect

Conviction for larceny cannot be sustained where the evidence connecting the defendant with the hide and asportation of a live steer amounts to no more than suspicion and conjecture. State v. Elmore, 126 M 232, 247 P 2d 488, 492.

It is grand larceny to take money from the person of another with a felonious intent no matter what the amount is that is taken. State v. Peschon, 131 M 330, 310 P 2d 591, 595.

Conviction of defendant of grand larceny of an automobile was reversed where the actual taking and asportation of the car in question was not proven. State v. Fairbanks, 140 M 243, 370 P 2d 497, 499. (Dissenting opinions, 140 M 243, 370 P 2d 497, 500.)

Transporting of Stolen Property

Where one joins with a person, or persons in committing the crime of larceny and assists in the transporting and disposition of property which he knows to be stolen, he may be convicted of larceny. This is true even though the one assisting in the transporting and disposing of the stolen property was not in any manner connected with the initial taking of the property. State v. Guay, 138 M 362, 357 P 2d 19, 22.

94-2704.1. Possession of stolen livestock as evidence of larceny. The possession, claim of ownership or control over recently stolen livestock shall be deemed prima facie evidence of guilt of larceny of that livestock unless this presumption is rebutted or contradicted by other credible evidence.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 202, L. 1965.

Title of Act

An act to provide a reputable [sic] presumption that possession of recently stolen livestock shall be deemed prima facie evidence of guilt of larceny.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 202, Laws 1965 repealed all acts and parts of act in conflict therewith.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Plea of Guilty

Defendant's plea of "guilty" to information charging him with grand larceny rendered him subject to a sentence of "not less than one nor more than fourteen years" imprisonment, depending upon the view taken by the trial judge of the evidence to be presented to him, in open court, showing circumstances either in aggravation or mitigation of punishment. Kuhl v. District Court, 139 M 536, 366 P 2d 347, 351.

The extent of defendant's punishment on plea of guilty to grand larceny should have been determined by the exercise of a sound discretion on the part of the trial judge after the circumstances had been "presented by the testimony of witnesses examined in open court" specifically provided for in sections 94-7813 and 94-7814 (since repealed). Kuhl v. District Court, 139 M 536, 366 P 2d 347, 351.

The sentence of a defendant, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny, to four years in the state prison was reduced to one year by the supreme court where trial court passed sentence upon receipt of private reports without allowing defendant or his counsel to learn of the representations in the reports and a hearing to present evidence to refute such representations as provided in sections 94-7813 and 94-7814 (since repealed). Kuhl v. District Court, 139 M 536, 366 P 2d 347, 365.

94-2717. (11384) Claim of title, ground of defense.

Evidence of Intent

Where a selling agent is charged with larceny and sets up the defense of appropriating a customer's check under claim of right as a commission, testimony of clergyman concerning conversation had between himself and accused as to prior statements made by owner to agent, is inadmissible as hearsay since it is a self-serving declaration. State v. Fairburn, 135 M 449, 340 P 2d 157.

94-2721. (11388) Receiver of stolen property.

Essential Elements of Crime

Proof that the defendant knew the property was stolen is an essential element of the crime. The evidence is not sufficient where the state relies on a bill of sale which describes "3 cow hides red no brand" and in fact the hides had brands and cattle was missing from the brand owners, while the defendant proves that when he received the hides they were bundled up and so stiffly frozen that they could not be examined to see if they had brands. State v. Gilbert, 126 M 171, 246 P 2d 814, 815.

Operation and Effect

Conviction for receiving stolen goods cannot be sustained where the information charged that the defendant received a deepfreeze knowing the same to have been stolen from the true owner, Missoula County, while the facts were that the defendant was the county surveyor and he ordered a deepfreeze from a company and charged it to the county. Since the acts of the surveyor were unlawful, the county never purchased the freezer and never had it in its possession and at no time had title to the deepfreeze; therefore, Missoula County was never the owner from whom it was stolen as charged in the information. State v. Bourdeau, 126 M 266, 246 P 2d 1037, 1038.

Sufficiency of Information

It is not necessary to allege ownership, or that ownership is unknown, where the information otherwise describes the stolen goods with sufficient accuracy to apprise the defendant to prepare his defense and to protect him from double jeopardy. State v. Peters, 146 M 188, 405 P 2d 642.

CHAPTER 30—LOTTERIES

94-3001. (11149) Lottery defined.

Amendment of Constitution

Proposed initiative measure No. 63, which would legalize lotteries and repeal sections 94-3001 to 94-3011, could not be considered as an amendment to the Montana constitution where it did not comply with sections 8 or 9, article XIX, which set forth the manner of constitutional amendment. State ex rel. Steen v. Murray, 144 M 61, 394 P 2d 761, 764.

Initiative Measure Unconstitutional

Proposed initiative measure No. 63, which would legalize lotteries and repeal sections 94-3001 to 94-3011, is unconstitutional.

State ex rel. Steen v. Murray, 144 M 61, 394 P 2d 761, 763, 764.

Numbers Games

A numbers game, whether called Chinese lottery, "The Crown Game," "The Crown punchboard game" or any other game is a lottery. State ex rel. Olsen v. Crown Cigar Store, 124 M 310, 220 P 2d 1029, 1032.

Punch Boards

Punch boards constitute a lottery. State ex rel. Harrison v. Deniff, 126 M 109, 245 P 2d 140, 141.

In an action for violation of this section it was no defense that the defendant had offered to pay for the operation of such punch boards in accordance with Ch. 201, Laws 1951, which purports to license trade stimulators such as punch boards since it is not competent for the legislature to authorize lotteries in view of Const. Art. 19, sec. 2 and the case of State ex rel. Harrison v. Deniff. State v. Tursich, 127 M 504, 267 P 2d 641, 642.

Slot Machines

The operation of a slot machine is a lottery and banned by the criminal laws of this state. State v. Marek, 124 M 178, 220 P 2d 1017, 1019; State v. Read, 124 M 184, 220 P 2d 1020; State ex rel. Olsen v. Crown Cigar Store, 124 M 310, 220 P 2d 1029, 1032.

Valuable Consideration

Where one is required to make an outlay of money in order to participate in a scheme whereby an award is made by chance, the participant pays valuable consideration for the chance to participate, notwithstanding the fact he may also receive merchandise at the same time that the outlay is made. State v. Cox, 136 M 507, 349 P 2d 104. (State ex rel. Stafford v. Fox-Great Falls Theatre Corp., 114 M 52, 132 P 2d 689, distinguished.)

Compiler's Note

The section appearing in the parent volume (Sec. 1, Ch. 122, Laws 1927 as amended Sec. 1, Ch. 124, Laws 1941 and appearing in Revised Codes 1935 as Sec. 11048.1) was held to have been impliedly repealed by Ch. 105, Laws 1933 in State v. Holt, 121 M 459, 194 P 2d 651, and was specifically repealed by Sec. 3, Ch. 143, Laws 1949, and therefore the law set out above (Sec. 1, Ch. 143, Laws 1949) covering the same subject-matter has been given the same section number.

Title of Act

An act preventing the selling or giving away of intoxicating liquor to persons under twenty-one (21) years of age; providing penalties therefor; and repealing Section 11048.1 as amended by Chapter 124 of the Laws of the Twenty-seventh Legislative Assembly of the State of Montana, 1941, and all other acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith.

Alcoholic Content of Beer

It is not necessary that the information or the evidence show the alcoholic content of the beer in order to obtain a conviction. State v. Winter, 129 M 207, 285 P 2d 149, 156.

Construction

Under the above statute the selling to a minor is an offense without regard to whether the defendant had a license to sell or not. State v. Winter, 129 M 207, 285 P 2d 149, 155.

Entrapment

Defense of entrapment would not be available to a bar owner in a prosecution for selling liquor to a minor where it was shown that the public officers had given a minor money and sent him into the bar to purchase the liquor in order to obtain evidence. State v. Parr, 129 M 175, 283 P 2d 1086, 55 ALR 2d 1313. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 175, 283 P 2d 1086, 1090.)

Operation and Effect

Misrepresentation of age by a minor is not a defense and a seller of intoxicating beverages must know the age of the purchaser and whatever false representations are made or precautions taken are immaterial where, in fact, the purchaser is under the age of twenty-one. State v. Paskvan, 131 M 316, 309 P 1019, 1021.

The purchaser under the age of twenty-one is not an accomplice to the seller. The purchaser has committed a crime too, but his is knowingly misrepresenting his qualifications for the purpose of obtaining liquor under section 4-413 the penalty for which is found in section 4-439. State v. Paskvan, 131 M 316, 309 P 2d 1019, 1020.

Proof of Offense

Corpus delicti may be proved by evidence that the defendant poured minor a drink from a bottle marked "Vodka." State v. Moore, 138 M 379, 357 P 2d 346, 348.

Validity

This section was not impliedly repealed by section 4-330 as amended by chapter 166, Laws of 1951. State v. Winter, 129 M 207, 285 P 2d 149, 156.

Any amendment of this section by Ch. 71, Laws 1953 (4-413) is governed by the provisions of section 43-510 which provides that "where a section or a part of a statute is amended, it is not to be considered as having been repealed and re-enacted but the portions which are not altered are to be considered as having been the law from the time when they were enacted." State v. Wild, 130 M 476, 305 P 2d 325, 328.

94-3809. (10886) Making depositions, etc., when deemed complete.*Crime—When Complete

Under this section the crime of perjury is complete when the instrument is delivered by the accused to "any other person, with the intent that it be uttered or published as true." State v. Rother, 130 M 357, 303 P 2d 393, 395. (Dissenting opinions, 130 M 357, 303 P 2d 393 at 397, 409.)

Venue

Where prosecution for perjury is founded upon a false affidavit which was notarized in Lake County and delivered to

Lewis and Clark County, apparently by mail, by virtue of this section the crime was completed when the affidavit left the defendant with the requisite intent. If upon having the affidavit notarized the defendant then gave it to some other person to mail or mailed it himself, then the crime was committed and the proper county for venue was Lake County and not Lewis and Clark County. State v. Rother, 130 M 357, 303 P 2d 393. (Dissenting opinions, 130 M 357, 303 P 2d 393 at 397, 409.)

94-3908. (10828) Presenting fraudulent bills or claims for allowance, etc.*Operation and Effect

An information may be drawn consistent with section 94-1805 (obtaining money under false pretenses) which is not vulnerable to the objection that it is bad for duplicity for charging an offense under this section. State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 234. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236), distinguished in 135 M 449, 453, 340 P 2d 157, 160, overruled on another point in 142 M 459, 462, 384 P 2d 749.

94-3918. (10923) Confessions obtained by duress, etc.*Confession Not Used in Proceedings

Where defendant's confession to murder was not introduced before the court at any stage in the proceedings, he was not allowed to withdraw his plea of guilty on the grounds that the confession was obtained from him illegally. Petition of Pine, 143 M 453, 391 P 2d 690.

signed a confession to murder charge, the administration of the sedative did not make the confession ipso facto inadmissible and the determining question was whether at the time of the confession it was made voluntarily and of his free will. State v. Noble, 142 M 284, 384 P 2d 504.

CHAPTER 41—RAPE AND OTHER SEXUAL CRIMES

Section 94-4106. Lewd and lascivious acts upon children.

94-4120. Child under age of sixteen cannot be accomplice.

94-4101. (11000) Rape defined.

Evidence of Other Offenses

Where defendant was charged with attempted rape upon a female child under the age of 18 years, the admission of a transcribed statement in the form of questions by the county attorney and answers by the defendant showing that defendant had been warned about going out with girls under 18 and could have been charged with rape of a girl other than the prosecutrix, was prejudicial, was not waived by defendant's introduction of evidence to meet that of the state, and was of such nature that it could not be cured. State v. Tiedemann, 139 M 237, 362 P 2d 529, 532, distinguished in 144 M 401, 405, 396 P 2d 821.

Federal Law as to Indians

In the prosecution of an Indian for the crime of rape committed upon a 13-year-old female Indian on a reservation, an information which failed to charge that force had been employed or that consent of the victim was lacking failed to state an offense under the federal law which adopted the state law definition of rape. United States v. Rider, 282 F 2d 476.

Where an Indian was charged with rape of an Indian girl under eighteen on a reservation, the indictment failed to state an offense under the federal statute (18 U. S. C. § 1153), providing that an Indian who commits rape as defined by state law shall be imprisoned at the discretion of the court, because "rape" does not include "carnal knowledge" as rape is defined in this section, and because the federal law distinguishes between rape and carnal knowledge. United States v. Red Wolf, 172 F Supp 168.

94-4102. (11001) When physical ability must be proved.

Partial Repeal

Laws 1943, Ch. 227 (10-601 et seq.), and the amendments thereof have repealed by implication this section and section 94-4101, insofar as they conflict with the substance and intent thereof and district

Partial Repeal

Since this section is repealed by implication by Laws of 1943, Ch. 227 (10-601 et seq.), and the amendments thereof, insofar as it is in conflict with the substance and intent thereof, district criminal court was prohibited from trying child under the age of 16 years charged with rape. He was solely under the exclusive jurisdiction of the juvenile court. State ex rel. Dahl v. District Court, 134 M 395, 333 P 2d 495, 497, 499.

Statutory Rape

Any man who accomplishes an act of sexual intercourse with a female under the age of 18 years, when such female is not his wife, is guilty of the crime of statutory rape. The corpus delicti is sufficiently proved by the testimony of the prosecutrix that she had sexual intercourse with the accused at the time and place set forth in the information. State v. Reid, 127 M 552, 267 P 2d 986, 991.

94-4106. (11005) Lewd and lascivious acts upon children. Any person over the age of eighteen (18) years, who shall wilfully and lewdly commit any lewd and lascivious act, other than the acts constituting other crimes provided in sections 94-4101 to 94-4108, upon or with the body or any part or member thereof, of a child under the age of sixteen (16) years, with the intent of arousing, appealing to, or gratifying the lust or passions or sexual desires of such person, or of such child, shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be imprisoned in the state prison not exceeding twenty-five (25) years.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 59, L. 1913; re-en. Sec. 11005, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 70, L. 1935; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 57, L. 1959.

Amendment

The 1959 amendment raised the penalty in this section from five years to twenty-five years.

Age as Defense

The portion of this section giving an exemption to prosecution to a person under the age of eighteen years is a matter of defense, and negation thereof is not a necessary part of the information. State v. Davis, 141 M 197, 376 P 2d 727, 729.

Evidence of Similar Acts

Where alleged lewd and lascivious acts upon the person of a minor child below the age of 16 years were committed on or about March 19, 1955, it was improper to permit state to show similar acts to those charged as having been committed on August 4, 1951, and in June 1951 in the State of California because of the remoteness in time. State v. Nicks, 134 M 341, 332 P 2d 904, 905, 77 ALR 2d 836.

Information Held Sufficient

An information under this section was sufficient although it did not allege the age of the defendant. State v. Davis, 141 M 197, 376 P 2d 727, 729.

Subsequent Offense

A defendant convicted of a lewd and lascivious act upon a child under this section was properly sentenced to a term of not less than 10 years on a subsequent offense, pursuant to subd. 1 of section 94-4713, where the jury found that he had previously been convicted of lewd and lascivious acts upon a child. In re Davis' Petition, 139 M 622, 365 P 2d 948, 949.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Where medical testimony pertaining to defendant's antisocial nature and difficulty in controlling his sexual impulses may have established the defendant as a sexual deviate who should be confined for the protection of society, but was not sufficient to prove intent to commit a lewd and lascivious act upon a child, it was reversible error to convict the defendant of the felony. State v. Green, 143 M 234, 388 P 2d 362.

94-4109. (11008) Importation and exportation of females, etc.

Constitutionality

This section (94-4109) is void since Congress has legislated upon this matter in the Mann Act (U. S. C. Tit. 18, §§ 2421-2424). This section then, being in contravention of a valid law of the United States, is wholly void. Ex Parte Anderson, 125 M 331, 238 P 2d 910, 911, 912.

94-4110. (11009) Procuring women to reside in houses of prostitution, etc.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Evidence that defendant obtained and paid rent on prostitute's apartment, forced her to stay there, procured for her and took all money was sufficient for conviction under statute. State v. Crockett, 148 M 402, 421 P 2d 722.

94-4114. (11013) Receiving money for procuring women, etc.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Evidence that defendant cashed check given to prostitute by male brought to her by defendant who coerced her to prostitute for him was sufficient to support conviction. State v. Crockett, 148 M 402, 421 P 2d 722.

94-4118. (11030) Crime against nature.

Penetration by Mouth

The infamous crime against nature may be committed by penetration of the mouth.

(following State v. Hoyt Guerin, 51 M 250, 152 P 747.) State v. Dietz, 135 M 496, 343 P 2d 539, 541.

Where Accomplice's Testimony Insufficiently Corroborated

Where the corroborating evidence to the testimony of the accomplice showed that accomplice slept with the defendant and stayed overnight at defendant's house on several occasions, such evidence was insufficient to sustain the conviction as it does nothing more than show opportunity on the part of defendant to have committed the crime. State v. Gangner, 130 M 533, 305 P 2d 338.

94-4119. (11031) Penetration sufficient to complete the crime.

Operation and Effect

There must be penetration before a person can be convicted of the infamous crime against nature. State v. Shambo, 133 M 305, 322 P 2d 657, 658.

94-4120. Child under age of sixteen cannot be accomplice. No child under the age of sixteen (16) years can be an accomplice to the commission or attempted commission of the infamous crime against nature.

Title of Act

An act declaring a child under the age of fourteen years incapable of being an accomplice to the infamous crime against nature.

Repealing Clauses

Section 2 of Ch. 68, Laws 1951 and Sec. 2 of Ch. 145, Laws 1957 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Amendment

The 1957 amendment substituted "sixteen (16) years" for "fourteen (14) years"

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 68, L. 1951 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 23, 1951.

CHAPTER 42—RESCUES AND ESCAPES

94-4202. (10865) Retaking goods from custody of officer.

Unlawful Arrest

In action for damages for unlawful arrest which occurred after store manager handed plaintiff's check to officer and plaintiff seized check from officer's hand, arrest could not be justified as for violation of this section since officer did not have check in his possession under any process of law. Harrer v. Montgomery Ward & Co., 124 M 295, 221 P 2d 428, 435.

94-4203. (10866) Escapes from state prison—punishment.

Consecutive Sentence

An escape sentence runs consecutively and not concurrently with the original sentence. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 557.

Parole

The granting of a parole to an escape sentence by virtue of the wording of this section did not result in a discharge of the original sentence. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 557.

This section does not deal with paroles and therefore, does not stand for the proposition that an inmate, who has escaped from prison, must serve his entire original sentence in prison plus his escape sentence upon apprehension before being considered for parole. State ex rel. Her- man v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 557.

The word "discharge" as used in this section does not mean "release on parole." State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 557.

Sequence of Consecutive Sentences

Where petitioner was sentenced to serve consecutive sentences for escape and using an automobile without the consent of the owner, but the warden executed the sentences in a sequence reverse to that indicated by the court, there was no infringement on his rights and his petition for writ of habeas corpus was denied. Petition of Cheadle, 143 M 327, 389 P 2d 579.

Speedy Trial upon Escape Charge

Petitioner, who was presently confined in the United States penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas, applied to the supreme court of Montana for writ of mandate to require the district court of Powell County, Montana, to grant him a speedy trial on an escape charge, averring that a detainer had been filed with that institution by the warden of the Montana state prison to which he had been sentenced to terms of eight years and five years to run concurrently. Since records showed that he had escaped from custody after having served one year, two months and thirteen days of his sentences and he would be returned to the state prison to complete his unexpired sentences, the application was denied by the supreme court. In re Well's Petition, 139 M 611, 362 P 2d 420, 421.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

Title of Act

An act providing for the registration of certain societies, corporations, associations, political parties, assemblies, and other bodies and organizations; defining "subversive organizations," and requiring such organizations to file reports, documents and information with the secretary of state, and providing for the making of rules and regulations by the secretary of state; prohibiting the sending and delivery to non-members of letters, leaflets, and other written or printed matter, unless the same bears the name of such organization and      and providing penalties for violations of the names and addresses of its officers;      this act.

94-4412. Purpose of act. This act is adopted in the exercise of the police power of this state for the protection of the public peace and safety by requiring the registration of subversive organizations which are conceived and exist for the purpose of undermining and eventually destroying the democratic form of government in this state and in the United States.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4413. Subversive organization defined. As used in this title, "subversive organization" means every corporation, association, society, camp, group, political party, assembly, and everybody or organization composed of two [2] or more persons or members, which comes within all or any of the following descriptions:

(a) Which directly or indirectly advocates, advises, teaches, or practices, the duty, necessity, or propriety of controlling, conducting, seizing, or overthrowing the government of the United States, of this state, or of any political subdivision thereof by force or violence;

(b) Which is subject to foreign control as defined in section 4 [94-4414] hereof.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4414. Organization subject to foreign control defined. An organization is "subject to foreign control" if it comes within either of the following descriptions:

(a) It solicits or accepts financial contributions, loans, or support of any kind directly or indirectly from, or is affiliated directly or indirectly with, a foreign government or a political subdivision thereof, an agent, agency, or instrumentality of a foreign government or political subdivision thereof, a political party in a foreign country, or an international political organization;

(b) Its policies, or any of them, are determined by or at the suggestion of, or in collaboration with, a foreign government or a political subdivision thereof, an agent, agency, or instrumentality of a foreign government or a political subdivision thereof, a political party in a foreign country, or an international political organization.

94-4415. Exceptions from definition of subversive organization. "Subversive organization" does not include any labor union or religious, fraternal, or patriotic organizations, society, or association whose objectives and aims do not contemplate the overthrow of the government of the United States, of this state or of any political subdivision thereof by force or violence.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4416. Organization pursuant to law—no exemption. This act imposes additional requirements upon corporations, associations, or organizations which are subversive organizations. Neither the fact that such a corporation, association, or organization was organized pursuant to law nor that its affairs and activities are in any respect regulated by law exempts it from complying with this title.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4423. Statements filed with secretary of state are public records. All statements or documents filed with the secretary of state under this title [94-4411 to 94-4427] are public records and shall be open to public examination and inspection at all reasonable hours.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4424. Anonymous letters prohibited. A subversive organization shall not send, deliver, mail or transmit, or suffer or permit to be sent, delivered, mailed, or transmitted, to any person in this state who is not a member of the organization any anonymous letter, document, leaflet, or other written or printed matter. All letters, documents, leaflets, or other written or printed matter issued by a subversive organization which are intended to come to the attention of a person who is not a member of the organization shall bear the name of the organization and the name and residences of its officers.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4425. Penalty of organization for violating act. Any subversive organization which violates any provisions of this title [94-4411 to 94-4427] is guilty of a felony punishable by fine of not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) nor more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00). Any such violation constitutes a separate and distinct offense for each day, or part thereof, during which it is continued.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 215, L. 1951.

94-4426. Penalty of officer of organization. Any officer or member of the board of directors, board of trustees, executive committee, or other similar governing body of a subversive organization who violates any provision of this title [94-4411 to 94-4427], or permits or acquiesces in the violation of any provision of this title by the organization is guilty of a felony punishable by fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500.00) nor more than five thousand dollars ($5,000.00), or by imprisonment in a state prison for not less than six (6) months nor more than five (5) years, or by both.

Separate Offenses Arising from Same Transaction

Imposing two consecutive sentences upon defendant, one upon conviction of burglary for breaking and entering bar and other upon conviction of larceny in stealing beer from bar, was proper. Morigeau v. State, 149 M 85, 423 P 2d 60.

Sentencing defendant to two five-year terms to run concurrently based on convictions of second degree assault on two different people in same brawl was not violation of this statute which applies only to one indivisible transaction. State v. Manning, 149 M 517, 429 P 2d 625.

In re Davis' Petition, 139 M 622, 365 P 2d 948, 949.

It was not a denial of fair trial to allow the jury to consider the proven and admitted fact that the defendant in a first degree assault case had been convicted of three prior felonies, where only one would have served to increase the punishment under this section, when jury was instructed that the prior convictions were to be considered only in fixing the punishment, if and when the defendant was found guilty of the assault charge. Petition of Jones, 144 M 13, 393 P 2d 780.

Where a defendant upon cross-examination admits his prior convictions of felonies it is error for the court to then allow the state to introduce into evidence the judgment record of prior convictions, for it serves no useful purpose since the credibility has already been impeached and it may weigh too heavily against the

By section 94-6512 a defendant is guaranteed counsel by appointment of the court, if he cannot himself employ an attorney. It is equally the duty of the court to make the appointment of counsel effective, i. e., to give court-appointed counsel a reasonable time for the preparation of his case after he has been appointed. State v. Blakeslee, 131 M 47, 306 P 2d 1103, 1107. (Dissenting opinion, 131 M 47, 306 P 2d 1103, 1107.)

Where counsel was appointed by the court, after withdrawal of defendant's original counsel, but trial was commenced three days after such appointment, such appointment was made purposeless as it is the duty of the court to make the appointment effective by giving a reasonable time for the preparation of the case. *State v. rules of pleading and form of information and indictment, were repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 196, Laws 1967. For new law, see secs. 95-1410, 95-1501 to 95-1503, and 95-2001.

94-6407. (11847) Repealed.

Repeal

Section 94-6407 (Sec. 188, p. 218, Cod. Stat. 1871), prohibiting the charging of more than one offense in the same indictment or information, was repealed by Sec.

3, Ch. 172, Laws 1961. For new law, see secs. 95-1504, 95-1505.

94-6407.1 to 94-6413. (11848 to 11853) Repealed.

Sections 94-6407.1 to 94-6413 (Secs. 84, 86 to 88, p. 231, Bannack Stat.; Secs. 166, 168 to 170, 189, pp. 216, 218, Cod. Stat. 1871; Secs. 1837 to 1842, Pen. C. 1895), relating to the rules of pleading, were repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 196, Laws 1967. For new law, see secs. 95-1503 to 95-1505 and 95-1702.

94-6422. (11862) Repealed.

Repeal

This section (Sec. 93, p. 232, Bannack Stat.), relating to acquittal of one or more defendants under indictment against several, was repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 196, Laws 1967, effective January 1, 1968. For new law, see secs. 95-1504 and 95-1915.

94-6423. (11863) Distinction between accessory before the fact, etc.

Aiding and Abetting

While the statute defines larceny as the taking of property from the person of another yet it is sufficient to show the defendant's guilt that he aided or abetted in the commission of the crime. State v. Maciel, 130 M 569, 305 P 2d 335, 336.

Instructions

Where a verbal declaration of one co-defendant that he and the other codefendant were partners was given in evidence, it was error for the court to refuse defendant's instruction that such verbal declaration is insufficient to establish a partnership. Although a partnership was immaterial because of this section and section 94-204, yet the jury may have given full consideration to the declaration and found defendant guilty on the strength thereof. State v. Keller, 126 M 142, 246 P 2d 817, 821.

Operation and Effect

Under this section and section 94-204, evidence was sufficient to sustain a conviction of assault in the second degree where defendant was at the scene of the crime and was admittedly a participant therein; it is not necessary to show that he actually fired any one of the guns. State v. Simon, 126 M 218, 247 P 2d 481, 485.

Second Degree Assault

Under this section an information containing a single count charging the crime of second degree assault, as defined in section 94-602, was proper where only one crime was involved, namely, second degree assault, with at least two different ways of committing that crime; one by a direct assault and the other by aiding and abetting. State v. Zadick, 148 M 296, 419 P 2d 749, 751.

CHAPTER 68—PLEAS

Section 94-6808.1. Definition of terms.

94-6808.2. Method of prosecution when conduct constitutes more than one offense.

94-6808.3. When prosecution barred by former prosecution.

94-6808.4. Former prosecution in another jurisdiction—when a bar.

94-6808.5. Former prosecution before court lacking jurisdiction or when fraudulently procured by the defendant.

94-6801 to 94-6805. (11907 to 11911) Repealed.*Repeal

Sections 94-6801 to 94-6805 (Secs. 217, 218, 221, pp. 222, 223, Cod. Stat. 1871; Secs. 1940 to 1944, Pen. C. 1895), relating to pleas, were repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 196, Laws 1967. For new law, see secs. 95-1606, 95-1607, 95-1901, and 95-1902.

94-6806 to 94-6808. (11912 to 11914) Repealed.*Repeal

Sections 94-6801 to 94-6808 (Secs. 222 to 224, p. 223, Cod. Stat. 1871; Secs. 1945 to 1947, Pen. C. 1895), relating to former acquittals, were repealed by Sec. 6, Ch. 228, Laws 1969.

94-6808.1. Definition of terms. (a) Same transaction. The term same transaction shall include conduct consisting of:

(1) a series of acts or omissions motivated by a purpose to accomplish a criminal objective, and necessary or incidental to the accomplishment of that objective; or

(2) a series of acts or omissions motivated by a common purpose or plan and which result in the repeated commission of the same offense or affect the same person or the same persons or the property thereof.

(b) Included offense. An offense is an included offense when:

(1) it is established by proof of the same or less than all the facts required to establish the commission of the offense charged; or

(2) it consists of an attempt to commit the offense charged or to commit an offense otherwise included therein; or

(3) it differs from the offense charged only in the respect that a less serious injury or risk of injury to the same person, property or public interest or a lesser kind of culpability suffices to establish its commission.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 228, L. 1969.

Title of Act

An act to provide rules governing the defense of double jeopardy, providing when such defense shall or shall not be a bar to a second prosecution and defining when conduct arising out of the same transaction may or may not establish the commission of more than one offense; repealing sections 94-4807, 94-6806, 94-6807, 94-6808 and 94-7234, R. C. M. 1947.

94-6808.2. Method of prosecution when conduct constitutes more than one offense. When the same transaction may establish the commission of more than one offense, a person charged with such conduct may be prosecuted for each such offense. He may not, however, be convicted of more than one offense if:

- (a) one offense is included in the other; or
- (b) one offense consists only of a conspiracy or other form of preparation to commit the other; or
- (c) inconsistent findings of fact are required to establish the commission of the offenses; or
- (d) the offenses differ only in that one is defined to prohibit a designated kind of conduct generally and the other to prohibit a specific instance of such conduct; or
- (e) the offense is defined to prohibit a continuing course of conduct and the defendant's course of conduct was interrupted, unless the law provides that the specific periods of such conduct constitute separate offenses.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 228, L. 1969.

94-6808.3. When prosecution barred by former prosecution. Provided the offenses, if more than one, were known to the attorney prosecuting upon sufficient evidence to justify the filing of an information or the issuance of a warrant of arrest and were consummated prior to the original charge, and provided the jurisdiction and venue of the several offenses lie in a single court, a prosecution based upon the same transaction as a former prosecution is barred by such former prosecution under the following circumstances:

(a) The former prosecution resulted in an acquittal. There is an acquittal if the prosecution resulted in a finding of not guilty by the trier of fact or in a determination that there was insufficient evidence to warrant a conviction. A finding of guilty of a lesser included offense than the offense charged which is subsequently set aside is an acquittal of the greater inclusive offense that was charged.

(b) The former prosecution was terminated, after a complaint had been filed on a misdemeanor charge, after an information had been filed or an indictment found on a felony charge, by a final order or judgment for the defendant, which has not been set aside, reversed, or vacated and which necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact or a legal proposition that must be established for conviction of the offense.

(c) The former prosecution resulted in a conviction. There is a conviction if the prosecution resulted in:

- (1) a judgment of conviction which has not been reversed or vacated,
- (2) a verdict of guilty which has not been set aside and which is capable of supporting a judgment, so long as failure to enter judgment was for a reason other than a motion of the defendant,
- (3) a plea of guilty accepted by the court, so long as failure to enter judgment was for a reason other than a motion of the defendant.

(d) The former prosecution was improperly terminated. Except as provided in this subsection, there is an improper termination of a prosecution if the termination is for reasons not amounting to an acquittal, and it takes place after the first witness is sworn but before verdict. Termination under any of the following circumstances is not improper:

(1) The defendant consents to the termination or waives his right to object to the termination.

(2) The trial court, in the exercise of its discretion, finds that the termination is necessary because:

(i) it is physically impossible to proceed with the trial in conformity with law; or

(ii) there is a legal defect in the proceedings which would make any judgment entered upon a verdict reversible as a matter of law; or

(iii) prejudicial conduct, in or outside the courtroom, makes it impossible to proceed with the trial without manifest injustice to either the defendant or the state; or

(iv) the jury is unable to agree upon a verdict; or

(v) false statements of a juror on voir dire prevent a fair trial.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 228, L. 1969.

94-6808.4. Former prosecution in another jurisdiction—when a bar.

When conduct constitutes an offense within the concurrent jurisdiction of this state and of the United States or another state or of two courts of separate and/or concurrent jurisdiction in this state, a prosecution in any such other jurisdiction is a bar to a subsequent prosecution in this state under the following circumstances:

(a) The first prosecution resulted in an acquittal or in a conviction as defined in section 3 [94-6808.3] and the subsequent prosecution is based on an offense arising out of the same transaction.

(b) The former prosecution was terminated, after the complaint has been filed on a misdemeanor charge, after the information was filed or the indictment found, by an acquittal or by a final order or judgment for the defendant which has not been set aside, reversed or vacated and which acquittal, final order or judgment necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact which must be established for conviction of the offense of which the defendant is subsequently prosecuted.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 228, L. 1969.

94-6808.5. Former prosecution before court lacking jurisdiction or when fraudulently procured by the defendant. A prosecution is not a bar within the meaning of sections 3 and 4 [94-6808.3 and 94-6808.4] under any of the following circumstances:

(a) The former prosecution was before a court which lacks jurisdiction over the defendant or the offense; or

(b) The former prosecution was procured by the defendant without the knowledge of the proper prosecuting officer or with the purpose of avoiding the sentence which might otherwise be imposed; or

(c) The former prosecution resulted in a judgment of conviction which was held invalid in any post-conviction hearing.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 228, L. 1969.

Repealing Clause

Section 6 of Ch. 228, Laws 1969 read

"Sections 94-4807, 94-6806, 94-6807, 94-6808, 94-7234, R. C. M. 1947, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed."

CHAPTER 69—CHANGE OF PLACE OF TRIAL OR JUDGE

to mode of trial, formation of jury and calendar of issues and postponement of trial, were repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 196, Laws 1967. For new law, see secs. 95-1301, 95-1410, 95-1708, 95-1901, and 95-1904 to 95-1907.

Pen. C. 1895; Sec. 1, Ch. 4, L. 1925), relating to challenges to the jury, were repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 196, Laws 1967. For new law, see secs. 95-1908 and 95-1909.

CHAPTER 72—THE TRIAL

94-7201, 94-7202. (11969, 11970) Repealed.

Repeal

Sections 94-7201 and 94-7202 (Sec. 2071, Pen. C. 1895; Sec. 1, Ch. 82, L. 1907), relating to order of trial and departures therefrom, were repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 196, Laws 1967. For new law, see secs. 95-1910 and 95-1911.

94-7203. (11971) Defendant presumed innocent—reasonable doubt.*Burden of Proof

In criminal cases the burden of proof never shifts, but the burden of the evidence may shift frequently. State v. Moorman, 133 M 148, 321 P 2d 236, 238.

In a prosecution for grand larceny, an instruction which had the effect of placing a burden on the defendant to explain his possession of stolen property was erroneous. Such a burden deprives defendant of his cloak of innocence and forces him to testify. State v. Greeno, 135 M 580, 342 P 2d 1052.

Operation and Effect

In a prosecution for the crime of carrying a concealed weapon; wherein the defendant was found guilty by a jury, it was held on appeal that in view of the uncertainty in the mind of the state's only eyewitness as compared with witnesses for the defendant, coupled with the effect of this section, the evidence was not sufficient to justify a conviction for the crime charged. State v. Gilbert, 125 M 104, 232 P 2d 338, 341.

"Reasonable Doubt"—Instruction

Instruction that mere unexplained possession of stolen property was not sufficient to justify conviction but that one found in possession of property that may have been stolen must explain such possession in order to remove effect of that fact as a circumstance to be considered with other evidence pointing to guilt, did not deprive the defendant of the presumption of innocence. State v. Gray, — M —, 447 P 2d 475.

94-7205. (11973) Repealed.*Repeal

This section (Sec. 301, p. 236, Cod. Stat. 1871), relating to separate trials, was repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 196, Laws 1967, effective January 1, 1968. For new law, see sec. 95-1504.

94-7209. (11977) Rules of evidence in civil actions, etc.*Adverse Witness Statute

In a criminal case the state of Montana is the opposite party to the defendant, and former section 93-901-9, relating to calling the opposite party, is not applicable to a criminal proceeding. State v. Moorman, 133 M 148, 321 P 2d 236, 238.

Inspection of Writings

Even if section 93-8301 [now superseded by M. R. Civ. P., Rule 34] is made applicable to criminal cases by this section, defendant was not entitled to the inspection of written materials, where there was no showing as to what the material consisted of, whether it was relevant to the defense, or that it was admissible in evidence. State ex rel. Keast v. District Court, 135 M 545, 342 P 2d 1071.

Physician-Patient Privilege

The physician-patient privilege is not available to a defendant in a criminal action, since the qualifying language "in a civil action" used in section 93-701-4, subsection (4), specifically limits the privilege to civil actions and is thus within the exception of this section. State v. Campbell, 146 M 251, 405 P 2d 978.

Statement Explaining Constitutional Rights

Trial court did not err in permitting state's witness to read entire statement wherein defendant was warned of constitutional rights and which was signed by defendant since statement was material as evidence that defendant's constitutional rights and waiver thereof were clearly and understandably enunciated. State v. Lucero, — M —, 445 P 2d 731.

94-7220. (11988) Conviction on testimony of accomplice.

Cross-Reference

Child under sixteen not an accomplice to commission of infamous crime against nature, sec. 94-4120.

Corroboration

The evidence which corroborates the testimony of an accomplice could be furnished by the defendant. It could be circumstantial. It need not extend to every fact to which the accomplice testified and need not be sufficient to justify a conviction or establish a prima facie case of guilt: it being sufficient if it tends to connect defendants with the commission of the crime. Whether it tends to do so is a question of law, while its weight—its efficacy to fortify the testimony of the accomplice and render his story trustworthy—is a matter for the consideration of the jury. State v. Donges, 126 M 341, 251 P 2d 254, 257.

In a legal sense corroboration is something which leads an impartial and reasonable mind to believe that material testimony is true; it may also consist of admissions, declarations or conduct of the defendant, writings, or other documentary evidence which tends to show concert of action between the accomplice and the defendant. State v. Harmon, 135 M 227, 340 P 2d 128; State v. Moran, 142 M 423, 384 P 2d 777.

Instructions

Where the defense requested instructions as to the effect of accomplice's testimony and there was evidence in the record from which the jury might have concluded that a deputy sheriff was an accomplice of the defendant, the court should have instructed the jury that if they believed the deputy sheriff was an accomplice then they must weigh his evidence as provided by section 93-2001-1, subd. 4 and also that such evidence must be corroborated as required by this section. State v. Porter, 125 M 503, 242 P 2d 984, 990.

Insufficient Corroboration

In a prosecution for an infamous crime against nature, where the only evidence other than the testimony of the accomplice showed that the accomplice had stayed at the defendant's house over night and slept with the defendant, the corroborating evidence was not sufficient to sustain a conviction as it does nothing more than to show opportunity on the part of defendant to have committed the crime. State v. Gangner, 130 M 533, 305 P 2d 338.

Operation and Effect

In a sodomy case, court should have given the requested instructions of the defendant to the effect that if the jury finds the prosecuting witness was an accomplice, then the jury must acquit the defendant, where the only evidence connecting the defendant with the commission of the crime was the testimony of the prosecuting witness. State v. Searle, 125 M 467, 239 P 2d 995, 998.

Person Making Forged Instrument Not Accomplice of Person Passing Forged Instrument

The testimony of the person who forged the indorsement on a warrant and who was not implicated in the matter of passing or uttering the instrument is corroborating evidence to the testimony of an accomplice of the defendant charged with uttering the forged instrument. The person who forged the indorsement is not an accomplice to the defendant who uttered the instrument as the making of the instrument and the uttering of it are two separate crimes although they both constitute forgery. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1014. (See, however, the dissenting opinions in 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1016, 1018.)

Sufficiency of Corroborative Evidence

Corroborating evidence need not be direct, but may be circumstantial; it need not be sufficient to justify a conviction, or to establish a prima facie case of guilt; it need not be sufficient to connect the defendant with the commission of the crime, but it is sufficient if it tends to do so. State v. Harmon, 135 M 227, 340 P 2d 128.

Evidence was sufficient to corroborate the testimony given by alleged accomplice where the record disclosed facts and circumstances which tended to connect the defendant with the commission of burglary in the first degree. State v. Laverdure, 140 M 236, 370 P 2d 489, 491; State v. Barick, 143 M 273, 389 P 2d 170.

Weight Given Corroborative Evidence

If the trial judge is satisfied that the evidence is corroborative, it is his duty to submit the case to the jury to determine what effect should be given to the corroboration and whether it is sufficient to warrant a conviction. State v. Harmon, 135 M 227, 340 P 2d 128.

94-8802. (12176) Competency of husband and wife as witnesses.*Evidence Other Than Communications

Statute applies to communications only with result that testimony of deputy sheriff that wife of defendant accompanied him to area where evidence which served to convict defendant was recovered should have been allowed. State v. Houchin, 149 M 503, 428 P 2d 971.

Operation and Effect

It was error to permit wife to testify against husband in trial for assault by unlawfully threatening another by pointing a loaded revolver in violation of subd. 4 of section 94-602 where no offense against the wife was charged. State v. Storm, 124 M 102, 220 P 2d 674, 675.

94-8803. (12177) When the defendant is not a competent witness, etc.*Credibility Instruction

In prosecution for second-degree assault, court did not err in giving general instruction which prescribed standard by which jury might judge defendant's credibility. State v. Manning, 149 M 517, 429 P 2d 625.

Privilege against Self Incrimination

In a prosecution for grand larceny, an instruction which had the effect of placing a burden on the defendant to explain his possession of stolen property was erroneous. Such a burden deprives defendant of his cloak of innocence and forces him to testify. The cases of State v. Sparks, 40 M 82, 105 P 87 and State v. Willette, 46 M 326, 127 P 1013, to the extent they impose a burden to explain or testify concerning any charge of possessing stolen goods are overruled. State v. Greeno, 135 M 580, 342 P 2d 1052.

Right To Remain Silent

Instruction that mere unexplained possession of stolen property was not sufficient to justify conviction but that one found in possession of property that may have been stolen must explain such possession in order to remove effect of that fact as circumstance to be considered with other evidence pointing to guilt did not deprive defendant of his right to remain silent. State v. Gray, — M —, 447 P 2d 475.

Testimony of witness who had previously pleaded guilty to charges on which defendant was being tried and who claimed immunity under statute was admissible at defendant's trial even though witness had refused to answer questions on deposition prior to trial on the ground that his answers then might have tended to incriminate him. State v. Corliss, 150 M 40, 430 P 2d 632.

Testimony of Accomplice

An accomplice may testify in a criminal case even though he is a convicted felon at the time of his testimony. State v. Barick, 143 M 273, 389 P 2d 170.

tendance and to subpoenas, were repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 196, Laws 1967. For present law, see sec. 95-1801.

(1) If a person in any state, which by its laws has made provision for commanding persons within its borders to attend and testify in criminal prosecutions, or grand jury investigations commenced or about to commence, in this state, is a material witness in a prosecution pending in a court of record in this state, or in a grand jury investigation, which has commenced or is about to commence, a judge of such court may issue a certificate under the seal of the court stating these facts and specifying the number of days the witness will be required. This certificate will be presented to a judge of a court of record in the county in which the witness is found.

(2) If said certificate recommends that the witness be taken into immediate custody and delivered to an officer of this state to assure his attendance in this state, such judge may direct that such witness be forthwith brought before him; and the judge being satisfied of the desirability of such custody and delivery, for which such determination said certificate shall be prima facie proof, may order that said witness be forthwith taken into custody and delivered to an officer of this state, which order shall be sufficient authority to such officer to take such witness into custody and hold him unless and until he may be released by bail, recognizance, or order of the judge issuing the certificate.

(3) If the witness is summoned to attend and testify in this state, he shall be tendered the sum of ten cents (10¢) a mile for each mile and five dollars ($5.00) for each day that he is required to travel and attend as a witness, provided further that in those cases in which the state wherein the witness is found has by statutory enactment required that the summoned witness be paid an amount or amounts in excess of the amount hereinbefore in this paragraph provided, then said witness may be tendered said amount or amounts so required by said state to be tendered though the said amount or amounts so required to be tendered are in excess of the said amounts in this paragraph provided for. A witness who has appeared in accordance with the provisions of the summons shall not be required to remain within this state a longer period of time than the period mentioned in the certificate, unless otherwise ordered by the court. If such witness fails without good cause to attend and testify as directed in the summons, he shall be punished in the manner provided for the punishment of any witness who disobeys a summons issued from a court of record in this state.

relating to pardons and paroles, were repealed by Sec. 31, Ch. 153, Laws 1955. For new provisions, see secs. 94-9821 to 94-9851.

94-9821. Act, how cited. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Probation, Parole and Executive Clemency Act."

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

Title of Act

An act creating a board of pardons and prescribing the appointment and composition thereof, with power and duty to grant paroles, within restrictions, to supervise probations and suspended sentences, to recommend after duly noticed public hearing that the governor remit fines and forfeitures, grant pardons, absolute or conditional; grant commutations of punishments after conviction and judgment for offenses committed against the criminal laws of this state; providing for a director and a staff to administer the provisions of this act, and defining their duties; requiring records of board proceedings; providing for arrest of parolees or probationers upon violation of conditions of release; providing penalties for parole or probation violators; defining rights of attorneys to hearing before the board; providing the board with power to subpoena witnesses, and make rules and regulations under the provisions of this act; defining governor's power to respite; requiring governor to report acts of executive clemency to the legislative assembly; excluding juveniles; providing a saving clause; repealing sections 94-9801, 94-9802, 94-9803, 94-9804, 94-9805, 94-9806, 94-9807, 94-9808, 94-9809, 94-9810, 94-9811, 94-9812, 94-9813, 94-9814, 94-9815, 94-9816, 94-9817, 94-9818, 94-9819 and 94-9820, Revised Codes of Montana, 1947, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith; and providing an effective date clause.

Good Time Allowance

Under the "new parole laws" (sections 94-9821 to 94-9851) a prisoner retains the right to earn good time under the old good time statutes (sections 80-739, 80-741, repealed by Laws 1955, ch. 117, sec. 2 and section 80-740) and he is subject to forfeiture of this good time. Hill v. State, 139 M 407, 365 P 2d 44, 46, 95 ALR 2d 1261.

The "new parole laws" (sections 94-9821 to 94-9851) have nothing to do with the forfeiture of earning of good time. Hill v. State, 139 M 407, 365 P 2d 44, 46, 95 ALR 2d 1261.

94-9822. Board of pardons—organization. There is hereby created a state board of pardons, hereinafter referred to as the "board," consisting of three (3) members who shall be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the senate. The board shall administer the executive clemency, probation and parole system, and shall endeavor to secure the effective application and improvement of such system and the laws upon which it is based. The members of the board shall serve on a per diem basis and shall be paid at the rate of fifteen dollars ($15.00) per day of service, plus actual and necessary expenses, and shall meet at least once each month at the state prison. The members of the board shall serve for terms of six (6) years, and until their successors are duly appointed and qualified, provided, however, that two (2) of those first appointed after this act takes effect, shall serve for terms of two (2) and four (4) years, respectively. The governor shall appoint the members of the board and call a meeting thereof within thirty (30) days of the effective date thereof. The board shall immediately thereafter set up the system herein provided for, and make the necessary appointments of its director, and other employees. Suitable quarters, supplies and equipment shall be provided.

The principal office of the board shall be in Deer Lodge, Montana. A vacancy occurring before the expiration of any member's term of office shall be filled in the same manner for the unexpired portion of said term. The governor may at any time, after notice and hearing, remove any member for neglect of duty, malfeasance, misfeasance or nonfeasance in office.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

Powers of Board

The power of the state board of pardons is limited to permitting a convict to leave the enclosure of the state prison after he has served a period of confinement fixed for him by the board in accordance with section 94-9833. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 555.

Neither section 94-9832 nor any other section in the code gives the state board of pardons power to extinguish a former sentence by paroling a man to a subsequent sentence. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 555.

Maximum sentences cannot be changed or altered by the state board of pardons. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 555.

The state board of pardons does not have the right to pardon or commute a sentence as the exclusive power to pardon and commute a sentence rests in the office of the governor under Art. VII, sec. 9 of the Montana Constitution. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 555.

94-9823. Definitions. When used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Probation" is the release by the court without imprisonment except as otherwise provided by law, of a defendant found guilty of a crime upon verdict or plea, subject to conditions imposed by the court and subject to the supervision of the board upon direction of the court.

(b) "Parole" is the release to the community of a prisoner by the decision of the board prior to the expiration of his term, subject to conditions imposed by the board and subject to its supervision.

(c) "Executive clemency" refers to the powers of the governor as provided by section 9 of Article VII of the Constitution of the state of Montana.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

Effect of Granting of a Parole

A parole releases from confinement a convict who has been committed to an institution, before the expiration of his sentence. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 555.

The granting of a parole to an escape sentence by virtue of the wording of section 94-4203 did not result in a discharge of the original sentence. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 557.

References

In re Kane's Petition, 145 M 516, 402 P 2d 403.

94-9824. Seal, orders, records, report. The board shall adopt an official seal of which the courts shall take judicial notice. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum. Decision of the board may be by majority vote. The orders of the board shall not be reviewable except as to compliance of terms of this act. The board shall keep a record of its acts and decisions available to the public, providing, however, that all social records, including the pre-sentence report, the pre-parole report and the supervision history obtained in the discharge of official duty by any member or employee of the board, shall be confidential and shall not be disclosed directly or indirectly to anyone other than the members of the board or a judge; provided, however, that the board or a court may in its discretion, whenever the best interest or welfare of a particular defendant or prisoner makes such action desirable or helpful, permit the inspection of the report or any parts thereof by the prisoner or his attorney. The board shall report as provided in section 2 [82-4002] of this act.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 153, L. 1955; amd. Sec. 42, Ch. 93, L. 1969.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment substituted the reference to the reporting requirements of section 82-4002 for former provision requiring report at close of each fiscal year to be made to governor, to board of prison commissioners and to the legislature.

94-9825. Director and employees—salaries to be paid monthly—approval and auditing. The board shall appoint a state director of probation and parole, hereinafter referred to as the "director" who shall appoint, with the approval of the board, an assistant director, probation and parole officers and other employees required to administer the provisions of this act. The director shall receive an annual salary in such amount as may be specified by the legislative assembly in the appropriation to the board of pardons payable monthly, which shall include compensation for all services rendered as interstate compact administrator. If the legislative assembly does not specify the maximum salary of the state director in the appropriation to the board of pardons, it shall be fixed by the board after approval by the board of examiners. Before approving any salary increase, the board of examiners shall review the salaries of comparable positions in Montana state government, other states, and private industry. All other officers and employees of the board shall receive such compensation for their services as may be fixed by the board. All officers and employees of the board shall hold office at the pleasure of the board and shall perform such duties as are imposed on them by law or by the board.

The salaries of all officers and employees of the board shall be paid monthly after such salaries have been approved by the board upon claims therefor.

Amendments

The 1957 amendment raised the salary of the director from $6,000 to $7,000 per annum.

The 1961 amendment deleted from the end of the section the words "to be audited and approved by the state board of examiners."

The 1963 amendment substituted the provision for a maximum salary of $8,400 for the director for a provision fixing the salary at $7,000; and added to the second sentence the words "which shall include compensation for all services rendered as interstate compact administrator."

The 1967 amendment substituted "in such amount * * * to the board of pardons" for "of not more than eight thousand four hundred dollars ($8,400) per annum" in the second sentence; and inserted the third and fourth sentences.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 122, Laws 1957 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Effective Dates

Section 3 of Ch. 122, Laws 1957 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 5, 1957.

Section 11 of Ch. 225, Laws 1963 read "This act shall be effective from and after February 28, 1963."

94-9826. Expenses to be paid. All expenses incurred by the board pursuant to the provisions of this act, including the actual and necessary traveling and other expenses and disbursements of the members thereof, its officers and employees, incurred while on business of the board either within or without the state, shall, unless otherwise provided in this act, be paid from funds appropriated, after being approved by the board upon claims therefor.

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 153, L. 1955; end of the section the words "to be audited and approved by the state board of examiners."

Amendment

The 1961 amendment deleted from the

94-9827. Legal adviser of the board. The board may appoint any qualified attorney or the attorney general to act as its legal adviser and represent it in all proceedings whenever so requested by the board.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9828. Duties of the director. The director shall be the executive officer of the board. He shall be responsible for such investigation and supervision as may be requested by the board or the courts. He shall, subject to the approval of the board, divide the state into districts and assign probation and parole officers to serve in the various districts and courts; he shall obtain office quarters for such staff in each district as may be necessary. He shall assign the secretarial, bookkeeping and accounting work to the clerical employees, including receipt and disbursement of money. He shall direct the work of the probation and parole officers and other employees assigned to him. He shall formulate methods of investigation, supervision, record keeping and reports. He shall conduct training courses for the staff. He shall seek to cooperate with all agencies, public and private, which are concerned with the treatment or welfare of persons on probation or parole. He shall further be charged with the administration of the provisions of the interstate compact for the supervision of parolees and probationers.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9829. Duties of probation and parole officers. Probation and parole officers shall investigate all persons referred to them for investigation by the director of probation and parole or by any court to which they are instructed by the director to serve. They shall furnish to each person released under their supervision a written statement of the conditions of probation or parole and shall instruct him regarding same. They shall keep informed of the conduct and condition of each person released under their supervision and use all suitable methods to aid and encourage him to bring about improvement in his conduct and condition. Probation and parole officers shall keep detailed records of their work. They shall supervise the collection and disbursement of all moneys when so instructed by the director in accordance with the orders of a court. They shall make such reports in writing as the director may require.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9830. Conditions of probation or suspension of sentence. The board may adopt general rules or regulations concerning the conditions of probation or suspension of sentence. Such conditions shall apply in the absence of any specific or inconsistent conditions imposed by a court. Nothing herein contained shall limit the authority of the court to impose or modify any general or specific conditions of probation or of suspension of sentence.

The probation and parole officer may recommend, and by order duly entered, a court may modify any condition of probation or suspension of sentence at any time. Due notice shall be given to the probation and parole officer before any such conditions are modified and he shall be given an opportunity to be heard thereon. The court shall cause a copy of any such order to be delivered to the probation and parole officer and the probationer.

History: En. Sec. 10, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9831. Arrest—subsequent disposition. At any time during probation or suspension of sentence a court may issue a warrant for the arrest of the defendant for violation of any of the conditions of release, or a notice to appear to answer to a charge of violation. Such notice shall be personally served upon the defendant. The warrant shall authorize all officers named therein to return such defendant to the custody of the court or to any suitable detention facility designated by the court. Any probation and parole officer may arrest such defendant without a warrant, or may deputize any other officer with power of arrest to do so by giving him a written statement setting forth that the defendant has, in the judgment of said probation and parole officer, violated the conditions of his release. Such written statement delivered with the defendant by the arresting officer to the official in charge of a county jail or other place of detention shall be sufficient warrant for the detention of the defendant. The probation and parole officer, after making an arrest, shall present to the detaining authorities a similar statement of the circumstances of violation. Provisions regarding release on bail of persons charged with crime, shall be applicable to the defendants arrested under these provisions.

Upon such arrest and detention, the probation and parole officer shall immediately notify the court with jurisdiction over such prisoner, and shall submit in writing a report showing in what manner the defendant has violated the conditions of release. Thereupon, or upon an arrest by warrant as herein provided, the court shall cause the defendant to be brought before it without unnecessary delay for a hearing on the violation charged. The hearing may be informal or summary. If the violation is established, the court may continue to revoke the probation or suspension of sentence, and may require him to serve the sentence imposed, or any lesser sentence, and, if imposition of sentence was suspended, may impose any sentence which might originally have been imposed.

A probationer or defendant under suspension of sentence for whose return a warrant has been issued by the court, shall, after the issuance of the warrant, if it is found that such warrant cannot be served, be deemed a fugitive from, or to have fled from, justice. If it shall appear that he has violated the provisions of his release, whether the time from the issuing of such warrant to the date of his arrest, or any part of it, shall be counted as time served on probation or suspended sentence, shall be determined by the court.

History: En. Sec. 11, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

Commencement of Sentence

Where relator was sentenced to four years' confinement and the execution of the sentence was then suspended, which suspension was later revoked, the sentence commenced to run for all purposes on the date when judgment of conviction was entered. Any time between the imposition of the suspended sentence and its revocation should have been credited to the relator and failure to do so resulted in his illegal confinement. State ex rel. Wetzel v. Ellsworth, 143 M 54, 387 P 2d 442.

Subsequent Arrest for Violation

Where petitioner was placed on probation for one year on conditions aimed at rehabilitating him, subsequent imposition of judgment after he violated his probation did not put him in jeopardy in violation of the federal constitution or section 18, art. III, of the Montana constitution. In re Williams' Petition, 145 M 45, 399 P 2d 732.

94-9832. Parole authority and procedure. The board shall release on parole any person confined in the Montana state prison, except persons under sentence of death, when in its opinion there is reasonable probability that the prisoner can be released without detriment to himself or to the community, provided,

1. That no convict serving a time sentence shall be paroled until he shall have served at least one-quarter ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) of his full term, less good time allowances off, as provided in section 80-740; except that any convict serving a time sentence may be paroled after he shall have served, upon his term of sentence, twelve and one-half ( $12\frac{1}{2}$ ) years;

2. No convict, serving a life sentence, shall be paroled until he shall have served twenty-five (25) years, less the good time allowances off, as provided in section 80-740. All paroles shall issue upon order of the board, duly adopted.

Within two (2) months after his admission and at such intervals thereafter as it may determine, the board shall consider all pertinent information regarding each prisoner, including the circumstances of his offense, his previous social history and criminal record, his conduct, employment and attitude in prison, and the reports of such physical and mental examinations as have been made.

Before ordering the parole of any prisoner, the board shall have the prisoner appear before it and shall interview him. A parole shall be ordered only for the best interest of society, not as an award of clemency; it shall not be considered a reduction of sentence or pardon. A prisoner shall be placed on parole only when the board believes that he is able and willing to fulfill the obligations of a law-abiding citizen. Every prisoner while on parole shall remain in the legal custody of the institution from which he was released, but shall be subject to the orders of the board.

The board may adopt such other rules not inconsistent with law as it may deem proper or necessary, with respect to the eligibility of prisoners for parole, the conduct of parole hearings or conditions to be imposed upon parolees. Whenever an order for parole is issued it shall recite the conditions thereof.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

Compiler's Notes

Section 80-740, referred to in the first and second paragraphs of this section, was repealed by Sec. 101, Ch. 199, Laws 1965. For present law, see sec. 80-1905.

Discretion of Board

Since the release of inmates on parole or by virtue of commutation of sentence rests in the discretion of the state board of pardons, their determination is not subject to review by the courts. Goff v. State, 139 M 641, 367 P 2d 557, 558.

Effect of Granting of a Parole

A parole releases from confinement a convict who has been committed to an institution, before the expiration of his sentence. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 555.

The granting of a parole to an escape sentence by virtue of the wording of section 94-4203 did not result in a discharge of the original sentence. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 557.

Hearing

Hearings involving inmates of the state prison are set by the state board of pardons and are entirely within their discretion. The only requirement for a hearing or interview arises when the board is about to order a parole. Goff v. State, 139 M 641, 367 P 2d 557, 558.

In petition for writ of habeas corpus brought by an inmate of the state prison, allegation of bias and prejudice by a member of the state board of pardons was without merit, where the files of the board disclosed that such member had disqualified himself from participating in any hearing involving petitioner. Goff v. State, 139 M 641, 367 P 2d 557, 558.

Power of Board

This section does not give the state board of pardons power to extinguish a former sentence by paroling a man to a subsequent sentence. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 555.

Right to Parole

All inmates confined in the Montana state prison are eligible for parole except those under death sentence. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 556.

In the case of consecutive sentences a prisoner is required to serve a period equivalent to one-fourth of the combined total of each sentence (less good time) before he is eligible for parole although subsequent sentence is for escape. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 557.

A prisoner is not entitled to release as a matter of right until he has completed his maximum sentence. State ex rel. Herman v. Powell, 139 M 583, 367 P 2d 553, 556; Goff v. State, 139 M 641, 367 P 2d 557, 559.

Verdict "Without Parole"

When jury returned verdict imposing sentence "without parole," trial court properly refused it since only parole board has authority to decide whether prisoner shall be paroled. State v. Brooks, 150 M 399, 436 P 2d 91.

94-9833. Conditional release. A prisoner having served one-fourth ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) of his term or terms, less good time allowances, shall upon parole, be deemed as released on parole until the expiration of the maximum term or terms for which he was sentenced less good time allowances as provided in section 80-740.

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

Compiler's Notes

Section 80-740, referred to in this section, was repealed by Sec. 101, Ch. 199, Laws 1965. For present law, see sec. 80-1905.

Good Time Allowance

Under former section 80-740 a convict, by escaping, forfeits all his good time.

94-9834. Information from prison officials. It shall be the duty of all prison officials to grant to the members of the board, or its properly accredited representatives, access at all reasonable times to any prisoner over whom the board has jurisdiction under this act, to provide for the board or such representatives facilities for communicating with and observing such prisoner, and to furnish to the board such reports as the board shall require concerning the conduct and character of any prisoner in their custody and any other facts deemed by the board pertinent in determining whether such prisoner shall be paroled.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9835. Persons may be heard—counsel. The board shall be required to hear oral statements from all persons desiring to be heard before the board and any person may be represented by counsel, provided that the board shall have the power to regulate procedure at all hearings.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9836. Subpoenas. The board shall have the power to issue subpoenas compelling the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such records, books, papers and documents as it may deem necessary for investigation of the case of any person before it. Subpoenas may be signed and oaths administered by the board or any member thereof. Subpoenas so issued may be served by any sheriff, constable, police officer, parole and probation officer, or other law-enforcement officer. In case of contumacy by, or refusal of any person to obey a subpoena issued to such person, any member of the board or duly authorized representative of any of them may make application to any court of record of this state and such court shall have jurisdiction to issue to such person an order requiring such person to appear before the board and there to produce evidence if so ordered, or there to give testimony touching the matter under investigation; any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by said court as a contempt thereof. Any person who shall without just cause fail, or refuse to attend and testify, or to answer any lawful inquiry or to produce records, books, papers and other documents if it is in his power to do so, in obedience to a subpoena of the board or any member thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars ($200) or by imprisonment for not longer than sixty (60) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and each day such violation continues shall be deemed to be a separate offense.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9837. Rules. The board shall have the power and duty to make rules for the conduct of persons heretofore or hereafter placed on parole or on probation under the supervision of the board by any court in this state, and for the investigation and supervision of such persons, except that the board shall not make any rule applying to a person on probation which conflicts with the conditions of probation imposed by the court.

History: En. Sec. 17, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9838. Return of parole violator. At any time during release on parole or conditional release the board may issue a warrant for the arrest of the released prisoner for violations of any of the conditions of release, or a notice to appear to answer to a charge of violation. Such notice shall be served personally upon the prisoner. The warrant shall authorize all officers named therein to return such prisoner to the actual custody of the penal institution from which he was released, or to any other suitable detention facility designated by the board. Any probation and parole officer may arrest such prisoner without a warrant, or may deputize any other officer with power to arrest to do so by giving him a written statement setting forth that the prisoner has, in the judgment of said probation and parole officer, violated the conditions of his release. Such written statement delivered with the prisoner by the arresting officer to the official in charge of the institution from which the prisoner was released or other place of detention, shall be sufficient warrant for the detention of the parolee or conditional releasee. The probation and parole officer, after making an arrest, shall present to the detaining authorities a similar statement of the circumstances of violation. Pending hearing, as hereinafter provided, upon any charge of violation, the prisoner shall remain incarcerated in such institution.

Upon such arrest and detention, the probation and parole officer shall immediately notify the board and shall submit in writing a report showing in what manner the prisoner has violated the conditions of release. Thereupon, or upon an arrest by warrant as herein provided, the board shall cause the prisoner to be promptly brought before it for a hearing on the violation charged, under such rules and regulations as the board may adopt. If the violation is established, the board may continue or revoke the parole or conditional release, or enter such other order as it may see fit.

A prisoner for whose return a warrant has been issued by the board shall, after the issuance of such warrant, if it is found that the warrant cannot be served, be deemed a fugitive or to have fled from justice. If it shall appear that he has violated the provisions of his release, whether the time from the issuing of such warrant to the date of his arrest, or any part of it, shall be counted as time served under the sentence, shall be determined by the board.

History: En. Sec. 18, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9839. Service of term for additional crime. Any prisoner who commits a crime while at large upon parole or conditional release, and who is convicted and sentenced therefor, shall serve such sentence concurrently with the terms under which he was released, unless otherwise ordered by the court in sentencing for the new offense.

History: En. Sec. 19, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9840. Discharge of prisoner, parolee or conditional releasee. The period served on parole or conditional release shall be deemed service of the term of imprisonment, and, subject to the provisions contained in section 18 [94-9838] herein relating to a prisoner who is a fugitive from, or has fled from, justice, the total time served may not exceed the maximum term or sentence. When a prisoner on parole or conditional release has performed the obligations of his release, the board shall make a final order or discharge and issue a certificate of discharge to the prisoner.

94-9841. Cases of executive clemency. The board shall investigate and report to the governor with respect to all cases of pardons, remissions of fines and forfeitures, and commutations of punishment after conviction and judgment for any offenses committed against the criminal laws of the state. A majority of the board shall advise, investigate, and approve each such case before the action of the governor shall be final. All applications for executive clemency shall be made to the board, which shall cause an investigation to be made of all the circumstances surrounding the crime for which the applicant was convicted, and as to the individual circumstances relating to social conditions of the applicant. If the board, or a majority thereof, approves such application for executive clemency, it shall advise the governor and recommend action to be taken.

History: En. Sec. 21, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9842. Notice of hearing applications for executive clemency. After the board has duly considered an application for executive clemency, and has by majority vote favored a recommendation of executive clemency to the governor, it must pass an order in substance as follows:

"Whereas, the Board of Pardons has officially received an application for Executive Clemency concerning _____, a convict confined in the State Prison (or to one _____, who has been found guilty of an offense committed against the laws of the state), who was convicted of the crime of _____ committed at _____, in the County of _____, State of Montana, on the ____ day of _____, 19____, and sentenced for a term of ____ years.

History: En. Sec. 22, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9843. Publication of order. The board must cause a copy of such order to be published in the newspaper therein designated, at least once a week for two weeks prior to the hearing, and at the same time cause to be deposited in the postoffice at the seat of government, postpaid, a copy of said order and notice addressed to the district judge, county attorney and sheriff, respectively, of the county where the crime was committed, and in like manner mail a copy of the order to the petitioner and the convict.

94-9845. Record of meeting, what to contain. At the hearing the board must cause to be kept a record showing:

1. The name of all persons appearing before the board on behalf of the person pardoned by the governor;

3. The testimony of all persons giving evidence before the board;

1. When there is imminent danger of the death of the person convicted or imprisoned.

History: En. Sec. 26, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9847. Decision to be made. Within thirty (30) days after the hearing of any case, the board must make a decision in writing, and if such decision be made to recommend executive clemency, the copy of the decision, together with all papers used in each case shall be immediately transmitted to the governor.

History: En. Sec. 27, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9848. Governor may respite. The governor has the power to grant respites after conviction and judgment, for any offenses committed against the criminal laws of the state, for such time as he thinks proper.

History: En. Sec. 28, Ch. 153, L. 1955.

94-9849. all persons who, at the effective date hereof, may be on probation or parole, or eligible to be placed on probation or parole under existing laws, with the same force and effect as if this act had been in operation at the time such persons were placed on probation or parole or became eligible to be placed thereon as the case may be, provided that no person convicted and sentenced before the effective date hereof shall have his rights and earned good time reduced by the application of this act.

CHAPTER 1101—INTERSTATE AGREEMENT ON DETAINERS

- Section 94-1101-1. Agreement on detainees adopted—text.
 94-1101-2. District courts to act.
 94-1101-3. Enforcement and cooperation by public agencies.

 94-1101-5. Institutional officers to honor agreement.
 94-1101-6. Coordinator of agreement—appointment—duties.

94-1101-1. Agreement on detainees adopted—text. The agreement on detainees is hereby enacted into law and entered into by this state with all other jurisdictions legally joining therein in the form substantially as follows: The contracting states solemnly agree that:

Article I

The party states find that charges outstanding against a prisoner, detainees based on untried indictments, informations or complaints, and difficulties in securing speedy trial of persons already incarcerated in other jurisdictions, produce uncertainties which obstruct programs of prisoner treatment and rehabilitation. Accordingly, it is the policy of the party states and the purpose of this agreement to encourage the expeditious and orderly disposition of such charges and determination of the proper status of any and all detainees based on untried indictments, informations or complaints. The party states also find that proceedings with reference to such charges and detainees, when emanating from another jurisdiction, cannot properly be had in the absence of cooperative procedures. It is the further purpose of this agreement to provide such cooperative procedures.

Article II

As used in this agreement:

(a) "State" shall mean a state of the United States; the United States of America; a territory or possession of the United States; the District of Columbia; the commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(b) "Sending state" shall mean a state in which a prisoner is incarcerated at the time that he initiates a request for final disposition pursuant to article III hereof or at the time that a request for custody or availability is initiated pursuant to article IV hereof.

(c) "Receiving state" shall mean the state in which trial is to be had on an indictment, information or complaint pursuant to article III or article IV hereof.

Article III

(a) Whenever a person has entered upon a term of imprisonment in a penal or correctional institution of a party state, and whenever during the continuance of the term of imprisonment there is pending in any other party state any untried indictment, information or complaint on the basis of which a detainer has been lodged against the prisoner, he shall be brought to trial at the next term of court after he shall have caused to be delivered to the prosecuting officer and the appropriate court of the prosecuting officer's jurisdiction written notice of the place of his imprisonment and his request for a final disposition to be made of the indictment, information or complaint; provided that for good cause shown in open court, the prisoner or his counsel being present, the court having jurisdiction of the matter may grant any necessary or reasonable continuance. The request of the prisoner shall be accompanied by a certificate of the appropriate official having custody of the prisoner, stating the term of commitment under which the prisoner is being held, the time already served, the time remaining to be served on the sentence, the amount of good time earned, the time of parole eligibility of the prisoner, and any decisions of the state parole agency relating to the prisoner.

(b) The written notice and request for final disposition referred to in paragraph (a) hereof shall be given or sent by the prisoner to the warden, commissioner of corrections or other official having custody of him, who shall promptly forward it together with the certificate to the appropriate prosecuting official and court by registered or certified mail, return receipt request[ed].

(c) The warden, commissioner of corrections or other official having custody of the prisoner shall promptly inform him of the source and contents of any detainer lodged against him and shall also inform him of his right to make a request for final disposition of the indictment, information or complaint on which the detainer is based.

(d) Any request for final disposition made by a prisoner pursuant to paragraph (a) hereof shall operate as a request for final disposition of all untried indictments, informations or complaints on the basis of which detainees have been lodged against the prisoner from the state to whose prosecuting official the request for final disposition is specifically directed. The warden, commissioner of corrections or other official having custody of the prisoner shall forthwith notify all appropriate prosecuting officers and courts in the several jurisdictions within the state to which the prisoner's request for final disposition is being sent of the proceeding being initiated by the prisoner. Any notification sent pursuant to this paragraph shall be accompanied by copies of the prisoner's written notice, request, and the certificate. If trial is not had on any indictment, information or complaint contemplated hereby prior to the return of the prisoner to the original place of imprisonment, such indictment, information or complaint shall not be of any further force or effect, and the court shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice.

(e) Any request for final disposition made by a prisoner pursuant to paragraph (a) hereof shall also be deemed to be a waiver of extradition with respect to any charge or proceeding contemplated thereby or included therein by reason of paragraph (d) hereof, and a waiver of extradition to the receiving state to serve any sentence there imposed upon him, after completion of his term of imprisonment in the sending state. The request for final disposition shall also constitute a consent by the prisoner to the production of his body in any court where his presence may be required in order to effectuate the purposes of this agreement and a further consent voluntarily to be returned to the original place of imprisonment in accordance with the provisions of this agreement. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the imposition of a concurrent sentence if otherwise permitted by law.

(f) Escape from custody by the prisoner subsequent to his execution of the request for final disposition referred to in paragraph (a) hereof shall void the request.

Article IV

(a) The appropriate officer of the jurisdiction in which an untried indictment, information or complaint is pending shall be entitled to have a prisoner against whom he has lodged a detainer and who is serving a term of imprisonment in any party state made available in accordance with article V (a) hereof upon presentation of a written request for temporary custody or availability to the appropriate authorities of the state in which the prisoner is incarcerated; provided that the court having jurisdiction of such indictment, information or complaint shall have duly approved, recorded and transmitted the request; and provided further that there shall be a period of thirty days after receipt by the appropriate authorities before the request be honored, within which period the governor of the sending state may disapprove the request for temporary custody or availability, either upon his own motion or upon motion of the prisoner.

(b) Upon receipt of the officer's written request as provided in paragraph (a) hereof, the appropriate authorities having the prisoner in custody shall furnish the officer with a certificate stating the term of commitment under which the prisoner is being held, the time already served, the time remaining to be served on the sentence, the amount of good time earned, the time of parole eligibility of the prisoner, and any decisions of the state parole agency relating to the prisoner. Said authorities simultaneously shall furnish all other officers and appropriate courts in the receiving state who have lodged detainers against the prisoner with similar certificates and with notices informing them of the request for custody or availability and of the reasons therefor.

(c) In respect of any proceeding made possible by this article, trial shall be commenced within one hundred twenty days of the arrival of the prisoner in the receiving state, but for good cause shown in open court, the prisoner or his counsel being present, the court having jurisdiction of the matter may grant any necessary or reasonable continuance.

(d) Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to deprive any prisoner of any right which he may have to contest the legality of his delivery as provided in paragraph (a) hereof, but such delivery may not be opposed or denied on the ground that the executive authority of the sending state has not affirmatively consented to or ordered such delivery.

(e) If trial is not had on any indictment, information or complaint contemplated hereby prior to the prisoner's being returned to the original place of imprisonment pursuant to article V (e) hereof, such indictment, information or complaint shall not be of any further force or effect, and the court shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice.

Article V

(a) In response to a request made under article III or article IV hereof, the appropriate authority in a sending state shall offer to deliver temporary custody of such prisoner to the appropriate authority in the state where such indictment, information or complaint is pending against such person in order that speedy and efficient prosecution may be had. If the request for final disposition is made by the prisoner, the offer of temporary custody shall accompany the written notice provided for in article III of this agreement. In the case of a federal prisoner, the appropriate authority in the receiving state shall be entitled to temporary custody as provided by this agreement or to the prisoner's presence in federal custody at the place for trial, whichever custodial arrangement may be approved by the custodian.

(b) The officer or other representative of a state accepting an offer of temporary custody shall present the following upon demand:

(1) Proper identification and evidence of his authority to act for the state into whose temporary custody the prisoner is to be given.

(2) A duly certified copy of the indictment, information or complaint on the basis of which the detainer has been lodged and on the basis of which the request for temporary custody of the prisoner has been made.

(c) If the appropriate authority shall refuse or fail to accept temporary custody of said person, or in the event that an action on the indictment, information or complaint on the basis of which the detainer has been lodged is not brought to trial within the periods provided by this act, the appropriate court of the jurisdiction where the indictment, information or complaint has been pending shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice, and any detainer based thereon shall cease to be of any force or effect.

(d) The temporary custody referred to in this agreement shall be only for the purpose of permitting prosecution on the charge or charges contained in one or more untried indictments, informations or complaints which form the basis of the detainer or detainers or for prosecution on any other charge or charges arising out of the same transaction. Except for his attendance at court and while being transported to or from any place at which his presence may be required, the prisoner shall be held in a suitable jail or other facility regularly used for persons awaiting prosecution.

(e) At the earliest practicable time consonant with the purposes of this agreement, the prisoner shall be returned to the sending state.

(f) During the continuance of temporary custody or while the prisoner is otherwise being made available for trial as required by this agreement, time being served on the sentence shall continue to run but good time shall be earned by the prisoner only if, and to the extent that, the law and practice of the jurisdiction which imposed the sentence may allow.

(g) For all purposes other than that for which temporary custody as provided in this agreement is exercised, the prisoner shall be deemed to remain in the custody of and subject to the jurisdiction of the sending state and any escape from temporary custody may be dealt with in the same manner as an escape from the original place of imprisonment or in any other manner permitted by law.

(h) From the time that a party state receives custody of a prisoner pursuant to this agreement until such prisoner is returned to the territory and custody of the sending state, the state in which the one or more untried indictments, informations or complaints are pending or in which trial is being had shall be responsible for the prisoner and shall also pay all costs of transporting, caring for, keeping and returning the prisoner. The provisions of this paragraph shall govern unless the states concerned shall have entered into a supplementary agreement providing for a different allocation of costs and responsibilities as between or among themselves. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to alter or affect any internal relationship among the departments, agencies and officers of and in the government of a party state, or between a party state and its subdivisions, as to the payment of costs, or responsibilities therefor.

Article VI

(a) In determining the duration and expiration dates of the time periods provided in articles III and IV of this agreement, the running of said time periods shall be tolled whenever and for as long as the prisoner is unable to stand trial, as determined by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

(b) No provision of this agreement, and no remedy made available by this agreement, shall apply to any person who is adjudged to be mentally ill.

Article VII

Each state party to this agreement shall designate an officer who, acting jointly with like officers of other party states, shall promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms and provisions of this agreement, and who shall provide, within and without the state, information necessary to the effective operation of this agreement.

Article VIII

This agreement shall enter into full force and effect as to a party state when such state has enacted the same into law. A state party to this agreement may withdraw herefrom by enacting a statute repealing the same.

However, the withdrawal of any state shall not affect the status of any proceedings already initiated by inmates or by state officers at the time such withdrawal takes effect nor shall it affect their rights in respect thereof.

Article IX

This agreement shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate its purposes. The provisions of this agreement shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this agreement is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any party state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstances is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this agreement and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this agreement shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state party hereto, the agreement shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

95-210. Peace officer. "Peace officer" means any person who by virtue of his office or public employment is vested by law with a duty to maintain public order or to make arrests for offenses while acting within the scope of his authority.

History: En. 95-210 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-211. Sentence. "Sentence" is the punishment imposed on the defendant by the court.

CHAPTER 3

JURISDICTION

Section 95-301. Jurisdiction of the district court.

95-302. Jurisdiction of the justice of the peace courts.

95-303. Jurisdiction of police and municipal courts.

95-304. State criminal jurisdiction.

95-301. Jurisdiction of the district court. The district courts have jurisdiction of all public offenses not otherwise provided for.

History: En. 95-301 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

District courts, jurisdiction and powers, Mont. Const. Art. VIII, § 11.

95-302. Jurisdiction of the justice of the peace courts. The justices' courts have:

(a) Jurisdiction of all misdemeanors punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00) or imprisonment not exceeding six (6) months, or both such fine and imprisonment; excluding jurisdiction in cases commenced under the Montana Dangerous Drug Act except to act as examining and committing courts and to conduct preliminary hearings as provided in subsection (c).

(b) Concurrent jurisdiction, with district courts, of all misdemeanors punishable by a fine only, not exceeding fifteen hundred dollars ($1,500.00); and

(c) Jurisdiction to act as examining and committing courts and for such purpose to conduct preliminary hearings.

History: En. 95-302 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 314, L. 1969.

Cross-References

Dangerous drug act, 54-129 to 54-138.

Enlargement of Jurisdiction by Implication

Statute providing for penalty assessments in addition to statutory limitations on the imposition of fines was void for indirectly enlarging the jurisdiction of the justice and police courts as prescribed by statutes defining jurisdiction of such courts in terms of maximum fine which may be imposed for the offense charged, notwithstanding state's argument that the jurisdiction had been enlarged by implication, rejected by court for the reason that such a serious governmental function as jurisdiction of the courts specially provided for in constitutional terms is not so easily amended by the theory of implication. State ex rel. Sanders v. City of Butte, 151 M 171, 441 P 2d 190.

Exclusive Jurisdiction

Former provision, together with the provisions sections 11 and 21 of article VIII of the constitution, under authority of which it was enacted, apparently reposed in justice courts exclusive original jurisdiction of all misdemeanors unless a law specifically provided that the district court should have jurisdiction or fix the penalty above the justice court maximum. Ex parte Sheehan, 100 M 244, 251, 49 P 2d 438.

Legislature's Authority

Within constitutional limitations, legislature may confer jurisdiction in any class of cases on either the district courts or justice's courts. State v. Holt, 121 M 459, 194 P 2d 651.

Unlicensed Practice of Medicine

Justice court did not have jurisdiction of prosecution for practicing medicine without license, bearing maximum punishment of $1,000 fine or one year's imprisonment. State ex rel. Freebourn v. District Court, 105 M 77, 69 P 2d 748.

Appointed Counsel

An indigent charged with the crime of petit larceny, specifically enumerated in former section, is not entitled to court-appointed counsel, and since district court had no jurisdiction over justice court to appoint counsel for indigent defendant, attorney was not entitled to compensation. State ex rel. Johnson v. District Court, 147 M 263, 410 P 2d 933.

Common Nuisance (Liquor) Prosecution

In a prosecution for maintaining a common nuisance under section 19, Chapter 9, Extraordinary Session of 1921 (since repealed), made supplemental to and a part of the laws relating to intoxicating liquors, held that the district court had original jurisdiction, under section 37 of the Enforcement Act (Chapter 143, Laws 1917) (since repealed), conferring upon the district court original jurisdiction for violations of liquor laws and continued in force by Chapter 9, notwithstanding the offense is made a misdemeanor by section 19 thereof, punishable by a fine not exceeding $500 and imprisonment in the county jail for not exceeding six months, and therefore otherwise triable in a justice court under this section. State v. Bowker, 63 M 1, 4, 205 P 961; State v. Sorenson, 65 M 65, 69, 210 P 752.

95-303. Jurisdiction of police and municipal courts. (a) The police courts have criminal jurisdiction as authorized by sections 11-1602 and 11-1603.

(b) Municipal courts have criminal jurisdiction as authorized by section 11-1702.

History: En. 95-303 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

Police and municipal courts, creation and jurisdiction, Mont. Const. Art. VIII, § 24.

Jurisdiction of Police Court

City police court had jurisdiction of defendant, arrested by a city police officer without a warrant, while driving on city streets, and promptly taken to the city police court where the arresting officer reported and charged defendant with operating a motor vehicle within the corporate limits of the city while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, in violation of city ordinance. City of Bozeman v. Ramsey, 139 M 148, 362 P 2d 206, 215.

95-304. State criminal jurisdiction. (a) A person is subject to prosecution in this state for an offense which he commits, while either within or outside the state, by his own conduct or that of another for which he is legally accountable, if:

(1) The offense is committed either wholly or partly within the state; or

(2) The conduct outside the state constitutes an attempt to commit an offense within the state, and an act in furtherance of the offense occurs in the state; or

(3) The conduct within the state constitutes an attempt, solicitation or conspiracy to commit in another jurisdiction an offense under the laws of this state and such other jurisdiction.

(b) An offense is committed partly within this state, if either the conduct which is an element of the offense, or the result which is an element, occurs within the state. In homicide, the "result" is either the physical contact which causes death, or the death itself, and if the body of a homicide victim is found within the state, the death is presumed to have occurred within the state.

(c) An offense which is based on an omission to perform a duty imposed by the law of this state is committed within the state, regardless of the location of the offender at the time of the omission.

(d) This state includes the land and water and the air space above such land and water with respect to which the state has legislative jurisdiction.

Tribal Indians

The state has jurisdiction over Indian wards for crimes committed by them within the state but without the bounds of "Indian country." Buckman v. State, 139 M 630, 366 P 2d 346; In re Diserly's Petition, 140 M 219, 370 P 2d 763.

Crimes committed by Indians within Montana, but without the bounds of "Indian country" are within the jurisdiction of the state courts. Petition of Fox, 141 M 189, 376 P 2d 726, 727.

Tribal Indians—Forgery

State court had jurisdiction of prosecution of tribal Indian for forgery of check obtained from Indian agency office where check was cashed in a town outside of the boundaries of the Indian reservation. Petition of Fox, 141 M 189, 376 P 2d 726, 727.

Tribal Indians—Larceny

State court presumptively had jurisdiction of prosecution of tribal Indian charged with larceny of a horse from Indian land where accused did not show that entire asportation took place on Indian land. State v. Akers, 106 M 43, 58, 74 P 2d 1138.

Tribal Indians—Statutory Rape

State court properly entertained jurisdiction of prosecution for crime committed by tribal Indian against Indian girl while off reservation, as against contention that federal court had exclusive jurisdiction of the offense. State v. Youpee, 103 M 86, 91, 61 P 2d 832.

Variance between Pleading and Proof

Under former statutes permitting conviction in any county into which the guilty person takes stolen property, there was no variance between the venue as laid in an information charging larceny of horses in a certain county of this state and proof that the horses were stolen in Canada and driven into said county. State v. De Wolfe, 29 M 415, 421, 74 P 1084, overruled on other grounds in State v. Penna, 35 M 535, 546, 90 P 787.

CHAPTER 4

VENUE

- Section 95-401. Place of trial.
 95-402. Where offense committed partly in one and partly in another county.
 95-403. Where offense committed on or near county boundary.
 95-404. Where a person in one county commits or aids and abets the commission of an offense in another county.
 95-405. Offenses committed while in transit.
 95-406. Death and cause of death in different places.
 95-407. Offense commenced outside the state.
 95-408. Stolen property.
 95-409. Escape from prison.
 95-410. Bigamy.
 95-411. Kidnaping.
 95-412. Treason.

95-401. Place of trial. In all criminal prosecutions the trial shall be in the county where the offense was committed unless otherwise provided by law. All objections to improper place of trial are waived by a defendant unless made before trial. If an objection is made a hearing shall be held and the venue established before proceeding to trial.

History: En. 95-401 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

Place of trial, Mont. Const. Art. III, § 16.

Information

An information stating generally that a crime was committed in Missoula county, but containing no other allegation as to venue, is sufficient, it not being necessary that it should allege that the crime was not committed on the Fort Missoula military reservation, which is situated within that county. Judicial notice may be taken of the fact that the reservation in question is situated in Missoula county. State v. Tully, 31 M 365, 369, 78 P 760.

Venue Allegations

Information alleging that homicide was committed in Missoula county was sufficient as to venue, it being unnecessary to allege that crime occurred on Fort Missoula military reservation located within county. State v. Tully, 31 M 365, 78 P 760.

95-402. Where offense committed partly in one and partly in another county. Where two (2) or more acts are requisite to the commission of any offense, the trial may be in any county in which any of such acts occur.

History: En. 95-402 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

In General

Where defendants, president and cashier of a bank, prepared an alleged false report to the superintendent of banks in P. county and transmitted it by mail to the superintendent of banks in L. & C. county, the district court of the former county had jurisdiction. State v. Cassill, 70 M 433, 227 P 49.

95-403. Where offense committed on or near county boundary. Where an offense is committed on or within one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) mile of the boundary of two (2) or more counties, and it cannot be readily determined in which county the offense was committed, the offender may be tried in any of such counties.

History: En. 95-403 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Judicial Notice as to Location

Courts will take judicial notice of the fact that a point located a given number of miles from a named town is in a certain county, hence that a point 25 miles north of Brockton is in Roosevelt county. State v. Akers, 106 M 43, 58, 74 P 2d 1138.

95-404. Where a person in one county commits or aids and abets the commission of an offense in another county. Where a person in one county commits, aids, abets or procures the commission of an offense in another county the offender may be tried in either county.

History: En. 95-404 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Cross-References

Indictment or information against accessory to felony, sec. 94-6424.

95-405. Offenses committed while in transit. If an offense is committed in, on or against any instrument of conveyance passing within this state, and it cannot readily be determined in which county the offense was committed, the offender may be tried in any county through which such instrument of conveyance has passed or in the county where the travel terminates.

History: En. 95-405 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-406. Death and cause of death in different places. If cause of death is inflicted in one county and the death ensues in another county, the offender may be tried in either county.

History: En. 95-406 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Variance between Pleading and Proof

Under former section requiring trial of homicide in county where fatal injury was inflicted, held that, where a person is shot in one county but dies in another, and defendant is charged with murder in the former county, it is unnecessary to allege where the deceased died; and, though it is alleged that he died in the county where the fatal shot was fired, while the evidence shows that he died in another county, there is no variance. That term refers to a disagreement between the allegations in the information and the proof, with reference to some matter that is legally essential to the charge. State v. Crean, 43 M 47, 54, 114 P 603.

95-407. Offense commenced outside the state. If the commission of an offense commenced outside the state is consummated within this state, the offender shall be tried in the county where the offense was consummated.

History: En. 95-407 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Variance between Pleading and Proof

There was no variance between information charging larceny of horses in Cascade county and proof that horses were stolen in Canada and driven into Cascade county. State v. De Wolfe, 29 M 415, 74 P 1084, overruled on other grounds in State v. Penna, 35 M 535, 546, 90 P 787.

95-408. Stolen property. Where a person obtains property by larceny, robbery, false pretenses or embezzlement, he may be tried in any county in which he exerted control over such property.

History: En. 95-408 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Animal Driven into Another County

While jurisdiction in prosecution for larceny of livestock is determined by place where crime is committed, where property is taken in one county and thereafter brought into another, jurisdiction under this section is in either county; held, in case of concerted plan to steal horses and ship out of state by railroad, there was continuous commission of the crime from place of taking to destination, even though defendant's active participation ceased at a place between, and county into which animal driven had jurisdiction. State v. Akers, 106 M 43, 58, 74 P 2d 1138.

Judicial Notice as to Location

Courts will take judicial notice of the fact that a point located a given number of miles from a named town is in a certain county, hence that a point 25 miles north of Brockton is in Roosevelt county. State v. Akers, 106 M 43, 58, 74 P 2d 1138.

Variance between Pleading and Proof

There was no variance between information charging larceny of horses in Cascade county and proof that horses were stolen in Canada and driven into Cascade county. State v. De Wolfe, 29 M 415, 74 P 1084, overruled on other grounds in State v. Penna, 35 M 535, 546, 90 P 787.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Constitutionality

Former provision which also provided for apportioning costs held not unconstitutional as being in conflict with section 27 of article III, the due process clause, section 4 of article XII, prohibiting the legislature from levying taxes upon the inhabitants or property in, inter alia, counties for county purposes, nor open to objection that it violated section 23 of article V, prohibiting more than one subject in a legislative bill and requiring that it be expressed in its title. Rosebud County v. Flinn, 109 M 537, 539, 543, 98 P 2d 330.

"Larceny"

"Larceny," as used in predecessor section meant grand larceny, the title of the act referring to property feloniously taken characterizing that crime as a felony. Rosebud County v. Flinn, 109 M 537, 541, 98 P 2d 330.

Meaning of Words "Prosecution" and "Costs"

Under former provision which also provided for apportioning costs of prosecution and trial, held that apparently only one construction could be given to section 8 of article III and section 27 of article VIII of the constitution of Montana, and former section 94-6201 appearing to have defined the meaning of the term "prosecution," namely, that the prosecution commences with the filing of the information or indictment, and not before. The section, where it used the term "costs," meant any legal and proper costs of prosecution and trial after filing of the information, including cost and expense of investigation and production of evidence. Costs incurred preliminary to filing the information were not proper claims against county where offense committed. Rosebud County v. Flinn, 109 M 537, 541, 98 P 2d 330.

95-409. Escape from prison. A person who escapes from prison may be tried in any county in the state.

History: En. 95-409 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-410. Bigamy. A person who commits the offense of bigamy may be tried in any county where the bigamous marriage or bigamous cohabitation has occurred.

History: En. 95-410 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-411. Kidnaping. A person who commits the offense of kidnaping may be tried in any county in which his victim has traveled or has been confined during the course of the offense.

History: En. 95-411 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-412. Treason. A person who commits the offense of treason may be tried in any county.

History: En. 95-412 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

CHAPTER 5

COMPETENCY OF ACCUSED

Section 95-501. Mental disease or defect excluding responsibility.

95-502. Evidence of mental disease or defect admissible when relevant to element of the offense.

- 95-503. Mental disease or defect excluding responsibility is affirmative defense—requirement of notice—form of verdict and judgment when finding of irresponsibility is made.
- 95-504. Mental disease or defect excluding fitness to proceed.
- 95-505. Psychiatric examination of defendant with respect to mental disease or defect.
- 95-506. Determination of fitness to proceed—effect of finding of unfitness—proceedings if fitness is regained.
- 95-507. Determination of irresponsibility on basis of report—access to defendant by psychiatrist of his own choice—form of expert testimony when issue of responsibility is tried.
- 95-508. Legal effect of acquittal on the ground of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility—commitment—release or discharge.
- 95-509. Statements for purposes of examination or treatment inadmissible except on issue of mental condition.

95-501. Mental disease or defect excluding responsibility. (a) A person is not responsible for criminal conduct if at the time of such conduct as a result of mental disease or defect he is unable either to appreciate the criminality of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of law.

(b) As used in this chapter, the terms “mental disease or defect” does not include an abnormality manifested only by re-repeated criminal or otherwise antisocial conduct.

History: En. 95-501 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

Who are capable of committing crimes, sec. 94-201.

Irresistible Impulse

“One may have mental capacity and intelligence sufficient enough to distinguish between right and wrong with reference to the particular act, and to understand the consequences of its commission, and yet be so far deprived of volition and self control by the overwhelming violence of mental disease that he is not capable of voluntary action, and therefore not able to choose the right and avoid the wrong.” State v. Peel, 23 M 358, 369, 59 P 169.

95-502. Evidence of mental disease or defect admissible when relevant to element of the offense. Evidence that the defendant suffered from a mental disease or defect is admissible whenever it is relevant to prove that the defendant did or did not have a state of mind which is an element of the offense.

History: En. 95-502 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-503. Mental disease or defect excluding responsibility is affirmative defense—requirement of notice—form of verdict and judgment when finding of irresponsibility is made. (a) Mental disease or defect excluding responsibility is an affirmative defense which the defendant must establish by a preponderance of the evidence.

(b) (1) Evidence of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility is not admissible unless the defendant, at the time of entering his plea of not guilty or within ten (10) days thereafter or at such later time as the court may, for good cause, permit, files a written notice of his purpose to rely on such defense.

(2) The defendant shall give similar notice when in a trial on the merits, he intends to rely on a mental disease or defect, to prove that he did not have a particular state of mind which is an essential element of the offense charged. Otherwise, except on good cause shown, he shall not introduce in his case in chief, expert testimony in support of that defense.

(c) When the defendant is acquitted on the ground of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, the verdict and the judgment shall so state.

History: En. 95-503 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

95-504. Mental disease or defect excluding fitness to proceed. No person who as a result of mental disease or defect is unable to understand the proceedings against him or to assist in his own defense, shall be tried, convicted or sentenced for the commission of an offense so long as such incapacity endures.

95-505. Psychiatric examination of defendant with respect to mental disease or defect. (a) Whenever the defendant has filed a notice of intention to rely on the defense of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, or there is reason to doubt his fitness to proceed, or reason to believe that mental disease or defect of the defendant will otherwise become an issue in the cause, the court shall appoint at least one (1) qualified psychiatrist or shall request the superintendent of the Montana state hospital to designate at least one (1) qualified psychiatrist, which designation may be or include himself, to examine and report upon the mental condition of the defendant. The court may order the defendant to be committed to a hospital or other suitable facility for the purpose of the examination for a period of not exceeding sixty (60) days or such longer period as the court determines to be necessary for the purpose and may direct that a qualified psychiatrist retained by the defendant be permitted to witness and participate in the examination.

(b) In such examination any method may be employed which is accepted by the medical profession for the examination of those alleged to be suffering from mental disease or defect.

(c) The report of the examination shall include the following:

- (1) A description of the nature of the examination;
- (2) A diagnosis of the mental condition of the defendant;
- (3) If the defendant suffers from a mental disease or defect, an opinion as to his capacity to understand the proceedings against him and to assist in his own defense;

(4) When a notice of intention to rely on the defense of irresponsibility has been filed, an opinion as to the ability of the defendant to appreciate the criminality of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of law at the time of the criminal conduct charged; and

(5) When directed by the court, an opinion as to the capacity of the defendant to have a particular state of mind which is an element of the offense charged.

If the examination cannot be conducted by reason of the unwillingness of the defendant to participate therein, the report shall so state and shall include, if possible, an opinion as to whether such unwillingness of the defendant was the result of mental disease or defect.

The report of the examination shall be filed (in triplicate) with the clerk of court, who shall cause copies to be delivered to the county attorney and to counsel for the defendant.

History: En. 95-505 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-506. Determination of fitness to proceed—effect of finding of unfitness—proceedings if fitness is regained. (a) When the defendant's fitness to proceed is drawn in question, the issue shall be determined by the court. If neither the county attorney nor counsel for the defendant contests the finding of the report filed pursuant to section 95-505, the court may make the determination on the basis of such report. If the finding is contested, the court shall hold a hearing on the issue. If the report is received in evidence upon such hearing, the parties shall have the right to summon and cross-examine the psychiatrists who joined in the report and to offer evidence upon the issue.

(b) If the court determines that the defendant lacks fitness to proceed, the proceeding against him shall be suspended, except as provided in subsection (c) of this section, and the court shall commit him to the custody of the superintendent of the Montana state hospital, to be placed in an appropriate institution of the state department of public institutions for so long as such unfitness shall endure. When the court, on its own motion or upon the application of the superintendent of the Montana state hospital, or the county attorney, or the defendant or his legal representative, determines, after a hearing if a hearing is requested, that the defendant has regained fitness to proceed, the proceeding shall be resumed. If, however, the court is of the view that so much time has elapsed since the commitment of the defendant that it would be unjust to resume the criminal proceedings, the court may dismiss the charge and may order the defendant to be discharged, or, subject to the law governing the civil commitment of persons suffering from mental disease or defect, order the defendant to be committed to an appropriate institution of the state department of public institutions.

(c) The fact that the defendant is unfit to proceed does not preclude any legal objection to the prosecution which is susceptible to fair determination prior to trial and without the personal participation of the defendant.

History: En. 95-506 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Sanity Formerly Jury Question

Where the question of the defendant's present sanity is presented, it is within the sound discretion of the court to determine whether the matter should be inquired into in a special proceeding, where as the question of the defendant's sanity at the time of the commission of the offense should be tried by the jury impaneled to pass upon his guilt or innocence of the crime charged. State v. Peterson, 24 M 81, 60 P 809.

The doubt as to accused's sanity at time of trial, mentioned in former section authorizing special proceeding to determine sanity, was one arising in the mind of the presiding judge, and was to be left to his judicial conscience. Unless there was a doubt in the mind of the judge a quo—a doubt which he must legally determine as he would determine any other matter of grave import before him—he was not warranted in calling a special jury to try the issue. State v. Howard, 30 M 518, 528, 77 P 50.

Under former sections making sanity a jury question, held that where, after death sentence has been pronounced, there is good reason to suppose that accused has become insane, the sheriff, with the concurrence of the judge of the court by which the judgment was rendered, may summon a jury to inquire into the question of his sanity in conformity with former sections; but where during the course of the trial or before judgment of conviction is pronounced a doubt arises as to his mental condition, the special sanity proceeding must be held. State v. Vetter, 77 M 66, 249 P 666.

Where in a prosecution for homicide no attempt was made to prove insanity and the question of defendant's sanity during the trial or at any time was not suggested to the court, failure of the court to call a jury to determine his sanity, a matter addressed to its sound discretion, was not an abuse thereof. State v. Schlaps, 78 M 560, 575, 254 P 858.

—Construction of Former Statute

A doubt as to accused's sanity at time of trial (within former section providing for issue to be determined by jury in special proceeding) may come from matters which are brought to attention of trial judge wholly beyond the common-law record or which although occurring at trial do not appear in the record, or which although shown in the record are not admissible as evidence. State v. Kitchens, 129 M 331, 286 P 2d 1079, 1083.

The question whether a doubt as to accused's sanity at time of trial is raised in any given case addresses itself directly to trial court's discretion. Its abuse will be reviewed on appeal, and where an abuse does appear, the reviewing court will say as a matter of law a doubt did arise requiring that special proceeding be held. State v. Kitchens, 129 M 331, 286 P 2d 1079, 1083.

The weight of successive adjudications by four different courts and judges, in other proceedings, that the defendant was insane, were sufficient as a matter of law to raise doubt as to his sanity at time of trial and to require special sanity proceeding. The testimony of a witness that the defendant was sane does not alter the case, for at this stage of the proceedings the court is only concerned with the preliminary question whether there is reason to doubt defendant's sanity. State v. Kitchens, 129 M 331, 286 P 2d 1079, 1085.

95-507. Determination of irresponsibility on basis of report—access to defendant by psychiatrist of his own choice—form of expert testimony when issue of responsibility is tried. (a) If the report filed pursuant to section 95-505 finds that the defendant at the time of the criminal conduct charged suffered from a mental disease or defect which rendered him unable to appreciate the criminality of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of law, and the court, after a hearing if a hearing is requested by the attorney prosecuting or the defendant, is satisfied that such mental disease or defect was sufficient to exclude responsibility, the court on motion of the defendant shall enter judgment of acquittal on the ground of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility.

(b) When either the defendant or the state wishes the defendant to be examined by a qualified psychiatrist or other expert, selected by the one proposing the examination, such examiner shall be permitted to have reasonable access to the defendant for the purpose of such examination.

(c) Upon the trial, any psychiatrist who reported pursuant to section 95-505 may be called as a witness by the prosecution or by the defense. If the issue is being tried before a jury, the jury shall not be informed that the psychiatrist was designated by the court or by the superintendent of the Montana state hospital. Both the prosecution and the defense may summon any other qualified psychiatrist or other expert to testify, but no one who has not examined the defendant shall be competent to testify to an expert opinion with respect to the mental condition or responsibility of the defendant, as distinguished from the validity of the procedure followed by, or the general scientific propositions stated by another witness.

(d) When a psychiatrist or other expert who has examined the defendant testifies concerning his mental condition, he shall be permitted to make a statement as to the nature of his examination, his diagnosis of the mental condition of the defendant at the time of the commission of the offense charged and his opinion as to the ability of the defendant to appreciate the criminality of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of law or to have a particular state of mind which is an element of the offense charged. He shall be permitted to make any explanation reasonably serving to clarify his diagnosis and opinion and may be cross-examined as to any matter bearing on his competency or credibility or the validity of his diagnosis or opinion.

History: En. 95-507 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

(a) When a defendant is acquitted on the ground of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, the court shall order him to be committed to the custody of the superintendent of the Montana state hospital to be placed in an appropriate institution for custody, care and treatment.

(b) If the superintendent of the Montana state hospital believes that a person committed to his custody, pursuant to subsection (a) of this section, may be discharged or released on condition without danger to himself or others, he shall make application for the discharge or release of such person in a report to the court by which such person was committed and shall transmit a copy of such application and report to the county attorney of the county from which the defendant was committed. The court shall thereupon appoint at least two (2) qualified psychiatrists to examine such person and to report within sixty (60) days, or such longer period as the court determines to be necessary for the purpose, their opinion as to his mental condition. To facilitate such examinations and the proceedings thereon, the court may cause such person to be confined in any institution located near the place where the court sits, which may hereafter be designated by the superintendent of the Montana state hospital as suitable for the temporary detention of irresponsible persons.

(c) If the court is satisfied by the report filed pursuant to subsection (b) of this section, and such testimony of the reporting psychiatrists as the court deems necessary that the committed person may be discharged or released on condition without danger to himself or others, the court shall order his discharge or his release on such conditions as the court determines to be necessary. If the court is not so satisfied, it shall promptly order a hearing to determine whether such person may safely be discharged or released. Any such hearing shall be deemed a civil proceeding and the burden shall be upon the committed person to prove that he may safely be discharged or released. According to the determination of the court upon the hearing, the committed person shall thereupon be discharged or released on such conditions as the court determines to be necessary, or shall be recommitted to the custody of the superintendent of the Montana state hospital, subject to discharge or release only in accordance with the procedure prescribed above for a first hearing.

(d) If, within five (5) years after the conditional release of a committed person, the court shall determine, after hearing evidence, that the conditions of release have not been fulfilled and that for the safety of such person or for the safety of others his conditional release should be revoked, the court shall forthwith order him to be recommitted to the superintendent of the Montana state hospital, subject to discharge or release only in accordance with the procedure prescribed above for a first hearing.

(e) A committed person may make application for his discharge or release to the court by which he was committed, and the procedure to be followed upon such application shall be the same as that prescribed above in the case of an application by the superintendent of the Montana state hospital. However, no such application by a committed person need be considered until he has been confined for a period of not less than six (6) months from the date of the order of commitment, and if the determination of the court be adverse to the application, such person shall not be permitted to file a further application until one (1) year has elapsed from the date of any preceding hearing on an application for his release or discharge.

L. 1967.

95-509. Statements for purposes of examination or treatment inadmissible except on issue of mental condition. A statement made by a person subjected to psychiatric examination or treatment pursuant to sections 95-505, 95-506, 95-508 for the purposes of such examination or treatment shall not be admissible in evidence against him in any criminal proceeding on any issue other than that of his mental condition but it shall be admissible upon that issue, whether or not it would be otherwise deemed a privileged communication unless such statement constitutes an admission of guilt of the crime charged.

95-601. Definitions. (a) Arrest Defined: An arrest is taking a person into custody in the manner authorized by law.

(b) Warrant of Arrest: A warrant of arrest is a written order from a court directed to a peace officer, or to some other person specifically named, commanding him to arrest a person. This term includes the original warrant of arrest or a copy certified by the issuing court.

(c) Summons: A summons is a written order issued by the court which commands a person to appear before a court at a stated time and place.

(d) Notice to Appear: A notice to appear is a written direction issued by a peace officer that a person appear before a court at a stated time and place to answer an offense set forth therein.

History: En. 95-601 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Cross-References

Issuance of warrant upon failure to comply with conditions of bail, sec. 95-1107.

95-602. Method of arrest. (a) An arrest is made by an actual restraint of the person to be arrested, or by his submission to the custody of the person making the arrest.

(b) All necessary and reasonable force may be used in making an arrest, but the person arrested shall not be subject to any greater restraint than is necessary to hold or detain him.

(c) All necessary and reasonable force may be used to effect an entry into any building or property or part thereof to make an authorized arrest.

History: En. 95-602 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Use of Force

In making a lawful arrest, the officer may use all necessary means to effect the arrest if the person to be arrested either flees or forcibly resists, but if the officer unnecessarily assaults him, he is criminally liable for such assault. State v. Prlja, 57 M 461, 189 P 64.

95-603. Issuance and service of arrest warrant upon complaint. (a) A complaint, as the basis of an arrest warrant, shall be in writing.

(b) When a complaint is presented to a court charging a person with the commission of an offense, the court shall examine upon oath the complainant and may also examine any witnesses.

(c) If it appears from the contents of the complaint and the examination of the complainant and other witnesses, if any, that there is probable cause to believe that the person against whom the complaint was made has committed an offense a warrant shall be issued by the court for the arrest of the person complained against. In the discretion of the court or upon the request of the county attorney, a summons instead of a warrant shall issue. More than one (1) warrant or summons may issue on the same complaint.

(d) A warrant of arrest shall:

(1) Be in writing in the name of the state of Montana or in the name of a municipality if a violation of a municipal ordinance is charged;

(2) Set forth the nature of the offense;

(3) Command that the person against whom the complaint was made be arrested and brought before the court issuing the warrant, or if he is absent or unable to act before the nearest or most accessible court in the same county. If an arrest is made in a county other than the one in which the warrant was issued the arrested person shall be taken without unnecessary delay before the nearest and most accessible judge in the county where the arrest was made;

(4) Specify the name of the person to be arrested or if his name is unknown, shall designate such person by any name or description by which he can be identified with reasonable certainty;

(5) State the date when issued and the municipality or county where issued, and

(6) Be signed by the judge of the court with the title of his office.

(e) The warrant of arrest may specify the amount of bail.

(f) The warrant shall be directed to all peace officers in the state. It shall be executed by a peace officer and may be executed in any county of the state. However, warrants issued for the violation of city ordinances cannot be executed outside the city limits, except as otherwise provided by sections 11-927 and 11-960.

History: En. 95-603 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

Issuance of warrant upon failure to comply with conditions of bail, sec. 95-1107.

Setting and accepting bail under warrant of arrest, sec. 95-1104.

Extent of Examination before Issuing Warrant

Magistrate examining complaint need not go into matter as thoroughly as is required at trial. State ex rel. Vanek v. Justice Court, 110 M 550, 554, 104 P 2d 14.

Peace Officer Defined

One acting under authority of the county attorney as special investigator of offenses against the narcotics law, who made an arrest without a warrant, held not a "peace officer" within the meaning of a former section providing that an arrest may be made by a peace officer or a private person. State v. Hum Quock, 89 M 503, 519, 300 P 220.

When Mandamus Lies to Compel Magistrate's Disposal

Held, on application for writ of mandamus to compel a justice of the peace to dispose of an accusation brought under section 94-1440, prohibiting an appointive state officer from being a member of a political committee, etc., that the writ will issue commanding the justice to take action by either issuing a warrant of arrest or dismissing the complaint where two weeks expired before examination of the accuser and two months in examining six witnesses to ascertain whether a violation was probable or not, but it will not issue to control his discretion, i.e., to issue a warrant of arrest. State ex rel. Vanek v. Justice Court, 110 M 550, 554, 104 P 2d 14.

Where Warrant May Be Executed

The sheriff of Flathead county has authority to arrest person in Powell county under warrant issued in Flathead county upon such person's release from prison. Application of Campeau, 122 M 375, 209 P 2d 1012, 1013.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Duty To Make Complaint

Former provision that a person who has reason to believe that a crime has been committed and that a certain person has committed it, must make complaint before a magistrate, did not require one to disclose to a county attorney evidence within his knowledge tending to disprove the defendant's guilt, and an instruction that it did was erroneous. State v. Jackson, 71 M 421, 434, 230 P 370.

95-604. Arrest with a warrant. When making an arrest by virtue of a warrant, the peace officer making the arrest shall inform the person to be arrested of his authority, of the intention to arrest him, of the cause of the arrest, and of the fact that a warrant has been issued for his arrest, except when he flees or forcibly resists before the officer making the arrest has an opportunity so to inform him, or when the giving of such information will imperil the arrest. The peace officer making the arrest need not have the warrant in his possession at the time of the arrest, but after the arrest, if the person arrested so requests, the warrant shall be shown to him as soon as practicable.

History: En. 95-604 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-605. Procedure when warrant defective. No warrant of arrest shall be dismissed nor shall any person in custody for an offense be discharged from such custody because of technical irregularities not affecting the substantial rights of the accused.

History: En. 95-605 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-606. Arrest without a warrant. A peace officer or person making an arrest without a warrant must inform the person to be arrested of his authority, if any, of the intention to arrest him and the cause of the arrest, except when the person to be arrested is actually engaged in the commission of or in an attempt to commit an offense, or is pursued immediately after its commission, or after an escape, or when the giving of such information will imperil the arrest.

History: En. 95-606 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Exception

Where officer is well known to those whom he seeks to arrest and where those parties, instead of surrendering as directed by officer, immediately prepare to fire upon him, ceremony of disclosing official character of officer and reason for arrest is voluntarily dispensed with by parties to be arrested. State v. Gay, 18 M 51, 44 P 411.

Privileged Entry Where No Arrest Warrant

Opening defendant's apartment door to limit of night latch to determine what had caused raging man to fall silent, which was reasonable ground to believe a necessity existed, was a privileged entry even though defendant could not have been arrested under the statutes in view of evidence that when the police arrived no disturbance was in progress, they had no warrant for the arrest of the defendant and they had at no time informed the defendant that they intended to arrest him. State v. Lukus, 149 M 45, 423 P 2d 49.

95-607. Time of making arrest. An arrest may be made on any day and at any time of the day or night except that a person cannot be arrested in his home or private dwelling place, at night, for a misdemeanor committed at some other time and place unless upon the direction of a magistrate endorsed upon a warrant of arrest.

History: En. 95-607 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-608. Arrest by a peace officer. A peace officer may arrest a person when:

- (a) He has a warrant commanding that such person be arrested, or
- (b) He believes, on reasonable grounds, that a warrant for the person's arrest has been issued in this state, or
- (c) He believes, on reasonable grounds, that a felony warrant for the person's arrest has been issued in another jurisdiction, or
- (d) He believes on reasonable grounds, that the person is committing an offense, or that the person has committed an offense and the existing circumstances require his immediate arrest.

History: En. 95-608 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11450-2-3-4, Oct. 10, 1968, eff. Dec. 1, 1968.

Accused's Lack of Mens Rea

Under section 3200, R. C. M. 1921 (since repealed) the mere possession of narcotics was prima facie evidence of guilt and therefore lack of knowledge, on the part of the recipient of a package through the mails, that it contained morphine did not render her arrest unlawful, her lack in that respect being a matter of defense at the trial. State ex rel. Kuhr v. District Court, 82 M 515, 519, 268 P 501.

Peace Officer Defined

One acting under authority of the county attorney as special investigator of offenses against the narcotics law, who made an arrest without a warrant, held not a "peace officer" within the meaning of former arrest statutes. State v. Hum Quock, 89 M 503, 300 P 220.

Privileged Entry Where No Arrest Warrant

Opening defendant's apartment door to limit of night latch to determine what had caused raging man to fall silent, which was reasonable ground to believe a necessity existed, was a privileged entry even though defendant could not have been arrested under the statutes in view of evidence that when the police arrived no disturbance was in progress, they had no warrant for the arrest of the defendant and they had at no time informed the defendant that they intended to arrest him. State v. Lukus, 149 M 45, 423 P 2d 49.

95-609. Assisting a peace officer. (a) A peace officer making a lawful arrest may command the aid of male persons over the age of eighteen (18).

(b) A person commanded to aid a peace officer shall have the same authority to arrest as that officer.

Subsequent to Confession

Where defendant was requested to go to the sheriff's office for questioning and was not arrested until after his confession was given, the arrest without a warrant subsequent to the confession was a proper one within former section. State v. Nelson, 139 M 180, 362 P 2d 224, 229.

Unlawful Arrest

In action for damages for unlawful arrest which occurred after store manager handed plaintiff's check to officer and plaintiff seized check from officer's hand, arrest could not be justified by alleging a violation of sections 94-35-169 and 94-4202. Harrer v. Montgomery Ward & Co., 124 M 295, 221 P 2d 428, 435.

Use of Force To Arrest With and Without Warrant

Person named in warrant must submit even though not guilty of any offense; officer, after making his purpose known and exhibiting warrant, if asked to do so, may use such force as is necessary to make arrest without subjecting himself to charge of trespass; where arrest without warrant is not justified, such an arrest constitutes a trespass on the personal liberties of the one arrested, against which he may use such force as is necessary to prevent arrest or effect escape; in prosecution for resisting an officer, it is not sufficient that officer believed there was a violation of law, but it must appear that conditions described in statute governing arrest without warrant existed (applying former section 94-6003). State v. Bradshaw, 53 M 96, 161 P 710.

(c) A person commanded to aid a peace officer in making an arrest shall not be civilly liable for any reasonable conduct in aid of the officer.

History: En. 95-609 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-610. Release by officer of person arrested. A peace officer having custody of a person arrested without a warrant is authorized to release the person without requiring him to appear before a court when the officer is satisfied that there are no grounds for criminal complaint against the person arrested.

History: En. 95-610 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-611. Arrest by a private person. A private person may arrest another when:

(a) He believes, on reasonable grounds, that an offense is being committed or attempted in his presence; or

(b) When a felony has in fact been committed and he believes, on reasonable grounds, that the person arrested has committed it.

History: En. 95-611 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

held lawful. State v. Hum Quock, 89 M 503, 519, 300 P 220.

Authority To Arrest

The authority of a private person to make an arrest without a warrant is more limited than that of an officer to make a like arrest. State ex rel. Sadler v. District Court, 70 M 378, 386, 225 P 1000.

Determining Lawfulness of Arrest

While the legality of an arrest by a private person without a warrant cannot depend upon what is found in the possession of the person arrested, the fact that his belief that a crime was being committed is found to be correct accredits the belief and gives weight to the evidence upon which he acted. State v. Hum Quock, 89 M 503, 519, 300 P 220.

In determining whether a private person had "reasonable cause" for believing that a crime had been or was being committed in his presence when he made an arrest, under authority of predecessor section, without a warrant, a liberal rather than a strict course should be followed; if he acted in good faith and the facts and circumstances were such as to warrant a man of prudence and caution in believing as he did when making the arrest, it should be

False Imprisonment

In action for false imprisonment, it was proper to refuse the defendant an instruction to effect that law gives a private person the right to make an arrest when person arrested has committed, or is about to commit, a public offense in his presence, and that, if the jury believes that the plaintiff had taken from the defendant property of the latter which he was attempting to recover at the time of the alleged imprisonment, the verdict should be for the defendant. Kroeger v. Passmore, 36 M 504, 511, 93 P 805.

Probable Cause

To entitle a private person to make an arrest, for a public offense committed or attempted in his presence, the facts and circumstances must be such that upon them alone he would be justified in making a complaint upon which a warrant might issue, i.e., the facts and circumstances must be sufficient to warrant the conclusion that there is probable cause for believing that an offense is being committed. State ex rel. Sadler v. District Court, 70 M 378, 386, 225 P 1000.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Construction

Former section dealing with arrests by private persons was required to be read with and was limited by former section requiring the private person making the arrest to take the person arrested before a magistrate or deliver him to a police officer without unnecessary delay. Kroeger v. Passmore, 36 M 504, 93 P 805.

95-612. When summons may be issued. (a) When authorized to issue a warrant of arrest a court may in lieu thereof issue a summons.

(b) The summons shall:

- (1) Be in writing in the name of the state of Montana;
- (2) State the name of the person summoned and his address, if known;
- (3) Set forth the nature of the offense;
- (4) State the date when issued, and the municipality or county where issued;
- (5) Be signed by the judge of the court with the title of his office; and
- (6) Command the person to appear before a court at a certain time and place.

(c) The summons may be personally served in the same manner as the summons in a civil action.

History: En. 95-612 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-613. Effect of not answering summons. Upon failure of the person summoned to appear, the magistrate shall issue a warrant of arrest. If after issuing a summons the magistrate becomes satisfied that the person summoned will not appear as commanded by the summons he may at once issue a warrant of arrest.

History: En. 95-613 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-614. Notice to appear. (a) Whenever a peace officer is authorized to arrest a person without a warrant, he may instead issue to such person a notice to appear.

(b) The notice shall:

- (1) Be in writing;
- (2) State the name of the person and his address, if known;
- (3) Set forth the nature of the offense;
- (4) Be signed by the officer issuing the notice; and
- (5) Direct the person to appear before a court at a certain time and place.

(c) Upon failure of the person to appear, a summons or warrant of arrest may issue.

History: En. 95-614 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-615. Offenses committed by corporations. (a) Upon a charge filed against a corporation for the commission of an offense the court shall issue a summons setting forth the nature of the offense and commanding the corporation to appear before the court at a certain time and place.

(b) The summons for the appearance of a corporation may be served in the manner provided for service of summons upon a corporation in a civil action.

(c) If, after being summoned, the corporation does not appear, a plea of not guilty shall be entered by the court having jurisdiction to try the offense for which the summons was issued, and such court shall proceed to trial and judgment without further process.

History: En. 95-615 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-616. Persons exempt from arrest. (a) Electors shall, in all cases except treason, felony or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at election, and in going to and returning from the same.

(b) Senators and representatives shall, in all cases, except felony or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during the sessions of the state legislature, and in going to and returning from the same.

(c) The militia shall in all cases, except treason, felony or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest during their attendance at musters and election, and in going to and returning from the same.

(d) Judges, attorneys, clerks, sheriffs, and other court officers shall be privileged from arrest while attending court and while going to and returning from court.

History: En. 95-616 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-617. Magistrate may order arrest. A magistrate may orally order a peace officer or private person to arrest any one committing or attempting to commit a public offense in the presence of such magistrate.

History: En. 95-617 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-618. Roadblocks. (a) Definition. For the purpose of this act, a "temporary roadblock" means any structure, device, or means used by the duly elected or appointed law-enforcement officers of this state, and their deputies, for the purpose of controlling all traffic through a point on the highway whereby all vehicles may be slowed or stopped.

(b) Authority to Establish Roadblocks. The duly elected or appointed law-enforcement officers of this state, and their deputies, are hereby authorized to establish, in their respective jurisdictions, or in other jurisdictions within the state, temporary roadblocks on the highways of this state for the purpose of identifying drivers, and apprehending persons wanted for violation of the laws of this state, or of any other state, or of the United States, who are using the highways of this state.

(c) Minimum Requirements. For the purpose of warning and protecting the traveling public, the minimum requirements to be met by such officers establishing temporary roadblocks, if time and circumstances allow, are:

1. The temporary roadblock must be established at a point on the highway clearly visible at a distance of not less than one hundred (100) yards, in either direction.

2. At the point of the temporary roadblock, a sign shall be placed on the center line of the highway displaying the word "stop" in letters of sufficient size and luminosity to be readable at a distance of not less than fifty (50) yards, in both directions, either in daytime or darkness.

3. At the same point of the temporary roadblock, at least one (1) red light, which shall be a flashing or intermittent beam of light, must be placed at the side of the roadway clearly visible to the oncoming traffic, at a distance of not less than one hundred (100) yards.

4. At a distance of not less than two hundred (200) yards from the point of the temporary roadblock, warning signs must be placed at the side of the highway, containing any wording of sufficient size and luminosity, to warn the oncoming traffic that a "police stop" lies ahead. A burning beam light, flare, or a lantern must be placed near such signs for the purpose of attracting the attention of approaching drivers during hours of darkness. A red flag may be used for the same purpose during daylight hours.

(d) Existing Law Preserved. Nothing in this act shall be deemed to limit, or encroach upon the existing authority of Montana law-enforcement officers in the performance of their duties involving traffic control.

(e) Penalty. Any person who shall proceed or travel through a roadblock without subjecting himself to the traffic control so established shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six (6) months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

L. 1967.

95-619. Close pursuit—power of arrest by officers of another state.

(a) Any peace officer of another state of the United States, who enters this state in close pursuit and continues within this state in such close pursuit of a person in order to arrest him, shall have the same authority to arrest and hold in custody such person, as peace officers of this state have to arrest and hold in custody a person on the ground that he has committed a crime in this state.

(b) Hearing as to Locality of Arrest. If an arrest is made in this state by an officer of another state in accordance with the provisions of section 95-619 (a), he shall, without unnecessary delay, take the person arrested before a judge of a court of record who shall conduct a hearing for the sole purpose of determining if the arrest was in accordance with the provisions of section 95-619 (a) and not of determining the guilt or innocence of the arrested person. If the judge determines that the arrest was in accordance with such provisions, he shall commit the person arrested to the custody of the officer making the arrest, who shall without unnecessary delay take him to the state from which he fled. If the judge determines that the arrest was unlawful, he shall discharge the person arrested.

(c) Construction of Act. Section 95-619 (a) shall not be construed so as to make unlawful any arrest in this state which would otherwise be lawful.

(d) "State" Defined. For the purpose of this act the word state shall include the District of Columbia.

(e) Certification of Act. Upon the passage and approval by the governor of this act, it shall be the duty of the secretary of the state (or other officer) to certify a copy of this act to the executive department of each of the states of the United States.

(f) Act, How Cited. This act may be cited as the Uniform Act on Close Pursuit.

- (a) As an incident to a lawful arrest.
- (b) With the consent of the accused or of any other person who is lawfully in possession of the object or place to be searched, or who is believed upon reasonable cause to be in such lawful possession by the person making the search.

History: En. 95-701 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Cross-References

Unreasonable searches and seizures prohibited, Mont. Const. Art. III, § 7.

Consent

Any right which defendant may have had to complain of seizure of jacket he was wearing at time of arrest was waived where he voluntarily surrendered it to police officers upon request. State v. Nelson, 130 M 466, 304 P 2d 1110.

A search and seizure may be made without a search warrant if the individual freely and intelligently gives his unequivocal and specific consent to the search, uncontaminated by any duress or coercion, express or implied; state has burden of proving that such consent was given; where arrest of defendant for having no driver's license was a cover-up to enable officers to search defendant's car, the search was not incident to a lawful arrest. State v. Tomich, 332 F 2d 987.

Consent

One consenting to search of his premises without warrant cannot complain that it was illegal. State ex rel. Muzzy v. Uotila, 71 M 351, 229 P 724.

After officers stated they desired to look over defendant's place, defendant's statement, "All right; go ahead" held to warrant conclusion that search was with defendant's permission. State ex rel. Muzzy v. Uotila, 71 M 351, 229 P 724.

Incident to a Lawful Arrest

When an arrest is lawfully made, the person arresting may take from the possession of the arrestee articles of property which reasonably would be of use on the trial. State ex rel. Wong You v. District Court, 106 M 347, 351, 78 P 2d 353.

95-702. Scope of search without warrant. When a lawful arrest is effected a peace officer may reasonably search the person arrested and the area within such person's immediate presence for the purpose of:

- (a) Protecting the officer from attack, or
- (b) Preventing the person from escaping, or
- (c) Discovering and seizing the fruits of the crime, or
- (d) Discovering and seizing any persons, instruments, articles or things which may have been used in the commission of, or which may constitute evidence of, the offense.

History: En. 95-702 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Incident to a Lawful Arrest

Officer lawfully making an arrest may not only search his prisoner and preserve for use on trial articles found on his person or in his immediate possession but may also, as an incident to the arrest, seize instrumentalities through which the crime was committed and other articles which will aid in proving prisoner committed the crime, particularly if such articles are in plain view and no search is required to uncover them; in prosecution for attempting to maim livestock with a shotgun, shoes, shotgun and shells found near where accused was arrested in bed were admissible. State v. Benson, 91 M 21, 5 P 2d 223.

Where defendant was arrested in bed for attempt to maim livestock, his shoes,

Marijuana seized under the authority of a void search warrant could not have been seized as an incident of a lawful arrest since the marijuana which served as the ground for arrest was discovered by means of a void process and illegal entry; thus the marijuana was secured as a result of an illegal search and seizure and was accordingly inadmissible in evidence. State v. Langan, 151 M 558, 445 P 2d 565.

Search Warrants for Narcotics

Provisions governing issuance of search warrants for narcotic drugs set forth in the formerly applicable Uniform Drug Act were the sole and exclusive provisions governing issuance of search warrants authorizing a lawful search and seizure of narcotic drugs as defined in the act, so that marijuana seized in private residence on authority of search warrant issued by a justice of the peace was unlawfully seized and the search warrant was void because in violation of the Uniform Drug Act (since repealed). State v. Langan, 151 M 558, 445 P 2d 565.

Law Review

Search and Seizure: Seizure of Purely Evidentiary Items Held Constitutional (Warden, Maryland Penitentiary v. Hayden, 387 U S 294, 18 L Ed 2d 782, 87 S Ct 1642) 29 Mont. L. Rev. 101 (1967).

gun, and shells, being in plain sight, were properly seized by officer as incident to arrest (const. art. III, sec. 7). State v. Benson, 91 M 21, 5 P 2d 223.

When an arrest is lawfully made, the arresting officer may take from the arrestee articles which reasonably would be of use at trial; lottery tickets and paraphernalia found by arresting officer in basement in which accused said lottery was being conducted were admissible. State ex rel. Wong You v. District Court, 106 M 347, 78 P 2d 353.

Probable Cause

Held, under former statute, that an officer may make a search and seizure without a warrant when he has probable cause to believe that an offense is being committed. State ex rel. Wong You v. District Court, 106 M 347, 352, 78 P 2d 353.

95-703. Search warrant defined. A search warrant is an order in writing, in the name of the state, signed by a judge, particularly describing the thing or place to be searched and the instruments, articles or things to be seized, directed to a peace officer, commanding him to search for personal property and bring it before the judge.

History: En. 95-703 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Actions Which Do Not Lie against Officer

Where a sheriff seized oil well piping under a search warrant and subsequently released it by order of the same justice of the peace to the custody from which he seized it, incidentally enabling the person who procured the warrant to take it, under claim of ownership, claim and delivery does not lie against sheriff on theory of wrongful and negligent loss of possession; conversion does not lie where no facts are alleged that he instigated or assisted in the alleged wrongful taking; trespass and trespass on the case do not lie unless the injury is "proximate result" of sheriff's wrongful or negligent acts or defaults. Harri v. Isaac, 111 M 152, 156, 107 P 2d 137.

Nature and Necessity

The issuance of a search warrant by the district court is a judicial proceeding. State v. Tesla, 69 M 503, 223 P 107.

The process of search and seizure may be invoked only in furtherance of public prosecution. State ex rel. King v. District Court, 70 M 191, 224 P 862.

Unreasonable Searches and Seizures

In the prosecution for murder, the admission of evidence that shoes taken from defendant without his consent corresponded with tracks found near the scene of the killing, did not deprive defendant of the rights guaranteed to him by section 7, article III of the constitution, prohibiting unreasonable searches and seizures. State v. Fuller, 34 M 12, 85 P 369.

Searches and seizures which are not lawful and which are not conducted as the law prescribes are unreasonable within section 7, article III of the constitution. State ex rel. King v. District Court, 70 M 191, 224 P 862. (See also State ex rel. Sadler v. District Court, 70 M 378, 225 P 1000.) State v. Mullaney, 92 M 553, 16 P 2d 407.

The protection granted by section 7, article III of the constitution, from unreasonable searches and seizures reaches all alike, whether accused of crime or not, and the duty of enforcing it is obligatory upon all entrusted with the enforcement of the law. State ex rel. King v. District Court, 70 M 191, 224 P 862.

Search, unlawful at inception, does not become lawful by what is found. State ex rel. King v. District Court, 70 M 191, 224 P 862.

Constitutional provision against unreasonable search and seizure applies to person and baggage and personal belongings, and in search of person unlawfully arrested and seizure of his personal belongings. State v. Mullaney, 92 M 553, 16 P 2d 407.

An arrest, or search and seizure, made without a warrant is illegal and, therefore, unreasonable when it is made upon mere suspicion or belief unsupported by facts, circumstances or credible information calculated to produce such belief. State ex rel. Wong You v. District Court, 106 M 347, 354, 78 P 2d 353.

Search made upon consent of owner, freely given on officers' request is not an "unreasonable search." United States v. Williams, 295 F 219.

Peace officers should be encouraged, but evidence of crime must be lawfully obtained (const. amend. 4). United States v. Clark, 18 F 2d 442.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Prohibition Enforcement Act

The general provisions of former sections relating to the issuance of search warrants, were not amended or modified by the provisions of the Prohibition Enforcement Act. State v. Tesla, 69 M 503, 209, 223 P 107.

95-704. Grounds for search warrant. Any judge may issue a search warrant upon the written application of any person that an offense has been committed, made under oath or affirmation before him which:

(a) States facts sufficient to show probable cause for issuance of the warrant,

- (b) Particularly describes the place or things to be searched, and
- (c) Particularly describes the things to be seized.

History: En. 95-704 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Description of Place and Property

Where probable cause for issuance of search warrant was shown by deposition of complainant, disclosing time, place and manner of an alleged violation of the liquor law, warrant could validly issue, notwithstanding that complaint for warrant did not set forth the time of commission of offense. State v. Tesla, 69 M 503, 509, 223 P 107.

A search warrant as to the description of the premises to be searched must be complete in itself. State ex rel. King v. District Court, 70 M 191, 224 P 862.

A warrant must designate the premises to be searched and contain a description so specific as to avoid any unauthorized invasion of the right of privacy, and must identify the property in such manner as to leave to the officer no discretion as to the premises to be searched. There must be no obscurity nor uncertainty. State ex rel. King v. District Court, 70 M 191, 224 P 862.

Description of place to be searched as ranch with small buildings, located about five miles in westerly direction from town named, held insufficient. Fall v. United States, 33 F 2d 71.

Judicial Examination

Where a deputy county attorney had presented a verified complaint for a search warrant based upon the affidavit of another, and the district judge examined the latter under oath, the fact that he did not also examine the complainant himself, as formerly required by statute, did not render the warrant illegal, since the only information the complainant had was that obtained from the affiant and an examination of the former would have been useless. State v. English, 71 M 343, 345, 346, 229 P 727.

Deposition and Affidavit

Former section declared that a magistrate before issuing a search warrant must take the deposition of any witness in writing. Issuance of warrant upon an affidavit did not render the warrant illegal, the words "deposition" and "affidavit" having been used interchangeably in the chapter relating to search warrants. State v. English, 71 M 343, 345, 346, 229 P 727.

Public Offense

Under former section authorizing issuance of search warrant when property was in possession of any person with intent to use as means of committing a

Limited by Statute

The use of search warrants is not to be extended by construction to any case not clearly covered by statute. State ex rel. Streit v. Justice Court, 45 M 375, 382, 123 P 405.

"Probable Cause"

A search warrant issued on a conclusion of the applicant, without any facts stated in the application on which the judicial officer to whom it is addressed may form his own conclusion, is not a showing of "probable cause supported by oath or affirmation," within the meaning of section 7, article III of the constitution. State ex rel. Samlin v. District Court, 59 M 600, 198 P 362.

An application for a search warrant must set forth sufficient facts to enable a judicial officer to see that probable cause for its issuance exists. State ex rel. Thibodeau v. District Court, 70 M 202, 224 P 866; State ex rel. Baracker v. District Court, 75 M 476, 244 P 280.

To obtain a search warrant under the liquor laws, the facts upon which its issuance is sought must be stated under oath and be sufficient to enable the magistrate to whom application is made to determine the existence of probable cause without reference to the opinion of the applicant. State ex rel. Stange v. District Court, 71 M 125, 219, 227 P 576.

The circumstances justifying issuance of a search warrant must create a reasonable belief that probable cause exists, and must be as strong as those which would warrant the institution of a criminal charge for an arrest on such charge without warrant. State ex rel. Stange v. District Court, 71 M 125, 227 P 576.

Evidence held to establish probable cause for search and seizure. In re Herter, 30 F 2d 968, modified in 33 F 2d 400.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

public offense, the alleged threatened violation of a town ordinance, by conducting a saloon without first obtaining a license, did not justify issuance warrant commanding that a designated building be searched for intoxicating liquors. State ex rel. Streit v. Justice Court, 45 M 375, 382, 123 P 405.

Violations of city ordinance were not included within meaning of "public offense," as those words were employed in former section, authorizing issuance of search warrant when property was in possession of any person with intent to use as means of committing a public offense. State ex rel. Streit v. Justice Court, 45 M 375, 381, 123 P 405.

Test for Sufficiency of Affidavit

Test to determine whether affidavit for search warrant stated facts sufficient to justify its issuance was whether affiant could be prosecuted for perjury if the statement is false; affidavit stating only conclusions was insufficient. State ex rel. Baracker v. District Court, 75 M 476, 244 P 280.

95-705. Scope of search with warrant. A search warrant may authorize the seizure of the following:

(a) Contraband.

(b) Any instruments, articles or things which are the fruits of, have been used in the commission of, or which may constitute evidence of, any offense.

(c) Any person who has been kidnaped in violation of the laws of this state, or who has been kidnaped in another jurisdiction and is now concealed within this state.

History: En. 95-705 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-706. Filing of application. The application on which the warrant is issued shall be retained by the judge but need not be filed with the clerk of the court nor with the court if there is no clerk, until the warrant has been executed or has been returned "not executed."

History: En. 95-706 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-707. By whom served. A search warrant may in all cases be served by any of the officers mentioned in its direction, but by no other person except in aid of the officer on his requiring it, he being present and acting in its execution.

History: En. 95-707 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-708. Service and execution of search warrants. Service of a search warrant is made by exhibiting the original warrant at the place to be searched. If the warrant is executed, a duplicate copy, and a receipt for all articles taken shall be left with any person from whom any instruments, articles or things are seized, or, if no person is available, the copy and receipt shall be left at the place from which the instruments, articles or things were seized. Failure to give or leave such a receipt shall not render the evidence inadmissible in a trial.

History: En. 95-708 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-709. Use of force in execution of search warrant. All necessary and reasonable force may be used to execute a search warrant or to effect an entry into any building or property or part thereof to execute a search warrant.

History: En. 95-709 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-710. Detention and search of persons on premises. In the execution of the warrant the person executing the same may reasonably detain and search any person in the place at the time:

- (a) To protect himself from attack, or
- (b) To prevent the disposal or concealment of any instruments, articles or things particularly described in the warrant.

History: En. 95-710 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-711. When warrant may be executed. The warrant may be executed at any time of any day or night. The warrant shall be executed within ten (10) days from the time of issuance. Any warrant not executed within such time shall be void and shall be returned to the court or the judge issuing the same as "not executed."

History: En. 95-711 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-712. Return to court of things seized under search warrant. The return of the warrant and all instruments, articles and things seized shall be made promptly before the judge who issued the warrant, or if he is absent or unavailable, before the nearest available judge and shall be accompanied by a written inventory of any property taken, verified by the person executing the warrant. The judge shall, upon request, deliver a copy of the inventory to the person from whom or from whose premises the property was taken and to the applicant for the warrant.

History: En. 95-712 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-713. Custody and disposition of things seized under search warrant. The judge before whom the instruments, articles or things are returned shall enter an order providing for their custody or appropriate disposition pending further proceedings.

History: En. 95-713 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-714. Custody and disposition of things seized without search warrant. Any peace officer seizing any instruments, articles or things must give a receipt to the person from whose possession they are taken, but failure to give such a receipt shall not render the evidence seized inadmissible upon a trial.

If an arrest has been made all instruments, articles or things seized on a search without warrant shall be delivered to the judge before whom the person arrested is taken, and thereafter handled and disposed of in accordance with sections 95-712, 95-713 and 95-715. If the person arrested is released without a charge being preferred against him, all instruments, articles or things seized from him, other than contraband, shall be returned to him upon release.

If no arrest has been made such instruments, articles or things may be retained in the custody of the officer making the seizure for a time sufficient for investigation of the supposed crime, after which they must be delivered to the proper judge for disposition in accordance with sections 95-712, 95-713 and 95-715, or returned to the person from whom they were taken.

History: En. 95-714 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-715. Return of property seized. Any person claiming the right to possession of property seized as evidence may apply to the judge to whom it has been delivered for its return. The judge shall give such notice as he deems adequate to the county attorney and all persons who have or may have an interest in the property and shall hold a hearing to hear all claims to its true ownership. If the right to possession is proved to the judge's satisfaction, he shall order the property, other than contraband, returned if:

(a) The property is not needed as evidence or, if needed, satisfactory arrangements can be made for its return for subsequent use as evidence, or

(b) All proceedings in which it might be required have been completed.

History: En. 95-715 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-716. Disposition of unclaimed property. If property seized as evidence is not claimed within six (6) months of completion of the case for which it was seized, and if, after proper inquiry, the judge cannot ascertain or locate any person entitled to its possession, he must order the property to be sold by the sheriff. The proceeds from such sale, after deduction of the costs of storage and preservation of the property, must be paid into the county treasury.

History: En. 95-716 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-717. When search and seizure not illegal. No search and seizure, whether with or without warrant, shall be held to be illegal as to a defendant if:

(a) The defendant has disclaimed any right to, or interest in the place or object searched or the instruments, articles or things seized, or

(b) No right of the defendant has been infringed by the search and seizure, or

(c) Any irregularities in the proceedings do not affect the substantial rights of the accused.

History: En. 95-717 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Disclaimer

Suppression of evidence found in car in which defendant was riding at time of arrest was not error where the vehicle belonged to defendant's companion and defendant disclaimed any ownership or right to possession of it or any of the property taken from it. State v. Nelson, 130 M 466, 304 P 2d 1110.

95-718. Admissibility in other proceedings. Instruments, articles or things lawfully seized are admissible as evidence upon any prosecution or proceeding whether or not the prosecution or proceeding is for the offense in connection with which the search was originally made.

History: En. 95-718 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

CHAPTER 8

THE OFFICE OF THE CORONER

- Section 95-801. The office of the coroner.
95-802. Coroner to have autopsy—when.
95-803. Coroner to hold inquest—when.
95-804. Jurors to be sworn.

- 95-805. Witnesses to be subpoenaed.
- 95-806. Witness compelled to attend.
- 95-807. Verdict of jury in writing, what to contain.
- 95-808. Testimony in writing and where filed.
- 95-809. Inquest shall be public.
- 95-810. Property found on body—to whom delivered.
- 95-811. Must keep register.
- 95-812. Jurisdiction of coroner.
- 95-813. Liability of a mortuary or physician.
- 95-814. The coroner shall have needed assistance.

95-801. The office of the coroner. When a coroner is informed that a death or stillbirth was caused by other than natural causes or that a death or stillbirth has occurred under circumstances such as to afford a reasonable ground to suspect that the death is the result of criminal conduct, or when no physician or surgeon, licensed in the state of Montana, will sign a death certificate, the coroner shall make an investigation thereof. It shall be the duty of every person acquiring knowledge of such a death to report the same forthwith to the coroner of the county in which death apparently occurred. In cases where criminal conduct is suspected, the coroner shall notify one or more law enforcement agencies having jurisdiction. The law enforcement agencies so notified shall have the responsibility to investigate the case.

History: En. 95-801 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Cross-References

County coroner, Title 16, ch. 34.

95-802. Coroner to have autopsy—when. If in the opinion of the coroner an autopsy is advisable, he shall order one and shall retain a physician or pathologist to perform it. A full record of the facts found shall be made on a form provided by the Montana state board of health in duplicate, the coroner retaining one copy and delivering the other to the county attorney. The right to conduct an autopsy shall include the right to retain such specimens as the physician or pathologist performing the autopsy deems necessary. Performance of autopsies is within the discretion of the coroner except that the county attorney or attorney general may require one. In ordering an autopsy the coroner shall order the body to be exhumed if it has been interred.

History: En. 95-802 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-803. Coroner to hold inquest—when. An inquest is a formal inquiry into the causes of and circumstances surrounding the death of any person. The coroner shall hold an inquest only if requested to do so by the county attorney of the county in which death occurred or by the county attorney of the county in which the acts or events causing death occurred. The coroner shall conduct the inquest with the aid and assistance of the county attorney. For holding such inquest, the coroner must summon a jury of not more than nine (9) persons, qualified by law to serve as jurors. Such inquest is to be held in accordance with sections 95-804 through 95-809 of this chapter.

History: En. 95-803 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Coroner Juror Serving as Trial Juror

Where the voir dire examination of a trial juror in a murder case failed to reveal the fact that he had served on the coroner's jury which had investigated the occurrence, known to the county attorney who directed proceedings at the inquest, and discovered by defense counsel after trial jury had been sworn, it was the duty of both to advise the trial court at the earliest opportunity to prevent a mistrial instead of remaining silent until verdict of guilty returned when defense counsel presented the matter in affidavits on motion for new trial. State v. Allison, 116 M 352, 364, 153 P 2d 141.

Introduction of Testimony at Trial

Where one charged with homicide, without knowledge of his constitutional rights against self-incrimination, section 18 article III of the constitution, and without being informed of his right to counsel, that he could refuse to testify, and that his statements might thereafter be used against him, was required to answer questions at the inquest put to him by the county attorney under the belief that he had to obey his orders, and the state at the trial in its case in chief introduced his entire testimony so given, the admission thereof was in violation of defendant's constitutional rights, necessitating reversal of the judgment of conviction. State v. Allison, 116 M 352, 355, 153 P 2d 141.

Nature of Proceeding

Defendant's admission at coroner's inquest that he drove at unlawful speed held admissible, as admission against interest, as part of plaintiff's case in chief. Marinkovich v. Tierney, 93 M 72, 17 P 2d 93.

In holding an inquest the coroner acts judicially, and although an inquest is essentially a criminal proceeding, it is not a trial involving the merits of a prosecution but rather a preliminary investigation only. State v. Allison, 116 M 352, 355, 153 P 2d 141.

95-804. Jurors to be sworn. When six (6) or more of the jurors attend, they must be sworn by the coroner to inquire who the person was, and when, where, and by what means he came to his death, and into the circumstances attending his death; and to render a true verdict thereon, according to the evidence offered to them, or arising from the inspection of the body.

History: En. 95-804 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-805. Witnesses to be subpoenaed. A coroner may issue subpoenas for witnesses, returnable forthwith; or at such time and place as he may appoint, which may be served by any competent person. He must summon and examine as witnesses every person who, in his opinion, or that of the jury, has any knowledge of the facts, and may summon a surgeon or physician to inspect the body, and give a professional opinion as to the cause of the death.

History: En. 95-805 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-806. Witness compelled to attend. A witness served with a subpoena may be compelled to attend and testify, or be punished as upon a subpoena issued by a justice of the peace.

History: En. 95-806 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-807. Verdict of jury in writing, what to contain. After inspecting the body and hearing the testimony, the jury must render its verdict which shall be by majority vote, and certify the same in writing, signed by them and setting forth who the deceased person is, and when, where, and by what means he came to his death; and if he was killed, or his death occasioned by the act of another by criminal means, who committed the act.

History: En. 95-807 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-808. Testimony in writing and where filed. The testimony of the witnesses examined before the coroner's jury must be reduced to writing by the coroner, or under his direction, and forthwith filed by him, with the inquisition, in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county. The coroner must order the inquest proceedings recorded and transcribed by a qualified stenographer and such recording and transcribing expenses shall be paid by the county upon claims duly rendered and certified to by the coroner in the same manner as other claims against the county are paid.

History: En. 95-808 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Denial of Bill of Particulars

Where inquest had been held a year prior to prosecution for manslaughter for killing of pedestrian by reckless driving, court could presume that coroner had complied with law as to transcript of testimony available for defendant's inspection for desired information, held, denial of defendant's motion for bill of particulars not abuse of court's discretion. State v. Robinson, 109 M 322, 327, 96 P 265.

95-809. Inquest shall be public. If an inquest is held the proceedings shall be public.

History: En. 95-809 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-810. Property found on body—to whom delivered. Any property found with or upon the person of the deceased which is not needed as evidence shall be turned over by the county coroner to the public administrator, to be held until disposed of according to law. Any property needed as evidence shall be turned over to the appropriate investigative authority.

History: En. 95-810 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-811. Must keep register. The county coroner shall keep an official register, in which he must enter the date of holding all inquests, the cause and circumstances of death, if known, and the name of the deceased, when known, and when not, such description of the deceased as may be sufficient for identification.

History: En. 95-811 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-812. Jurisdiction of coroner. When death occurs as a direct result of acts or events which occurred in another county, the coroner of either county shall have jurisdiction. If a conflict of jurisdiction should arise, or should said coroners fail to act, the coroner of the county where the death occurred shall have the primary jurisdiction.

History: En. 95-812 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-813. Liability of a mortuary or physician. No person or firm owning a mortuary or any person employed in such a mortuary shall be liable for the acts of the coroner performed in the removal of any body to a mortuary or during the course of an autopsy on such body. No criminal or civil action shall arise against a licensed physician for performing an autopsy authorized by this act.

History: En. 95-813 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-814. The coroner shall have needed assistance. The county commissioners are authorized to provide and pay for such laboratory facilities, and other technical and clerical assistance as may be required by the county coroner. The coroner, with the approval of the county commissioners, may appoint one or more deputy coroners.

History: En. 95-814 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

CHAPTER 9

INITIAL APPEARANCE OF ARRESTED PERSON

Section 95-901. Duty of person who has made an arrest.
95-902. Duty of the court.

95-901. Duty of person who has made an arrest. (a) Any person making an arrest under a warrant shall take the arrested person without unnecessary delay before the judge issuing the warrant, or if he is absent or unable to act, before the nearest or most accessible judge of the same county. If an arrest is made in a county other than the one in which the warrant was issued the arrested person shall be taken without unnecessary delay before the nearest and most accessible judge in the county where the arrest was made.

(b) Any person making an arrest without a warrant shall take the arrested person without unnecessary delay before the nearest or most accessible judge in the same county and a complaint, stating the charges against the arrested person, shall be filed forthwith.

Availability of Magistrate

In an action for false imprisonment brought by the plaintiff against a sheriff and surety on his official bond based on unnecessary delay in taking plaintiff before a magistrate, it was necessary for the plaintiff to prove that a magistrate was available on the particular day when the false imprisonment allegedly occurred. Rounds v. Bucher, 137 M 39, 349 P 2d 1026.

Damages for False Imprisonment

In an action against a sheriff and the surety on his official bond for false imprisonment after arrest without a warrant, based on officer's failure to take plaintiff before a committing magistrate or judicial officer, involving also transportation by federal postal inspectors to neighboring county and interpretation of section 591 of Title 18 U. S. C., held, that evidence sufficient to show prima facie case of such imprisonment, but remanded for new trial unless plaintiff consents to reduction of damages. Cline v. Tait, 116 M 571, 574, 155 P 2d 752.

Purpose

The purpose of former statute requiring one arrested without warrant to be taken before magistrate without unnecessary delay was to ensure that the person arrested was advised of the charge made against him in order to enable him to prepare a defense, and to protect him from being held incommunicado for protracted periods of time. State v. Nelson, 139 M 180, 362 P 2d 224, 229.

Unlawful Detention

Defendant convicted of the crime of uttering and delivering a fictitious check was not entitled to a reversal of his conviction because he was detained for a period of 21 days without being taken before a magistrate where there was no confession and the detention did not prejudice him in presenting his defense on the merits at the trial. State v. Johnston, 140 M 111, 367 P 2d 891, 892.

What Does Not Constitute Unnecessary Delay

In an action against a sheriff and the surety on his official bond for false imprisonment because of failure to take the arrested person before a magistrate, held, that in the state of the record, the jury could not properly conclude that a delay to nine o'clock in the morning was unreasonable under section 25-306, fixing the hours for certain justices of the peace. Cline v. Tait, 113 M 475, 484, 129 P 2d 89.

Defendant's confession was not rendered inadmissible by reason of delay in taking him before a magistrate where he was requested at 8:55 p. m., Friday, November 7, 1958, to come voluntarily to jail for questioning; shortly after questioning by sheriff at about 10:00 p. m. he made an oral statement and at 11:50 p. m. wrote and signed a confession; he was booked at 12:07 a. m., Saturday, November 8; at 10:40 a. m. on Saturday a statement was taken from defendant in the county attorney's office in the presence of the sheriff and deputy county attorney; and at 11:45 a. m., Saturday, November 8, defendant was brought before the magistrate in the courthouse. State v. Nelson, 139 M 180, 362 P 2d 224, 229, 230.

95-902. Duty of the court. The judge shall inform the defendant:

- (a) Of the charge against him;
- (b) Of his right to counsel;
- (c) Of his right to have counsel assigned by a court of record, in accordance with the provisions of section 95-1001;
- (d) That he is not required to make a statement and that any statement made by him may be offered in evidence at his trial;
- (e) Admit the defendant to bail in accordance with the provisions of this code.

After the initial appearance a justice of the peace court shall, within a reasonable time, hold a preliminary examination unless the defendant waives a preliminary examination or the district court has granted leave to file an information or an indictment has been returned, or the case is triable in justice court.

History: En. 95-902 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

CHAPTER 10

RIGHT TO COUNSEL

- Section 95-1001. Right to counsel.
- 95-1002. Waiver of counsel.
- 95-1003. Duration of appointment.
- 95-1004. Appointment after trial.
- 95-1005. Remuneration of appointed counsel.
- 95-1006. Public defender's office.

95-1001. Right to counsel. Every defendant brought before the court must be informed by the court that it is his right to have counsel before proceeding and must be asked if he desires the aid of counsel. The defendant, if charged with a felony, must be advised that counsel will be furnished at state expense if he is unable to employ counsel. If the offense charged is a felony and if the defendant desires counsel and is unable to employ counsel a court of record must assign counsel to defend him. If the offense charged is a misdemeanor and if the defendant desires counsel and is unable to employ counsel a court of record, in the interest of justice, may assign counsel to defend him.

History: En. 95-1001 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

Appointment of Counsel

On his arraignment defendant informed the court that he did not wish to employ counsel, and was admitted to bail, furnishing a $10,000 cash bail bond. On the day of trial, four months thereafter, he stated to the court that he was without counsel to defend him, but did not ask for time to procure counsel. Held, under former section, that nothing short of refusal by the court, on application for time to procure counsel will justify a conclusion that defendant was denied his constitutional right to counsel. State v. Fowler, 59 M 346, 354, 196 P 992.

Where accused did not move to have the minutes of the court corrected to show, as he claimed, that he was arraigned before he was advised of his right to counsel, contrary to former section, his affidavit contradicting the court minutes in that regard, held insufficient, in the absence of a showing of prejudice, to overcome the presumption that the court performed its judicial duty seasonably and with due regularity. State v. Murphy, 68 M 427, 429, 219 P 629.

Accused was not entitled to habeas corpus on ground that district court did not advise him of his rights or appoint counsel for him, as required by former section, where there was no showing of prejudice sufficient to overcome presumption that court had performed its duty and where contention had not previously been raised before supreme court even though more than two years and ten months had elapsed since arraignment. In re Diserly's Petition, 140 M 219, 370 P 2d 763, 764.

95-1002. Waiver of counsel. A defendant may waive his right to counsel except that in all felony cases where the defendant is under eighteen (18) years of age the defendant shall be represented by counsel at every stage of the proceedings.

History: En. 95-1002 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Waiver of Right to Counsel

The right to counsel may be intelligently waived by an accused, and the determination of whether the waiver was intelligently made will depend upon the particular facts and circumstances sur-

Confession in Absence of Counsel

Confession made after three hours' interrogation of accused who was advised of his right to counsel and his right to remain silent was not rendered inadmissible by absence of counsel where accused never requested assistance of counsel and confession was voluntarily given. State v. White, 146 M 226, 405 P 2d 761.

Court-Appointed Counsel

Where counsel was appointed by the court, after withdrawal of defendant's original counsel, but trial was commenced three days after such appointment, such appointment was made purposeless as it is the duty of the court to make the appointment effective by giving a reasonable time for the preparation of the case. State v. Blakeslee, 131 M 47, 306 P 2d 1103, 1107.

Justice Courts

Held, under former section, that since district courts lack supervisory control over justice courts, district court could not appoint counsel for indigent charged with crime of petit larceny and therefore compensation could not be awarded attorney who defended him. State ex rel. Johnson v. District Court, 147 M 263, 410 P 2d 933.

Right To Appoint Counsel

Held, under former section, that as there is no provision for appointment of counsel in the supreme court, such appointments are made by the district courts. In re Pelke's Petition, 139 M 354, 365 P 2d 932, 935; Brown v. State, 140 M 289, 371 P 2d 262, 263.

95-1004. Appointment after trial. Any court of record may assign counsel to defend any defendant, petitioner, or appellant in any post conviction criminal action or proceeding if he desires counsel and is unable to employ counsel.

History: En. 95-1004 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1005. Remuneration of appointed counsel. Whenever, in a criminal action or proceeding, an attorney at law represents or defends any person by order of the court, on the ground that the person is financially unable to employ counsel, such attorney shall be paid for his services such sum as a district court or justice of the state supreme court certifies to be a reasonable compensation therefor and shall be reimbursed for reasonable costs incurred in the criminal proceeding. Such costs shall be chargeable to the county in which the proceeding arose.

not exceeding $100 in a capital case, the court was not limited to the appointment of one attorney but might appoint more if the gravity of the offense warranted it, and if so each would be entitled to compensation. Huntington v. Yellowstone County, 80 M 20, 25, 257 P 1041.

Appointment of More Than One Counsel

Under former section providing that when an attorney by order of court defends an indigent, the county is liable for the attorney's fee to be fixed by the court

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Justice Courts

Held, under former section, that the payment of compensation to attorneys charged with defense of indigents is limited to actions "in the district court," which clearly indicates that the legislature did not mean to provide counsel to the indigent in misdemeanor cases in justice courts. State ex rel. Johnson v. District Court, 147 M 263, 410 P 2d 933.

95-1006. Public defender's office. Any county through its board of county commissioners, may provide for the creation of a public defender's office and the appointment of a salaried public defender and such assistant public defenders as may be necessary to satisfy the legal requirements in providing counsel for defendants unable to employ counsel. The costs of such office shall be at county expense.

- 95-1122. Violations of motor vehicle laws—posting of guaranteed arrest bond certificate in lieu of cash.
- 95-1123. Certification of names of sureties—withdrawal by surety company.

95-1101. Purpose. Bail is the security given for the purpose of insuring the presence of the defendant in a pending criminal proceeding.

History: En. 95-1101 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1102. Who may admit to bail. (a) Any judge may admit any defendant properly appearing before him in such proceeding to bail. When bound over to any court or judge having jurisdiction of the offense charged, bail shall be continued provided the court or judge having jurisdiction may increase, reduce or substitute bail. On appeal, any judge before whom the trial was had, or any judge having the power to issue a writ of habeas corpus, may admit the defendant to bail.

(b) Upon allowance and acceptance of bail the defendant, if he is in custody, must be discharged.

History: En. 95-1102 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

When Bail Proper

Bail is properly allowed in a homicide case, in absence of a showing, by the county attorney, that the proof of the defendant's guilt was evident or the presumption thereof great. State ex rel. Murray v. District Court, 35 M 504, 507, 90 P 513.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Construction

Former section held to mean that committing magistrate might approve and accept the undertaking which he had himself required by his order made upon holding the defendant to answer. Any other construction would have, at times, infringed seriously upon a prisoner's right to bail. Magistrate had such power until the district court obtained final jurisdiction of the entire matter upon filing of information or presentment of indictment, or until district or supreme court judge fixed anew the prisoner's bail. State v. Lagoni, 30 M 472, 76 P 1044.

Party Plaintiff in Action on Bond

In action on bail bond in form prescribed by repealed section, running to the state, the state and not the county was the proper party plaintiff, though, under former statute, the money recovered went to county and not to state. County of Wheatland v. Van, 64 M 113, 116, 207 P 1003.

Verbal Order of Release

Fact that magistrate made verbal order of release, instead of signing order as required by former statute, was no defense to a surety in action on the bail bond. State v. Lagoni, 30 M 472, 481, 76 P 1044.

95-1103. Setting and accepting bail in minor offenses. A justice of the peace or police judge may in his discretion establish and post a schedule of cash bail for offenses not amounting to a felony. A peace officer may accept bail in behalf of the justice of the peace or police judge in accordance with the schedule. In the event the peace officer accepts bail, he shall give a signed receipt to the offender setting forth the bail received. The peace officer shall then deliver the bail to the justice of the peace or police judge before whom the offender is to appear, and the justice of the peace or police judge shall give a receipt to the peace officer for the bail delivered.

95-1104. Setting and accepting bail under a warrant of arrest. A peace officer may accept cash bail in behalf of a judge where the warrant of arrest specifies the amount of bail. In the event the peace officer accepts bail, he shall give a signed receipt to the offender setting forth the bail received. The peace officer shall then deliver the bail to the justice of the peace or police judge before whom the offender is to appear, and the justice of the peace or police judge shall give a receipt to the police officer for the bail delivered.

History: En. 95-1104 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-1105. Giving bail before another court or judge. The defendant, when arrested for a bailable offense must be taken without unnecessary delay before the nearest or most accessible judge in order that bail may be fixed. If the defendant is brought before a judge other than the court in which the charge is pending, the judge must establish and accept bail and set the time for the appearance of the defendant in the court in which the charge is pending. Upon acceptance of bail, the judge must deliver the bail without delay to the court in which the charge is pending.

History: En. 95-1105 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-1106. Release on own recognizance. Any person in custody, if otherwise eligible for bail, may be released on his personal recognizance subject to such conditions as the court may reasonably prescribe to assure his appearance when required. Any person released as herein provided shall be fully apprised by the court of the penalty provided for failure to comply with the terms of his recognizance.

History: En. 95-1106 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-1107. Issuance of warrant. (a) Upon failure to comply with any condition of a bail or recognizance, the court having jurisdiction at the time of such failure may, in addition to any other action provided by law, issue a warrant for the arrest of the person at liberty on bail or on his own recognizance.

(b) On verified application by the state, setting forth facts or circumstances constituting a breach or threatened breach of any of the conditions of the bail or a threat or an attempt to influence the pending proceeding, the court may issue a warrant for the arrest of the defendant.

(c) Upon the arrest, the defendant shall be brought before the court without unnecessary delay and the court shall conduct a hearing and determine bail in accordance with section 95-1111.

History: En. 95-1107 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1108 Bailable offenses. (a) All persons shall be bailable before conviction, except when death is a possible punishment for the offense charged and the proof is evident or the presumption great that the person is guilty of the offense charged.

(b) On the hearing of an application for admission to bail made before or after indictment or information for a capital offense, the burden of showing that the proof is evident or the presumption great that the defendant is guilty of the offense is on the state.

95-1109. Bail after conviction. After conviction of an offense not punishable by death, a defendant who intends to appeal may be admitted to bail:

(a) As a matter of right, from a judgment imposing a fine only; or any judgment rendered by a justice or police court.

(b) As a matter of discretion in all other cases.

History: En. 95-1109 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Abuse of Discretion

District court did not abuse its discretion when it refused to fix bail on appeal of defendant sentenced to state prison. Bubnash v. State, 139 M 639, 366 P 2d 867.

95-1110. Determining the amount of bail. In all cases that bail is determined to be necessary, bail must be reasonable in amount and the amount shall be:

(a) Sufficient to assure compliance with the conditions set forth in the bail;

(b) Not oppressive;

(c) Commensurate with the nature of the offense charged;

(d) Considerate of the financial ability of the accused;

(e) Considerate of the defendant's prior record, employment status, and family background.

History: En. 95-1110 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Amount of Bail

95-1111. Reduction, increase, revocation or substitution of bail. (a) Upon application by the state or the defendant the court before which the proceeding is pending may increase, or reduce the amount of bail, substitute one bail for another or alter the conditions of the bail, or revoke bail.

(b) Reasonable notice of such application must be given to the opposing parties or their attorneys by the applicant after verdict of guilty and before judgment.

History: En. 95-1111 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Amount of Bail

Court did not err in refusing defendant's motion to reduce bail which was initially set at $25,000, where the person assaulted was in a very precarious condition and it was not known whether he would live or die. When the judge was advised that the victim would probably live, he reduced the bail to $7,500 which was a very reasonable amount. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 407, 408.

95-1112. How bail is to be furnished. Bail may be furnished by the defendant in any of the following ways:

(a) By a deposit, with the clerk of the court, of an amount equal to the required bail, of cash, stocks, or bonds, or any combination thereof approved by the judge; or

(b) By real estate situated in this state with unencumbered equity not exempt owned by the accused or sureties worth double the amount of bail; or

(c) By written undertaking executed by the defendant and by two (2) sufficient sureties; or

(d) By a commercial surety bond executed by the defendant and by a qualified agent for and on behalf of such surety company.

History: En. 95-1112 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Liberty Bonds as Bail

One depositing Liberty bonds as bail was estopped from claiming that their forfeiture was unauthorized, under former section stating that a "sum" might be deposited in lieu of giving bail, on theory that money only could be given when she had stipulated at the time bail was furnished that the bonds were substantially the equivalent of the amount fixed as bail in money or cash. Kirschbaum v. Mayn, 76 M 320, 329, 246 P 953.

Where a prisoner for whom bail was furnished by plaintiff by a deposit of Liberty bonds was in court in the custody of the sheriff and released at once, the fact that a certificate of the deposit was not delivered to the officer as required by former section as authority for releasing him, was immaterial. Kirschbaum v. Mayn, 76 M 320, 329, 246 P 953.

95-1113. Qualifications of bail. (a) If the bail is stock or bonds or both, the accused or sureties shall file a sworn schedule which shall contain a list of the stocks and bonds deposited describing each in sufficient detail that it may be identified and the market value of each stock or bond and the total market value of the stocks or bonds listed.

(b) If the bail is real estate, the accused or sureties shall file a sworn schedule which shall contain a legal description of the real estate, a description of any and all encumbrances on the real estate including the amount of each and the holder thereof, and the market value of the unencumbered equity owned by the affiant.

A certified copy of the schedule of real estate shall be filed immediately by the court in the office of the clerk and recorder of the county in which the property is situated, and the state shall have a lien on such real estate from the time the copies are filed. The clerk and recorder shall enter, index and record such schedules without requiring any fee.

(c) If the bail is a written undertaking with sureties, each surety must be a resident or freeholder within the state.

They must each be worth the amount specified in the undertaking, exclusive of property exempt from execution; but the court or magistrate, on taking bail, may allow more than two sureties to justify severally in amounts less than that expressed in the undertaking if the whole justification be equivalent to that of sufficient bail.

(d) If the bail is a commercial surety bond, it may be so done by any domestic or foreign surety company which is qualified to transact surety business in this state.

History: En. 95-1113 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11450-2-3-4, Oct. 10, 1968, eff. Dec. 1, 1968.

95-1114. Bail, how to justify. The sureties must, in all cases, justify by sworn affidavit that they each possess the qualifications provided in the preceding section. The court may further examine the sufficiency of the bail, upon oath, in such manner as it may deem proper. In all cases the state may challenge the bail or the sufficiency of the sureties.

History: En. 95-1114 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1115. Surrender of defendant. At any time before the forfeiture of bail, the defendant may surrender himself to the officer to whose custody he was committed at the time of giving bail.

At any time before the forfeiture of bail, the sureties or surety company may surrender the defendant to the officer to whose custody he was committed and for this purpose may, themselves, arrest the defendant or by written authority endorsed on a certified copy of the undertaking may empower any person of suitable age and discretion to do so.

The officer must detain the defendant in his custody as upon commitment and shall file a certificate in the court having jurisdiction of the defendant, acknowledging the surrender. Such court may then order the bail exonerated.

History: En. 95-1115 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1116. Conditions of bail, when performed—when not performed.

(a) When the conditions of bail have been performed and the accused has been discharged from his obligations in the cause, the court shall return to him or his sureties the deposit of any cash, stocks or bonds. If the bail is real estate, the court shall notify, in writing, the county clerk and recorder and the lien of the bail bond on the real estate shall be discharged. If the bail is a written undertaking or a commercial surety bond, it shall be discharged and the sureties exonerated.

(b) If the accused does not comply with the conditions of the bail bond, the court having jurisdiction shall enter an order declaring the bail to be forfeited.

If such forfeiture is declared by a district court, notice of such order of forfeiture shall be mailed forthwith by the clerk of the court to the accused and his sureties at their last known address.

(c) If at any time within thirty (30) days after the forfeiture the defendant or his bail appear and satisfactorily excuse his negligence or failure to comply with the conditions of the bail, the court, in its discretion, may direct the forfeiture of the bail to be discharged upon such terms as may be just.

If such forfeiture is declared by a district court and if the forfeiture is not discharged as provided in this section, the court shall enter judgment for the state against the accused and his sureties for the amount of the bail and costs of the proceedings.

History: En. 95-1116 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11450-2-3-4, Oct. 10, 1968, eff. Dec. 1, 1968.

Cross-Reference

Forfeiture

In a suit to recover the amount of a bond for failure of a defendant to appear at the district court in accordance with the condition of the bond it is not necessary to allege in the complaint that the defendant made default of appearance "without excuse." State v. Wrote, 19 M 209, 47 P 898.

Where, in an action on a bail bond, it was shown that an information was filed against the defendant, charging him with a crime, and that he failed to appear and answer, and that the court thereupon ordered the bond forfeited, former section governing forfeiture was sufficiently complied with. State v. Lagoni, 30 M 472, 480, 76 P 1044.

While the district court may summarily enter judgment against the person charged with crime who fails to appear according to the condition of his bond, it exceeds its jurisdiction when it goes further than to authorize proceedings by the county attorney against the sureties by proper action, and at once enters judgment against them for the amount of the bond. State ex rel. Van v. District Court, 54 M 577, 579, 172 P 540.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Failure to Record Default

Under former statute providing that no action on bond would be barred by failure to record default, held that an averment in the complaint that the defendant was called and failed to appear in the district court was equivalent to an averment that his default for not appearing was entered of record. State v. Wrote, 19 M 209, 47 P 898.

95-1117. Disposition of judgment and execution. (a) If judgment be rendered or the forfeiture not discharged, and the defendant has deposited money as bail, the court with whom it is deposited must, immediately after receiving notice of said judgment or order of forfeiture, pay over the money deposited to the treasury of the city or county wherein the bail was taken.

(b) When judgment is entered in favor of the state, or the order of forfeiture is not discharged on any bail, execution may be issued forthwith for levy on stocks or bonds deposited with the court or upon the real estate described in the bail schedule. Such stocks, bonds and real estate shall be sold in the same manner as in execution sales in civil actions and the proceeds of such sale shall be used to satisfy all court costs and prior encumbrances, if any, and from the balance a sufficient sum to satisfy the judgment or forfeiture shall be paid into the treasury of the city or county wherein the bail bond was taken. The balance shall be returned to the owner. The real estate so sold may be redeemed in the same manner as real estate may be redeemed after execution sales in civil actions.

(c) When judgment is entered in favor of the state and against the sureties or the surety company or when the forfeiture has not been discharged, execution may be issued against the sureties or the surety company in the same manner as executions in civil actions.

History: En. 95-1117 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-1118. Conditions of bail. (a) If a person is admitted to bail before conviction, the conditions of bail bond shall be that he will appear to answer in the court having jurisdiction on a day certain and thereafter as ordered by the court until discharged on final order of the court and not depart this state without leave, and subject to any other conditions as the court may reasonably prescribe to assure his appearance when required.

(b) If the defendant is admitted to bail after conviction, the conditions of bail bond shall be that:

- (1) He will duly prosecute his appeal;
- (2) He will appear at such time and place as the court may direct;
- (3) He will not depart this state without leave of the court; and
- (4) If the judgment is affirmed or the cause reversed and remanded for a new trial, he will forthwith surrender to the officer from whose custody he was bailed.

History: En. 95-1118 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-1119. Bail on a new trial. If the judgment of conviction is reversed and the cause remanded for a new trial, the trial court may order that the bail stand pending such trial, substitute, reduce, or increase bail.

History: En. 95-1119 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-1120. Persons prohibited from furnishing bail security. No attorney at law and no official authorized to admit another to bail shall act as surety or furnish bail.

History: En. 95-1120 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-1121. Sureties for guaranteed arrest bond certificates—filing of undertaking—guaranteed arrest bond certificate. (a) Any domestic or foreign surety company which has qualified to transact surety business in this state may, in any year, become surety in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) with respect to any guaranteed arrest bond certificates issued in such year by an automobile club or association or by an insurance company authorized to write automobile liability insurance within this state, by filing with the commissioner of insurance an undertaking thus to become surety.

(b) Such undertaking shall be in form to be prescribed by the commissioner and shall state the following:

(1) The name and address of the automobile club or clubs, automobile association, or insurance company or companies, or associations with respect to the guaranteed arrest bond certificates of which the surety company undertakes to be surety.

(2) The unqualified obligation of the surety company to pay the fine or forfeiture in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00) of any person who, after posting a guaranteed arrest bond certificate with respect to which the surety company has undertaken to be surety, fails to make the appearance to guarantee which the guaranteed arrest bond certificate was posted.

(c) The term guaranteed arrest bond certificate, means any printed card or other certificate issued by an automobile club, association or insurance company, to any of its members or insureds, which said card or certificate is signed by such member or insured and contains a printed statement that such automobile club, association, or insurance company and a surety company, or an insurance company authorized to transact both automobile liability insurance and surety business in the state of Montana, guarantee the appearance of the person whose signature appears on the card or certificate and that will, in the event of failure of such person to appear in court at the time of trial, pay any fine or forfeiture imposed on such person in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100.00).

No such withdrawal by any company shall be effective for thirty (30) days after the filing thereof with the state insurance commissioner.

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION

- Section 95-1201. Definition of preliminary examination.
95-1202. Proceedings at the preliminary examination.
95-1203. Exclusion and separation of witnesses.
95-1204. Recognizance by or deposition of witness.

95-1201. Definition of preliminary examination. A preliminary examination is a hearing before a justice of the peace for the purpose of determining if there is probable cause to believe a felony has been committed by the defendant.

History: En. 95-1201 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,

95-1202. Proceedings at the preliminary examination. (a) The defendant shall not enter a plea. The judge shall hear the evidence without unnecessary delay. All witnesses shall be examined in the presence of the defendant. The defendant may cross-examine witnesses against him and may introduce evidence in his own behalf. If from the evidence it appears that there is probable cause to believe that an offense has been committed by the defendant the judge shall hold him to answer to the court having jurisdiction of the offense; otherwise, the judge shall discharge him.

(b) If the defendant waives preliminary examination the judge shall hold him to answer to the court having jurisdiction of the offense.

(c) The judge may in his discretion and must upon the request of the defendant, exclude from the preliminary examination every person not officially associated with the case before the court.

(d) The testimony of each witness, in case of homicide, must be reduced to writing, as a deposition, by a court appointed stenographer; in cases other than homicide the testimony of each witness shall be taken by a court appointed stenographer upon demand by the county attorney, or the defendant, or the defendant's counsel. After concluding the proceeding if the judge holds the defendant to answer he shall transmit forthwith to the clerk of the court having jurisdiction of the offense all papers in the proceeding and any bail taken by him.

History: En. 95-1202 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Evidence of Discharge

The best evidence of plaintiff's discharge after preliminary examination on a charge of grand larceny was the endorsement on the warrant on which he was arrested, and not the entries on the magistrate's docket; but, upon proof of the loss of the warrant, parol evidence was admissible to prove the fact of his discharge. Hawley v. Richardson, 60 M 118, 126, 198 P 450.

Probable Cause

On a preliminary examination, all that is required of the county attorney is to submit proof sufficient to show probable cause to believe the defendant to be guilty of the charge. In re Jones, 46 M 122, 126, 126 P 929.

95-1203. Exclusion and separation of witnesses. During the examination of any witness or when the defendant is making a statement or testifying the judge may, and on the request of the defendant or state shall, exclude all other witnesses. He may also cause the witnesses to be kept separate and to be prevented from communicating with each other until all are examined.

History: En. 95-1203 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1204. Recognizance by or deposition of witness. If the defendant is held to answer after a preliminary examination or after the defendant has waived a preliminary examination or after the district court has granted leave to file an information or after an indictment has been returned, the judge may require:

(a) Any material witness for the state or defendant to enter into a written undertaking;

(1) To appear at the trial, and

(2) May provide for the forfeiture of a sum certain in the event the witness does not appear at the trial.

(b) Any witness who refuses to enter into a written undertaking may be remanded to custody but shall not be held longer than is necessary to take his deposition.

After the deposition is taken the witness must be immediately discharged.

(c) Such deposition must be taken in the presence of the county attorney and the defendant and his counsel, unless either the county attorney or the defendant and his counsel fail to attend after reasonable notice of the time and place set for taking the deposition.

History: En. 95-1204 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Effect upon Rights of Accused

Accused's rights were not violated on theory that witness was intimidated into giving damaging testimony against accused by county attorney's threat to hold witness unless she gave a statement where the witness gave a statement, in which she alleged she had given defendant money to buy a six-shooter. Petition of Gallagher, 150 M 476, 436 P 2d 530.

CHAPTER 13

LEAVE TO FILE INFORMATION AND TIME FOR FILING INFORMATION

- Section 95-1301. Leave to file information.
 95-1302. Time for filing the information.
 95-1303. The county attorney not filing an information.

95-1301. Leave to file information. (a) The county attorney may apply directly to the district court for permission to file an information against a named defendant. The application must be by affidavit supported by such evidence as the judge may require. If it appears that there is probable cause to believe that an offense has been committed by the defendant the judge shall grant leave to file the information, otherwise the application shall be denied.

(b) When there has been granted leave to file an information against the defendant, a warrant may issue for his arrest and he must be brought before the court, unless the court orders otherwise.

(c) If the person against whom an information is sought to be filed is a district court judge, the county attorney shall apply directly to the supreme court for permission to file the information. The supreme court shall then proceed in the manner provided in section 95-1301 (a).

When leave is granted by the supreme court it shall designate and direct a judge of the district court of another district to preside at the trial of such information, and hear and determine all pleas and motions affecting the defendant thereunder before and after judgment. All necessary records shall be transferred to the clerk of the district court of the district in which the action arose.

History: En. 95-1301 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Harrison v. District Court, 135 M 365, 340 P 2d 544.

Cross-References

Prosecution of criminal offenses, Mont. Const. Art. III, § 8.

Bypassing Preliminary Hearing

Leave to file an information directly, without a preliminary hearing, under the statute and constitution, was not error or abuse of the statutory privilege to bypass the preliminary hearing where the motion to file directly was supported by an affidavit and where a preliminary hearing would clearly serve no purpose nor secure an advantage to the defendant. State v. Johnson, 149 M 173, 424 P 2d 728.

Examination before Leave To File

The district court may grant leave to file an information without previous examination of defendant by a committing magistrate. State v. Vuckovich, 61 M 480, 491, 203 P 491.

Where a district judge assumed to act upon an application for leave to file an information, he should have directed an examination before himself as magistrate or some other magistrate. State ex rel.

Granting Leave

It is only where there has been no examination or commitment by a magistrate that the county attorney must move for leave to file an information. State v. Byrd, 41 M 585, 591, 111 P 407.

Where a deputy county attorney appeared in open court and orally moved for leave to file an information presenting at the same time a written request signed by the county attorney which was filed immediately upon granting of the request, the court properly overruled defendant's motion to quash the information based upon the ground that leave to file had been granted on oral request, contrary to former section. State v. Kacar, 74 M 269, 273, 240 P 365.

Sufficiency of Facts in Information

Where the motion for leave to file the information disclosed that decedent was shot at close range with a high powered rifle and killed on defendant's farm, that the coroner's jury verdict was that the killing was intentional, that evidence of the commission of the crime and guilt of the defendant was introduced at a habeas corpus hearing, that the county attorney had made a complete investigation, and that as a result he believed the defendant was guilty, the motion was sufficient to grant leave to file information. State v. London, 131 M 410, 310 P 2d 571, 581.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Discretion of Court

Under former section providing that court might grant leave, require examination, or order filing of information, the requiring of an examination presupposed the right to grant or deny the application on examination; but the statute did not provide for findings of fact and conclusions of law. The section contemplated a requirement of sufficient evidence to move the court's discretion, but did not contemplate an unlimited discretion with finality of decision that discharged or excused a defendant from any further proceedings. State ex rel. Harrison v. District Court, 135 M 365, 340 P 2d 544.

Issuance of Warrant

Held, under former statute, that a warrant may issue on an information filed by the county attorney by leave of court on a motion in writing not verified, and the information verified only on information and belief. State v. Shafer, 26 M 11, 15, 66 P 463.

Motion for Leave

Held, under former statute, that a motion by the county attorney for leave to file an information need not set forth with technical accuracy the facts constituting a formal charge, nor, since the statements made therein are made under his official oath, is it necessary that the motion be accompanied by an affidavit. State v. Kacar, 74 M 269, 273, 240 P 365.

Secrecy

Former statute forbade, prior to arrest, not only disclosure of fact that an information had been filed, but even the fact that leave to file had been granted and also contemplated that, if the defendant was at large, the minutes of the court should be silent as to order granting leave to file the information. State v. Bowser, 21 M 133, 138, 53 P 179.

Showing Necessary To Obtain Leave To File

The matter of obtaining leave to file an information, without a previous examination of the accused by a committing magistrate, was authorized by both constitution and former statute; it was not to be considered as a merely perfunctory one, and though the county attorney was not required by former statute to support the application by affidavit or set forth therein the facts constituting the charge with technical accuracy, the showing was required to be sufficient to move the discretion of the court. In instant case, held that the motion was required to be complete in itself and not dependent on any former information which had become functus officio and not "as charged in the information as originally filed." State ex rel. Juhl v. District Court, 107 M 309, 316, 84 P 2d 979.

Writing

Where the information is filed by leave of court, it need not be entered in writing before the filing of the information; but, after the arrest of the defendant, the minutes of the court may be corrected so as to amend the order. State v. Bowser, 21 M 133, 137, 53 P 179.

95-1302. Time for filing the information. After the defendant has been examined and held to answer, or has waived preliminary examination as provided in section 95-1202 of this code, or after leave of court has been granted as provided in section 95-1301 of this code, the county attorney must file, within thirty (30) days, in the proper district court an information charging the defendant with the offense for which he is held to answer, or any other offense disclosed by the evidence. If the county attorney fails to file the information within the time specified he may be found guilty of contempt, and may be prosecuted for neglect of duty.

History: En. 95-1302 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Waiver of Irregularity

Where the county attorney fails to comply with this section, any advantage thereof must be taken by defendant by motion to set aside the information, which must be done before demurrer or plea, and failure to so take advantage of the irregularity waives it. The negligence of the county attorney in this respect cannot be taken advantage of by the sureties on defendant's bail bond. State v. Lagoni, 30 M 472, 480, 76 P 1044.

The objection to failure to timely file information must be made in writing and before demurrer or plea, or it is waived; hence, where defendant did not raise such an objection to the jurisdiction of the court until after plea, and then orally, he was not in a position to complain of the action of the court in overruling his objection. State v. Chevigny, 48 M 382, 384, 138 P 257.

Writ of Supervisory Control

No leave of court is necessary to file an information after commitment on preliminary examination, and a writ of supervisory control will not issue to compel the granting of leave. State ex rel. Donovan v. District Court, 26 M 275, 278, 67 P 943.

Leave to file an information without a preliminary examination may be granted or refused, within the sound discretion of the court, when no statement is made to the court of the evidence upon which the state relies for a conviction, and a writ of supervisory control to revise such discretion will be denied. State ex rel. Donovan v. District Court, 26 M 275, 278, 67 P 943.

42 C.J.S. Indictments and Informations § 75.

95-1303. The county attorney not filing an information. If the county attorney determines an information ought not to be filed after the defendant has been held to answer following a preliminary examination or waiver thereof, or after leave to file has been granted, he must within thirty (30) days make, subscribe, and file with the clerk of the court a statement in writing containing his reasons in fact and in law for not filing an information. The court must examine such statements together with the evidence filed in the case, and if upon such examination, the court is not satisfied with the statement, the county attorney shall be directed and required by the court to file the proper information and bring the case to trial.

GRAND JURY

- Section 95-1401. Summoning grand juries.
 95-1402. Objections to grand jury and to grand jurors.
 95-1403. Foreman.
 95-1404. Charge by court.
 95-1405. Powers and duties of grand jury.
 95-1406. When and from whom they may ask advice and who may be present during their sessions.
 95-1407. Subpoena of witnesses—issuance.
 95-1408. Reception of evidence.
 95-1409. Secrecy of proceedings and disclosure.
 95-1410. Finding and presentment of the indictment.

95-1401. Summoning grand juries. A grand jury must only be drawn and summoned when the district judge in his discretion considers a grand jury necessary and shall so order. The grand jury must consist of seven (7) persons, of whom five (5) must concur to find an indictment. The district judge may direct the selection of one (1) or more alternate jurors who shall sit as regular jurors before an indictment is found or a grand jury investigation is concluded. If a member of the jury becomes unable to perform his duty he may be replaced by an alternate. The composition and drawing of a grand jury shall be in accordance with the provisions of sections 93-1801 to 93-1804.

95-1402. Objections to grand jury and to grand jurors. (a) The state may challenge the panel of a grand jury on the grounds that the grand jury was not selected, drawn or summoned according to law, and may challenge an individual juror on the ground that the juror is not legally qualified. Challenges may be oral or in writing and shall be tried and decided by the court. At any time for cause shown the court may excuse or discharge a juror or jurors either temporarily or permanently and in the latter event the court may impanel another person or persons in place of the juror or jurors discharged.

(b) Motion to Dismiss. A motion to dismiss the indictment may be based on the grounds that the grand jury was not selected, drawn or summoned according to law, or that an individual juror was not legally qualified. An indictment shall not be dismissed on the ground that one or more members of the grand jury were not legally qualified if it appears from the record kept pursuant to section 95-1403 of this code that five (5) or more jurors after deducting those not legally qualified, concurred in finding the indictment.

History: En. 95-1402 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-1403. Foreman. The court shall appoint one (1) of the jurors to be foreman. The foreman shall have the power to administer oaths and affirmations and shall sign all indictments. He or another juror designated by him shall keep a record of the number of jurors concurring in the finding of every indictment and shall file the record with the clerk of court, but the record shall not be made public except on order of the court.

History: En. 95-1403 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-1404. Charge by court. (a) When the grand jury is impaneled and sworn, it shall be charged by the judge who summoned it. In doing so, the court shall give the grand jurors such information as it deems proper, or as is required by law, as to their duties, and as to any charges of public offenses known to the court and likely to come before the grand jury.

(b) When the grand jury has been impaneled, sworn and charged, it shall retire to a private room, and inquire into the offenses cognizable by it. When the grand jury certifies completion of business before it and the court concurs, it shall be discharged by the court.

History: En. 95-1404 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

"Final Adjournment" When Court Always Open

Under former section providing that grand jury is discharged by final adjournment of court, whether or not their business is completed, the beginning of each district court term constituted a "final adjournment" of the preceding term, although district court was always open and each term continued until succeeding term, the terms as fixed by the court limited the existence of the grand jury. State ex rel. Adami v. Lewis and Clark County, 124 M 282, 220 P 2d 1052.

95-1405. Powers and duties of grand jury. (a) The grand jury may inquire into all public offenses committed or triable within the county and present them to the court by indictment.

(b) If a member of a grand jury knows, or has reason to believe, that a public offense, triable within the county, has been committed, he shall declare it to his fellow jurors, who shall thereupon investigate it.

(c) The grand jury may inquire into:

(1) The case of every person imprisoned in the jail of the county on a criminal charge and not indicted, or against whom an information or complaint has not been filed.

(2) The condition and management of the public prisons within the county.

(3) The willful or corrupt misconduct in office of public officers of every description within the county.

(d) The grand jury is entitled to free access, at all reasonable times, to the public prisons and to the examination without charge, of all public records within the county.

(e) If, in the judgment of the grand jury, the services of an expert are necessary, the grand jury may employ one or more at an agreed compensation, to be first approved by the court. If, in the judgment of the grand jury, the services of assistants to such experts are required, the grand jury may employ such assistants, at a compensation to be agreed upon and approved by the court.

(f) All expenses of the grand jury, including special counsel and investigators, if any, shall be paid by the treasurer of the county out of the general fund of the county upon warrants drawn by the county auditor or the clerk of the district court upon the written order of the judge of the district court of the county.

History: En. 95-1405 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1406. When and from whom they may ask advice and who may be present during their sessions. (a) The grand jury may, at all times, ask the advice of the court, or the judge thereof, or the attorney general or of the county attorney. Unless such advice is asked, the judge of the court shall not be present during the sessions of the grand jury.

(b) The county attorney of the county or the attorney general may at all times appear before the grand jury for the purpose of giving information or advice relative to any matter cognizable by the grand jury, and may interrogate witnesses before the grand jury whenever he thinks it necessary. When a charge against or involving the county attorney, or deputy county attorney, or anyone employed by or connected with the office of the county attorney, is being investigated by the grand jury, such county attorney, or deputy county attorney or all or any one or more of them, shall not be allowed to be present before such grand jury when such charge is being investigated, in an official capacity but only as a witness, and he shall only be present while a witness and after his appearance as such witness shall leave the place where the grand jury is holding session.

(c) When requested to do so by the grand jury of any county, the attorney general or county attorney may employ special counsel and investigators, whose duty it shall be to investigate and present the evidence in such investigation to such grand jury.

(d) The grand jury or county attorney may require by subpoena the attendance of any person before the grand jury as interpreter. While his services are necessary, such interpreter may be present at the examination of witnesses before the grand jury. The compensation for services of such interpreter constitutes a charge against the county, and shall be fixed by the grand jury, in an amount to be approved by the court and paid out of the county treasury on a warrant of the county auditor upon an order of the judge of the district court.

(e) Transcript of Testimony.

(1) The grand jury may appoint a stenographer to take in shorthand the testimony of witnesses or the testimony may be taken by a recording device, but the record so made shall include the testimony of all witnesses on that particular investigation. The shorthand notes or the recordings and transcript of the same, if any, shall be delivered to and retained by the clerk of the district court.

(2) The stenographer and any typist who transcribes the stenographer's notes or recordings shall be sworn by the foreman not to disclose any testimony or the names of any witnesses except when so ordered by the court. The stenographic reporter shall certify and file with the clerk of the district court an original transcription of his shorthand notes and a copy thereof and as many additional copies as there are defendants. The reporter shall complete such certification and filing within ten (10) days after the indictment has been found or the accusation presented unless the court for good cause makes an order extending the time. The clerk of the district court shall deliver the original of the transcript so filed with him to the county attorney immediately upon his receipt thereof, shall retain one (1) copy for use only by judges in proceedings relating to the indictment or accusation, and shall deliver a copy of such transcript to each such defendant or his attorney.

History: En. 95-1406 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Construction

The objects of former section, which was substantially the same as subsection (a), except that attorney general was not mentioned, were to preserve to the body alone clothed with authority of indicting for public offenses—the grand jury—a right to have witnesses interrogated by official counsel at its sessions, and to keep the proceedings of that body as secret as possible by excluding therefrom those not vested with official authority. It did not affect the right of the attorney general to be present before the grand jury. State ex rel. Nolan v. District Court, 22 M 25, 31, 55 P 916.

Special Prosecutor — Appearance before Grand Jury

County attorney cannot delegate to unofficial counsel his right to advise the grand jury, assist them in their investigations and examine witnesses, and an order of the district judges appointing such special prosecutor when the county attorney was present and able to act could not give such authority. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051.

The appearance of "special prosecutor" before the grand jury was ground for setting aside the indictment. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, distinguished in 131 M 254, 261, 309 P 2d 316, 320.

The press of business in the office of district attorney does not justify the appointment of a "special prosecutor" to appear before the grand jury. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051, distinguished in 131 M 254, 261, 309 P 2d 316, 320.

95-1407. Subpoena of witnesses—issuance. A subpoena requiring the attendance of a witness before the grand jury may be signed and issued by the county attorney, by the grand jury or by the judge of the district court, for witnesses in the state, in support of the prosecution, for those witnesses whose testimony, in his opinion is material in an investigation before the grand jury, and for such other witnesses as the grand jury upon investigation pending before them may direct.

History: En. 95-1407 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1408. Reception of evidence. (a) In the investigation of a charge, the grand jury shall receive no other evidence than that given by witnesses produced and sworn before the grand jury, furnished by legal documentary evidence, or the deposition of a witness in the cases mentioned in section 95-1802.

(b) The grand jury is not required to hear evidence for the defendant, but it shall weigh all the evidence submitted to it, and when it has reason to believe other evidence within its reach will explain away the charge, it shall order the evidence to be produced, and for that purpose may require the county attorney to issue process for witnesses.

(c) The grand jury shall find an indictment when all the evidence before it, taken together, if unexplained or uncontradicted, would, in its judgment, warrant a conviction by a trial jury.

History: En. 95-1408 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1409. Secrecy of proceedings and disclosure. Disclosure of matters occurring before the grand jury other than its deliberations and the vote of any juror may be made to the county attorney for use in the performance of his duty. Otherwise a juror, attorney, interpreter, stenographer, operator of a recording device, or any typist who transcribes recorded testimony may disclose matters occurring before the grand jury only when so directed by the court preliminary to or in connection with a judicial proceeding or when permitted by the court at the request of the defendant upon a showing that grounds may exist for a motion to dismiss the indictment because of matters occurring before the grand jury under section 95-1402 (b). No obligation of secrecy may be imposed upon any person except in accordance with this rule. The court may direct that an indictment shall be kept secret until the defendant is in custody or has given bail, and no person shall disclose the finding of the indictment except when necessary for the issuance and execution of a warrant or summons.

History: En. 95-1409 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1410. Finding and presentment of the indictment. (a) An indictment cannot be found without the concurrence of at least five (5) grand jurors. When so found it must be indorsed, "a true bill," and the endorsement must be signed by the foreman of the grand jury.

(b) Indictment. How Presented and Filed:

(1) An indictment, when found by the grand jury, must be presented by the foreman, in their presence, to the court, and must be filed with the clerk.

(2) When an indictment is filed against a district court judge, it must be transmitted directly to the supreme court, who shall thereupon designate and direct a judge of the district court of another district to preside at the trial of such indictment and hear and determine all pleas and motions affecting the defendant thereunder before and after judgment.

(c) If the defendant is in custody or has given bail and five (5) jurors do not concur in finding an indictment, the foreman shall so report to the court in writing forthwith.

(d) When an indictment is found against a defendant, a warrant must issue for his arrest and he must be brought before the court, unless the court orders otherwise.

History: En. 95-1410 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Endorsement of Witnesses' Names

Under former statute requiring that names of witnesses examined before grand jury be inserted at foot of indictment, witnesses whose names were not so endorsed might testify at the trial where the indictment was not found upon their testimony. But if the names of all of the witnesses upon whose testimony the indictment was found were not endorsed, the indictment would be set aside upon timely motion. State v. McDonald, 51 M. 1, 6, 149 P. 279. See section 95-1503 (d).

Under former statute requiring that names of witnesses examined before grand jury be inserted at foot of indictment, held that if there were no witnesses it was the duty of the prosecution, on objection of defendant, to so state, either by a verified pleading or under oath. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M. 249, 220 P. 2d 1035, 1043. See section 95-1503 (d).

Former statute requiring that names of witnesses examined before grand jury be inserted at foot of indictment required the endorsement of names of all witnesses, not merely the names of witnesses the state believed to be important; on timely motion, indictment would be set aside for failure to comply. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M. 249, 220 P. 2d 1035, 1041. See section 95-1503 (d).

Under former statute requiring that names of witnesses examined before grand jury be inserted at foot of indictment, held that if there were witnesses identified as John Doe and Richard Roe, it was indefensible for prosecution to conceal their identity from accused merely because prosecutor believed that disclosure of their true names was not vital or necessary to prepare a defense; on appeal, supreme court would be required to sustain conviction if possible and burden would be on accused to show prejudice. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M. 249, 220 P. 2d 1035. See section 95-1503 (d).

CHAPTER 15

CHARGING AN OFFENSE

- Section 95-1501. Methods of prosecution.
 95-1502. Commencement of prosecutions.
 95-1503. Form of charge.
 95-1504. Joinder of offenses and of defendants.
 95-1505. Amending the charge.
 95-1506. Prior conviction.

95-1501. Methods of prosecution. When authorized by law a prosecution may be commenced by:

- (a) A complaint;
- (b) An information following a preliminary examination, or waiver thereof;
- (c) An information after leave of court has been granted;
- (d) An indictment upon a finding by a grand jury.

History: En. 95-1501 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

Prosecution of criminal offenses, Mont. Const. Art. III, § 8.

Capital Crime May Be Charged Without Presentment or Indictment

Charges made by informations filed after a hearing before a magistrate, or by leave of the district court have long been sanctioned by statute and constitution so that a person may be held to answer for a capital crime without presentment or indictment by a grand jury. State v. Corliss, 150 M 40, 430 P 2d 632.

Filing of Information Without Preliminary Examination Permissible

The right of the court to grant leave to file an information without previous examination by a committing magistrate is settled law in this state. It is authorized by section 8, article III of the constitution, confirmed by numerous decisions of the court, and there can be no interpretation put upon any statute which will take it away. State v. Brett, 16 M 360, 40 P 873; State v. Bowser, 21 M 133, 53 P 179, 180; State v. Foot, 100 M 33, 39, 48 P 2d 1113.

Language of Statute—Bill of Particulars

Ordinarily, an information charging a public offense in the language of the statute is sufficient; if deemed insufficient as to details and facts, the remedy of defendant was formerly by way of a request for a bill of particulars. State v. Hahn, 105 M 270, 273, 72 P 2d 459.

Unverified Information

The fact that an information is not verified does not deprive the court of jurisdiction to try the case. State ex rel. Nolan v. Brantly, 20 M 173, 178, 50 P 410.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Initiation of Prosecution

Prosecutions in the district court may be either by information, in cases where there has been an examination and commitment or admission to bail by magistrate, in which case an order of the court is not necessary; or by information filed by order of the court upon the written motion of the county attorney, which may be done without such examination. State v. Bowser, 21 M 133, 134, 53 P 179. See State v. Vinn, 50 M 27, 32, 144 P 773.

95-1502. Commencement of prosecutions. (a) All prosecutions of offenses triable in the district courts shall be by indictment or information except as otherwise provided by chapter 55, Title 94, R. C. M. 1947.

(b) All other prosecutions of offenses may be by complaint.

History: En. 95-1502 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Extent of the Term "Prosecution"

"Prosecution" as used in section 8, article III and section 27, article VIII of the constitution and former section providing that all public offenses triable in district courts must be prosecuted by indictment or information (unless within statutory exception) meant that prosecution commenced with the filing of the information or indictment, and not before. Rosebud County v. Flinn, 109 M 537, 541, 98 P 2d 330.

95-1503. Form of charge. A charge shall:

(a) Be in writing and in the name of the state of Montana, or in the name of a municipality if a violation of a municipal ordinance is charged, and

(b) Specify the name of the court in which the charge is filed, and

(c) Charge the commission of an offense by:

(1) stating the name of the offense;

(2) citing in customary form the statute, rule, regulation or other provision of law which the defendant is alleged to have violated;

(3) stating the facts constituting the offense in ordinary and concise language and in such manner as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is intended;

(4) stating the time and place of the offense as definitely as can be done; and

(5) stating the name of the accused, if known, and if not known, designate the accused by any name or description by which he can be identified with reasonable certainty.

(d) If the charge is by information or indictment, it shall include endorsed thereon, the names of the witnesses for the state, if known.

(e) If the charge is by complaint it shall be signed on oath by a person having knowledge of the facts or by the county attorney; if by information, it shall be signed by the county attorney or by his deputy; if by indictment, it shall be signed by the foreman of the grand jury.

(f) If the charge is by information or indictment it must be recorded by the clerk within five (5) days after the same is filed, in a book to be kept for that purpose. The judge must compare the record with the original indictment or information and certify the correctness thereof. In case the original is lost or destroyed, the defendant may be tried upon a copy taken from the record, and certified by the clerk.

History: En. 95-1503 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Private statutes, how pleaded, sec. 94-6416.

Selling, exhibiting, etc., lewd and obscene books, pleading for, sec. 94-6421.

Bill of Particulars

In a criminal case no bill of particulars may be required or ordered. State v. Bosch, 125 M 566, 242 P 2d 477, 487. (This case expressly overrules any statement or holding to the contrary in State v. Gondeiro, 82 M 530, 268 P 507; State v. Shannon, 95 M 280, 26 P 2d 360; State v. Stevens, 104 M 189, 65 P 2d 612; State v. Hahn, 105 M 270, 72 P 2d 459; State v. Robinson, 109 M 322, 86 P 2d 265, and any other such statements or holdings by this court.)

Common Understanding Rule

The test of the sufficiency of an information is: would a person of common understanding know what is intended to be charged? State v. Board, 135 M 139, 337 P 2d 924.

The test of the sufficiency of an information is whether the defendant is apprised of the charges brought against him and whether he will be surprised. State v. Bogue, 142 M 459, 384 P 2d 749, overruling State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229.

Essentials in General

An information stating the proper title of court and cause and containing a statement of the facts constituting the offense, charged in ordinary and concise language so as to enable a person of common understanding to know what was intended, is sufficient. State v. Paine, 61 M 270, 273, 202 P 205.

Operation in General

An information need not necessarily contain a specific allegation that the prosecution is conducted in the name and by authority of the state, as required by the constitution, where it appears from the record that it is so conducted, is in the proper form and is otherwise sufficient. State v. Barry, 45 M 582, 584, 124 P 774.

Sufficiency of Charge

An information not objectionable on the ground that it did not contain a statement of facts constituting the offense in ordinary and concise language, or that it was not direct and certain in its statements. State v. Phillips, 36 M 112, 118, 92 P 299.

Stating facts, charging a crime, in the form of participial clauses, though that is a method of pleading not to be commended, does not render an information abortive. The proper way, however, to make the charge is by direct allegation. State v. Pemberton, 39 M 530, 532, 104 P 556.

An information must charge the crime alleged to have been committed with certainty and precision, setting forth all the affirmative facts which constitute a prima facie case under the statute charged to have been violated. State v. Hem, 69 M 57, 62, 63, 220 P 80.

Sufficiency of Charge—Attempted Rape

Information charging defendant willfully, unlawfully and feloniously attempted to have sexual intercourse with prosecutrix, and forcibly and violently, without her consent and contrary to her wishes and expressed protest, demanded that she submit to sexual intercourse and by force attempted to overcome her and accomplish the act of intercourse, held sufficient against objections that no overt act was charged and intent insufficiently alleged. State v. Stevens, 104 M 189, 195, 65 P 2d 612, overruled on other grounds in State v. Bosch, 125 M 566, 589, 242 P 2d 477.

Sufficiency of Charge—Attempting To Influence Jurors

A consolidated information which charged the defendant with attempting to influence two named jurors in a named action was sufficient. State v. Bogue, 142 M 459, 384 P 2d 749.

Sufficiency of Charge—Clerical Mistake Not Vital

Information inadvertently charging that defendant on a certain day in the year "19122" sold intoxicating liquor held not to have prejudiced him in any substantial right, where evidence of a sale made on that day in the year 1922 was admitted without objection by defendant and he was prepared to meet the charge on the assumption that that was the correct date, introduced evidence tending to establish an alibi and offered no objection to an instruction advising the jury that if they found that the sale was made on that day they must find him guilty. State v. Polich, 70 M 523, 526, 226 P 519.

Sufficiency of Charge—Date of Offense

A conviction for burglary will not be disturbed because it appears it was committed on a day prior to that alleged in the information, where defendant was not prejudiced. State v. Rogers, 31 M 1, 5, 77 P 293.

Unless time is a material ingredient in the offense or in charging the same, it is only necessary to prove that it was committed prior to the finding or filing of the information or indictment. State v. Rogers, 31 M 1, 4, 77 P 293.

In a prosecution for homicide, where all the evidence showed that, if committed at all, the offense was committed on the day alleged in the information, the court was warranted in charging the jury that it was not necessary that the homicide should have been committed on the precise date laid in the pleading, but it was sufficient if it appeared that it had been committed prior to the filing of the information. State v. Vanella, 40 M 326, 342, 106 P 364.

If a crime is charged as having been committed on one date, while the evidence shows that it was done at another time, but within the statute of limitations, the prosecution does not fail, but there is a variance which may be material enough to justify a continuance. State v. Gaimos, 53 M 118, 124, 162 P 596.

If the information charging rape fixes a definite date, and the evidence discloses that a mistake occurred in the pleading, and that the identical crime charged was committed upon another date, but before the information was filed, the prosecution will not necessarily fail, though defendant may be entitled to a continuance because of the variance. State v. Gaimos, 53 M 118, 123, 162 P 596.

Defendant, convicted of unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor, was not prejudiced by the variance between the allegation in the information that the offense was committed on the tenth of December and the state's proof of its commission on the twelfth of the same month. State v. Sorenson, 65 M 65, 210 P 752.

An allegation in an information charging murder that the offense was committed "on or about" a certain date of a given year, held sufficient, such date being prior to the date of filing, and since time was not an essential ingredient of the offense, and the exact time is not claimed to have been a material ingredient. State v. Heaston, 109 M 303, 307, 97 P 2d 330.

Sufficiency of Charge—False Pretenses

An information charging an attempt to obtain money by false pretenses, though defective in form and containing immaterial averments, is sufficient to sustain a conviction, when it is apparent that the defendant has suffered no prejudice. State v. Phillips, 36 M 112, 118, 92 P 299.

Sufficiency of Charge—Forgery

An information which, after charging forgery of a promissory note, added that defendant, knowing that the instrument was false, uttered, passed, and published the same as true and genuine, with intent to defraud, etc., was not fatally defective. State v. Mitten, 36 M 376, 381, 92 P 969.

Sufficiency of Charge—Illegal Transportation of Liquor

Neither the time of day, the means of conveyance, the particular brand of liquor transported nor the termini of the route over which it is carried are made constituent elements of the completed offense of illegal transportation, and therefore an information charging that crime is sufficient without allegations to that effect. State v. Dow, 71 M 291, 298, 229 P 402.

Sufficiency of Charge—Larceny

Information charging defendant, president of a brokerage firm, with larceny as bailee of a sum of money, couched substantially in the language of subdivision 2 of section 94-2701, was sufficient and not vulnerable to a general demurrer. State v. Lake, 99 M 128, 136, 43 P 2d 627.

Sufficiency of Charge—Lewd and Lascivious Act on Child

An information under section 94-4106 for committing a lewd and lascivious act on a child was sufficient although it did not allege the age of the defendant. State v. Davis, 141 M 197, 376 P 2d 727, 729.

Sufficiency of Charge—Liquor Laws

An information charging defendant with having permitted a female to be or remain in his saloon for the purpose of being there supplied with liquor, which alleged that defendant was "then and there" the owner and manager having charge and control, was sufficient to apprise him that he was accused of being in control "for the time being," the words used in the statute under which the prosecution was brought, and was therefore sufficient under former section. State v. Conway, 38 M 42, 43, 98 P 654.

Where the information charged defendant with a sale of "certain spirituous liquid containing more than one-half of one per centum of alcohol by volume which was fit for beverage purposes," but the proof showed the sale of moonshine whisky, a liquor different from that described in the information, there was a variance which, however, was not fatal, it appearing that defendant was as fully prepared to meet the proof made by the state as he would have been to meet that of the charge contained in the information. State v. Sedlacek, 74 M 201, 208, 239 P 1002.

The information in a prosecution charging sale of intoxicating liquor to a minor, need not specify the particular kind of liquor; the allegation that defendant sold "certain intoxicating liquor," etc., was sufficient to advise defendant of the charge against him. State v. Baker, 87 M 295, 298, 286 P 1113.

Sufficiency of Charge—Manslaughter

Information which charged the defendant with manslaughter in the form established in former section and used the words "did then and there willfully, wrongfully, unlawfully, knowingly and feloniously kill one Duane Leslie Egge, a human being of the age of five years, contrary" was sufficient. State v. Duncan, 130 M 562, 305 P 2d 761, 763.

Information for manslaughter was sufficient. State v. Haley, 132 M 366, 318 P 2d 1084, 1085.

Sufficiency of Charge—Murder

An information for murder should directly allege that death resulted from the mortal wounds inflicted by defendant. State v. Keerl, 29 M 508, 511, 75 P 362.

If a person of common understanding would, from the reading of an information, know that the defendant in a given case was charged with murder in the first degree, the defendant will be presumed to have had a like knowledge, and be held not to have been prejudiced by the use of peculiar phraseology in it. State v. McGowan, 36 M 422, 425, 93 P 552.

Allegations sufficient for a common-law indictment for murder are sufficient for an information under the code. State v. Hayes, 38 M 219, 221, 99 P 434.

An information alleging that at a specified time and place defendant did "willfully, unlawfully, feloniously, premeditatedly, and of his malice aforethought kill and murder" a designated person, is sufficient to charge murder, though it does not set forth facts showing how and by what means the actual killing was accomplished. State v. Hayes, 38 M 219, 221, 99 P 434. See also State v. Nielson, 38 M 451, 454, 455, 100 P 229; State v. Guerin, 51 M 250, 257, 152 P 747.

An information alleging that accused assaulted deceased, violently threw her to the ground, and otherwise assaulted her until she became unconscious, and then permitted her to lie exposed to inclement weather, and neglected to provide her with necessary clothing and protection, by reason of which assault and exposure she died, charged murder, and the state was not bound to elect whether it would proceed on the theory of assault, or exposure, or both. State v. Rees, 40 M 571, 575, 107 P 893.

An information charging murder in the first degree, otherwise sufficient, was not rendered insufficient by the absence of the words "a felony," after the words "murder in the first degree," hence the insertion of the two words by order of court upon complaint that the copy served upon defendant did not contain them did not render the information subject to a motion to quash. State v. Vuckovich, 61 M 480, 491, 203 P 491.

Where two defendants, tried separately, had entered into a conspiracy to commit robbery by taking incriminating evidence from the possession of an officer in the perpetration of which the latter was killed by one of them, the information against the other charging a premeditated killing need not set forth the facts constituting the crime of robbery or allege that in the attempt to commit the latter crime the homicide was committed. State v. Bolton, 65 M 74, 80, 212 P 504.

Sufficiency of Charge—Name of County

Where, in an information for murder, the only mention of the county in which the crime was committed appeared in the caption describing the court in which, and the officer by whom, the charge was preferred, while in the charging part of the document the word "county" was not used at all, and the only reference words found there were in the expression "then and there," the first of which referred to a preceding date alleged as the date of the crime, while the latter indicated some place, not described, where the defendant then was, it was held that, in the absence of an expression such as "in the county aforesaid" or "said county," thus referring to the caption, the information did not allege the county in which the offense had been committed, and was fatally defective. State v. Beeskove, 34 M 41, 50, 85 P 376.

The charge in the information that the seditious language alleged to have been used by defendant was uttered in M. county was a sufficient allegation of the place. State v. Fowler, 59 M 346, 352, 196 P 992.

An information which charged that defendant at the county of M., state of Montana, "then and there being, then and there did willfully, etc., possess" certain liquor, etc., was not open to the objection that it failed to allege that the act was committed in M. county, "then" referring to the time and "there" to that county. State v. Polich, 70 M 523, 526, 226 P 519.

Sufficiency of Charge—Name of Parties

An information against one George Howard, alias James Howard, alias Joe Kirby was sufficient, the information having charged his prior conviction, and the different names being for purpose of identifying him as the person previously convicted. State v. Howard, 30 M 518, 520, 77 P 50.

Sufficiency of Charge—Name of Victim

Where a defendant was convicted of crime upon an information stating the name of the injured person as "Frank

Rex," whereas his own testimony showed that it was "Frank Rock," and there was not any showing that he was named or had been known as Frank Rex, it was held that, the names being unlike in sound or spelling, and the information having failed to disclose any description which made it at all certain that "Frank Rex" and "Frank Rock" were one and the same person, the variance was fatal to conviction. State v. Lee, 33 M 203, 205, 83 P 223.

Sufficiency of Charge—Officer Signing

A deputy county attorney may present an information in his own name; hence the fact that an information was signed by him instead of by the county attorney did not render it invalid; at most his act, while perhaps improper from an ethical standpoint, was no more than an irregularity which could not affect appellant's substantial rights and was therefore insufficient to warrant reversal. State v. Larson, 75 M 274, 276, 243 P 566.

Sufficiency of Charge—Perjury

If an information for perjury sets forth the substance of the matter in respect to which the offense was committed, in what court and before whom the oath alleged to have been false was taken, and that the court or the person before whom it was taken had authority to administer it, with proper allegations of the falsity of the matter on which perjury is assigned, it is sufficient. State v. Jackson, 88 M 420, 428, 293 P 309.

Sufficiency of Charge—Person Injured

While a mistake in the name of the person injured is not to be deemed material, if the injury is so described in other respects as to identify it, yet if it is not so identified by the evidence as that it can be said to be the same, there is such a variance as amounts to a failure of proof, and the conviction cannot be sustained. State v. Moxley, 41 M 402, 409, 110 P 83.

Sufficiency of Charge—Robbery

It is sufficient in an information for robbery, to charge that the taking was accomplished "with" force and fear, instead of "by means of force and fear." The word "with," in this connection, is equivalent to the expression "by means of." State v. Pemberton, 39 M 530, 532, 104 P 556.

An information for robbery is sufficient, with respect to the crime, if it enables a person of ordinary understanding to know what is intended to be charged. State v. Pemberton, 39 M 530, 532, 104 P 556.

Sufficiency of Charge—Sedition

An information charging sedition, in that defendant knowingly, unlawfully, etc.,

uttered and published disloyal, profane, violent, scurrilous, contemptuous, and abusive language concerning the soldiers and the uniform of the United States army, was defective for failure to set out the specific words characterizing his remarks as disloyal, contemptuous, etc. State v. Wolf, 56 M 493, 499, 185 P 556.

An information charging a violation of the sedition act is sufficient in stating that the defendant had said that the American soldiers "would act in the same way and commit the same atrocities as have been reported of the German soldiers," without setting out the atrocities reported to have been committed by the German soldiers. State v. Wyman, 56 M 600, 607, 186 P 1.

An information in charging the crime of sedition is fatally defective on the ground of uncertainty where it is alleged that the offense consists of the statement that "she wished the people would revolt and that she would shoulder a gun and get the president the first one," for the reason that a presumption must be indulged in to determine whether the defendant meant the people or the president of the United States or the people or president of some other country. State v. Smith, 58 M 567, 572, 194 P 131.

An information charging one with seditious utterances should set forth the fact whether the words were uttered in private conversation with a single person or from a public platform, or were disseminated through the medium of printed articles. State v. McGlynn, 60 M 416, 420, 199 P 708.

Sufficiency of Charge—Theft

Under provision that an information charging a criminal offense must contain a statement of the facts constituting the crime in ordinary and concise language so as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is intended, held, that an information charging defendant with stealing "five Ford wire wheels and tires" was sufficient to advise him that five wire wheels and tires for a Ford automobile were the articles charged to have been stolen, and therefore sufficient to enable him to prepare for his defense. State v. Dimond, 82 M 110, 112, 265 P 5.

Sufficiency of Charge—Time of Offense

An indictment for rape, which charges the commission of the offense "on or about" a certain day, sufficiently states the time. State v. Thompson, 10 M 549, 557, 27 P 349.

Sufficiency of Charge—Unlawful Sale of Drug

Information charging unlawful sale of morphine hydrochloride held sufficient. State v. Brennan, 89 M 479, 487, 300 P 273.

Superfluous Words or Sentences Held Immaterial

Superfluous words or sentences inserted in an information charging crime may be treated as surplusage and disregarded, if, without such words and sentences, it sufficiently charges the offense alleged to have been committed. State v. McGowan, 36 M 422, 427, 93 P 552.

Technical Error

Query, as to whether the rule, that "error appearing, prejudice will be presumed," as announced prior to the adoption of the codes in 1895 was abrogated by sections declaring that no judgment shall be held invalid for mere technical errors not affecting the substantial rights of the defendant. State v. Gordon, 35 M 458, 466, 90 P 173.

Where, under the evidence submitted at a trial for assault in the second degree, the defendant might have been convicted of assault in either the second or third degree, but was found guilty of the lower degree, the judgment will not be reversed for a purely technical error in giving an instruction. State v. Tracey, 35 M 552, 555, 90 P 791.

A judgment of conviction will not be reversed for error in the trial proceedings, unless it has prejudiced, or tended to prejudice, the defendant in respect to a substantial right. State v. Rhys, 40 M 131, 134, 105 P 494.

When It Is Proper To Allow Endorsement After Filing

Where defendant's attorney knew of a witness against defendant, but failed to discover the nature and extent of his potential testimony, assuming he would not be discovered, it was not reversible error to permit the witness' name to be endorsed on the information the day of the trial, nor to permit the witness to testify, since the elements of surprise and unfair advantage were lacking under the circumstances. State v. Cooper, 146 M 336, 406 P 2d 691.

When Refusal of Continuance not Prejudicial

Where defendant, charged with committing lewd and lascivious acts upon a female child of the age of nine years, had been notified by the county attorney after plea and the day before the trial that he intended to prove that the offense was committed about a week later than charged in the information and the court denied his motion for continuance, such refusal was not prejudicial error since time is not a material ingredient of the offense. State v. Koche, 112 M 511, 518, 119 P 2d 35.

When Variance Not Reversible Error

While defendant was furnished a bill of particulars showing that while the information charged the violation of the liquor law on a certain date, the state would rely on proof of a sale made on a different date and during the trial the court inquired of him whether he had been taken by surprise, and he declined to state that he was surprised and did not ask for a continuance, he was in no position to claim prejudice by the introduction of proof relating to a sale made on the latter date, he not having been injured by the variance, if any. State v. Knilians, 69 M 8, 13, 220 P 91.

Where Offense Incorrectly Named, Not Fatal to Pleading

The general rule is that when the facts, acts and circumstances are set forth with sufficient certainty to constitute an offense, it is not a fatal defect that the complaint gives the offense an erroneous name; the name of the crime is controlled by the specific acts charged, and an erroneous name of the charge does not vitiate the complaint. State v. Schnell, 107 M 579, 585, 88 P 2d 19.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW*Bill of Particulars

Where one charged with crime deems the information too indefinite or uncertain he has the privilege of demanding a bill of particulars to supply the deficiency. Modern tendency of criminal procedure has been toward simplification. State v. Summers, 107 M 34, 35, 79 P 2d 560.

Where an inquest had been held a year prior to trial in a prosecution for manslaughter for the killing of a pedestrian by reckless driving, the court could presume that the coroner had complied with the law as to the transcript of the testimony, which was available for defendant's inspection for the desired information, held, denial of defendant's motion for a bill of particulars not an abuse of the court's discretion. State v. Robinson, 109 M 322, 327, 96 P 2d 265.

As against the contention that a bill of particulars may not be resorted to for the purpose of perfecting a defective information, held, that such is the rule, but the bill may be resorted to for the purpose of clarifying the general terms of the information. A bill of particulars performs a function for the information similar to that of a definition for a word; it is designed for use where the information is sufficient, on demurrer, and, in the sound discretion of the court and in furtherance of justice, to give accused fair notice of what he is called on to defend, a bill of particulars may, on motion of accused, be required. State v. Wong Sun, 114 M 185, 192, 133 P 2d 761.

Declaratory of the Common Law

Former section stating what indictment or information must contain was but a paraphrase of the common-law rules covering the requisites of criminal pleading. State v. Wolf, 56 M 493, 496, 185 P 556.

Endorsement of Witnesses' Names

Where the name of a witness known to the county attorney at the filing of the information was omitted, but there was no evidence of bad faith, the court properly permitted it to be endorsed on the day before trial. State v. Calder, 23 M 504, 506, 59 P 903. See also State v. Biggs, 45 M 400, 403, 123 P 410.

The act of the county attorney in endorsing, under the directions of the court, the names of other witnesses on the information is not error, as such witnesses were subject to be examined whether their names were endorsed on the information or not. State v. Schnepel, 23 M 523, 524, 59 P 927. See also State v. Newman, 34 M 434, 437, 87 P 462; State v. Biggs, 45 M 400, 403, 123 P 410.

It is error to deny the county attorney the right to examine witnesses because their names do not appear on the information, in the absence of a showing on the part of the defendant that the county attorney did in fact know of their existence at the time the information was filed. State v. Schnepel, 23 M 523, 525, 59 P 927.

A witness in a criminal prosecution may not be prevented from testifying because his name was not endorsed on the information, where it does not appear from the record that the county attorney knew of the witness at the time he filed the information. State v. Newman, 34 M 434, 437, 87 P 462. See also State v. Biggs, 45 M 400, 403, 123 P 410.

Omission by the county attorney to endorse the names of material witnesses for the state upon an information, as required by former statute, either because not known to him at the inception of the prosecution, or through negligence or ignorance, is not sufficient reason to make their testimony inadmissible. State v. McDonald, 51 M 1, 4, 149 P 279.

Where a county attorney violated the express statutory injunction by endorsing the name of a witness as "John Doe Mitchell," whereas he knew his true name to be "James Mitchell," defendant was not entitled to a new trial in the absence of a showing that he had been prejudiced by the officer's delinquency. State v. McDonald, 51 M 1, 7, 149 P 279.

Even though a county attorney knew of witnesses whose names he did not endorse upon the information at the time of its filing, it was still within the discretion of the trial court to allow them to be examined. State v. McDonald, 51 M 1, 4, 149 P 279.

Provision requiring endorsement of witness' names on information was intended as a safeguard to the accused against surprise and unfair advantage by the prosecuting officer, and to serve the same purpose as a like provision relating to the disclosure of the names of witnesses upon whose testimony an indictment is found and returned by a grand jury. State v. McDonald, 51 M 1, 5, 149 P 279.

The purpose of former section requiring endorsement of witnesses' names on information was to advise the defendant, so far as reasonably possible, of the witnesses known to the county attorney when the information was filed, whom the state intended to call against him, in order that he might have the opportunity to make inquiry with respect to them and prepare himself to meet their testimony. State v. McDonald, 51 M 1, 4, 149 P 279. See also State v. Gaimos, 53 M 118, 121, 162 P 596.

While section, requiring the county attorney to endorse the names of all witnesses known to him upon an information at the time of its filing, did not require the names of subsequently discovered witnesses to be so endorsed, he should, under former law, have done so, to avoid complaint that the accused did not have sufficient opportunity to meet the testimony of witnesses of whom he had no knowledge; concealment of names of material witnesses might, on a proper showing, have constituted prejudice. State v. Harkins, 85 M 585, 281 P 551.

Where a county attorney at the time of filing an information did not know that a certain person would be a witness and therefore did not endorse his name thereon, his application to permit him to make the endorsement at the beginning of the trial, held to have been properly granted. State v. Harkins, 85 M 585, 281 P 551; State v. Gaffney, 106 M 310, 313, 77 P 2d 398.

Former statute requiring county attorney to endorse names of state's witnesses on an information at the time it was filed, if they were known, did not prevent state from using witnesses whose names were not so endorsed. Held, in the instant case, that defendant could not have been prejudiced because of previous showing, and situation was not one wherein there had been a concealment of incriminating evidence, but designed for rebuttal and corroboration. State v. Akers, 106 M 43, 54, 74 P 2d 1138.

Reason for former statutory requirement that names of witnesses be endorsed on the information was to safeguard defendant against surprise and unfair advantage. There was no unfair advantage taken of defendant when the county attorney endorsed the name of a witness after impaneling a jury because he did not know of the existence of the witness at the time when the information was filed and gave notice to the defendant's attorney at that time and offered to agree to a reasonable delay in the trial in order that the defendant could examine the witness and secure evidence to meet his testimony. State v. Phillips, 127 M 381, 264 P 2d 1009, 1015.

Purpose of former section requiring endorsement of witnesses' names on information at time of filing was to protect accused from surprise and unfair advantage and to afford him a fair opportunity to defend himself adequately. State v. Cooper, 146 M 336, 406 P 2d 691.

Under former statute requiring endorsement of witnesses' names on information at time of filing, it was not reversible error to permit endorsement on day of trial and to allow the witness to testify where defense attorney knew of the witness but failed to discover the nature and extent of his potential testimony; under the circumstances the elements of surprise and unfair advantage were lacking. State v. Cooper, 146 M 336, 406 P 2d 691.

Endorsement of Witnesses' Names—Defendant's Wife

Where the name of defendant's wife was endorsed on the information among the names of the witnesses for the state, over his objection that she was incompetent, but on the trial she was excluded from testifying, on a renewal of the objection, defendant was not prejudiced by being compelled to object to her competency before the jury. State v. Sloan, 22 M 293, 297, 56 P 364. See also State v. Biggs, 45 M 400, 403, 123 P 410.

Language of Statute—Bill of Particulars

Ordinarily, an information charging a public offense in the language of the statute is sufficient; if deemed insufficient as to details and facts, the remedy of defendant was formerly by way of a request for a bill of particulars. State v. Hahn, 105 M 270, 273, 72 P 2d 459.

Larceny

Former provision that indictment or information was sufficient if it could be understood therefrom that offense was committed or triable within court's jurisdiction had no application to an information charging larceny. State v. De Wolfe, 29 M 415, 422, 74 P 1084, overruled on other grounds in State v. Penna, 35 M 535, 546, 90 P 787.

Purpose

Former sections governing forms and rules of pleading and sufficiency and form of indictments and informations were intended to relax the technical rules which prevailed at the common law, and to simplify the procedure to the end that regard to substance rather than form should be the rule of interpretation. State v. Brown, 38 M 309, 312, 99 P 954.

Sufficiency of Charge

An information charging illegal transportation of intoxicating liquor in the language of the statute, that defendant "at the county of M. did willfully, wrongfully and unlawfully transport certain intoxicating liquors," etc., was sufficient as against the contention that it was fatally defective for failure to charge that the offense was committed within the jurisdiction of the court; if deemed insufficient it was the duty of defendant to apply for a bill of particulars in advance of the trial. State v. Redmond, 73 M 376, 378, 237 P 486.

Sufficiency of Charge—Secreting Public Record

Where an indictment for secreted a public record alleged that defendant, being an officer and having in his custody a certain public record, and which said record came into and was in his hands, and was by him feloniously secreted, and defendant contended that the charging part was an unfinished sentence, and that the allegation respecting secretion was merely descriptive of the record, the offense was charged with "such a degree of certainty" that judgment might be pronounced according to the right of the case, under former section governing sufficiency. State v. Bloor, 20 M 574, 582, 52 P 611.

Sufficiency of Charge—Time of Offense

Under the Prohibition Act it was a public offense to possess liquor unlawfully at any time, hence time was not an ingredient of the offense within the meaning of former section, providing that the precise time at which it was committed need not be stated in the information, it being sufficient if it is alleged that its commission occurred at any time before filing thereof, except where the time is a material ingredient in the offense. State v. Terry, 77 M 297, 299, 250 P 612.

Technical Error

A remark of the trial judge in passing upon an objection to a question asked a witness for the defense in a criminal cause to the effect: "I don't think that is very material; let him answer," while improper, held technical error under former statute, and nonprejudicial when considered in connection with the particular circumstances. State v. Cassill, 71 M 274, 283, 229 P 716.

When Bill of Particulars Available

Where defendant charged with crime deems the information too indefinite and uncertain he has the privilege of applying for a bill of particulars, and where it is apparent that by reason of the too general character of the charge defendant may have difficulty in preparing his defense, the trial court should incline toward granting the motion for such a bill. State v. Stevens, 104 M 189, 198, 65 P 2d 612.

95-1504. Joinder of offenses and of defendants. (a) An indictment, information, complaint or accusation may charge two (2) or more different offenses connected together in their commission, or different statements of the same offense or two (2) or more different offenses of the same class of crimes or offenses, under separate counts, and if two (2) or more indictments, informations, complaints or accusations are filed in such cases in the same court, the court may order them to be consolidated. Allegations made in one count may be incorporated by reference in another count. The prosecution is not required to elect between the different offenses or counts set forth in the indictment, information, complaint or accusation, but the defendant may be convicted of any number of the offenses charged, and each offense of which the defendant is convicted must be stated in the verdict or the finding of the court; provided, that the court in which the case is triable, in the interests of justice and for good cause shown, may in its discretion order that the different offenses or counts set forth in the indictment, information, complaint and accusation be tried separately or divided into two (2) or more groups and each of said groups tried separately. An acquittal of one (1) or more counts shall not be deemed an acquittal of any other count.

(b) Two (2) or more defendants may be charged in the same indictment or information if they are alleged to have participated in the same series of acts or transactions constituting an offense or offenses. Such defendants may be charged in one (1) or more counts together or separately and all of the defendants need not be charged in each count.

(c) If it appears that a defendant or the state is prejudiced by a joinder of related prosecutions or defendants in a single charge or by joinder of separate charges or defendants for trial the court may order separate trials, grant a severance of defendants, or provide any other relief as justice may require.

History: En. 95-1504 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

Discharging defendant that he may be a witness for the state or for his co-defendant, effect of such discharge, secs. 94-7206 to 94-7208.

Former Jeopardy

Where the defendant was charged with twenty-two counts of statutory rape and convicted on nine of the counts, it was proper that each charge be set forth in a separate count in the information and there was no violation of state or federal constitutional guaranty against double jeopardy. State v. Boe, 143 M 141, 388 P 2d 372.

Information in five counts, three of which alleged larceny of more than one cow, did not violate "former jeopardy" provision of constitution in that each count states a separate offense and in view of grand larceny statute which makes the theft of each separate animal a separate and distinct offense and in view of statute providing for joinder of offenses which permits an information to charge more than one offense in separate counts. State v. Johnson, 149 M 173, 424 P 2d 728.

Waived by Failure To Demur

Any objection to the inclusion in one count of the statement of different forms of the same offense must be made in the district court, and before plea. The objection that the information charges two offenses is waived by a failure to demur. State v. Mahoney, 24 M 281, 285, 61 P 647.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

What Constitutes Two Offenses

An information charging forgery in two counts, the first by the false making of the instrument, and the second by uttering it, is not vulnerable to attack by demurrer for charging two offenses, the inhibition of former section that the indictment or information must charge but one offense, being directed to pleadings which charge more than one distinct offense and not to one which in each of two counts charges the same offense. State v. Mitton, 37 M 366, 370, 96 P 926. See First Nat. Bank of Miles City v. Barrett, 52 M 359, 365, 157 P 951.

Former provision permitted only one offense to be charged in information, and conviction could be had for that offense only; different acts of the same sort might be proved for purpose of corroboration. State v. Gaimos, 53 M 118, 124, 162 P 596.

An information against a defendant for knowingly and without consideration taking or receiving from a prostitute any of her earnings, and also with living upon the earnings of a prostitute, charged two distinct offenses in violation of former statute. State v. Kanakaris, 54 M 180, 182, 169 P 42.

95-1505. Amending the charge. (a) A charge may be amended in matters of substance at any time before the defendant pleads, without leave of court.

(b) The court may permit any charge to be amended as to form at any time before verdict or finding if no additional or different offense is charged and if the substantial rights of the defendant are not prejudiced.

(c) No charge shall be dismissed because of a formal defect which does not tend to prejudice a substantial right of the defendant.

History: En. 95-1505 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Amendment of Information

Under former section, an information could be amended in matter of substance or form at any time before the defendant pleaded, without leave of court, but after plea it could be amended as to form only when it could be done without prejudice to the rights of defendant, and as to substance not at all. State v. Fisher, 79 M 46, 49, 254 P 872.

Under former statute held, that where defendant was charged by information with a misdemeanor (liquor violation) and some four months after plea of not guilty the county attorney was permitted, over objection, to amend the information by adding a charge of prior conviction thereby changing the grade of the offense from a misdemeanor to a felony—a matter of substance—the action of the court in allowing the amendment constituted error, the fact that defendant after amendment was arraigned and pleaded over not changing the rule. State v. Fisher, 79 M 46, 49, 254 P 872.

When the new trial was granted after defendant was convicted and served about a month in the state prison in a prosecution for the larceny of one of four colts, held that, the information could have been amended by leave of court to charge the same offense, without violating any right of defendant and without the right of defendant to plead former jeopardy. State v. Aus, 105 M 82, 87, 69 P 2d 584.

Where court allowed state to amend information charging defendant with incest by changing "fornication" to "adultery" there was no substantial change in the charge and only touched a matter of form. Whether the defendant was married or unmarried at the time is not a material ingredient of the offense. In either event the defendant is guilty, if the intercourse charged is proved. State v. Kuntz, 130 M 126, 295 P 2d 707, 710.

The filing of second information, alleging same facts as contained in first information, was in fact an amendment in a matter of substance of the first information in violation of defendant's rights under statute proscribing amendments in a matter of substance, which defendant, represented by competent counsel, waived for failure to raise timely objection and which defect could have been rectified in the first instance if the prosecuting attorney had availed himself of the statute providing for the dismissal of information by having the first information dismissed and then filing a second information. Gransberry v. State, 149 M 158, 423 P 2d 853.

Amendment of Information—Name of Victim

An information for the crime of robbery may be amended at the close of the testimony for the state, so as to change the name of the person from whom it is alleged the property was feloniously taken. State v. Oliver, 20 M 318, 321, 50 P 1018.

Apex Juris Not Sufficient To Reverse

Where no substantial right of the defendant has been disregarded, a mere apex juris is not sufficient cause for the reversal or modification of the judgment. State v. Connors, 27 M 227, 229, 70 P 715.

Clerical Error

Information inadvertently charging that defendant on a certain day in the year "19122" sold intoxicating liquor held not to have prejudiced him in any substantial right, where evidence of a sale made on that day in the year 1922 was admitted without objection by defendant and he was prepared to meet the charge on the assumption that that was the correct date, introduced evidence tending to establish an alibi and offered no objection to an instruction advising the jury that if they found that the sale was made on that day they must find him guilty. State v. Polich, 70 M 523, 526, 226 P 519.

Form

The statute authorizes an information to be amended as to form; thus, an information charging "the malicious destruction of property" may properly be amended by substituting the word "burning" for the word "destruction." State v. Sieff, 54 M 165, 168, 168 P 524.

Prior Conviction Charged

Where the state on the day of trial filed an amended information changing the charge from robbery to robbery and a prior conviction of forgery, and the defendant was given no opportunity to either admit or deny the previous conviction, such amendment was substantive, increased the minimum penalty, and was reversible error. State v. Knight, 143 M 27, 387 P 2d 22.

Sufficiency of Charge

The fact that an amendment was in fact made does not affect the sufficiency of the information, if the same was sufficient before the addition was made. State v. Davis, 141 M 197, 376 P 2d 727, 729.

Sufficiency of Charge—Misspelling

An information alleging that defendant feloniously, willfully, and of his "deliberately" premeditated malice aforethought committed the homicide in question, was not fatally defective because of the mere misspelling of the word "deliberately." State v. Lu Sing, 34 M 31, 35, 85 P 521.

Technical Error

A technical error in pleading a prior conviction in another state will not work a reversal if the punishment imposed does not exceed the proper limit. State v. Paisley, 36 M 237, 248, 92 P 566.

Time and Place Are Essential

While in this state much of the particularity required at the common law has been dispensed with, and no defect or imperfection in form, which does not prejudice the substantial rights of the defendant, can affect a judgment of conviction, still time and place are essential elements, and must be so alleged as to enable a person of common understanding to know what is intended by the charge. State v. Beeskove, 34 M 41, 50, 85 P 376.

Waiver of Objection

Where, after plea of not guilty, county attorney asked permission to amend information and counsel for defendant stated there was no objection, any objection to the amendment of the information to include a prior conviction was waived. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 122 M 249, 200 P 2d 248.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW*Amendment of Information

Former statute permitting amendment of indictment or information on trial where variance as to time, place, person or thing appeared was constitutional and conferred power on court to grant permission to the county attorney in a prosecution under the liquor law to amend the information at the close of the state's case by changing the date on which the offense was charged to have been committed. State v. Terry, 77 M 297, 298, 250 P 612.

Sufficiency of Charge

Under former section making all forms of pleading and rules by which sufficiency of pleadings is to be determined those prescribed by code, an information was sufficient where it conformed substantially to statutory form and rules and where there was no imperfection in matter or form thereof tending to the prejudice of a substantial right of the defendant on its merits. State v. Stickney, 29 M 523, 528, 75 P 201.

95-1506. Prior conviction. When the state seeks increased punishment of the accused as a prior convicted felon under section 94-4713, notice of that fact must be given in writing to the accused or his attorney before the entry of a plea of guilty by the accused, or before the case is called for trial upon a plea of not guilty. Such notice must conform to the following provisions:

(a) The notice must specify the prior convictions alleged to have been incurred by the accused.

(b) The notice and the charges of prior convictions contained therein shall not be made public nor in any manner be made known to the jury before the jury's verdict is returned upon the felony charge provided that if the defendant shall testify in his own behalf he shall nevertheless be subject to impeachment as provided in section 93-1901-11, R. C. M. 1947, as amended.

(c) If the accused is convicted upon the felony charge, the notice, together with proper proof of timely service, shall be filed with the court before the time fixed for sentence. The court shall then fix a time for hearing with at least three (3) days' notice to the accused.

(d) The hearing shall be held before the court alone. If the court finds any of the allegations of prior conviction true, the accused shall be sentenced under the provisions of section 94-4713.

History: En. 95-1506 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11450-2-3-4, Oct. 10, 1968, eff. Dec. 1, 1968.

Cross-References

Second offense, how punished after conviction of former offense, sec. 94-4713.

Amended Information

Where the state on the day of trial filed an amended information changing the charge from robbery, to robbery and a prior conviction of forgery, and the defendant was given no opportunity to either admit or deny the previous conviction, such amendment was substantive, increased the minimum penalty, and was reversible error. State v. Knight, 143 M 27, 387 P 2d 22.

Not Retroactive

The statute precluding disclosure to the jury, in a criminal proceeding, of any prior convictions does not apply retroactively to a criminal trial prior to the effective date of the statute. State v. Gray, — M —, 447 P 2d 475.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Plea of Guilty

Former statute providing that jury should determine whether accused has been previously convicted contemplated that the answer to charge or allegation of prior conviction should be an admission or denial, but a plea of guilty was an admission of the charge. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 122 M 249, 200 P 2d 248, 249.

Plea of Not Guilty

Contention of petitioner for writ of habeas corpus that his confinement was illegal because information was amended before trial to charge a previous conviction of a felony and that while he entered a plea of not guilty to such charge of previous conviction the jury made no reference to it in their verdict, as required by statute, was completely false, where the verdict stated that the jury found defendant guilty of lewd and lascivious act upon a child, as alleged in the information, and found the charge of previous lewd and lascivious acts upon a child as alleged in the information true and left the fixing of his punishment to the court. In re Davis' Petition, 139 M 622, 365 P 2d 948, 949.

ARRAIGNMENT OF DEFENDANT

- Section 95-1601. Arraignment defined.
 95-1602. Place of arraignment.
 95-1603. Presence of defendant.
 95-1604. Bringing defendant into court.
 95-1605. Joint defendants.
 95-1606. Procedure on arraignment.
 95-1607. Time allowed to answer.
 95-1608. Irregularity of arraignment.

95-1601. Arraignment defined. Arraignment is the formal act of calling the defendant into open court to answer the charge against him.

History: En. 95-1601 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1602. Place of arraignment. The defendant shall be arraigned in the court in which the indictment, information or complaint is filed, unless before arraignment the cause has been removed to another court, in which case he shall be arraigned in that court.

History: En. 95-1602 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1603. Presence of defendant. If the offense charged is a felony, the defendant must be personally present for arraignment; but if a misdemeanor, he may appear by counsel.

History: En. 95-1603 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1604. Bringing defendant into court. The court may direct any official who has custody of the defendant to bring him before the court to be arraigned.

History: En. 95-1604 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1605. Joint defendants. Defendants who are jointly charged may be arraigned separately or together, in the discretion of the court.

History: En. 95-1605 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1606. Procedure on arraignment. The arraignment in any court in this state must be conducted in the following manner:

(a) The arraignment must be in open court.

(b) The court must inquire of the defendant or his counsel the defendant's true name and if the defendant's true name be given as any other than that used in the charge, the court must order the defendant's name to be substituted for the name under which he is charged, and the subsequent proceedings must be conducted with the defendant charged under that name, but in the discretion of the court the defendant may also be referred to by the name by which he was first charged.

(c) The court must determine whether the defendant is under any disability which would prevent the court in its discretion from proceeding with the arraignment. The arraignment may be continued until such time as the court determines the defendant is able to proceed.

(d) The defendant shall be advised by the court as follows:

(1) Of the nature of the crime charged against him;

(2) Of the punishment as set forth by statute for the crime charged;

(3) If the defendant appears for arraignment without counsel the court shall advise him of his right to counsel and of his right to assigned counsel if he is unable to employ counsel. If counsel is or has been waived by the defendant the court shall ascertain if the waiver is or was voluntary before proceeding;

(4) Of the time prescribed by statute to enter a plea;

(5) Of his right to secure bail to release him from custody.

(e) The court, or the clerk or county attorney under its direction must deliver to the defendant a true copy of the indictment, information or complaint, including the endorsements thereon and the list of witnesses, when required, and read the indictment, information or complaint to the defendant, unless the defendant or his counsel waives such reading, and ask him whether he pleads guilty or not guilty to the indictment, information or complaint.

The defendant shall enter a plea of guilty or not guilty to the indictment, information or complaint. If the defendant refuses to plead to the indictment, information or complaint a plea of not guilty must be entered.

The court may refuse to accept a plea of guilty and shall not accept the plea of guilty without first determining that the plea is voluntary with an understanding of the charge.

(f) The court must prepare and keep a written record of all arraignment proceedings. In district courts a verbatim record of all arraignment proceedings must be made, preserved and filed with the court.

History: En. 95-1606 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Conditional Pleas Not Authorized

Held, under former statutes, that since the codes make no provision permitting one charged with a criminal offense to enter a conditional plea to the effect that he pleads guilty provided the punishment imposed be not greater than that designated, the court has no authority to receive such a plea and its entry is a nullity. State v. Dow, 71 M 291, 299, 229 P 402.

Copy of Information

Where defendant raised objection that copy of information furnished him was materially different from the information on which he was about to be tried, which objection court sustained, and required defendant to be furnished with a true copy, as required by former statute, a refusal of the request constituted reversible error under this section, the record showing that no plea was entered at the trial; former provision requiring that accused, on arraignment, be given a copy of the information meant a true copy. State v. De Wolfe, 29 M 415, 74 P 1084, overruled on other grounds in State v. Penna, 35 M 535, 546, 90 P 787.

Defendant's Refusal To Plead

Where the record discloses that the defendant refused to plead to any charge contained in the indictment, statute is sufficiently complied with by the action of the court in ordering a plea of "not guilty to all charges contained in the indictment." State v. Clancy, 20 M 498, 502, 52 P 267.

Where time for entering plea arrived, requiring defendant to plead to information, even though in absence of counsel, was not error and where defendant stood mute, court properly entered a plea of not guilty for him. State v. Stevens, 119 M 169, 172 P 2d 299, 301.

Endorsements on Information

It would appear from former section that the endorsements on the information are not considered part of the information. State v. De Lea, 36 M 531, 533, 93 P 814.

Mandatory Duties on Arraignment

The provisions of predecessor section were mandatory, and it was the duty of the district court to inform the defendant that he had a right to counsel, that if he was without means to employ counsel that counsel would be provided for him by the state without cost and to inform him of the extent of the penalty provided by law; the record was required to show that statutory provisions as to period of time between plea and sentence were complied with. State ex. rel. Biebinger v. Ellsworth, 147 M 512, 415 P 2d 728.

Pleas

Former provision authorizing four kinds of pleas to an indictment or information were not applicable in an action for death by wrongful act where a violation of the statute requiring the use of safety-cages in mines was charged. Maronen v. Anaconda Copper Min. Co., 48 M 249, 261, 136 P 968.

Defendant was charged with liquor violations in four counts; he entered a plea of not guilty "to the offense charged." Two counts were dismissed and he was found guilty on the remaining two. Held, as against the contention that the conviction cannot be sustained because defendant never pleaded to the charges contained in the two counts on which conviction was had but had pleaded only to one offense, not ascertained, that his plea to the information as a whole was authorized, and therefore sufficient. State v. Grasswick, 77 M 326, 328, 250 P 613.

When Motion To Change Plea to Not Guilty Properly Denied

Quaere: Is there a plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity"? Where defendant pleaded guilty on two charges of murder, was sentenced to life imprisonment on each, and three years later filed motions for leave to withdraw his pleas of guilty and substitute pleas of not guilty by reason of insanity caused by alcoholism, held, under the facts and circumstances presented, that the motions were properly denied. State v. Hukoveh, 115 M 125, 131, 139 P 2d 538.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Once in Jeopardy

The plea of "once in jeopardy," authorized by former statute, included the plea of former conviction or acquittal, also authorized by same statute. State v. Keerl, 33 M 501, 515, 85 P 862, affirmed 213 US 135, 53 LEd 734, 29 Sct 469.

95-1607. Time allowed to answer. If, on the arraignment, the defendant requires it, he must be allowed a reasonable time, not less than one (1) day, to answer or otherwise plead to the indictment, information or complaint. The answer may include appropriate pretrial motions.

History: En. 95-1607 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Cross-Reference

Defendant's right to reasonable time for preparation of trial after plea, sec. 95-1907.

Time for Entering Plea

Where time for entering plea arrived, requiring defendant to plead to information, even though in absence of counsel, was not error and where defendant stood mute court properly entered a plea of not guilty for him. State v. Stevens, 119 M 169, 172 P 2d 299, 301.

95-1608. Irregularity of arraignment. No irregularity in the arraignment which does not affect the substantial rights of the defendant shall affect the validity of any proceeding in the cause if the defendant pleads to the charge or proceeds to trial without objecting to such irregularity.

History: En. 95-1608 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

CHAPTER 17

PRETRIAL MOTIONS

- Section 95-1701. Defenses and objections which may be raised before trial.
 95-1702. Defenses and objections which must be raised before trial.
 95-1703. Dismissal on motion of court or application of attorney prosecuting.
 95-1704. Time of making motion.
 95-1705. Hearing on motion.
 95-1706. Effect of determination.
 95-1707. Transfer of trial.
 95-1708. Motion for continuance.
 95-1709. Substitution of judge.
 95-1710. Change of place of trial.

95-1701. Defenses and objections which may be raised before trial. Any defense or objection which is capable of determination without the trial of the general issue may be raised before trial by motion to dismiss or for other appropriate relief. The motion shall state with particularity the grounds therefor and the order or relief sought.

History: En. 95-1701 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Compiler's Notes

A number of cases involving former statutes having no specific counterpart in the new Code of Criminal Procedure have been annotated under this chapter. Only those points which would be decided differently under the new code or which construe a repealed statute are designated as Decisions Under Former Law.

95-1702. Defenses and objections which must be raised before trial. Defenses and objections based on defects in the institution of the prosecution or in the complaint, indictment or information other than that it fails to show jurisdiction in the court or to charge an offense may be raised only before trial by motion to dismiss or for other appropriate relief. The motion shall include all such defenses and objections then available to the defendant. Failure to present any such defense or objection as herein provided constitutes a waiver thereof, but the court for cause shown may grant relief from the waiver. Lack of jurisdiction or the failure of the indictment, information, or complaint to charge an offense shall be noticed by the court at any time during the pendency of the proceeding.

History: En. 95-1702 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Amendment of Information

There was no error in permitting information to be amended to allege prior conviction when there was no objection by defendant and defendant's attorney consented to its filing. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 122 M 249, 200 P 2d 248.

Attacking Charge on Remand

When a first conviction is set aside the defendant is not precluded upon a remand for a new trial from attacking the indictment or information. State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 230, overruled on another point in 142 M 459, 462, 384 P 2d 749. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

Demurrer

The objection that the facts stated in an information do not constitute a public offense may be taken either by demurrer or at the trial, under a plea of not guilty, or after the trial, in arrest of judgment. State v. Smith, 58 M 567, 570, 194 P 131.

Defendant's demurrer to the information charging him with the crime of obtaining money by false pretenses on the ground that it failed to state a public offense was properly overruled by the trial court for the reason that the information contained all of the elements of the offense of obtaining money by false pretenses. State v. Lagerquist, — M —, 445 P 2d 910.

Demurrer Because Uncertain and Indirect

If a charge of crime is not direct and certain, it is open to attack on special demurrer. State v. Pemberton, 39 M 530, 533, 104 P 556.

Demurrer on the Grounds That the Action Is Barred by the Statute of Limitations

Where an information for a misdemeanor was filed more than one year and ten months after alleged offense, and it alleged that, on or about that time, the defendant left the state and afterwards resided without the state, the defendant could properly demur to the information on ground that prosecution was barred by the statute of limitations. State v. Clemens, 40 M 567, 571, 107 P 896.

Defendant was charged with taking and using an automobile without the consent of the owner, under section 94-3305, which makes the offense punishable by fine or imprisonment in the county jail, or by imprisonment in the state penitentiary not exceeding five years. The information was not filed until fourteen months after the commission of the offense. Held, that the district court erred in sustaining a demurrer to the pleading on the ground that, the offense being a misdemeanor, the limitation of one year fixed by section 94-5703, within which the information could be filed had expired, and holding that it was without jurisdiction to proceed. State v. Atlas, 75 M 547, 549, 244 P 477.

Dismissal as a Bar

Dismissal of an information before defendant is called upon to plead or before the jury is impaneled and sworn does not bar a subsequent prosecution for the same offense. State v. Knilians, 69 M 8, 15, 220 P 91.

Dismissal Not Bar in Contempt Proceedings

While a contempt proceeding is criminal in its nature it is not a criminal prosecution, and where such a proceeding was dismissed before hearing without prejudice, and a new one was thereafter instituted by an attorney as relator, dismissal of the first citation did not constitute a bar to any further prosecution under former statute, and contemnor's special plea in bar was insufficient either to constitute a bar or a defense to the proceeding in contempt. State ex rel. Hall v. Niewoehner, 116 M 437, 449, 155 P 2d 205.

Facts Stated Do Not Constitute a Public Offense

Information charging a violation of section 94-1805 (obtaining money under false pretenses) which only avers that the defendant made a "false" or "fraudulent" representation is not sufficient. It must expressly allege the facts which made the stated pretense false. State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 232, distinguished in 135 M 449, 453, 340 P 2d 157, 160, overruled on another point in 142 M 459, 462, 384 P 2d 749. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

Former Jeopardy

Former section providing that the dismissal of a prosecution for felony is not a bar to a second prosecution was not decisive of the question of former jeopardy. State v. Gaimos, 53 M 118, 121, 162 P 596.

Defendant charged with sale of intoxicating liquor to a minor was not placed in former jeopardy in violation of section 18, article III of the Montana constitution, by a dismissal of the complaint upon his demurrer in justice court without any further proceedings. State v. Moore, 138 M 379, 357 P 2d 346, 347.

How To Object to Information on the Grounds of Duplicity

An objection to an information on the grounds of duplicity is addressed to the jurisdiction of the court rather than to the form of the information and may be raised by an objection to the introduction of evidence and a motion to compel on election. State v. Mjelde, 29 M 490, 75 P 87.

Improper Joinder of Counts

The objection that several offenses are improperly united under separate counts in an information cannot be raised by a motion to require the prosecution to elect upon which one count it would rely for conviction, but must be taken by demurrer. State v. Marchindo, 65 M 431, 435, 211 P 1093.

Motion In Arrest of Judgment

A motion in arrest of judgment must be founded on some defect in the information, and extrinsic evidence cannot be received at a hearing of such motion. State v. Tully, 31 M 365, 371, 78 P 760. See State v. Van, 44 M 374, 383, 120 P 479; State v. Caterni, 54 M 456, 458, 171 P 284.

Resort to evidence extrinsic to the information to show that it does not accurately state the facts is not permissible on motion in arrest. State v. Caterni, 54 M 456, 458, 171 P 284.

The motion in arrest of judgment challenges the jurisdiction of the state to enact, and of the court to enforce, the act under consideration. That question was raised, elaborated upon and decided against the contention here made in State v. Kahn, 56 M 108, 182 P 107; State v. Schaffer, 59 M 463, 467, 197 P 986.

The objection that the information does not state facts constituting a public offense is not waived by failure to demur, but may be raised by motion in arrest of judgment. State v. Wehr, 57 M 469, 188 P 930.

A motion in arrest of judgment lies only for certain defects on the face of the information not waived by failure to demur; hence where there was no demurrer filed and the information was sufficient, assignment of error that the trial court erred in denying the motion need not be considered. State v. Wong Sun, 114 M 185, 199, 133 P 2d 761.

Motion Proper Remedy When Information Has Been Filed Without Leave of Court

When an information has been filed without leave of court and before the examination and commitment of the defendant, an appropriate remedy is by motion to quash, upon the ground that the information was not presented as prescribed by law. State v. McCaffery, 16 M 33, 37, 40 P 63.

Order Sustaining Demurrer to Information Constitutes Judgment

Under former section, an order sustaining a demurrer to an information constituted a judgment. State v. Safeway Stores, Inc., 106 M 182, 197, 76 P 2d 81.

Presence of Unauthorized Person

Under former statute, the very appearance of an unauthorized person before the grand jury is sufficient to set aside the indictments, without a showing of prejudice. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051, distinguished in 131 M 254, 261, 309 P 2d 316, 320.

Presence of Unauthorized Person—Special Prosecutor Before Grand Jury

The appearance of "special prosecutor" before the grand jury was ground for setting aside the indictment under former statute. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, distinguished in 131 M 254, 261, 309 P 2d 316, 320.

Presence While Indictment under Consideration

Under former section requiring indictment to be set aside when a person was present during session of grand jury and charge was under consideration, the case was "under consideration" when witnesses were being examined. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1044, distinguished in 131 M 254, 261, 309 P 2d 316, 320.

Special Plea in Bar

A special plea in bar to a criminal proceeding is but a preliminary matter in nowise connected with the trial, since the plea must be entered before the accused pleads to the merits. State ex rel. Odenwald v. District Court, 98 M 1, 6, 38 P 2d 269.

Waiver

If a defendant, on a second trial, does not ask to withdraw the plea of not guilty, interposed at the first trial, and have another and different plea substituted, it is a waiver of any grounds of objection to the information which might have been properly raised by motion to quash. State v. McCaffery, 16 M 33, 37, 40 P 63.

Failure to move to set aside information on ground that it had not been subscribed by the county attorney waived the objection to the action of the court in permitting the information to be subscribed before demurrer or plea. State v. Peterson, 24 M 81, 85, 60 P 809.

Defendant's failure to raise, by special demurrer, the question that an information charged two distinct offenses, contrary to former statute, constituted a waiver of such objection. State v. Mahoney, 24 M 281, 285, 61 P 647; State v. Rodgers, 40 M 248, 251, 106 P 3.

By entering his plea without a written motion to set aside the information, and consenting to go to trial, defendant waived his right to question the propriety of proceedings prior to the filing of the information. State v. Vinn, 50 M 27, 32, 144 P 773.

By pleading to the information without interposing a demurrer that the facts stated did not constitute a public offense, defendant waived objections to its sufficiency. State v. Fowler, 59 M 346, 352, 196 P 992.

By his failure to object to the information charging him with a violation of the Prohibition Act, before demurrer or plea, on the ground that it was filed prior to a preliminary hearing, defendant waived his right to challenge the foundation of the information. State v. Sorenson, 65 M 65, 70, 210 P 752.

What Is Waived by Motion in Arrest of Judgment

Where an information is attacked in the trial court by motion in arrest of judgment, all questions arising upon alleged defects in the information, except that of want of jurisdiction and the sufficiency of the facts to state a public offense, are waived. State v. Pemberton, 39 M 530, 533, 104 P 556; State v. Fowler, 59 M 346, 352, 196 P 992.

When Failure To Object by Motion Waives Objection

Where an accused person pleads to an information, without interposing the objection, by motion, that, having already been prosecuted by indictment, he cannot be prosecuted by information, that objection is waived. State v. Vinn, 50 M 27, 33, 144 P 773.

When Insufficiency Does Not Warrant Dismissal

Insufficiency of the information does not warrant a dismissal of the action if in the opinion of the court the objection may be avoided by an amended information. State ex rel. Freebourn v. District Court, 105 M 77, 81, 69 P 2d 748.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

A number of cases involving former statutes having no specific counterpart in the new Code of Criminal Procedure have been annotated under this chapter. Only those points which would be decided differently under the new Code or which construe a repealed statute are designated as Decisions Under Former Law.

Attorney General's Presence before Grand Jury

Former statute providing that indictment must be set aside when a person is permitted to be present during session of grand jury did not affect right of the attorney general to be present before the grand jury. State ex rel. Nolan v. District Court, 22 M 25, 31, 55 P 916.

Bill of Particulars

Former section providing that the only pleading on part of defendant was either a demurrer or a plea was exclusive and there is no section of the former Criminal Code directing or requiring a bill of particulars to be furnished to a defendant charged with a criminal offense. State v. Bosch, 125 M 566, 242 P 2d 477, 487.

Demurrer

Section stating when a demurrer, if allowed, would bar another prosecution was intended to safeguard the rights of the accused against an altogether unwarranted prosecution, or the possible malice of the prosecuting officer, but was not intended to shield an offender against prosecution merely because of some technical defect, irregularity, or insufficiency in the original information or indictment. State v. Vinn, 50 M 27, 34, 144 P 773; In re Palm, 52 M 558, 560, 160 P 348.

Under former law providing for the filing of demurrers, a defendant could wait until the ruling upon the demurrer before entering his plea. State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court of Second Judicial Dist., 150 M 203, 433 P 2d 146.

Dismissal as a Bar

Under former statute making dismissal a bar to subsequent prosecution except if offense was a felony, dismissal of second information filed with leave of court, charging the same offense, burglary, upon which a prior information had been dismissed one month previous for failure to bring the cause to trial within six months after filing, held erroneous under this section, burglary being a felony. State v. McGowan, 113 M 591, 593, 131 P 2d 262.

Under former statute, held that in a justice of the peace proceeding where a complaint is dismissed upon request by the state so that a new complaint may be issued which is substantially the same as the first complaint but amends it as to the time the offense was committed, such dismissal is not a bar to the prosecution for the misdemeanor. State ex rel. Borberg v. District Court, 125 M 481, 240 P 2d 854, 857, 859 to 861, distinguished in 130 M 299, 302, 300 P 2d 952, 953 and in 138 M 379, 381, 357 P 2d 346.

Defense of bar arising under former statute from dismissal of misdemeanor could properly be raised by a plea of not guilty, and all matters in proof thereof were admissible under the plea. State v. Porter, 130 M 299, 300 P 2d 952, 954.

Former statute making dismissal a bar to subsequent prosecution except if offense was a felony applied only to offenses for which an information was filed or an indictment found. State v. Moore, 138 M 379, 357 P 2d 346, 347.

Failure To Endorse Names on Indictment

Indictment must be set aside where witnesses' names on indictment were Richard Roe and John Doe and witnesses' real names were not supplied to defendant and if there were no witnesses that fact should be shown by the prosecution either by a verified pleading or under oath. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043. (In this case it was said that if other grounds had not required setting aside of indictment, court would have been disposed to return case to trial court to permit defendant to interrogate prosecutor and grand jury foreman as to whether there were witnesses whose names were not endorsed on indictment.)

If person has gone to trial under indictment on which witnesses' names were designated as Richard Roe and John Doe and convicted the supreme court would be required to sustain the conviction if possible and burden would be on defendant to show prejudice. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Where timely motion was made before trial former statute required the indictment to be set aside when names of witnesses were not endorsed on indictment. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

Where district court was ordered to set aside indictment because witnesses' names were not endorsed thereon, prosecution for the offenses charged was not barred but the cases were ordered resubmitted to the county attorney for filing of such information as he believed necessary. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1051, distinguished in 131 M 254, 261, 309 P 2d 316, 320.

Grounds Exclusive

The grounds for setting aside an indictment of a grand jury as set forth in former statute are exclusive. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1037.

More than One Offense

Where an information charges two distinct offenses, as prohibited by former statute, the remedy is not by motion to compel the county attorney to elect, as between the two offenses charged, the one upon which he will seek conviction; the objection can only be taken by demurrer; and the objection, so far as any question of pleading is concerned, is waived by pleading over and failing to demur. State v. Kanakaris, 54 M 180, 182, 169 P 42.

The objection that the information states more than one offense, as prohibited by former statute, can only be made by demurrer, and when not made before plea is waived. State v. Toy, 65 M 230, 233, 211 P 303.

Motion in Arrest of Judgment

A motion in arrest of judgment was required to be founded on some defect in the information mentioned in former section setting forth grounds of demurrer and extrinsic evidence could be received on the hearing of such motion. State v. Tully, 31 M 365, 371, 78 P 760. See State v. Van, 44 M 374, 383, 120 P 479; State v. Caterni, 54 M 456, 458, 171 P 284.

Under former statute stating grounds for demurrer a motion in arrest lay only for certain defects appearing on the face of the indictment or information, not waived by failure to demur. State v. Caterni, 54 M 456, 458, 171 P 284.

Motion Must Be in Writing

Motion to set aside indictment or information was required to be in writing, subscribed by the defendant or his counsel, and to specify the particular ground of objection. State v. Chevigny, 48 M 382, 384, 138 P 257.

Setting aside Information

Former section stating when indictment or information must be set aside was construed, not as prescribing one indispensable method of procedure, and one only, but as pertaining to the two constitutional methods of procedure where an information was filed, neither one of which was indispensable, yet either of which was correct, as the conditions and facts of the case might warrant. State v. Bowser, 21 M 133, 136, 53 P 179.

Sufficiency of Information

An information which charges defendant with an infamous act against nature and then in describing the manner in which the crime was committed alleges an assault is not open to the charge that it is duplicitous. Allegations with respect to the assault are merely descriptive of the means of accomplishing the infamous crime against nature which never could be perpetrated against an unwilling participant without an assault. State v. McSloy, 127 M 265, 261 P 2d 663, 664.

Waiver

The objection that the information states more than one offense, as prohibited by former statute, can only be made by de-murrer, and when not made before plea is waived. State v. Toy, 65 M 230, 233, 211 P 303.

Where More Than One Offense Not Stated

In prosecution for embezzlement of city water rentals, information alleging that employee did on a certain day in 1931 "and from thence continuously" on divers dates to a given date two years later receive public funds aggregating a given amount which he failed to pay over to the city treasurer, held not open to objection of stating more than one offense nor being duplicitous, under the rule that in such case there is no duplicity where the embezzlement is accomplished by a continuous series of acts, which the state might treat as constituting one embezzlement, irrespective of ordinance requiring daily accounting. State v. Kurth, 105 M 260, 262, 72 P 2d 687.

95-1703. Dismissal on motion of court or application of attorney prosecuting. The court may, either on its own motion or upon the application of the attorney prosecuting, and in furtherance of justice, order an action, complaint, information, or indictment to be dismissed. The reasons of the dismissal must be set forth in an order entered upon the minutes.

History: En. 95-1703 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Dismissal on Application of Prosecutor

The filing of second information, alleging same facts as contained in first information, was in fact an amendment in a matter of substance of the first information in violation of defendant's rights under statute proscribing amendments in a matter of substance, which defendant, represented by competent counsel, waived for failure to raise timely objection, and which defect could have been rectified in the first instance if the prosecuting attorney had availed himself of the statute providing for the dismissal of information by having the first information dismissed and then filing a second information. Gransberry v. State 149 M 158, 423 P 2d 853.

"In Furtherance of Justice"

Since the legislature did not define the phrase "in furtherance of justice" as used in predecessor to this section, it is left for the court's judicial discretion, exercised in view of a defendant's constitutional rights and the interests of society, to determine what particular grounds warrant dismissal of a pending criminal action, and mandamus will not issue to control the court's discretion. State ex rel. Anderson v. Gile, 119 M 182, 172 P 2d 583, 585.

Operation and Effect

After dismissal of an indictment because of substantial defects therein, the district court may, but is not required to, submit the case to another grand jury, or permit, or order, the county attorney to file an information charging the defendant with the same offense ineffectually sought to be charged against him by the indictment. State v. Vinn, 50 M 27, 33, 144 P 773.

Prompt Trial

Under former statute providing that court shall dismiss charges against a defendant who is not brought to trial within six months after the filing of the information unless the trial has been postponed upon application of defendant, defendant was entitled to dismissal, even though defendant had demurred to the information and had not entered a plea, since county attorney had failed to call up the demurrers for a hearing as he was entitled to do before the six-month period had expired. State ex rel. Sullivan v. District Court of Second Judicial Dist., 150 M 203, 433 P 2d 146.

Although the defendant was not brought to trial within six months after the filing of the information as required under former law, the defendant was not denied his right to a speedy trial because trial had originally been set for a date within the six-month period and was removed from the trial calendar only when the defendant sought supervisory control on an original procedure filed in the supreme court, even though the cause was not set for trial until two months after the supreme court had denied defendant's petition for supervisory control and returned the matter to the trial court. State v. Lagerquist, — M —, 445 P 2d 910.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Prompt trial

Under former section one charged with crime was entitled to a dismissal of the information whether he was imprisoned in the county jail or at liberty upon bail, if not brought to trial within six months after its filing, unless the state could show good cause why dismissal should not follow. State v. Arkle, 76 M 81, 86, 245 P 526.

That trial judge deemed it unwise, inexpedient and unnecessary to call a jury during the term at which a defendant should have been tried in order to come within the limitation of six months prescribed by former statute for bringing him to trial, held not "good cause" justifying denial of motion for dismissal. State v. Arkle, 76 M 81, 86, 245 P 526.

A defendant was not entitled, under former statute, to a dismissal of charge against him on ground that he was not brought to trial within six months after the information was filed if the delay was caused by a mistrial. State v. Turlok, 76 M 549, 558, 248 P 169.

Where defendant was tried within a week after the offense was committed, section 16, article III of the constitution, providing for a speedy trial was complied with, but where, after conviction, he appealed to the district court for a trial de novo, he did not have the benefit of former section providing for dismissal of prosecution when not postponed on defendant's application if not brought to trial within six months, the section having no application under such facts. State v. Schnell, 107 M 579, 582, 88 P 2d 19.

Statutes providing for the discharge of one accused of crime unless trial is had within a stated time after filing of information or indictment, are enacted for the purpose of enforcing the constitutional right to a speedy trial, section 16, article III of the constitution. State v. McGowan, 113 M 591, 594, 131 P 2d 262.

Under former section whether motion to dismiss information because of delay in trial should be granted depended on whether or not "good cause" was shown for delay. State v. Saginaw, 124 M 225, 220 P 2d 1021, 1025; State v. McRae, 124 M 238, 220 P 2d 1025, 1027, distinguished in 130 M 299, 301, 300 P 2d 952, 953.

Under former statute permitting dismissal for failure to bring accused to trial within six months, time elapsing between the date the demurrer to the information was erroneously sustained and date of the remittitur of the supreme court reversing the decision was to be excluded from six months' period. State v. Israel, 124 M 152, 220 P 2d 1003, 1013.

In determining that defendants' right to a speedy trial had not been violated, under the constitution provision that an accused shall have the right to a speedy public trial and under former statute providing for the dismissal of an action not brought to trial within six months after the filing of an information so long as the trial has not been postponed upon the application of defendant, the court counted the days of delay which had not been caused by defendants, the sum total of which was less than six months, notwithstanding the fact that more than six months had passed after the filing of the information. State ex rel. Thomas v. District Court of Thirteenth Judicial Dist., 151 M 1, 438 P 2d 554.

Waiver

Under former statute providing for dismissal if accused is not brought to trial within six months after filing of information, it was only by making timely objection before actively participating in the trial that defendant could avail himself of the right to have the prosecution dismissed; hence where motion to dismiss on that ground was not made until the trial had commenced and the jury had been sworn, he waived the right. State v. Test, 65 M 134, 136, 211 P 217.

95-1704. Time of making motion. The motion shall be made before the plea is entered, but the court for cause may permit it to be made within a reasonable time thereafter.

History: En. 95-1704 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1705. Hearing on motion. A motion before trial raising defenses or objections shall be determined before trial unless the court orders that it be deferred for determination at the trial of the general issue.

History: En. 95-1705 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1706. Effect of determination. If a motion is determined adversely to the defendant he shall plead if he has not previously pleaded. A plea previously entered shall stand. If the court directs the action to be dismissed, the defendant must, if in custody, be discharged therefrom; or, if admitted to bail, his bail exonerated, or money deposited instead of bail must be refunded to him. However, if the court grants a motion to dismiss based on a defect in the institution of the prosecution or in the indictment, information, or complaint, or when it appears at any time before judgment that a mistake has been made in charging the proper offense, it may also order that the defendant be held in custody or that his bail be continued for a specified time pending the filing of a new complaint, indictment or information.

History: En. 95-1706 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1707. Transfer of trial. If the court determines that the motion to dismiss, based upon the grounds of lack of jurisdiction or improper place of trial, is well founded it may, instead of dismissal, order the cause transferred to a court of competent jurisdiction or to a proper place of trial.

History: En. 95-1707 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1708. Motion for continuance. (a) The defendant or the state may move for a continuance. If the motion is made more than thirty (30) days after arraignment or at any time after trial has begun the court may require that it be supported by affidavit.

(b) The court may upon the motion of either party or upon the court's own motion order a continuance if the interests of justice so require.

(c) All motions for continuance are addressed to the discretion of the trial court and shall be considered in the light of the diligence shown on the part of the movant.

(d) This section shall be construed to the end that criminal cases are tried with due diligence consonant with the rights of the defendant and the state to a speedy trial.

History: En. 95-1708 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Absence of Witnesses

An affidavit, filed on the day set for trial, in support of a motion for a continuance on the ground of the absence of witnesses, which fails to disclose the date upon which such witnesses left the state, is insufficient. State v. Showen, 60 M 474, 476, 199 P 917.

An affidavit in support of continuance on ground of absence of witnesses must disclose specifically the facts expected to be proved by the absent witnesses, and set forth that if such witnesses were present they would testify to those facts; the general statement that, if present, they would testify to facts material to affiant's defense being insufficient. State v. Showen, 60 M 474, 476, 199 P 917.

An affidavit in support of continuance on ground of absence of witnesses must disclose that the facts which defendant expects to prove by the absent witnesses cannot be proved by other witnesses available at the trial; since a continuance for the purpose of obtaining evidence which would be merely cumulative need not be granted. State v. Showen, 60 M 474, 476, 199 P 917.

Prejudice of Potential Jurors

In the absence of a showing of abuse of discretion an order refusing continuance of a criminal trial, asked for on the grounds that a large portion of the persons qualified for jury duty in the county were prejudiced, will be affirmed. State v. Collins, 88 M 514, 519, 294 P 957.

95-1709. Substitution of judge. (a) The defendant or the prosecution may move the court in writing for a substitution of judge on the ground that he cannot have a fair and impartial hearing or trial before said judge. The motion shall be made at least fifteen (15) days prior to the trial of the case, or any retrial thereof after appeal, except for good cause shown. Upon the filing of such a motion the judge against whom the motion is filed shall be without authority to act further in the criminal action, motion or proceeding but the provisions of this section do not apply to the arrangement of the calendar, the regulation of the order of business, the power of transferring the criminal action or proceeding to some other court, nor to the power of calling in another judge to sit and act in such criminal action or proceeding, providing that no judge shall so arrange the calendar as to defeat the purposes of this section. Not more than one (1) judge can be disqualified in the criminal action or proceeding, at the instance of the prosecution and not more than one (1) judge at the instance of the defendant or defendants.

If either party in any matter above-mentioned shall file the motion as herein provided such party may not complain of any reasonable delay as the result thereof.

The provision of this section shall be inapplicable to any person in any cause involving a direct contempt of court.

(b) In addition to the provision of subsection (a) any defendant may move at any time for substitution of judge for cause, supported by affidavit. Upon the filing of such motion the court shall conduct a hearing and determine the merits of the motion.

History: En. 95-1709 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11450-2-3-4, Oct. 10, 1968, eff. Dec. 1, 1968.

Right to Disqualify Judge

Section 93-901, which applies only to civil cases, is inapplicable to disqualification of judge in a criminal proceeding. In re Larocque's Petition, 139 M 405, 365 P 2d 950, 951.

The right to disqualify a judge in a criminal proceeding is purely statutory. It has no constitutional nor common-law basis. Therefore, statutory conditions precedent must be followed. In re Larocque's Petition, 139 M 405, 365 P 2d 950, 951.

Where defendant filed no affidavit for disqualification of judge in criminal proceeding he waived the provisions of predecessor section. In re Larocque's Petition, 139 M 405, 365 P 2d 950, 951.

Second Arraignment

Where affidavit of disqualification was presented after time set for arraignment, but quashed because of untimeliness, arraignment was "irregular" but not unlawful or wrongful, and in view of defendant's rights to due process possibly being violated, new judge, before whom trial had been set, was ordered to hold another arraignment. State ex rel. McNeal v. District Court, 144 M 550, 399 P 2d 997.

Timely Motion

Predecessor section required affidavit of disqualification to be made fifteen days before trial on the merits, and a motion by the state to disqualify made after the trial and pending a motion for new trial was not timely. State ex rel. Wilson v. District Court, 143 M 543, 393 P 2d 39.

Law Review

Affidavit for Disqualification of a District Judge for Imputed Bias In a Criminal Case Not Timely After Verdict (State ex rel. Wilson v. District Court, 143 M 543, 393 P 2d 39) 26 Mont. L. Rev. 128 (1964).

95-1710. Change of place of trial. (a) The defendant or the prosecution may move for a change of place of trial on the ground that there exists in the county in which the charge is pending such prejudice that a fair trial cannot be had in such county. The motion shall be made at least fifteen (15) days prior to trial, unless, for good cause shown, it may be made thereafter.

(b) The motion shall be in writing and supported by affidavit which shall state facts showing the nature of the prejudice alleged. The defendant or the state may file counteraffidavits. The court shall conduct a hearing and determine the merits of the motion.

(c) If the court determines that there exists in the county where the prosecution is pending such prejudice that a fair trial cannot be had it shall transfer the cause to any other court of competent jurisdiction in any county where a fair trial may be had.

History: En. 95-1710 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

In re Larocque's Petition, 139 M 405, 365 P 2d 950, 951.

Application

Trial court was in error for refusing to grant a change of venue where evidence disclosed that local newspapers had fanned the feeling of the community against the defendant and that county officials themselves felt that feeling against the defendant was so high that they moved him for safety to the state prison. State v. Dryman, 127 M 579, 269 P 2d 796, 800. (Dissenting opinion, 127 M 579, 269 P 2d 796, 801.)

Where supreme court ordered a new trial and that it be had in some county not adjacent to Toole county because of the prejudice of the people in Toole county, trial court erred in directing that the new trial take place in Teton county. Although Teton county is not adjoining Toole county but is separated by some twenty miles, yet the word adjacent has no arbitrary meaning or definition; the term is a relative and not an absolute one, and the exact meaning of which, in any particular case, is determinable principally by the context in which it is used. State ex rel. Dryman v. District Court, 128 M 402, 276 P 2d 969, 970.

Application Necessary

Defendant in a criminal proceeding was not entitled to a change of venue where files did not contain any application for a change of place of trial. In re Larocque's Petition, 139 M 405, 365 P 2d 950, 951.

Discretion

An application for a change of place of trial is addressed to the sound discretion of the trial court and a clear abuse of discretion must be shown, or the ruling of the trial court will not be disturbed. State v. Bischert, 131 M 152, 308 P 2d 969, 971;

Opinion of Defendant

Where the affidavits of defendant's motion for a change of venue stated that "in the opinion" of the defendant he would not receive a fair trial in the county of the alleged crime and set forth reasons for that opinion but failed to show compelling evidence in support of the motion, it was not an abuse of discretion for the trial court to deny the motion. State v. Barick, 143 M 273, 389 P 2d 170.

"Place" Defined

In the expression "place of trial," the word "place" primarily means county, and not the immediate place where the trial court sits. In this connection it is equivalent to neighborhood or place of a crime, or a cause of action, or the political division within which a jury must be gathered for the trial, and is synonymous with the word "venue." State ex rel. Sackett v. Thomas, 25 M 226, 237, 64 P 503.

Prejudice of Judge

In support of an application for change of place of trial a denial of bail could not be claimed as showing prejudice by the trial judge for such is a mere preliminary matter and has nothing to do with the trial on the merits. State v. London, 131 M 410, 310 P 2d 571, 580.

Action of a judge in refusing to set bond pending appeal from a manslaughter conviction is not an act which prejudices a defendant during a trial. State v. Bischert, 131 M 152, 308 P 2d 969, 971.

Law Review

CHAPTER 18

PRODUCTION AND SUPPRESSION OF EVIDENCE

Section	95-1801.	Subpoenas.
	95-1802.	Depositions.
	95-1803.	Discovery, inspection, and notice.
	95-1804.	Motion to produce confession or admission.
	95-1805.	Motion to suppress confession or admission.
	95-1806.	Motion to suppress evidence illegally seized.

95-1801. Subpoenas. (a) Upon the request of the prosecuting attorney or the defendant or his attorney, the court or the clerk of the court shall issue subpoenas. The subpoena shall state the name of the court and the title, if any, of the proceeding, and shall command each person to whom it is directed to attend and give testimony and produce objects and documents at the time and place specified therein.

(b) Indigent Defendants. When the defendant is indigent a court order must be obtained if more than six (6) witnesses are to be subpoenaed. If a witness is to be paid more than the regular fee, or there are more than six (6) witnesses to be paid an order of the court or judge is needed; such order may be made upon proper showing by affidavit or otherwise.

(c) Expenses of Witness. When a person attends before a magistrate, grand jury, or court, as a witness in a criminal case, upon a subpoena or in pursuance of an undertaking, the judge, at his discretion, by a written order, may direct the clerk of the court to draw his warrant upon the county treasurer in favor of such witness for a reasonable sum, to be specified in the order, for the necessary expenses of the witness.

(d) In all criminal cases originally triable in the district court the following rules shall apply:

(1) Upon motion of either party and upon showing of good cause, the court may issue a subpoena prior to the trial directing any person other than the defendant to produce books, statements, papers and objects before the court at a time prior to the trial or prior to the time when they are to be offered in evidence and the court may, upon their production, permit the books, statements, papers or objects or portions thereof to be inspected, copied, or photographed by the parties and their attorneys.

(2) Upon motion of the defendant, within a reasonable time before trial, the court may, upon a showing of good cause, at a time and place designated by the court, order the prosecution to produce prior to trial for inspection, photographing or copying by the defendant, designated books, statements, papers, or objects obtained from the defendant or others by the prosecution which are material, relevant and necessary to the preparation of the defendant's case.

(e) Service. A subpoena may be served by a peace officer or by any other person who is not a party and who is not less than eighteen (18) years of age, but a peace officer must serve in his county any subpoena delivered to him for service, either on the part of the state or of the defendant. The person making the service must without delay, make a written return of the service, subscribed by him, stating the time and place of service. Service of a subpoena shall be made by delivering a copy thereof to the person named, and if ordered by the court, by tendering to those residing outside the county of trial the fee for one (1) day's attendance and the mileage allowed by law.

(f) Place of Service. A subpoena requiring attendance of a witness at a hearing or trial may be served anywhere within the state of Montana.

More than Six Witnesses

It is proper for the court to require the defendant, upon request for a subpoena for additional witnesses, to disclose the materiality of their testimony. State v. O'Brien, 18 M 1, 12, 43 P 1091, 44 P 399.

Former statute providing that clerk should not subpoena more than six witnesses for each party except upon order of court was to control the expenses of the county and is a limitation upon the clerk of the court and not upon the judge. Where the court allows more than six witnesses to testify for the state the defendant is not prejudiced by the absence of an express order made by the court. State v. Cockrell, 131 M 254, 309 P 2d 316, 321.

95-1802. Depositions. (a) Grounds for Taking Depositions:

(1) If it appears that a prospective witness may be unable to attend or prevented from attending a trial or hearing or is or may become a nonresident of the state, or is unwilling to provide relevant information to a requesting party, and that his testimony is material and that it is necessary to take his deposition in order to prevent a failure of justice, the court, at any time after the preliminary hearing or the filing of the indictment or the information, may upon motion and notice to the parties order that his testimony be taken by deposition and that any designated books, papers, documents, or tangible objects, not privileged, be produced at the same time and place.

(2) If a witness is committed for failure to give bail to appear to testify at a trial or hearing, the court must direct that his deposition be taken at the expense of the state. After the deposition has been subscribed the court shall discharge the witness.

(b) Notice of Taking. The party at whose instance a deposition is to be taken shall give to every other party reasonable written notice of the time and place for taking the deposition. The notice shall state the name and address of each person to be examined. On motion of a party upon whom the notice is served, the court for cause shown may extend or shorten the time.

(c) How Taken. A deposition shall be taken in the manner provided in civil actions. The court at the request of a defendant may direct that a deposition be taken on written interrogatories in the manner provided in civil actions.

(d) Filing Deposition. The court shall transmit the deposition to the clerk of the court making the order, there to be filed and held until the action shall come on for trial.

(e) Use. At the trial or upon any hearing, a part or all of a deposition, so far as otherwise admissible under the rules of evidence, may be used if it appears: That the witness is dead; or that the witness is out of the state of Montana unless it appears that the absence of the witness was procured by the party offering the deposition; or that the witness is unable to attend or testify because of sickness or infirmity; or that the party offering the deposition has been unable to procure the attendance of the witness by subpoena. Any deposition may also be used by any party for the purpose of contradicting or impeaching the testimony of the deponent as a witness. If only a part of a deposition is offered in evidence by a party, an adverse party may require him to offer all of it which is relevant to the part offered and any party may offer other parts. For the purposes of this section, the word "deposition" shall in addition include any sworn testimony previously given by a witness which has been recorded and transcribed by a qualified stenographer and given in the presence of the defendant and cross-examined by him or his attorney on matters relevant to the trial or hearing where such deposition is sought to be used.

(f) Objections to Admissibility. Objections to receiving in evidence a deposition or part thereof may be made as provided in civil actions.

(g) At Instance of the State or Witness. The following additional requirements shall apply if the deposition is taken at the instance of the state or a witness. The officer having custody of a defendant shall be notified of the time and place set for examination and keep him in the presence of the witness during the examination. A defendant not in custody shall be given notice and shall have the right to be present at the examination. The state shall pay to the defendant's attorney and to a defendant not in custody expenses of travel and subsistence for attendance at the examination.

History: En. 95-1802 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Accused's Rights

Accused's rights were not violated on theory that witness was intimidated into giving damaging testimony by county attorney's threat of hold witness unless she gave a statement when witness gave a statement in which she alleged she had given defendant money to buy a six-shooter. Petition of Gallagher, 150 M 476, 436 P 2d 530.

When Taken

There is not any limitation as to the time when depositions in criminal cases may be taken; former statutes providing for conditional examination of witnesses, before or after charge is filed, and for deposing of material witnesses who could not give security for appearance at least implied that depositions might be taken at any time after the defendant had been held to answer the charge, even before an information had been filed against him. State v. Vanella, 40 M 326, 337, 106 P 364.

95-1803. Discovery, inspection, and notice. In all criminal cases originally triable in district court the following rules shall apply:

(a) List of Witnesses:

(1) For the purpose of notice only and to prevent surprise, the prosecution shall furnish to the defendant and file with the clerk of the court at the time of arraignment, a list of the witnesses intended to be called by the prosecution. The prosecution may, any time after arraignment, add to the list the names of any additional witnesses, upon a showing of good cause. The list shall include the names and addresses of the witnesses.

(2) The requirement of subsection (a) (1), of this section, shall not apply to rebuttal witnesses.

(b) Subpoenas may be used as a discovery device as provided for under section 95-1801 (d).

(c) On motion of any party within a reasonable time before trial all parties shall produce at a reasonable time and place designated by the court all documents, papers or things which each party intends to introduce in evidence. Thereupon any party shall, in the presence of a person designated by the court, be permitted to inspect or copy any such documents, papers or things. The order shall specify the time, place and manner of making the inspection and of taking the copies or photographs and may prescribe such terms and conditions as are just. If the evidence relates to scientific tests or experiments the opposing party shall, if practicable, be permitted to be present during the tests and to inspect the results thereof. Upon a sufficient showing the court may at any time order that the discovery or inspection be denied, restricted or deferred, or make other appropriate orders. If, subsequent to compliance with an order issued pursuant to this rule, and prior to or during trial, a party discovers additional material previously requested which is subject to discovery or inspection under the rule he shall promptly notify the other party or his attorney or the court of the existence of the additional material. The court shall exclude any evidence not presented for inspection or copying pursuant to this rule, unless good cause is shown for failure to comply. In the latter case the opposing party shall be entitled to recess or a continuation during which it may inspect or copy the evidence in the manner provided for above.

(d) For purpose of notice only and to prevent surprise, the defendant shall furnish to the prosecution and file with the clerk of the court at the time of entering his plea of not guilty or within ten (10) days thereafter or at such later time as the court may for good cause permit, a statement of intention to interpose the defense of insanity, self-defense or alibi. If the defendant intends to interpose any of these defenses, he shall also furnish to the prosecution and file with the clerk of the court, the names and addresses of all witnesses to be called by the defense in support thereof. The defendant may, prior to trial, upon motion and showing of good cause, add to the list of witnesses the names of any additional witnesses. After the trial commences, no witnesses may be called by the defendant in support of these defenses, unless the name is included on such list, except upon good cause shown.

(e) All matters which are privileged upon the trial, are privileged against disclosure through any discovery procedure.

History: En. 95-1803 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-1804. Motion to produce confession or admission. (a) On motion of a defendant in any criminal case made prior to trial the court shall order the state to furnish the defendant with a copy of any written confession or admission and a list of the witnesses to its making. If the defendant has made an oral confession or admission a list of the witnesses to its making shall be furnished.

(b) The list of witnesses may upon notice and motion be amended by the state prior to trial.

(c) No such confession or admission shall be received in evidence which has not been furnished in compliance with subsection (a) of this section unless the court is satisfied that the prosecutor was unaware of the existence of such confession or admission prior to trial and that he could not have become aware of such in the exercise of due diligence.

History: En. 95-1804 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1805. Motion to suppress confession or admission. (a) A defendant may move to suppress as evidence any confession or admission given by him on the ground that it was not voluntary.

(b) The motion shall be made before the trial unless for good cause shown the court shall otherwise direct.

(c) The defendant shall give at least ten (10) days' notice of such motion to the attorney prosecuting or such other time as the court may direct. The defendant shall serve a copy of the notice and motion upon the attorney prosecuting.

(d) The motion shall be in writing and state facts showing wherein the confession or admission was involuntary.

(e) If the allegations of the motion state facts which if true, show that the confession or admission was not voluntarily made the court shall conduct a hearing into the merits of the motion.

(f) The burden of proving that a confession or admission was involuntary shall be on the defendant.

(g) The issue of the admissibility of the confession or admission shall not be submitted to the jury. If the confession or admission is determined to be admissible the circumstances surrounding the making of the confession or admission may be submitted to the jury as bearing upon the credibility or the weight to be given to the confession or admission.

(h) If the motion is granted the confession or admission shall not be admissible in evidence against the movant at the trial of the case.

History: En. 95-1805 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

facto, make it inadmissible. State v. Noble, 142 M 284, 384 P 2d 504.

Truth or falsity of a confession is not to be considered in determining its voluntariness; before a confession may be admitted into evidence, the state must show to satisfaction of trial court that it was voluntary. State v. White, 146 M 226, 405 P 2d 761.

Test of Voluntariness

Before admitting a confession into evidence, it is necessary to determine whether it was made voluntarily and of defendant's free will; fact that a sedative was administered to defendant within an hour before his first confession did not, ipso

95-1806. Motion to suppress evidence illegally seized. (a) A defendant aggrieved by an unlawful search and seizure may move the court to suppress as evidence anything so obtained.

(b) The motion shall be made before trial unless for good cause shown the court shall otherwise direct.

(c) The defendant shall give at least ten (10) days' notice of such motion to the attorney prosecuting or such other time as the court may direct. The defendant shall serve a copy of the notice and motion upon the attorney prosecuting.

(d) The motion shall be in writing and state facts showing wherein the search and seizure were unlawful.

(e) If the allegations of the motion state facts which if true show that the search and seizure were unlawful the court shall conduct a hearing into the merits of the motion.

(f) The burden of proving that the search and seizure were unlawful shall be on the defendant.

(g) If the motion is granted the evidence shall not be admissible against the movant at any trial of the case.

History: En. 95-1806 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

Unreasonable searches and seizures prohibited, Mont. Const. Art. III, § 7.

Timeliness of Motion

If accused has had opportunity to suppress illegally obtained evidence before trial and fails to do so, objection to the evidence at trial will not avail him; where accused knew from time information was filed on May 7 that state was accusing him of illegally transporting liquor on basis of an earlier search and seizure and knew that state could not make a prima facie case against him without the evidence obtained by that search and seizure but did not take any action to suppress the evidence until trial on April 11 of following year, his objection was not timely and admission of the evidence was not error even if it had been obtained in violation of accused's constitutional rights. ## CHAPTER 19

TRIAL IN DISTRICT COURT

Section	95-1901.	Method of trial.
	95-1902.	Plea of guilty.
	95-1903.	Failure of the county attorney to attend.
	95-1904.	Presence of defendant—mistrial for absence.
	95-1905.	Formation of trial jury.
	95-1906.	Order of prosecutions.
	95-1907.	Time to prepare for trial.
	95-1908.	Motion to discharge jury panel.
	95-1909.	Trial jurors.
	95-1910.	Order of trial.
	95-1911.	When order of trial may be departed from.
	95-1912.	View of place of offense or property.
	95-1913.	Conduct of jury after submission of case.
	95-1914.	Court may adjourn during absence, but deemed open.
	95-1915.	Verdict.
	95-1916.	Defendant, when to be discharged.

95-1901. Method of trial. (a) All prosecutions except on a plea of guilty, deciding issues of fact shall be tried by the court and jury.

(b) Questions of law shall be decided by the court and questions of fact by the jury except on a trial for libel the jury shall determine both questions of law and of fact.

(c) Defendants in all criminal cases shall have a right to trial by jury not to exceed twelve (12) in number. However, if no capital offense is involved, the parties may agree in writing, at any time before the verdict, with the approval of the court that the jury shall consist of any number less than twelve (12).

(d) The plea of not guilty puts in issue every material allegation of the indictment, information or complaint.

History: En. 95-1901 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

Jury decides questions of law and fact in suits for libel, Mont. Const. Art. III, § 10.

Right of trial by jury, Mont. Const. Art. III, § 23.

Directed Verdict in Criminal Case

In a prosecution for unlawfully driving a truck with an overload which is a misdemeanor, it was error for the court to instruct and direct the jury to return a verdict of guilty where the evidence as to the true weight of the truck was in conflict as shown by two different state police scales. State v. Baillarger, 126 M 310, 249 P 2d 799, 801.

Double Jeopardy Question of Fact

The pleas of former acquittal and once in jeopardy involve an issue of fact, and cannot be determined without a finding by a jury. State v. O'Brien, 19 M 6, 47 P 103.

Former Jeopardy

The mere pendency of a prior information does not sustain the plea of former jeopardy; where there are two informations pending charging the same offense, until there has been a trial or defendant is placed in jeopardy under one information, the plea of former jeopardy is not available as against the other. State v. Aus, 105 M 82, 86, 69 P 2d 584.

Jury of Twelve

Conviction of first degree murder by jury of eleven violated constitution and was a nullity even though defendant consented to jury of eleven when one juror was excused during trial because of sickness in his family. Territory v. Ah Wah, 4 M 149, 1 P 732.

New Trial Not Double Jeopardy

In a prosecution for the larceny of one of four colts, all stolen at the same time and place, defendant was convicted and served about a month in the state prison when a new trial was granted him for want of proper proof of ownership of the colt. Thereupon a new information was filed charging the theft of one of the other three colts, and defendant interposed a plea of once in jeopardy, which was properly denied, not because of a different offense, theft of four colts at the same time constituting but one offense, but because in the granting of a new trial he is in the same jeopardy. State v. Aus, 105 M 82, 86, 69 P 2d 584.

Where one convicted of crime is granted a new trial he is not placed in new jeopardy by the second trial, but is in the same jeopardy he was in when the first trial was had. State v. Aus, 105 M 82, 86, 69 P 2d 584.

Plea of Not Guilty

The plea of not guilty of the offense charged in the information puts in issue allegations of prior convictions, as well as the other allegations therein contained, and there is no merit in the contention that defendant, never having pleaded to the charge of prior convictions, no issue was raised as to that allegation. State v. Gordon, 35 M 458, 464, 90 P 173.

The bar to a prosecution for misdemeanor where defendant is not brought to trial within time allowed may properly be raised by a plea of not guilty. State v. Porter, 130 M 299, 300 P 2d 952, 954.

Test for Determination of Former Jeopardy

The test to be applied in determining whether, in a criminal prosecution, the plea of former jeopardy should be sustained is whether the matter set out in the second information was admissible as evidence and would have sustained a conviction under the first information. Held, that a second information filed charging defendant with embezzlement of city funds, dismissed, and that it was error to refuse to entertain defendant's plea. State v. Parmenter, 112 M 312, 315, 116 P 2d 879.

Waiver of Jury Trial

Under constitution, one charged with felony cannot waive jury trial in favor of one by court; however, he may waive trial entirely by pleading guilty. State v. Sealise, 131 M 238, 309 P 2d 1010.

When Only One Transaction Rule Applicable

The rule that there is but one larceny if several articles are stolen at different times and from different places under a single design, impulse or purpose, is applicable only if the different subjects involved are so related in point of time and location as to make it physically possible for actual control to be exercised over both at the same time. Held, that the taking of a bunch of horses a mile east of a ranch, and another bunch three quarters of a mile south, though corralled at the same place, but belonging to different persons, were independent offenses. State v. Akers, 106 M 105, 107, 109, 76 P 2d 638.

Where Conviction Set Aside

One whose conviction has been set aside may be tried anew on the same or another information for the same offense of which he was convicted. State v. Aus, 105 M 82, 86, 69 P 2d 584.

Where Jury Disregards the Law

The jury have the power to disregard the law as declared and acquit defendant, however convincing the evidence may be, and the court has no power to punish them for such conduct. State v. Koch, 33 M 490, 497, 85 P 272.

95-1902. Plea of guilty. Before or during trial a plea of guilty may be accepted when:

- (a) the defendant enters a plea of guilty in open court; and
- (b) the court has informed the defendant of the consequences of his plea and of the maximum penalty provided by law which may be imposed upon acceptance of such plea.

At any time before or after judgment the court may for good cause shown permit the plea of guilty to be withdrawn and a plea of not guilty substituted.

History: En. 95-1902 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Circumstances Under Which Motion To Change Plea Granted

Defendant, a Mexican without education and unfamiliar with court procedure, stood charged with murder in the first degree. When he asked for a jury trial his first attorney asked to be relieved of his assignment; the second advised defendant to plead guilty and take a life sentence, whereas if he were tried by jury the sentence would be one of death. Defendant's plea was guilty, and the court imposed the death sentence. Held, that trial court abused its discretion in refusing to grant defendant's motion for permission to change his plea to one of not guilty. State v. Casaras, 104 M 404, 413, 66 P 2d 774.

Denial of Motion To Withdraw

Denial of motion to withdraw plea of guilty will not be reversed where chief contention was that he was misled by the erroneous advice of counsel as to his guilt under the law, when from the record there was evidence which would have justified a finding of guilty, regardless of the correctness of the counsel's interpretation of the law. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 561, distinguished in 121 M 459, 479, 194 P 2d 651, 662.

Discretion of Court

The granting or refusal of permission to withdraw a plea of guilty and substitute a plea of not guilty rests in the discretion of the trial court and is subject to review only where an abuse of discretion is shown. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 560, distinguished in 121 M 459, 479, 194 P 2d 651, 662.

Guilty Plea Under Agreement with Prosecutor

While the supreme court will not encourage the making of bargains with persons charged of crime, where a defendant has changed his plea of not guilty to a plea of guilty on an agreement with the prosecuting attorney as to recommendation for sentences which were carried out, the supreme court, will not, after he obtained the benefits of the agreement, aid him in escaping its obligations, by ordering a withdrawal of the guilty plea. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 561, distinguished in 121 M 459, 479, 194 P 2d 651, 662.

In Cases of Doubt That Plea Voluntary, Application To Change Plea Should Be Granted

On hearing of an application of defendant, accused of crime, for permission to change his plea of guilty to not guilty, any doubt that the first plea was not voluntary should be resolved in his favor and in favor of a trial on the merits; plea should be entirely voluntary by one competent to know the consequences and should not be induced by fear, persuasion, promise or ignorance. State v. Casaras, 104 M 404, 413, 66 P 2d 774.

Motion To Withdraw—Time for Filing

In order to receive favorable consideration, an application to withdraw a plea of guilty should be made within a reasonable time. State v. Nance, 120 M 152, 184 P 2d 554, 561, distinguished in 121 M 459, 479, 194 P 2d 651, 662.

Waiver of Jury Trial

The entering of a plea of guilty by a defendant waives his right to a jury trial. State v. Peters, 140 M 162, 369 P 2d 418, 419.

When Plea of Guilty May Be Withdrawn After Judgment

Although former section provided that the district court at any time before judgment might permit a plea of guilty to be withdrawn and a plea of not guilty to be substituted, the court was not prohibited by statute from permitting this to be done after judgment; the power to permit the latter was inherent and might be exercised in the court's discretion to rectify an injustice, especially where occasioned through ignorance or lack of understanding of the gravity of the offense charged against the petitioner and its discretion in that behalf might not be disturbed on appeal except on a showing of abuse. State ex rel. Foot v. District Court, 81 M 495, 501, 263 P 979.

Where the evidence discloses that there was a grave doubt that the defendant had the mental capacity to appreciate and understand what he was doing and the consequences thereof, when, without benefit of counsel, he pleaded guilty to the charge of murder, defendant should have been allowed to withdraw his plea of guilty and enter a plea of not guilty. State v. Dryman, 125 M 500, 241 P 2d 821, distinguished in 131 M 152, 156, 308 P 2d 969, 971.

Held, on the facts of the particular case, that where the defendant at the time of entering his plea of guilty thought that he had an understanding as to what his sentence would be; that no direct commitment was made to him by any of the officers but the officers had made statements to others who were in contact with the defendant and upon whose advice he relied, the ends of justice would be best served by permitting the defendant to change his plea. State v. Morgan, 131 M 58, 307 P 2d 244, distinguished in 134 M 301, 304, 330 P 2d 968, 970.

District court did not abuse its discretion in entering order denying defendant's motion to withdraw plea of guilty and substitute plea of not guilty where the record disclosed that defendant entered his plea of "guilty" on December 30, 1960; sentence was pronounced on January 23, 1961; and the motion was not filed in the district court until July 24, 1961, six months after imposition of the sentence and six months and twenty-four days after entry of the plea. State v. Peters, 140 M 162, 369 P 2d 418, 419.

Written "Special Plea in Bar" Not Authorized

Justice of the peace was acting within his jurisdiction and in accordance with the law in overruling the defendant's written special plea in bar and ordering the defendant to answer to the complaint. State ex rel. Borberg v. District Court, 125 M 481, 240 P 2d 854, 857, 861.

95-1903. Failure of the county attorney to attend. If the county attorney fails to attend the trial, the court may appoint some attorney at law to perform his duties.

History: En. 95-1903 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Attorney's Compensation

An attorney appointed to perform the duties of a county attorney in a proceeding in which the latter was sought to be removed upon the accusation of a taxpayer charging neglect of duty, may not demand or receive compensation for his services out of the county treasury, the statute not making any provision therefor, and the county not being liable as upon an implied contract to pay what the services are reasonably worth. State ex rel. Mc-

Grade v. District Court, 52 M 371, 374, 375, 157 P 1157.

Court's Power

The district court is vested with the power of appointment of some attorney in any criminal case when the emergency contemplated by this section arises, and of removal, where a disqualification of the attorney appointed appears, and while the court will usually choose someone from among the local attorneys, it is not required to do so. State ex rel. McGrade v. District Court, 52 M 371, 374, 375, 157 P 1157.

95-1904. Presence of defendant—mistrial for absence. (a) The defendant must be personally present at the trial and rendition of judgment in all cases tried in the district court. If the defendant fails to appear at any time during the course of the trial and before the jury has retired for its deliberations or the case has been finally submitted to the judge, and if after the exercise of reasonable diligence, his presence cannot be procured, the court shall declare a mistrial and the cause may again be tried.

(b) In all cases appealed to the supreme court it shall be conclusively deemed that the defendant was present in court at all stages of the trial unless the record on appeal affirmatively shows to the contrary; in all cases appealed to the supreme court it shall be conclusively deemed that the court or judge gave the proper admonition in accordance with the provision of section 95-1913 (e) unless the record affirmatively shows to the contrary.

History: En. 95-1904 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

Right to appear and defend in person, Mont. Const. Art. III, § 16.

Clerk's Minutes Sufficient Showing

Clerk's minutes, in a prosecution for felony, construed on appeal to show that the defendant was present in court when the verdict was returned. State v. Hall, 55 M 182, 187, 175 P 267.

Conclusive Presumptions

One convicted of crime may not assert prejudicial error on the ground that the record on appeal fails to disclose that he was present at the time the verdict was returned, unless the record affirmatively shows the contrary, otherwise it must be conclusively deemed that he was present in court at all stages of the trial. State v. Cates, 97 M 173, 197, 33 P 2d 578.

Court May Vacate and Repronounce Sentence

Where the trial court pronounced sentence against defendant convicted of second degree assault while defendant was absent, it was not error for the court, on its own motion, to vacate the sentence and repronounce the same sentence two days later in the presence of the defendant and his attorney. State v. Porter, 143 M 528, 391 P 2d 704.

Motion for New Trial

This section and section 16, article III of the Montana constitution do not require that the defendant be present at a hearing on a motion for a new trial because such a hearing is held after the verdict has been rendered and is not part of the trial. State v. Peters, 146 M 188, 405 P 2d 642.

Presence of Defendant

While the fact that the defendant in a criminal cause was present when the verdict was received must affirmatively appear, minutes which show his presence during the trial up to the time the jury retired, and then recite that "defendant thereupon waived the polling of the jury," and "defendant thereupon waives time for sentence and elects to be sentenced at this time," sufficiently meet this requirement. State v. De Lea, 36 M 531, 534, 93 P 814.

Right Cannot Be Waived

One charged with crime cannot waive his right to be present at his trial. State v. Reed, 65 M 51, 55, 56, 210 P 756.

Right To Be Present

A defendant's constitutional and statutory right to be present at his trial does not encompass proceedings before the court involving matters of law. Such rights are violated only if the defendant is prevented from being personally present when jury is hearing his cause or is prevented from attending such other proceedings where his presence is essential to a fair and just determination of a substantial issue. State v. Peters, 146 M 188, 405 P 2d 642.

Showing Necessary

It must affirmatively appear that one charged with a felony was present when the verdict was received; but this may be shown by every fair intendment of the record. State v. De Lea, 36 M 531, 537, 93 P 814.

Under the constitutional and statutory provisions applicable, a defendant charged with crime must be present throughout the entire trial, including the rendition of the verdict, and the fact of his presence must be made to appear from the record. State v. Reed, 65 M 51, 55, 56, 210 P 756.

Minutes of the trial court in a capital case examined and held not to show even by reasonable inference that defendant or his counsel was present during the trial of the cause, in disregard of the statutory provisions entitling defendant to a reversal of the judgment. State v. Reed, 65 M 51, 55, 56, 210 P 2d 756.

What Is Not Considered Part of the Trial

The settlement of instructions being no part of the "trial," within the meaning of former section, the absence of one charged with felony during such settlement does not constitute reversible error. State v. Hall, 55 M 182, 187, 175 P 267.

Predecessor section required the personal presence of the defendant at the trial in felony cases. After the jury had retired to the jury room for deliberation of their verdict they requested that certain exhibits consisting of a gun, a pair of shoes and other articles found in defendant's room, be sent to them. While defendant was not present in the courtroom, his counsel gave his consent. Held, that the proceeding did not constitute a part of the trial and therefore defendant's presence was not required, and that defendant's counsel having given his consent, the court did not abuse its discretion in complying with the jury's request, even though the exhibits were not of the nature of those authorized by statute to be taken to the jury room. State v. Olson, 87 M 389, 395, 287 P 938.

95-1905. Formation of trial jury. Trial juries for criminal actions are formed in the same manner as trial juries in civil actions, except that the total number of jurors drawn shall be at least twelve (12) plus the total number of peremptory challenges.

History: En. 95-1905 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Operation and Effect

A jury panel in a criminal case must be drawn in substantial conformity with the requirements of the code relating to trial juries in civil actions, and those requirements in their essential particulars are mandatory. State v. Landry, 29 M 218, 223, 74 P 418.

95-1906. Order of prosecutions. Prosecutions against defendants held in custody must be disposed of in advance of prosecution against defendants on bail unless for good cause the court shall direct an action to be tried out of its order.

History: En. 95-1906 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Control of Docket

Former section requiring the clerk of the district court to keep a calendar of criminal actions enumerated according to the date of filing the information; former section declaring that the calendar must be disposed of in the order therein named unless the court shall direct otherwise, and former section 94-7013, providing that if a case is not postponed it must be set for hearing in the order in which it appears on the calendar, unless by consent it is set down for trial out of its order, are directory only, the district court having power to control its docket and the order in which it may try cases. State v. Quinlan, 84 M 364, 369, 275 P 750.

95-1907. Time to prepare for trial. After plea, the defendant shall be entitled to a reasonable time to prepare for trial.

History: En. 95-1907 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Continuance

Trial judge did not abuse discretion in denying defendant's application for continuance over the term where trial was set for May 7, 1956, after defendant entered plea of guilty on April 24, 1956. State v. McLeod, 131 M 478, 311 P 2d 400, 407.

mitted on day of trial to amend showing manner and means of the attempt, whereupon defendant was unnecessarily rearraigned, the fact that he was not given two days in which to prepare trial after rearraignment under former statute could not have affected him prejudicially, in view of notice and unnecessary amendment. State v. Gaffney, 106 M 310, 312, 77 P 2d 398.

Time Allowed

Nonprejudice on Unnecessary Amendment and Rearraignment under Notice

Where original information on attempt to commit arson sufficient, to which defendant pleaded not guilty, but county attorney, after giving defendant ten days' notice of proposed amendment was per-

Under former section the defendant was entitled to at least two days to prepare for trial; therefore where he had seven months from the day of entry of his plea to the day of trial for preparation, he had no cause for complaint in this regard. State v. Showen, 60 M 474, 478, 199 P 917.

95-1908. Motion to discharge jury panel. (a) Any objection to the manner in which a jury panel has been selected or drawn shall be raised by a motion to discharge the jury panel. The motion shall be made at least five (5) days prior to the term for which the jury is drawn. For good cause shown, the court may entertain the motion at any time thereafter.

(b) The motion shall be in writing supported by affidavit and shall state facts which show that the jury panel was improperly selected or drawn.

(c) If the motion states facts which show that the jury panel has been improperly selected or drawn, it shall be the duty of the court to conduct a hearing. The burden of proof shall be on the movant.

(d) If the court finds that the jury panel was improperly selected or drawn, the court shall order the jury panel discharged and the selection or drawing of a new panel in the manner provided by law.

History: En. 95-1908 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Burden of Proof

Where defendant's offer to submit a challenge to the panel on the testimony taken at a prior term of court was withdrawn, and no evidence whatever was offered, defendant's request to discharge the jury was properly denied. State v. Jones, 32 M 442, 449, 80 P 1095.

Where defendant interposed a challenge to the jury panel because the sheriff had intentionally omitted to summon some of the jurors drawn by the jury commission, to which the state took an exception, the court erred in overruling the challenge on the ground that defendant had failed to sustain the burden of establishing the truth of his assertion, since by its exception, which was, in effect a demurrer, the facts stood admitted by the state, and no burden rested upon defendant. State v. Groom, 49 M 354, 358, 141 P 858.

Evidence, including testimony by sheriff that his failure to summon some of jurors was occasioned by his imperfect knowledge of county lines incident to creation of a new county, was sufficient to sustain challenge premised on sheriff's intentional omission to summon some of jurors drawn by jury commission. State v. Groom, 49 M 354, 358, 141 P 858.

Where two jurors did not appear and were not excused when the jury was impaneled but the defendant could not show affirmatively that the panel had not been served, there was no prejudicial error. State v. Moran, 142 M 423, 384 P 2d 777.

Effect of Demurrer to Challenge

In a criminal case, a demurrer to a challenge to the jury panel is equivalent to an exception to the challenge, the mere name not being important; and the action of the court in sustaining a demurrer to such challenge, and in impaneling the jury, amounted to a disallowance of the challenge, so as to render the question raised by the challenge reviewable on appeal. State v. Tighe, 27 M 327, 330, 71 P 3, overruled on other grounds in State v. Sherman, 35 M 512, 518, 90 P 981.

An exception to the challenge to a jury panel in a criminal case is, in effect, a demurrer, and admits all the facts stated to be true. State v. Groom, 49 M 354, 357, 141 P 858.

Only Material Departures Ground for Challenge

It is not every deviation from the strict letter of the law in drawing or returning a jury that will furnish ground for a challenge. The departure must be a material one. State v. Groom, 49 M 354, 359, 141 P 858.

Presumption That Jury Commissioners Performed Their Duty

Where defendant filed a verified, specific and detailed challenge to a jury panel and the county attorney did not deny the sufficiency of the facts alleged and the defendant also filed a timely motion for the issuance of a subpoena to the jury commissioners to appear, the trial court could not presume the jury commissioners had performed their duty in selecting the panel; hence, it was error for the trial court to overrule defendant's motion based on the presumption that the jury commissioners had performed in accordance with the law. State v. Deeds, 130 M 503, 305 P 2d 321, 324.

Question of Fact

Where all parties treat a challenge to the panel as raising an issue of fact, the supreme court will treat the matter as though an issue had been raised by a denial of the challenge. State v. Groom, 49 M 354, 357, 141 P 858.

Right of Defendant

Failure of a properly notified juror to be present when the jury was impaneled did not invalidate the trial as the defendant had the right only to reject jurors and not to select any particular juror. State v. Moran, 142 M 423, 384 P 2d 777.

Substantial Compliance Required

A substantial compliance with the law is required in the work of procuring a jury. Anything less will vitiate such work. State v. Landry, 29 M 218, 224, 74 P 418; State v. Groom, 49 M 354, 358, 141 P 858.

Trial of Facts Required

If a challenge to the panel alleges facts which, if true, would show a material variation from the statutory procedure in making up the jury list, the court could not, on the basis of a presumption that the jury commissioners had done their duty, summarily deny the challenge, particularly in the absence of an exception by the adverse party. State v. Chapman, 139 M 98, 360 P 2d 703.

Who May Testify

Query, whether a judge of the district court may be called as a witness when the regularity of the drawing of a jury in a criminal prosecution is questioned by a challenge to the panel, inasmuch as he orders such drawing and directs the clerk during its progress, both judicial and ministerial officers whose irregularity is complained of may be called upon to testify. State ex rel. Breen v. District Court, 34 M 107, 111, 85 P 870.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Lack of Jurisdiction

Former statute gave court express authority to discharge the jury, in a criminal case, if the opening statement of the county attorney affirmatively disclosed that the offense charged was committed outside of the county in which the prosecution was being had. State v. Hall, 55 M 182, 185, 175 P 267.

95-1909. Trial jurors. (a) The clerk of court shall make available to the parties a list of prospective jurors with their addresses when drawn.

(b) (1) The qualifications of jurors, and who will be exempted, are found in sections 93-1301 through 93-1307, of the Civil Code, which by reference are made a part of this code.

(2) An exemption from service on a jury is not a cause of challenge, but the privilege of the person exempted.

(c) The county attorney and the defendant or his attorney shall conduct the examination of prospective jurors. The court may conduct an additional examination. The court may limit the examination by the defendant, his attorney or the prosecuting attorney if the court believes such examination to be improper.

(d) (1) Each party may challenge jurors for cause, and each challenge must be tried by the court.

(2) A challenge for cause may be taken for all or any of the following reasons; or for any other reason which the court determines:

(i) Consanguinity or relationship to the person alleged to be injured by the offense charged, or on whose complaint the prosecution was instituted, or to the defendant.

(ii) Standing in the relation of guardian and ward, attorney and client, master and servant, or landlord and tenant, debtor and creditor, or being a member of the family of the defendant, or of the person alleged to be injured by the offense charged, or on whose complaint the prosecution was instituted, or in his employment.

(iii) Being a party adverse to the defendant in a civil action, or having complained against or been accused by him in a criminal prosecution.

(iv) Having served on the grand jury which found the indictment, or on a coroner's jury which inquired into the death of a person whose death is the subject of the indictment or information.

(v) Having served on a trial jury which has tried another person for the offense charged.

(vi) Having been one of a jury formerly sworn to try the same charge, and whose verdict was set aside or which was discharged without verdict, after the case was submitted to it.

(vii) Having served as a juror in a civil action brought against the defendant for the act charged as an offense.

(viii) If the offense charged be punishable with death, the entertaining of such conscientious opinions as would preclude his finding the defendant guilty; in which case he must neither be permitted nor compelled to serve as a juror.

(ix) Having a belief that the punishment fixed by law is too severe for the offense charged.

(x) For the existence of a state of mind on the part of the juror in reference to the case, or to either of the parties, which will prevent him from acting with entire impartiality and without prejudice to the substantial rights of either party.

(e) All challenges must be interposed before the jury is sworn, unless the cause of challenge be discovered after the jury is sworn and before the introduction of any evidence, when the court, in its discretion may allow the challenge to be interposed.

(f) Each defendant shall be allowed eight (8) peremptory challenges in capital cases, six (6) in all other cases tried in the district court, and three (3) in all cases tried in justice of the peace or police courts. However, there may not be additional challenges for separate counts charged in the indictment or information. If the indictment or information charges a capital offense, as well as lesser offenses in separate counts, the maximum number of challenges shall be eight (8). The state shall be allowed the same number of peremptory challenges as all of the defendants.

(g) After the jury is impaneled and sworn, the court may direct the selection of one or more alternate jurors, in the same manner as principal jurors, who shall take the same oath as the principal jurors. Each party shall have one additional peremptory challenge for each alternate juror. Alternate jurors in the order in which they are called shall replace jurors who, prior to the time the jury arrives at its verdict, become unable or disqualified to perform their duties. An alternate juror shall not join the jury in its deliberation unless called upon by the court to replace a member of the jury. His conduct during the period in which the jury is considering its verdict shall be regulated by instructions of the trial court. An alternate juror who does not replace a principal juror shall be discharged after the jury arrives at its verdict.

(h) The jury shall return a general verdict to each offense charged.

(i) When, at the close of the state's evidence or at the close of all the evidence, the evidence is insufficient to support a finding or verdict of guilty, the court may on its own motion or on the motion of the defendant, dismiss the action and discharge the defendant. However, the court may allow the case to be reopened for good cause shown.

History: En. 95-1909 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

NOTE.—See sec. 93-1811 for provision for alternate jurors.

Constitutionality

Former statute providing, inter alia, that no juror should be disqualified by having formed or expressed an opinion on matter in question, founded upon public rumor, statements in public journals or common notoriety if he would nevertheless act impartially and fairly upon matter submitted to him was constitutional. Territory v. Bryson, 9 M 32, 39, 22 P 147; State v. Sheerin, 12 M 539, 541, 31 P 543; State v. Martin, 29 M 273, 277, 74 P 725; State v. Mott, 29 M 292, 306, 74 P 728.

Causes Enumerated Not Exclusive

The constitutional provision (section 16, article III) that one accused of crime shall have the right to trial by an impartial jury is a limitation upon the power of the legislature and it is beyond its power to curtail it; hence, where it clearly appeared from the examination of a juror on his voir dire that some circumstance or connection with the case rendered him unfit to serve, he should have been disqualified even though the cause did not fall within any of those specified in former statute. State v. Russell, 73 M 240, 244, 235 P 712.

Challenges for Cause

Where the state challenged three jurors for cause, and the evidence showed that one of the jurors was nearly deaf, and the other two had formed opinions, the court was correct in excusing the jurors for cause. State v. Gates, 131 M 78, 307 P 2d 248.

Challenges, How Taken—Waiver

Where the state waived its fourth peremptory challenge, and the defendant exhausted his peremptory challenges, it was not error, on the panel's being filled and passed for cause, to permit the state to peremptorily challenge a juror who was in the box when the state waived its fourth challenge; the state's waiver of its fourth challenge was not a waiver of any subsequent challenge to which it was entitled. State v. Peel, 23 M 358, 363, 59 P 169.

Directing Jury To Acquit Defendant

Where there is an utter failure or lack of evidence to establish the state's case court may direct the jury to return a verdict for the defendant. State v. Widdicombe, 130 M 325, 301 P 2d 1116, 1118.

Duty of Attorneys To Advise Court That Coroner's Juror Serving as Trial Juror

Where voir dire examination of trial juror in murder case failed to reveal that he had served on the coroner's jury which had investigated the occurrence, known to the county attorney who directed proceedings at the inquest, and discovered by defense counsel after trial jury had been sworn, it was the duty of both to advise the trial court at the earliest opportunity to prevent a mistrial instead of remaining silent until verdict of guilty returned when defense counsel presented the matter in affidavits on motion for new trial. State v. Allison, 116 M 352, 364, 153 P 2d 141.

Effect of Juror Admitting Bias

Where a juror in a criminal case on examination first admits bias in favor of defendant, but later states that notwithstanding such bias he can consider the evidence impartially, the latter statement should be received with caution. State v. Huffman, 89 M 194, 197, 296 P 789.

Juror Bias

"A juror is not incompetent because he has previously served upon the trial of another defendant charged with a separate and distinct offense, although of the same character, and proved by the same witnesses or witnesses." State v. Russell, 73 M 240, 244, 235 P 712.

Where one had served as a juror in a prosecution for rape he was not disqualified, as for actual bias, from serving in the same capacity in a later case of the same character against another defendant in which the prosecutrix was the same as in the first, by the fact that on the former trial evidence of the guilt of the latter defendant had been introduced. State v. Russell, 73 M 240, 244, 235 P 712.

Juror's Prejudice

A juror who testified on his voir dire examination that he entertained a bitter prejudice against the Industrial Workers of the World and against every member of it, which would abide with him throughout the trial, that it would require evidence to remove the prejudice, and less evidence to convict defendant, who was a member of the organization, than if he were not a member, was not an impartial juror, and refusal to grant a challenge for cause was error. State v. Brooks, 57 M 480, 188 P 942.

Juror with an Opinion Based on Newspaper Story or Hearsay

A juror who has formed and expressed an opinion on the case from reading newspaper statements and from hearsay, but who states that he does not know the defendant, has no prejudice, and, notwithstanding such opinion, can impartially try the case, is competent. State v. Sheerin, 12 M 539, 541, 31 P 543.

Where a venireman in a criminal case stated on his voir dire that he had read the newspaper accounts of the alleged robbery, and had formed an opinion, but not a fixed one, and on re-examination he said he could entirely discard the opinion thus formed, and give the defendant as fair a trial as if he had never heard of the case, he was competent as a juror. State v. Howard, 30 M 518, 523, 77 P 50.

General challenges of jurors "for the purposes of the record" who, while stating on their voir dire that they had read the newspaper account of the killing of deceased and were of the opinion at the time that he had been murdered, did not state that they had any belief that defendant had committed the crime, but did say that they would follow the instructions of the court and render an impartial verdict, were properly denied. State v. Byrne, 60 M 317, 328, 199 P 262.

A juror who on his voir dire stated that he had read in the newspapers an account of the homicide for which plaintiff was on trial; that he had formed an opinion therefrom which it would take evidence to remove, but that in determining the case he would base his verdict upon the evidence and be bound by the court's instructions; that there was nothing known to him which would prevent his trying the case fairly, etc., held competent. State v. Juhrey, 61 M 413, 202 P 762.

Where a juror on his voir dire stated that from newspaper reports and conversations with others he had formed the opinion that murder had been committed, but had no opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant, that he would require the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the latter had killed deceased with malice aforethought before he would vote for a conviction, and that he could fairly and impartially try him, he was not disqualified from serving. State v. Vetter, 76 M 574, 585, 586, 248 P 179.

Where a juror on his voir dire in a homicide case first stated that he had formed an opinion based on talks with others and on newspaper accounts, but later upon being questioned by the court replied that he could give a fair and impartial verdict despite his opinion and that his opinion was based only on rumor, denial of defendant's challenge for cause was not error. State v. Simpson, 109 M 198, 206, 95 P 2d 761, overruled on other grounds in State v. Knox, 119 M 449, 453, 175 P 2d 774.

Where a juror on his voir dire in a burglary case stated that he had formed an opinion based on what he had heard on the radio, television, and read in the newspapers, but had not discussed the case with anyone purporting to know any of the facts about it and declared under oath that he could lay aside his opinion and judge the case solely on the evidence presented, it was not error to deny defendant's challenge. State v. Moran, 142 M 423, 384 P 2d 777.

In a criminal prosecution, a prospective juror who had formed an opinion of the case based on a newspaper account of the act but who declared under oath that he could consider the evidence impartially was competent to serve as a juror under a statute providing a challenge for cause for actual bias and under statute providing that no person shall be disqualified as a juror for having formed an opinion based on statements in public journals. State v. White, 151 M 151, 440 P 2d 269.

Nature of Right To Challenge

The right to challenge is the right to reject, not to select, a juror, and no person can acquire a vested right to have any particular member of a panel sit upon his case until such member has been accepted and sworn. State v. Huffman, 89 M 194, 197, 296 P 789.

Newspaperman's Bias

After conviction of first degree murder, defendant moved for new trial on ground, among others, that a juror had been guilty of misconduct in concealing from the court, while under examination on his voir dire, the fact that after the arrest of defendant, he, as correspondent for the newspaper published at the county seat, had furnished it articles, which were published, in effect complimenting the officers for their quick action in apprehending the "murderer" whose "worthless carcass will lie to rot deeply buried when the wheels of justice cease to grind," etc. The motion was denied. Held, in answer to the contention that the court abused its discretion in denying it, that in view of the explanation of his conduct by the juror on the hearing of the motion that the articles were not intended to be personal as applied to defendant, whom he did not know, but applicable to anyone who committed homicide, and the advantageous position of the trial judge in passing upon the sincerity and truth of the statements of the juror on his examination touching his competency as well as on the hearing of the motion, that the court did not err in its ruling. State v. Hoffman, 94 M 573, 586, 23 P 2d 972. See also State v. Huffman, 89 M 194, 197, 296 P 789.

Number of Peremptory Challenges

In a prosecution for murder, the accused was properly compelled to exhaust alternately two peremptory challenges to each one taken by the state, where none were taken until the panel was full. State v. Sloan, 22 M 293, 298, 56 P 364.

Overruling Challenge

Where court relied on answers to last two questions and on the assumption that there was a misunderstanding as to the earlier questions in examining a prospective juror for prejudice, the overruling of the challenge would not be disturbed especially where the defendant had three peremptory challenges left at the time and exercised one to discharge such juror, and fact that defendant regarded other jurors as undesirable on which he might have exercised his challenge gave him no right to have such juror excused for bias where there was no showing that such jurors were disqualified. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 286.

Prosecutor's Brother-in-Law Not Disqualified

A juror who, upon examination, has shown no bias, either implied or actual, is not disqualified by reason of being a brother-in-law of the prosecuting attorney. State v. Cadotte, 17 M 315, 316, 42 P 857.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Advising Acquittal

Under former statute, if a trial judge was of the opinion that the defendant, if convicted, should be granted a new trial because of the insufficiency of the evidence, it was his duty to advise the jury to return a verdict of not guilty. State v. Fisher, 23 M 540, 555, 59 P 919.

Former section permitting court to advise jury to acquit the accused but not binding jury by such advice was applicable to those cases only in which the trial court deemed the evidence, although tending to prove every element necessary to constitute the crime charged, insufficient in weight to warrant a conviction. State v. Mahoney, 24 M 281, 286, 61 P 647.

Under former statute, trial court could not direct verdict in favor of defendant, being authorized to do no more, when it deemed the evidence insufficient to warrant conviction, than to advise the jury to acquit. State v. Collins, 88 M 514, 523, 294 P 957; State v. Wong Sun, 114 M 185, 192, 133 P 2d 761.

By former section, the trial court was

Showing Necessary for New Trial

After verdict, the accused must make it appear affirmatively that he is entitled to a new trial because he has been deprived of his constitutional right to an impartial jury, and the probability that one juror was incompetent is not sufficient to set aside the verdict. In the absence of a clear showing of an abuse of discretion by the trial court in passing on a motion for a new trial, based on the alleged incompetency of a juror, the supreme court will not interfere. State v. Mott, 29 M 292, 307, 74 P 728.

Summoning Jury by Interested Sheriff

The facts that the victim of a homicide was a deputy sheriff, and that the sheriff was a witness for the state, did not disqualify the latter or his deputies from summoning the jury on the theory that they were interested in the outcome of the prosecution; if they were disqualified, the remedy of defendant was to object to the panel before sworn. State v. Heaston, 109 M 303, 314, 97 P 2d 330.

When Trial Judge Should Sustain Challenge

On the voir dire examination of a prospective juror the trial court is the judge of the weight to be given to his testimony, and if it has any doubt as to the existence of such a state of mind in a juror as would disqualify him, it should sustain a challenge to him in the interest of justice. State v. Huffman, 89 M 194, 197, 296 P 789.

prohibited from directing a verdict in any criminal case; if the advice was disregarded by the jury, the remedy was by granting a new trial. State v. Thierfelder, 114 M 104, 111, 132 P 2d 1035, overruled in State v. Labbitt, 117 M 26, 35, 156 P 2d 163.

Where there was an utter failure of proof as to one or more of the essential elements of the offense charged, the trial court had the duty to order the jury to return a verdict of not guilty, but where there was evidence tending to prove every element necessary to constitute the offense charged but such evidence was insufficient in weight to warrant a conviction, the court could advise the jury to acquit but the jury was not bound by the advice. State v. Labbitt, 117 M 26, 35, 156 P 2d 163.

Former section permitting trial court to advise jury to acquit defendant was applicable only in cases in which the trial court deemed the evidence, although tending to prove every element constituting the crime charged, insufficient in weight to warrant a conviction. State v. Peschon, 131 M 330, 310 P 2d 591, 595.

Cause for Challenge Must Be Alleged

Former provision that in challenging a juror for implied bias one or more of the statutory causes and in challenging for actual bias the cause stated in certain subdivision must be alleged, was mandatory; hence where that was not done, denial of the challenge did not entitle appellant to allege error. State v. Vetter, 76 M 574, 584, 248 P 179.

Challenges, How Taken—Waiver

Where either party fails to challenge in his turn, he is deemed to waive the challenge or challenges he might use at that time, but this rule goes no further than is necessary to preserve the alternation required by former statute. State v. Peel, 23 M 358, 362, 59 P 169. See also Chenoweth v. Great Northern Ry. Co., 50 M 481, 485, 148 P 330.

Motion for Nonsuit Not Proper Practice

In a criminal case motions for nonsuit are not proper to raise the question of the sufficiency of the evidence to warrant conviction, the proper practice being prescribed by former section, authorizing the trial court to advise the jury to acquit if it deemed the evidence insufficient. State v. DeTonancour, 112 M 94, 98, 112 P 2d 1065.

Number of Peremptory Challenges

Under former statute allowing eight peremptory challenges for offense punishable by imprisonment in state prison for not less than a specified number of years and six challenges for other offenses punishable by imprisonment in state prison, defendant, on trial for grand larceny aggravated by a prior conviction of the same offense, was entitled to eight—not six—peremptory challenges. State v. Collins, 53 M 213, 163 P 102.

Purpose

The purpose of former section governing how causes of challenge were to be stated was to require the ground of challenge to be stated before the challenger is in a position to predicate error on the court's refusal to sustain a challenge. It was not intended as a limitation upon the power of the court in granting challenges which the facts warrant. State v. Gates, 131 M 78, 307 P 2d 248, 249.

95-1910. Order of trial. (a) The court may instruct the jury as to its duties. Such general instructions must be settled in the same manner as provided for the settlement of special instructions in subsection (d) of this section.

(b) The county attorney must state the case and offer evidence in support of the prosecution. The defendant may make his opening statement prior to the state's offer of evidence, or may state his defense and then offer evidence in support thereof after the state rests.

(c) The parties may then respectively offer rebutting testimony only, unless the court, for good cause, permits them to offer evidence upon their original case.

(d) When the evidence is concluded, if either party desires special instructions to be given to the jury, such instructions shall be reduced to writing, numbered, and signed by the party, or his attorney, and delivered to the court. The instructions shall be settled by the court, without the presence of the jury, at which settlement counsel for the parties, or the defendant if he is without counsel, shall be allowed reasonable opportunity to examine the instructions requested and proposed to be given by the court, and to present and argue to the court objections to the adoption or rejection of any instruction offered by counsel or proposed to be given to the jury by the court. On such settlement of instructions, the respective counsel, or the parties, shall specify and state the particular ground on which an instruction is objected to, and it shall not be sufficient to object generally that the instruction does not state the law, or is against the law, but the objection must specify particularly wherein the instruction is insufficient, or does not state the law, or what particular clause therein is objected to.

The court shall pass upon the objections to the instructions and shall either give each instruction as requested or proposed or positively refuse to do so, or give the instruction with modification, and shall mark or endorse upon each instruction in such a manner that it shall distinctly appear what instructions were given in whole or in part, and in like manner those refused or modified, and if modified, wherein and how modified. All instructions must be filed as a part of the record of the cause. No exceptions are necessary to the rulings of the court on the settlement of instructions.

The court reporter shall be present at such settlement and shall take down all the objections to any or all of the instructions given or refused by the court, together with modifications made therein, and the ruling of the court thereon.

(e) When the instructions have been passed upon and settled by the court, and before the arguments to the jury have begun, the court shall charge the jury in writing, giving in such charge only such instructions as have been passed upon and settled. In charging the jury, the court shall give them all matters of law which it thinks necessary for the jury's information in rendering a verdict.

(f) When the jury has been charged, unless the case is submitted to the jury on either side or on both sides without argument, the county attorney must commence and may conclude the argument. If several defendants having several defenses appear by different counsel, the court must determine their relative order in evidence and argument. Counsel, in arguing the case to the judge, may argue and comment upon the law of the case as given in the instructions of the court, as well as upon the evidence of the case.

History: En. 95-1910 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Error Cannot Be Predicated on Instructions Not Ruled on by the Court

Where the record in a criminal cause does not show that the court ruled, or was requested to rule, on defendant's requests for instructions, or his objections to those given, errors relating to them will not be considered on appeal, since error cannot be predicated on the mere silence of the court. State v. McCarthy, 36 M 226, 236, 92 P 521.

Failure To Read Information

It is not error to fail to read the information, there being no statutory requirement for such procedure. State v. Gall, 135 M 131, 337 P 2d 932.

Instructions—Considered as a Whole

In determining whether an instruction is erroneous the charge as a whole must be considered. State v. Wong Sun, 114 M 185, 198, 133 P 2d 761.

Instructions must be considered as a whole and, if they fairly tender the case to the jury, the fact that one or more of the instructions, standing alone, is not as full or accurate as it might have been, is not reversible error. State v. Watson, 144 M 576, 398 P 2d 949.

Instructions—Duty of Court To Instruct

The defendant introduced testimony tending to show that "prior to the occasion in question" his reputation for "truth and veracity" in the community in which he lived was good, and his counsel offered an instruction on the subject. This the court refused, and it did not give any on that phase of the case. Whether the court was of the opinion that the offered instruction was not good, or that defendant was not entitled to an instruction upon the subject, the record does not disclose. Upon the evidence introduced defendant was entitled upon his request to the benefit of a proper instruction upon the subject; subject to the provisions of former section, the court is required to instruct a jury upon all matters of law necessary for its information in rendering a verdict. State v. Jackson, 88 M 420, 435, 293 P 309.

In a rape trial where there was no inconsistency, contradictory evidence, or proof of falsity shown in the prosecutrix's testimony, and no showing of malice or desire for revenge against the accused, it was not error for the court to refuse to give a cautionary instruction. State v. Lagge, 143 M 289, 388 P 2d 792.

Where defendant was convicted of robbery, trial court did not commit reversible error in giving no instruction to the jury on the defense of threat or menace since the jury in considering the court's instructions found the allegations of willful commission of the crime proven beyond a reasonable doubt. State v. Watson, 144 M 576, 398 P 2d 949.

Instructions—Duty To Object and Point Out Error

Where defendant fails to make objection to any portion of the charge or to any action of the trial court in its settlement during trial, he will not, on appeal, be heard to complain of error therein, or of any omission by the court to submit any special instruction. State v. Stone, 40 M 88, 93, 105 P 89.

The defendant, in a criminal case, is bound by instructions to which he does not object. State v. Crean, 43 M 47, 60, 114 P 603.

Where defendant, through his attorney, at the settlement of the instructions, stated that he had no objections to them, assignments based on alleged error in them cannot be considered on appeal. State v. Chronopoulos, 60 M 329, 330, 199 P 266; State v. Evans, 60 M 367, 374, 199 P 440.

Where a defect in an instruction given was not pointed out specifically by defendant at the settlement of the instructions, the supreme court on appeal may not, under former section, consider an objection not so pointed out. State v. Bolton, 65 M 74, 81, 212 P 504; State v. Dougherty, 71 M 265, 266, 229 P 735; State v. Sawyer, 71 M 269, 272, 229 P 734; State v. Cassill, 71 M 274, 279, 229 P 716; State v. Vallie, 82 M 456, 268 P 493.

An objection made at the settlement of the instructions in a criminal case that a certain paragraph thereof "is not applicable to the facts of this case" is insufficient to warrant review of alleged errors urged under the specification relating thereto. State v. McClain, 76 M 351, 358, 246 P 956.

Objection to instruction that "it is rep-etitious and not a correct statement of the law" does not comply with this section. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 237.

Objection to instruction that it "is not a correct statement of the law; it is not applicable to the facts in this case" does not comply with predecessor section. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 237.

Any error in giving instructions is not available to appellants on appeal where the record shows no objections made by the appellants. State v. Holt, 121 M 459, 194 P 2d 651, 654.

Where defendant sought appeal from conviction for robbery on grounds that instructions to jury were incomplete, it was incumbent on the defendant to request more specific instructions at the time of trial and failure to do so did not furnish grounds for reversible error. State v. Watson, 144 M 576, 398 P 2d 949.

Objection to instruction cannot state merely that instruction is not the law but must state specifically wherein the instruction is insufficient, or what particular clause is objected to. State v. Schleining, 146 M 1, 403 P 2d 625.

Instructions—Duty To Submit an Instruction if Desired

It is well settled in this state that, if a party is not satisfied with an instruction proposed to be given, he must submit an instruction which more fully covers the particular matter, or he cannot be heard to complain, unless the instruction given be inherently wrong. Territory v. Hart, 7 M 489, 505, 17 P 718; Territory v. Manton, 8 M 95, 109, 19 P 387; State v. Broadbent, 19 M 467, 473, 48 P 775; State v. Gordon, 35 M 458, 467, 90 P 173; State v. Tracey, 35 M 552, 555, 90 P 791; State v. Powell, 54 M 217, 221, 169 P 46.

Where the defendant failed to offer an instruction on circumstantial evidence, he is in no position to complain of the omission to instruct the jury on that point. State v. Francis, 58 M 659, 670, 194 P 304.

Where the testimony of a physician touching a physical examination of the complaining witness was admitted solely for the purpose of showing that sexual intercourse might have taken place, and for none other, failure of the defendant to offer an instruction on the subject of its limitation deprived him of the right to complain that such an instruction was not given. State v. Richardson, 63 M 322, 328, 207 P 124.

Instructions—Requirement that Instructions Be Written

Mere silence of the accused or his counsel is not equivalent to a consent to the giving of oral instructions. State v. Fisher, 23 M 540, 551, 59 P 919.

A statute requiring written instructions in a criminal action is mandatory, and the violation thereof is reversible error. State v. Fisher, 23 M 540, 59 P 919.

A charge is oral if not in writing at the time of its delivery, and read to the jury as written. State v. Fisher, 23 M 540, 551, 59 P 919.

In the absence of waiver by the parties, it is imperative that all instructions be submitted to the jury in writing. State v. Tudor, 47 M 185, 131 P 632.

After the jury in a criminal case had retired to the jury room it was brought back at its request for information relative to the punishment which might be imposed under the indeterminate sentence statute. The court in the presence of defendant and counsel orally explained the provisions of the law and advised the jury as to the form in which it might return a verdict under that law. Defendant's counsel did not make any objection. Held, that the explanations made were not instructions on the law of the case and that, therefore, prejudicial error was not committed in making them orally. State v. Kennedy, 82 M 165, 167, 266 P 386.

Instructions—Review of Instructions

Even though the supreme court may not review instructions which were not given, it may examine the instructions which were given for the purpose of determining whether or not the jury was properly instructed. State v. Watson, 144 M 576, 398 P 2d 949.

Failure to instruct in certain particulars cannot be assigned as error, where the court has properly covered issues, since, in the absence of request for instructions, there is no ruling to review. State v. Watson, 144 M 576, 398 P 2d 949.

Instructions—Signing of Instructions—Necessity For

Requested instructions are required to be signed merely for the purpose of identification, to be used by the court in making up its charge to the jury; it is an irregularity, but no reversible error, for the court to permit the name and official title of the county attorney to be placed on instructions requested by him and given to the jury. State v. Martin, 29 M 273, 278, 74 P 725.

Instructions—Undue Emphasis

Trial judge did not err in giving five instructions to jury which were in part repetitious on the matter of conspiracy since the number of fact situations to be covered required them and while fewer instructions possibly would have been sufficient, they might have been difficult for the jury to understand. State v. Schleining, 146 M 1, 403 P 2d 625.

Opening Statement

Provision requiring the county attorney to make an opening statement in a prosecution for crime is merely directory. State v. Hall, 55 M 182, 185, 175 P 267.

Held, that where defendant, charged with burglary and three prior convictions, at the opening of the trial admitted the prior convictions, the court did not err in permitting knowledge of the prior convictions to go to the jury by allowing the county attorney to read the information charging such convictions, in overruling an objection to question asked defendant on cross-examination as to the prior convictions, or in instructing the jury that if they found the defendant guilty of burglary they should then consider the matter of the former convictions, giving the provisions of the statute fixing punishment for that crime when aggravated by prior convictions of felonies, in view of provisions requiring the county attorney to state the case and offer evidence in support of the prosecution, and the fact that without such knowledge the jury could not intelligently fix the punishment to fit the crime. State v. O'Neill, 76 M 526, 532, 535, 248 P 215.

The county attorney must advert to evidence the state intends to prove in his opening statement, but is not required to state for what purpose he intends to produce certain evidence; hence the trial court did not err in denying a request of counsel for defendant requiring him to do so. State v. Keays, 97 M 404, 416, 34 P 2d 855.

It was not a denial of fair trial where the jury was allowed to consider the proven and admitted fact that the defendant in a first degree assault case had been convicted of three prior felonies, where only one would have served to increase the punishment, when they were instructed that the prior convictions were to be considered only in fixing the punishment if and when the defendant was found guilty of the assault charge. Petition of Jones, 144 M 13, 393 P 2d 780.

Permitting Witness to Correct Testimony

The trial court did not abuse its discretion in permitting state's witness the opportunity to correct testimony made on direct examination under statute authorizing court to permit state to offer evidence upon their original cause during period reserved for rebuttal testimony. State v. Crockett, 148 M 402, 421 P 2d 722.

Purpose

Predecessor section did not undertake to do more than prescribe an orderly procedure for the trial of criminal cases. State v. Hall, 55 M 182, 185, 175 P 267.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Instructions — Bill of Exceptions Required To Review Instructions

Former provision prohibiting reversal by the supreme court for error in instructions where such error was not specifically pointed out and excepted to at the settlement of the instructions, and the error and exception incorporated and settled in a bill of exceptions, was mandatory, and error in instructions could not be considered on appeal in a criminal case where the record did not contain a bill of exceptions. State v. Cook, 42 M 329, 331, 112 P 537.

Errors in instructions must be specifically pointed out at the time the instructions are settled and the exceptions presented in a bill of exceptions before they will be considered on appeal. State v. Thomas, 46 M 468, 128 P 588.

Under former section, to entitle appellant in a criminal action to a review of an instruction given, the record was required to disclose that at the time of settlement of the instructions he made suitable objections and reserved an exception thereto. State v. Brodock, 53 M 463, 164 P 658; State v. Neidamier, 98 M 124, 37 P 2d 670.

Errors in the instructions were not ground for reversal on appeal unless the same were specifically pointed out and excepted to. State v. Kahn, 56 M 108, 120, 182 P 107.

An erroneous instruction, given without objection, became the law of the case, the supreme court on appeal being precluded by former section from reversing a judgment for error in instructions not specifically pointed out and excepted to at the settlement of the instructions. Hawley v. Richardson, 60 M 118, 128, 198 P 450.

Under former section, errors in giving or refusing instructions cannot be reviewed on appeal unless they, with the proceedings had at the settlement thereof, are incorporated in a bill of exceptions, even though they constitute a part of the judgment-roll of technical record, section 12043, R. C. M. 1921 (omitted), providing otherwise, having been superseded by former section. State v. Carmichael, 62 M 159, 161, 204 P 362; State v. Zorn, 99 M 63, 41 P 2d 513.

Held, that the provision of former section prohibiting the supreme court from reversing a judgment in a criminal cause for any error in instructions not specifically pointed out and excepted to at the settlement of instructions and incorporated and settled in the bill of exceptions, applies only to error allegedly committed in refusing to give offered instructions. State v. Daw, 99 M 232, 234, 43 P 2d 240; State v. Heaston, 109 M 303, 314, 97 P 2d 330.

Where attorney for defendant presented bill of exceptions and prayed that the same be signed, settled and allowed, he could not be heard to complain on appeal that his bill of exceptions was not accurate. State v. Pankow, 134 M 519, 333 P 2d 1017, 1020.

The provisions of former section forbidding the supreme court to reverse a judgment for errors in instructions unless such errors are specifically pointed out at the time the instructions are settled is mandatory, and in the absence of such exceptions the court cannot consider errors predicated upon the instructions, however erroneous or prejudicial they may be. State v. Watson, 144 M 576, 398 P 2d 949.

Instructions—Duty To Object and Point Out Error

Where instructions as finally proposed to be given were not objected to by counsel for defendant, the district court by statute was expressly forbidden to grant a new trial and the supreme court was forbidden to reverse the cause, even if error existed in such instructions. State v. Donges, 126 M 341, 251 P 2d 254, 255; State v. Bubnash, 142 M 377, 382 P 2d 830.

95-1911. When order of trial may be departed from. When the state of the pleading requires it, or in any other case, for good reasons, and in the discretion of the court, the order prescribed in the last section may be departed from.

History: En. 95-1911 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1912. View of place of offense or property. When the court deems it proper that the jury view any place or personal property pertinent to the case, it will order the jury to be conducted in a body under the custody of the sheriff or bailiff, to view said place or personal property in the presence of the defendant and his counsel. The place or personal property will be shown them by a person appointed by the court for that purpose, and they may personally inspect the same. The sheriff or bailiff must be sworn to suffer no person to speak or otherwise communicate with the jury nor to do so himself on any subject connected with the trial, and to return them into the courtroom without unnecessary delay or at a specified time as the court may direct.

Condition of Premises

The fact that the premises to be viewed had accumulated dirt which had been hastily swept away, that doors had been replaced and the view was bleak and morbid furnished no ground for interfering with an order permitting a view of the premises. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 292.

Defendant May Waive Right To Be Present

Since the only purpose of a view by the jury of the place where a homicide was committed is to enable the jurors better to understand the evidence heard by them at the trial and testimony may not there be taken for any purpose, the defendant may waive his right to be present at the viewing, and where he did not make a request for permission to be present at the view of an automobile in and near which the shooting occurred, he will be held to have waived his right in that behalf. State v. Cates, 97 M 173, 191, 33 P 2d 578.

Discretion of Court

Matter of permitting the jury to view cattle charged to have been stolen by defendant and recaptured was within the discretion of the trial court, and in the absence of a showing of abuse of its discretion in that behalf error may not be said to have been committed in permitting the viewing. State v. Arnold, 84 M 348, 362, 275 P 757.

The matter of permitting the jury to view the premises rests entirely in the discretion of the trial court which will not be interfered with except in case of manifest abuse. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 292.

Waiver of Alleged Error in Permitting View

By failing to object to an order of the trial court, made in its discretion and at the close of the testimony in a prosecution for murder, permitting the jury to view an automobile in which the shooting occurred, defendant waived his right to secure a review of the propriety of the order urged on the ground that no proper foundation had been laid for the view in that it was not shown that the car was in the same condition as at the time of the killing. State v. Cates, 97 M 173, 191, 33 P 2d 578.

95-1913. Conduct of jury after submission of case. (a) Jurors, Separation of During Trial. The jurors sworn to try an action may, at any time before the submission of the case, in the discretion of the court, be permitted to separate or be kept in charge of a proper officer. The officer must be sworn to keep the jurors together until the next meeting of the court, to suffer no person to speak to them or communicate with them, nor to do so himself, on any subject connected with the trial, and to return them into court at the next meeting thereof.

(b) Retirement of Jury. When the jury retires to consider its verdict an officer of the court shall be appointed to keep them together and to prevent conversations between the jurors and others.

(c) Items Which May be Taken in the Jury Room. Upon retiring for deliberation, the jury may take with them all papers which have been received as evidence in the cause, except depositions or copies of such papers as ought not, in the opinion of the court, to be taken from the person having them in his possession. The jury may also take with them any exhibits which the court may deem proper, and notes of the proceedings taken by themselves.

(d) After Retirement, May Return into Court for Information. After the jury has retired for deliberation, if there be any disagreement among them as to the testimony, or if they desire to be informed on any point of law arising in the cause, they must require the officer to conduct them into court. Upon being brought into court, the information requested may be given in the discretion of the court; if such information is given it must be given in the presence of the county attorney and the defendant and his counsel.

(e) Admonition. The jury must also, at each adjournment of the court, whether permitted to separate or kept in charge of officers, be admonished by the court that it is their duty not to converse among themselves or with anyone else on any subject connected with the trial, or to form or express any opinion thereon until the cause is finally submitted to them.

History: En. 95-1913 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Impliedly Repealing Earlier Statute on Separation after Charge

Predecessor section declaring that jury may be permitted to separate at any time before submission of case to them was enacted some twenty years after section prohibiting separation of jury in criminal cases after hearing the charge and impliedly repealed the latter section; hence error was not committed in permitting separation for lunch after the giving of instructions and before the argument of counsel, i. e., at any time before submission of the case to them. State v. DeTonancour, 112 M 94, 99, 112 P 2d 1065.

Juror's Opinion

Where a juror on his voir dire in a burglary case stated that he had formed an opinion based on what he had heard on the radio, television and read in the newspapers, but, had not discussed the case with anyone purporting to know any of the facts about it and declared under oath that he could lay aside his opinion and judge the case solely on the evidence presented, it was not error to deny defendant's challenge. State v. Moran, 142 M 423, 384 P 2d 777.

No Presumption of Prejudice

Where exhibits consisting of photographs of the automobile in which some of the shots resulting in the killing of deceased had been fired and of the body of deceased, a pistol taken from defendant after the shooting, revolver clips, etc., all of which had been admitted in evidence without objection by defendant, were taken to the jury room, at the close of the trial, apparently without the affirmative consent of the defendant and without an order of the court permitting it to be done, but there was no showing that by the procedure the jury were given any other information than that obtained at the trial, it may not be presumed that the procedure resulted to the prejudice of defendant. State v. Cates, 97 M 173, 197, 33 P 2d 578.

Oral Instructions

Where in a prosecution for rape the jury, after retiring to the jury room, were returned into court for information relative to a certificate of birth of the prosecutrix, which had been excluded from the evidence, and an affidavit made by her to the effect that defendant had not committed any offense against her, which was admitted, and the court orally advised them that the certificate had been excluded and that as to the affidavit they would have to determine for themselves, its action in not going further and instructing them orally as to what weight should be given the affidavit was proper, since instructions, in the absence of a waiver by the parties, must be delivered in writing. State v. Duncan, 82 M 170, 177, 266 P 400.

Oral Instructions—Presence of Defendant

After retiring to the jury room to deliberate of their verdict in a criminal cause, the jury returned, asking the court whether two instructions given were conflicting. The court, in the absence of defendant though in the presence of his attorney, orally instructed the jury to disregard one of them and withdrew it. Held, that withdrawing the instruction and directing the jury to disregard it was instructing the jury orally, constituting reversible error, and that doing so in the absence of the defendant from the courtroom was contrary to the provisions of predecessor section. State v. Jackson, 88 M 420, 434, 293 P 309.

Rereading Testimony at Jury's Request

It is within the trial court's discretionary power to grant a jury's request to reread parts of testimony and such procedure is authorized by statute. State v. Armstrong, 149 M 470, 428 P 2d 611.

Showing of Compliance

The record on appeal in a criminal cause which disclosed that when an adjournment was taken, "the jury was admonished by the court and placed in charge of the sheriff," etc., was sufficient to disclose compliance with statute, imported verity, and could not be impeached by affidavit. State v. Hall, 55 M 182, 186, 175 P 267.

Taking Depositions to Jury Room

Held, that it was error for the trial court to send to the jury room as an exhibit an alleged confession headed "Affidavit," which to all intents and purposes was a deposition, in view of former section which expressly prohibited the jury from taking depositions to the jury room for consideration during its deliberations. State v. Crighton, 97 M 387, 403, 404, 34 P 2d 511.

Taking Exhibits to Jury Room

Personal presence of the defendant is required at the trial in felony cases. After the jury had retired to the jury room for deliberation of their verdict they requested that certain exhibits consisting of a gun, a pair of shoes and other articles found in defendant's room, be sent to them. While defendant was not present in the courtroom, his counsel gave his consent. Held, that the proceeding did not constitute a part of the trial and therefore defendant's presence was not required, and that defendant's counsel having given his consent, the court did not abuse its discretion in complying with the jury's request, even though the exhibits were not of the nature of those authorized by statute to be taken to the jury room. State v. Olson, 87 M 389, 395, 287 P 938.

Taking Photographs to Jury Room

In a criminal prosecution for involuntary manslaughter, photographs of the scene of the accident are "all papers" within the meaning of that phrase as it appears in the statute, thus the trial court properly sent the photographs along with the jury when they retired to the jury room for deliberations. State v. Medicine Bull, — M —, 445 P 2d 916.

Time of Admonition

The court is not required to admonish the jury before it has been completed; as, where a recess has been taken before the completion of the jury; the body of men intended for a jury is not such, under section 93-1203, until it has been sworn to try and determine by verdict a question of fact. State v. Hall, 55 M 182, 186, 175 P 267.

Where a jury was completed on the afternoon of the sixth of the month, and an adjournment was then taken until the seventh, and at noon on the seventh a recess was taken until 1:30 p.m. of that day, a new trial will not be granted because of the failure of the court to give to the jury the full statutory admonition, where the jury was properly admonished, as required by this section, at each adjournment taken after the noon recess on the seventh. State v. Hall, 55 M 182, 186, 175 P 267.

Waiver of Objection

Where on motion for new trial it is found that counsel for defendant consented to the taking of certain exhibits to the jury room previously admitted in evidence on a prosecution for murder, such consent constitutes a waiver of any objection to the sending of the exhibits to the jury during retirement. State v. Allen, 23 M 118, 57 P 725.

When Information Deemed Oral

The information referred to in predecessor section was deemed to be oral if it was not in writing at the time of its delivery and read to the jury as written. State v. Fisher, 23 M 540, 553, 59 P 919.

Law Review

General Admonitions To Jury Not To Read Newspaper Accounts of Trial Held Sufficient To Counteract Adverse Publicity (State v. Moran, 142 M 423, 384 P 2d 777), 25 Mont. L. Rev. 156 (1963).

95-1914. Court may adjourn during absence, but deemed open. While the jury is absent the court may adjourn from time to time as to other business, but it must nevertheless be open for every purpose connected with the cause submitted to the jury until a verdict is returned or the jury discharged.

History: En. 95-1914 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-1915. Verdict. (a) Return. The verdict shall be unanimous in all felonies and two-thirds ( $\frac{2}{3}$ ) in all misdemeanors and appeals from justice or police courts. Such verdict shall be signed by the foreman and returned by the jury to the judge in open court.

(b) Several Defendants. If there are two (2) or more defendants, the jury, at any time during its deliberations, may return a verdict or verdicts with respect to a defendant or defendants as to whom it has agreed; if the jury cannot agree with respect to all, the defendant or defendants as to whom it does not agree may be tried again.

(c) Conviction of a Lesser Offense. The defendant may be found guilty of an offense necessarily included in the offense charged, or of an attempt to commit either the offense charged or an offense necessarily included therein if the attempt is an offense.

Whenever a crime is distinguished into degrees, the jury, if they convict the defendant, must find the degree of the crime of which he is guilty.

(d) Poll of Jury. When a verdict is returned, the jury shall be polled at the request of any party or upon the court's own motion. If upon the poll there is not the required concurrence the jury may be directed to retire for further deliberations or may be discharged.

History: En. 95-1915 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967; Sup. Ct. Ord. 11450-2-3-4, Oct. 10, 1968, eff. Dec. 1, 1968.

Advisory Committee Note:

Amendment by addition of second paragraph brings this section into conformity with section 94-7234, R. C. M. 1947.

Cross-References

Right to unanimous verdict in felony cases, Mont. Const. Art. II, § 23.

Degrees of Murder

There is but one crime of murder, and its division into degrees is simply for the purpose of adjusting the punishment with reference to the presence or absence of circumstances of aggravation. State v. Hliboka, 31 M 455, 458, 78 P 965.

Degree of Offense

In charging burglary, it is not necessary to allege in the information the time of the entry, but the jury, if they convict, must find the degree. State v. Copenhagen, 35 M 342, 344, 89 P 61; State v. Mish, 36 M 168, 175, 92 P 459.

Where a specific crime is divided into degrees, it is sufficient to charge the commission of the substantive offense; it is then made the duty of the jury to determine from the evidence the particular degree of the crime of which the accused is guilty, if guilt is shown. State v. Wiley, 53 M 383, 386, 164 P 84.

Finding as to Previous Conviction

In an information charging, among other things, a prior conviction of an offense in another state which, in this state, is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison, it is unnecessary to allege the facts constituting the crime in the foreign state, and it is immaterial whether the offense for which defendant is alleged to have been previously convicted in the sister state is a felony there. State v. Paisley, 36 M 237, 247, 92 P 566.

While it is not necessary for the jury to find that a charge of prior conviction is true where the charge is admitted, if it does so find, defendant is not in a position to complain. State v. O'Neill, 76 M 526, 528, 248 P 215.

Where defendant's answer admits the charge of a previous conviction, finding of previous conviction is unnecessary and jury's failure to make such finding did not render invalid the judgment increasing sentence for a prior conviction. State ex rel. Williams v. Henry, 119 M 271, 174 P 2d 220, 222.

Insufficient Verdict

A party cannot be charged with one crime and be convicted of another independent offense; thus, a verdict of guilty of malicious destruction of property is insufficient under a charge of the malicious burning of property; the offense found does not include the offense charged; in such a case it is the right and duty of the trial court to require the jury to return some form of verdict authorized by law, or to report a disagreement. State v. Sieff, 54 M 165, 168, 168 P 524.

Lesser Offense

Where the defendant was specifically charged with burglary in the nighttime, constituting the first degree of the offense of burglary, the jury could not convict him of the crime in the second degree, as having been committed in the daytime, since the former does not include the latter, and inasmuch as the defendant need only meet the accusation as made, and not another and a different one, and the prosecution is held to proof of the charge as set out in the information. State v. Copenhagen, 35 M 342, 345, 89 P 61.

An information charging murder, when stripped of the terms conveying the idea of deliberation, premeditation, and malice, sufficiently charges manslaughter, and the accused may be found guilty of the lesser offense. State v. Crean, 43 M 47, 53, 114 P 603.

Murder in the first degree includes manslaughter. State v. Crean, 43 M 47, 53, 114 P 603.

While the offense of kidnaping includes the minor offenses of false imprisonment and assault in the third degree, the court need not so formulate the charge that the jury may find the defendant guilty of a lower offense or of an included offense, where the evidence is such as to show that defendant is guilty of the offense charged or is entitled to an acquittal. State v. McDonald, 51 M 1, 16, 149 P 279.

Where defendant was charged with murder in the second degree it was permissible for the jury to find him guilty of involuntary manslaughter. State v. Allison, 122 M 120, 199 P 2d 279, 288.

Manslaughter Not a Degree of Murder

Where there is evidence tending to show that defendant is guilty of murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, and manslaughter, it is the duty of the court to instruct that a verdict for manslaughter may be returned, manslaughter not being a degree of murder. State v. Shadwell, 26 M 52, 59, 66 P 508.

Poll of Jury

Where on the poll of the jury one juror answered that the verdict of guilty of burglary was his verdict provided the sentence was suspended, but thereafter, upon inquiry by the court, unqualifiedly answered that it was his verdict, a motion for dismissal of the information on the ground that the verdict had not been rendered by a full panel was properly denied. State v. Asher, 63 M 302, 306, 206 P 1091.

Sentence for Prior Conviction

A judgment that defendant "be imprisoned in the state prison for the term of ten years, five years upon the conviction for assault in the second degree, and five years for the prior conviction of a felony as by the statute made and provided," is not void as to the five years for former conviction. State v. Connors, 27 M 227, 228, 70 P 715.

Value of Property

Held, in view of former section providing that in a prosecution for an offense against the property of another, the jury must ascertain and declare in their verdict not only the value of the property taken but also the amount restored, that refusal to permit defendant to introduce evidence to show the amount restored to the person from whom he obtained money by false pretenses was prejudicial error. State v. Mason, 62 M 180, 190, 204 P 358.

Where the fact that all of the articles taken by one charged with burglary were found and restored to the owner was before the jury, failure of the verdict to declare the value of the property taken and the amount restored, if any, and the value thereof, as required by former statute which closed with the words that "the jury's failure to do so does not affect the validity of their verdict," was not a fatal defect, if the provisions of the section were to guide the jury in fixing punishment. State v. Dixon, 80 M 181, 207, 208, 260 P 138.

Verdict by Full Panel

Where, on the poll of the jury one juror answered that the verdict of guilty of burglary was his verdict provided that the sentence was suspended, but thereafter, upon inquiry by the court, unqualifiedly answered that it was his verdict, a motion for dismissal of the information on the ground that the verdict had not been rendered by a full panel was properly denied. State v. Asher, 63 M 302, 306, 206 P 1091.

Verdict Not Subject to Technical Pleading Rules

A verdict is not subject to the technical rules which govern pleadings. The object sought in construing a verdict is to ascertain the intention of the jury, and to that end reference may be made to the pleadings, the evidence and the instructions of the court. Consolidated Gold & Sapphire Min. Co. v. Struthers, 41 M 565, 111 P 152; Tripp v. Silver Dyke Min. Co., 70 M 120, 224 P 272.

Verdict upon Finding of Insanity

Where defendant, charged with assault in the first degree, relied wholly upon the defense of insanity, the court's instruction that the jury might find defendant guilty of assault in the first, second, or third degree, or not guilty was inaccurate; the jury should have been told that, if they found him not guilty because insane, their verdict should be "not guilty by reason of insanity." State v. Crowe, 39 M 174, 184, 102 P 579.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Finding as to Previous Conviction

For a mere informality in the wording of a verdict finding the defendant guilty of robbery and also "guilty of prior convictions," instead of following the language of former section and saying, "We find the charge of previous conviction true," the judgment of conviction would not be reversed, since the provision was directory only, and the verdict in question substantially conformed to it. State v. Gordon, 35 M 458, 465, 90 P 173; State v. Paisley, 36 M 237, 248, 92 P 566.

Insufficient Verdict

Where a jury in a criminal case brought in a verdict of guilty, and, in the attempted exercise of its former right to fix the punishment, set out in its verdict the maximum of years the defendant was to serve in prison, but neglected to set out the minimum, the court should have, on motion therefor, sent it out again to fill in the omission. In re Gomez, 52 M 189, 190, 156 P 1078.

Manner of Taking Verdict

Purpose of former section dealing with manner of taking verdict and requiring the names of the jurors to be called when their verdict was delivered, was to ensure their presence before the verdict was delivered. State v. De Lea, 36 M 531, 534, 93 P 814.

95-1916. Defendant, when to be discharged. If judgment of acquittal is given on a general verdict, and the defendant is not detained for any other legal cause, he must be discharged as soon as the judgment is given, except where the acquittal is because of a variance between the pleading and proof which may be obviated by a new indictment or information the court may order his detention to the end that a new indictment or information may be filed by the county attorney.

History: En. 95-1916 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

- Section 95-2001. Initiation of proceedings.
 95-2002. Minutes.
 95-2003. Change of place of trial.
 95-2004. Trial in justice and police courts.
 95-2005. Formation of trial jury.

 95-2007. Sentence and judgment.
 95-2008. Execution of judgment.
 95-2008.1. Fines for city ordinance violations tried on appeal—half to city.
 95-2009. Appeal.

95-2001. Initiation of proceedings. In justice and police courts all criminal prosecutions must be commenced by complaint under oath.

History: En. 95-2001 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Limited Jurisdiction

Police courts, like justices' courts, are courts of limited jurisdiction and have only such authority as is expressly conferred upon them. State ex rel. Marquette v. Police Court, 86 M 297, 308, 283 P 430.

Nature of Action

The nature of an action for the violation of a city ordinance, whether civil or criminal, must be determined by the relief sought in the proceeding, without regard to the question whether some other proceeding may or may not be brought under the state statutes. State ex rel.

Cross-References

Prosecution of criminal offenses, Mont. Const. Art. III, § 8.

Issuance of Arrest Warrant

It is the duty of a justice of the peace, when he is satisfied upon the complaint of any citizen that an offense has been committed, to issue a warrant of arrest and to have the offender brought before him for trial or examination, as the case may be. State v. O'Brien, 35 M 482, 494, 90 P 514.

Marquette v. Police Court, 86 M 297, 308, 283 P 430.

Pleading

In a criminal proceeding, it is sufficient to plead a city ordinance by reference to its title, section and subdivision of section. City of Philipsburg v. Weinstein, 21 M 146, 53 P 272.

For an instance of a complaint charging a sale of liquor, in violation of the local option law, and meeting all the requirements of the statute, see State v. O'Brien, 35 M 482, 494, 90 P 514.

Sufficiency of Complaint

A complaint was sufficient where it stated facts constituting a public offense and charged a violation which was a misdemeanor within the jurisdiction of the justice of the peace court. State ex rel. Borberg v. District Court, 125 M 481, 240 P 2d 854, 856.

Where Issues Narrowed from General Allegations to Specific Averments

Where general allegations in a complaint are followed by specific averments, the issues are narrowed to those embraced within the particular allegations. State v. Schnell, 107 M 579, 585, 88 P 2d 19.

Where Offense Erroneously Named, Not Fatal to Pleading

The general rule is that when the facts, acts and circumstances are set forth with sufficient certainty to constitute an offense, it is not a fatal defect that the complaint gives the offense an erroneous name; the name of the crime is controlled by the specific acts charged, and an erroneous name of the charge does not vitiate the complaint. State v. Schnell, 107 M 579, 585, 88 P 2d 19.

Law Review

Mason & Kimball, Montana Justices' Courts—According to the Law, 23 Mont. L. Rev. 62 (1961).

95-2002. Minutes. A docket must be kept by the justice of the peace, or police judge, in which must be entered each action, and the proceedings of the court therein.

History: En. 95-2002 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-2003. Change of place of trial. (a) The defendant or prosecution, before trial, may move for a change of place of trial on the ground that there exists in the township in which the charge is pending such prejudice that a fair trial cannot be had in such township.

(b) The motion shall be in writing and supported by affidavit which shall state facts showing the nature of the prejudice alleged. The defendant or the state may file counteraffidavits. The court shall conduct a hearing and determine the merits of the motion.

(c) If the court determines that there exists in the township where the prosecution is pending such prejudice that a fair trial cannot be had it shall transfer the cause to any other court of competent jurisdiction in any township where a fair trial may be had.

History: En. 95-2003 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Change of Place of Trial

It seems that a police judge may grant a change of the place of trial of a criminal cause pending before him upon a motion, supported by a proper showing, either for bias or prejudice of such judge, or prejudice in the citizens of the township. In re Graye, 36 M 394, 397, 93 P 266.

A change of venue cannot be had from a justice of the peace court of one county to a justice of the peace court of another county. State ex rel. Gillett v. Cronin, 41 M 293, 295, 109 P 144.

95-2004. Trial in justice and police courts. (a) Method of Trial:

(1) The defendant is entitled to a jury of six (6) qualified persons, but may consent to a lesser number.

(2) A trial by jury may be waived by the consent of both parties expressed in open court and entered in the docket.

(3) Questions of law shall be decided by the court and questions of fact by the jury except when a jury trial is waived, then the court shall determine both questions of law and of fact.

(b) Plea of Guilty. Before or during trial a plea of guilty may be accepted when:

(1) The defendant enters a plea of guilty in open court, and

(2) The court has informed the defendant of the consequences of his plea and of the maximum penalty provided by law which may be imposed upon acceptance of such plea.

(c) Presence of Defendant. The trial may be had in the absence of the defendant; but if his presence is necessary for any purpose, the court may require the personal attendance of the defendant at the trial.

(d) Time to Prepare for Trial. After plea the defendant shall be entitled to a reasonable time to prepare for trial.

History: En. 95-2004 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

Right of trial by jury, Mont. Const. Art. III, § 23.

Questions of Law—Questions of Fact

Provision that court shall decide questions of law but can give no charge with respect to matters of fact was the statement in legislative form of an ancient legal maxim which has been enacted in many statutes, and has been deemed so vital to the rights and liberties of the people that it has been engrafted upon the constitutions of states. State v. Sullivan, 9 M 174, 177, 22 P 1088.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Written "Special Plea in Bar" Not Authorized

Justice of the peace was acting within his jurisdiction and in accordance with the law in overruling the defendant's written "Special Plea in Bar" and ordering the defendant to answer to the complaint in accordance with statutory requirements explicitly calling for oral plea. State ex rel. Borberg v. District Court, 125 M 481, 240 P 2d 854, 857, 859, 861.

95-2005. Formation of trial jury. (a) Number of Jurors. A jury in justice or police court shall consist of six (6) persons, but the parties may agree to a number less than six (6).

(b) Formation of Trial Jury. The county jury commission, at the time of preparing the district court jury list, shall prepare a jury list for each justice and police court within the county. Each list shall consist of residents of the appropriate township, city or town. Such list shall be selected in any reasonable manner which shall ensure fairness, and it shall include a number of names sufficient to meet the annual jury requirements of the respective court. Additional lists may be prepared if required. The list shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court and the appropriate list shall be posted in a public place in each such township, city or town, and such list shall comprise the trial jury list for the ensuing year for such township, city or town.

Trial jurors shall be summoned from the jury list by notifying each orally that he is summoned and of the time and place at which his attendance is required.

The prosecuting attorney and the defendant or his attorney shall conduct the examination of prospective jurors. The court may conduct an additional examination. The court may limit the examination by the defendant, his attorney or the prosecuting attorney if the court believes such examination to be improper.

Each party may challenge jurors for cause, and each challenge must be tried by the court. The challenge may be for any cause enumerated in section 95-1909(d) (2) of this code. Each defendant shall be allowed three (3) peremptory challenges and the state shall be allowed the same number of peremptory challenges as all of the defendants.

History: En. 95-2005 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967; amd. Sup. Ct. Ord. 11450-2-3-4, Oct. 10, 1968, eff. Dec. 1, 1968.

Cross-References

Juries in justices' courts, sec. 93-1206.
Number of jurors, Mont. Const. Art. III, § 23.

95-2006. Verdict. (a) Return. The verdict of the jury must in all cases be general. It shall be returned by the jury to the judge in open court, who must enter, or cause it to be entered in the minutes. Two-thirds ( $\frac{2}{3}$ ) in number of the jury may render a verdict, and such verdict so rendered shall have the same force and effect as if all jurors had concurred therein.

(b) Several Defendants. When several defendants are tried together, if the jury cannot agree upon a verdict as to all, they may render a verdict as to those in regard to whom they do agree, on which a judgment must be entered accordingly, and the case as to the rest may be tried by another jury.

(c) Poll of Jury. When a verdict is returned, the jury shall be polled at the request of any party or upon the court's own motion. If upon the poll there is not a two-thirds ( $\frac{2}{3}$ ) concurrence, the jury may be directed to retire for further deliberations or may be discharged.

(d) Discharge of Jury. The jury cannot be discharged after the cause is submitted to them, until they have agreed upon and rendered their verdict, unless for good cause the court sooner discharges them.

History: En. 95-2006 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-References

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Discharge of Jury without Verdict

In a prosecution for murder, where the jury was discharged at the end of a mistrial, because there was "a reasonable probability that the jury cannot agree," an entry in the minutes in those words was sufficient under former section providing that jury was not to be discharged, after cause was submitted to them, until rendering their verdict unless it appeared that there was a reasonable probability that they could not agree. State v. Keerl, 33 M 501, 513, 85 P 862, affirmed in 213 US 501, 53 LEd 734, 29 S Ct 469.

95-2007. Sentence and judgment. (a) If a judgment of acquittal is rendered the defendant must be immediately discharged.

(b) After a plea or verdict of guilty, or after a judgment against the defendant, the court must designate a time for sentencing, which must be within a reasonable time after the verdict or judgment is rendered. The sentence must be entered in the minutes of the court as soon as it is imposed.

(c) If the defendant pleads guilty, or is convicted either by the court or by a jury, the court must impose a sentence of fine or imprisonment or both, as the case may be.

(d) The determination and imposition of sentence shall be the exclusive duty of the court.

History: En. 95-2007 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Hosoda v. Neville, 45 M 310, 312, 123 P 20.

Waiver of Sentencing Date

Where a person accused in a justice's court of a misdemeanor is convicted, and the justice immediately proceeds, upon the return of the verdict, to pronounce sentence without any objection from the defendant, his silence is a waiver of his right to a postponement of judgment.

Defendant convicted in a justice of the peace court of driving a vehicle on a highway while under the influence of intoxicating liquor in violation of section 32-2142 waived postponement of the sentencing date where there was a stipulation to the sentencing date. Wilson v. Brodie, 148 M 235, 419 P 2d 306, 308.

95-2008. Execution of judgment. (a) The judgment must be executed by the sheriff, constable, marshal or policeman of the jurisdiction in which the conviction was had.

(b) When a judgment of imprisonment is entered, a certified copy thereof must be delivered to the sheriff or other officer, which is a sufficient warrant for its execution.

(c) If a judgment is rendered imposing a fine only, without imprisonment for nonpayment, and the defendant is not detained for any other legal cause, he must be discharged as soon as the judgment is given.

A judgment that the defendant pay a fine may also direct that he be imprisoned until the fine be satisfied, in the proportion of one (1) day's imprisonment for every ten dollars ($10.00) of the fine.

When such a judgment is rendered the defendant must be held in custody the time specified in the judgment, unless the fine is sooner paid.

(d) Any officer charged with the collection of fines, under the provisions of this chapter, must return the execution to the judge within thirty (30) days from its delivery to him, and pay over to the judge the money collected therefrom, deducting his fees for the collection.

All fines imposed and collected by a justice or police court must be paid to the treasurer of the county, city or town as the case may be, within thirty (30) days after the receipt of the same, and the justice or police judge must take duplicate receipts therefor, one (1) of which he must deposit with the county or city or town clerk as the case may be.

History: En. 95-2008 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

justice court, such imprisonment operated ipso facto to satisfy and discharge the judgment. Petelin v. Kennedy, 29 M 466, 75 P 82.

Fine with or without Imprisonment

Legislature recognized a distinction between a judgment for fine, and one for fine with imprisonment until the fine be paid. State ex rel. Hodgdon v. District Court, 33 M 119, 120, 82 P 663.

Imprisonment for Nonpayment of Fine

Where a defendant was imprisoned under predecessor section for the full period prescribed in a judgment rendered in a

Judgment for Fine Only

A judgment rendered by a justice of the peace, in a case of misdemeanor, imposing a fine, with imprisonment in the county jail until the fine be paid, is not a judgment for fine only, within the meaning of predecessor section. State ex rel. Hodgdon v. District Court, 33 M 119, 120, 82 P 663.

95-2008.1. Fines for city ordinance violations tried on appeal—half to city. All fines obtained from a judgment in a higher court on an appeal from a police court for violation of a city ordinance, tried de novo, in the higher court, shall be paid to the county treasurer who shall before thirty-one (31) days after receipt of the sum forward one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of the amount to the treasurer of the city in which the action originated.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 32, L. 1967.

Title of Act

An act giving cities and towns one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of the money from judgments obtained on appeals from police courts.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 32, Laws 1967 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

95-2009. Appeal. (a) All cases on appeal from justices' or police courts must be tried anew in the district court and may be tried before a jury of six (6) which may be drawn from either the regular panel or jury box No. 3.

(b) The defendant may appeal to the district court by giving written notice of his intention to appeal within ten days (10) days after judgment.

(c) Within thirty (30) days the entire record of the justice or police court proceedings shall be transferred to the district court or the appeal shall be dismissed. It shall be the duty of the defendant to perfect the appeal.

History: En. 95-2009 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Appeal Waives Certain Irregularities

Since the district court does not, on appeal from a justice's court, sit as a court of review, but tries the case de novo, any irregularities attending the rendition of the judgment in a case in which the justice had jurisdiction of the offense charged and of the defendant are waived by taking the appeal. State v. O'Brien, 35 M 482, 491, 90 P 514.

The result of an appeal from a judgment of a justice of the peace, in a prosecution for misdemeanor, is to abrogate that judgment and to hold defendant under the original warrant of arrest for trial de novo in the district court, and the defendant cannot complain, on habeas corpus, of any irregularity committed by the justice in rendering judgment. Hosoda v. Neville, 45 M 310, 313, 123 P 20.

Dismissal for Want of Prosecution Void

Where an appeal is taken to the district court from a conviction in a police court for a liquor law violation, but neither the city nor the defendant requested the cause be set for trial, the judge of the court could not order the appeal dismissed "for want of prosecution" without giving notice to the defendant. Such an order is void and in excess of jurisdiction. State ex rel. Healy v. District Court, 125 M 77, 230 P 2d 763.

Effect of Payment of Fine after Appeal

Where defendant was convicted in a police court of the violation of a town ordinance and appealed to the district court and served notice of his appeal to the district court while in jail serving a sentence imposed for his nonpayment of the fine, the fact the defendant had paid the fine before the hearing in the district court did not effect an abandonment of his appeal. Town of White Sulphur Springs v. Voise, 136 M 1, 343 P 2d 855, 857.

No Right of Appeal by Cities

Defendant, charged with wrongfully obstructing an alley, was proceeded against under statutes governing criminal procedure in police courts, convicted and appealed to the district court, where the complaint was dismissed. Held, on appeal by the city that, the statute not granting the right of appeal to cities in criminal causes tried in justice or police courts, the appeal did not lie. City of Miles City v. Drum, 60 M 451, 199 P 719.

Objection to Form of Appeal

Where defendant sought to appeal decision of justice of peace and although undertaking was not in proper form, it was approved by the justice, it was improper for the district court to dismiss the appeal for insufficiency of form of undertaking when no objection to the form was made in the justice's court of original jurisdiction. Reidelbach v. District Court, 142 M 52, 381 P 2d 470; Clark v. District Court, 142 M 56, 381 P 2d 472.

Record on Appeal

In the absence of specific statutory provision on the subject, the original files, together with a copy of the docket minutes, constitute the record on appeal, in a criminal cause, from a justice of the peace to the district court. In re Graye, 36 M 394, 397, 93 P 266.

The original files, together with a copy of the docket minutes, may be regarded as constituting the record on appeal from a justice of the peace to the district court. In re Graye, 36 M 394, 397, 93 P 266.

Trial de Novo

On appeal from a justice's court in a misdemeanor case, the cause must be tried de novo in the district court on the papers and files in the former, unless the latter court allows other or amended pleadings, and each party has the benefit of all legal objections made in the justice's court. State v. Benson, 91 M 109, 5 P 2d 1045.

The district court does not, on appeal from a police court, sit as a court of review, but it tries the cause de novo. Town of White Sulphur Springs v. Voise, 136 M 1, 343 P 2d 855, 857.

Undertaking

An undertaking on appeal, being purely a statutory regulation, may not be exacted unless the statute specifically makes such requirement. State ex rel. Hodgdon v. District Court, 33 M 119, 122, 82 P 663.

Waiver of Irregularities

A party cannot, under the guise of an application for a trial de novo, insist that irregularities, to which he made no objection, shall be taken note of, or that the judgment, which is abrogated by the appeal, be reversed on account of them. It is therefore immaterial, on the trial of the case appealed, whether the justice lost jurisdiction by conducting the trial in part on a legal holiday, or failed to comply with the statute in giving judgment or pronouncing sentence. In re Graye, 36 M 394, 397, 93 P 266.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Oral Notice of Appeal

An appeal may be taken by oral notice at the time of the rendition of the verdict or judgment. In re Graye, 36 M 394, 398, 93 P 266.

Former section permitting appeal by notice in open court did not apply to the taking of an appeal to the supreme court from a judgment of a district court. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 124 M 234, 221 P 2d 436, 437.

Trial de Novo

Defendant, who gave oral notice of appeal upon his conviction in a justice of the peace court of the offense of driving a vehicle on a highway while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, was entitled to a trial de novo in the district court. Wilson v. Brodie, 148 M 235, 419 P 2d 306, 309.

CHAPTER 21

POST-TRIAL MOTIONS

Section 95-2101. New trial.

95-2101. New trial. (a) Definition and Effect. A new trial is a re-examination of the issue in the same court, before another jury, after a verdict or finding has been rendered and the granting of a new trial places the parties in the same position as if there had been no trial.

(b) Motion for a New Trial.

(1) Following a verdict or finding of guilty the court may grant the defendant a new trial if required in the interest of justice.

(2) The motion for a new trial shall be in writing and shall be filed by the defendant within thirty (30) days following a verdict or finding of guilty. Reasonable notice of the motion shall be served upon the state.

(3) The motion for a new trial shall specify the grounds therefor.

(c) Alternative Authority of the Court on Hearing Motion for New Trial. On hearing the motion for a new trial, if justified by law and the weight of the evidence, the court may:

1. Deny the motion,
2. Grant a new trial, or
3. Modify or change the verdict or finding by finding the defendant guilty of a lesser degree of the crime charged, finding the defendant guilty of a lesser included crime or finding the defendant not guilty.

History: En. 95-2101 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Cross-Reference

Error in instructions as ground for new trial, sec. 95-1910.

Appeal

Rulings upon the admission or rejection of testimony and upon giving or refusing instructions may be reviewed either upon appeal from the judgment or on appeal from an order refusing a new trial, but any other questions arising from this section may be reviewed only upon appeal from an order denying a new trial. State v. Brantingham, 66 M 1, 7, 8, 212 P 499.

Attacking Charge

When a first conviction is set aside the defendant is not precluded upon a remand for a new trial from attacking the indictment or information. State v. Hale, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 230, overruled on another point in 142 M 459, 462, 384 P 2d 749. (Dissenting opinion, 129 M 449, 291 P 2d 229, 236.)

Evidence Received out of Court

Under former statute providing that a new trial shall be granted "when the jury has received any evidence, papers, or documents, not authorized by the court," the word "papers" refers to such written instruments as might be competent testimony when inspected by the court, and found to be competent under the rules of evidence, and does not include newspapers; and the reception by the jury of newspapers containing comments on the case does not, in itself, vitiate the verdict. State v. Jackson, 9 M 508, 520, 24 P 213.

Exhibits introduced in evidence in a prosecution for murder which are sent to the jury during their retirement will not be considered as having been received out of court, where it is found on motion for new trial that counsel for defendant consented to their being taken to the jury room during their retirement. State v. Allen, 23 M 118, 57 P 725.

Jury Separation or Misconduct

Under former statute providing that a new trial shall be granted "when the jury has been separated without leave of court, or been guilty of any misconduct, tending to prevent a fair and due consideration of the case," the reception by the jury of newspapers, containing comments on the trial adverse to the defendant, is misconduct tending to show injury to the defendant. State v. Jackson, 9 M 508, 522, 24 P 213. See also State v. Pepo, 23 M 473, 479, 59 P 721.

The affidavits of two jurors, filed in aid of a motion for new trial by defendant in a prosecution for murder, in which both stated that they had misunderstood the instructions of the court, which clearly charged the jury that they could find the accused guilty of any grade of unlawful homicide or acquit him, in that from a reading of them they were under the impression that the jury was required to either find the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree or acquit him, and that, being unwilling to acquit, they voted for murder in the first degree rather than declare him innocent, did not show such misconduct on the part of the jury as to entitle defendant to a new trial. State v. Beeskove, 34 M 41, 51, 85 P 376.

Motion for New Trial after Appeal Perfected

Once an appeal has been perfected to the supreme court the district court loses jurisdiction of the case, except that if a motion for a new trial is then pending the district court retains jurisdiction thereof, with power to rule thereon. State v. Nicks, 131 M 567, 312 P 2d 519, 520.

Newly Discovered Evidence

An affidavit in support of a motion for a new trial following a conviction for attempted rape that the prosecuting witness, some five months before the trial, said to affiant that, if defendant didn't "fork over," she "would send him over the road for the rest of his life," was not "newly discovered evidence," that expression meaning evidence discovered since the trial. State v. Prouty, 60 M 310, 315, 199 P 281.

Though a motion for a new trial in a criminal cause on the ground of newly discovered evidence is not generally viewed with favor by the courts, it is authorized by the codes, and, when the prescribed conditions are met, entitled to the same consideration as a motion upon any other statutory ground, and while a broad discretion is lodged in the trial court in disposing of it, its order denying it is subject to review. State v. Gangner, 73 M 187, 190, 235 P 703.

Alleged newly discovered evidence which is cumulative only does not warrant the granting of a new trial; nor may the court be put in error for refusing a retrial on that ground where movant made no attempt to show due diligence on his part to produce the newly discovered witness on the trial of his case. State v. Gies, 77 M 62, 64, 249 P 573.

Where the owner of an animal which defendant was charged with stealing testified that it was his property at the time it was taken and remained so until after defendant's arrest when it was paid for by the latter, he being fully cross-examined as to the transaction, a motion for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence based upon the witness' affidavit to the effect that he was mistaken in so testifying, was properly refused, since a new trial will not be granted because of newly discovered evidence based on forgetfulness or unfamiliarity of defendant's counsel with facts within the knowledge of the witness, or to enable the witness, on a change of heart, to give testimony in excuse of defendant's conduct. State v. Hughes, 78 M 87, 89, 252 P 320.

Where no evidence of the fitness or unfitness of the parents of an accused delinquent minor to control or take care of him was heard by the court, a judgment that they were not unfit was unsupported by the evidence and refusal of a new trial on the ground of new evidence was error. State ex rel. Palagi v. Freeman, 81 M 132, 139, 262 P 168.

Where defendant and his counsel accepted the statement of the county attorney that a witness, then in the county jail, whose name was endorsed on the information had refused to testify, whereas after the trial they ascertained that if he had been called he would have testified that he and another committed the offense for which defendant was convicted, without verifying the prosecutor's statement by an interview with the witness, they were lacking in due diligence in discovering and producing the alleged newly discovered evidence, preventing reversal of the order denying retrial as an abuse of discretion. State v. Broell, 87 M 284, 287, 286 P 1108.

Applications for new trials on the ground of newly discovered evidence are not favored by the courts and will not be granted where the new evidence is merely cumulative; in passing upon the correctness of a new trial order the supreme court sits only as a reviewing tribunal, not as a court of original jurisdiction or one clothed with authority to try the motion de novo. State v. Broell, 87 M 284, 287, 286 P 1108.

Where newly discovered evidence may demonstrate perjury in the state's witness upon whose evidence the verdict of guilty was founded and, but for which, conviction could not have been had, and may probably produce a different result, a new trial should be granted on that ground. State v. Hamilton, 87 M 353, 368, 287 P 933.

Motions for new trials on the ground of newly discovered evidence in criminal cases are not favored, and, regardless of the facts set up in affidavits filed in support thereof, defendant is not entitled to a retrial unless it is shown that he could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced the new evidence at the trial. State v. Hamilton, 87 M 353, 386, 287 P 933.

Where the key witness at the trial in which defendant was convicted of larceny made statements after the trial demonstrating that the testimony he gave was false and perjurious and, at the hearing on defendant's motion for new trial, the witness refused to give any testimony, the requirements for the granting of a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence were met and the defendant should have been granted a new trial. State v. Greeno, 135 M 580, 342 P 2d 1052.

Where defendant had perfected an appeal to the supreme court, and then discovered new evidence, the supreme court had no jurisdiction to grant a new trial, but upon defendant's prima facie showing of matters sufficient to warrant consideration, the court would instruct the district court to entertain defendant's motion for a new trial, and would stay further proceedings pending such motion. State v. Nicks, 131 M 567, 312 P 2d 519, 521.

New Trial Not Double Jeopardy

Where one convicted of crime is granted a new trial he is not placed in new jeopardy by the second trial, but is in the same jeopardy he was in when the first trial was had. State v. Aus, 105 M 82, 86, 69 P 2d 584.

Notice of Motion

The notice of motion for a new trial in a criminal case need not state whether the motion will be based on affidavits or a bill of exceptions; and the statement therein of the grounds on which the motion will be made is notice of what will be the basis of the motion. State v. Landry, 29 M 218, 220, 74 P 418.

On Confession of Error by Attorney General

Conviction of one of the crime of first degree burglary set aside and cause remanded for new trial for error committed by the trial court, confessed by the attorney general and shown by the record, in refusing defendant's motion for retrial based on the ground that a juror was biased and prejudiced. State v. Summers, 107 M 34, 36, 79 P 2d 560.

Supreme Court's Status

Upon appeal from an order granting or denying a motion for a new trial, the supreme court sits as a court of error and review, not as a court of original jurisdiction, or as an appellate court that is clothed with authority to try the motion de novo. State v. Schoenborn, 55 M 517, 520, 179 P 294.

Verdict Contrary to Law or Evidence

An alleged error in an instruction will not be reviewed on appeal where the only ground designated is that the verdict is contrary to law and evidence. State v. Gawith, 19 M 48, 47 P 207, overruled in State v. Mason, 24 M 340, 346, 61 P 861.

Under former statute providing that when verdict is contrary to law or evidence but evidence shows accused to be guilty only of lesser degree or lesser included offense rather than degree of which he was convicted, court may modify judgment without granting new trial, the expression, "the verdict is contrary to the evidence," meant the same thing as the expression, "insufficiency of the evidence to justify the verdict." Flaherty v. Butte Electric Ry. Co., 42 M 89, 93, 111 P 348; State v. Schoenborn, 55 M 517, 520, 179 P 294.

A defendant in a criminal case who has been convicted is not required to show an entire absence of evidence of some fact necessary to make out a case, in order to secure a new trial; but if he can convince the district court that the evidence in its entirety is insufficient in weight to justify the verdict, he is entitled to a new trial. State v. Schoenborn, 55 M 517, 520, 179 P 294.

The district court has authority to grant a motion for a new trial upon the ground that the verdict is contrary to the evidence without reference to the fact that a different judge may preside at the hearing of the motion, from the one who presided at the trial. State v. Schoenborn, 55 M 517, 520, 179 P 294.

A motion for a new trial in a criminal case upon the ground that the verdict is contrary to the law and the evidence presents for the court's determination the question of the sufficiency of the evidence to sustain the verdict. State v. Hughes, 76 M 421, 424, 246 P 959.

Failure of defendant to object to instructions on first degree murder does not deprive him of the right to ask for a new trial on the ground that the evidence did not justify a verdict of murder in that degree, the expression in former statute authorizing a new trial "when the verdict is contrary to the evidence" meaning the same thing as insufficiency of the evidence to justify the verdict, and the section not contemplating that defendant must first make objection to such instructions before he may rely upon the insufficiency of the evidence as a ground for a new trial. State v. Gunn, 85 M 553, 561, 281 P 757.

Verdict Improperly Arrived At

Under former statute providing for new trial when verdict has been decided by lot or by any means other than a fair expression of opinion on part of all jurors, the fact that a juror, when sworn, was biased and prejudiced against the defendant, which fact he concealed upon his voir dire examination, and which neither defendant nor his counsel discovered until after verdict, was ground for a new trial. State v. Mott, 29 M 292, 295, 74 P 728.

While it is imperative that the accused shall have a trial by an impartial jury, nevertheless, after verdict, error will not be presumed, and it is incumbent on the accused to make it appear affirmatively that he is entitled to a new trial by reason of having been deprived of this constitutional right; mere possibility, or even probability, that one of the jurors was incompetent, is not sufficient to overthrow the verdict. State v. Mott, 29 M 292, 295, 74 P 728.

The fact that jurors may impeach their own verdict when it has been decided by lot excludes all other exceptions to the general rule that jurors will not be heard to impeach their own verdict. State v. Beesskové, 34 M 41, 51, 85 P 376; State v. O'Brien, 35 M 482, 503, 90 P 514; Sutton v. Lowry, 39 M 462, 471, 104 P 545; State v. Wakely, 43 M 427, 437, 117 P 95; State v. Lewis, 52 M 495, 504, 159 P 415.

Except in cases where it has been reached by means other than a fair expression of opinion by all the jurors, their verdict cannot be impeached by the affidavit of one or more of the individuals composing the jury. State v. Lewis, 52 M 495, 504, 159 P 415.

In a prosecution for statutory rape, there was no error where the jury reached a verdict of guilty, and then, in deciding on punishment, each member set down his proposed amount in years, the total was divided by twelve to get an average, and then the term of the punishment was fixed after further discussion. State v. Moorman, 133 M 148, 321 P 2d 236, 242.

A quotient verdict is not a lot verdict. State v. Moorman, 133 M 148, 321 P 2d 236, 243.

When Assignment of Error Does Not Merit Consideration—No Record, Not Argued

Where alleged error in denying defendant's motion for new trial was not argued and nothing appeared in the record to sustain it, the assignment does not merit consideration. State v. Wong Sun, 114 M 185, 199, 133 P 2d 761.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Grounds for New Trial

Under former statute specifically enumerating grounds for new trial, held that where a motion to set aside an information was made in the trial court, on the ground that it was not properly subscribed by the county attorney, and improperly refused, the error could be reviewed only on appeal from the judgment; it could not be reviewed on an appeal from an order granting a new trial, not being one of the enumerated grounds. State v. Schnepel, 23 M 523, 528, 59 P 927.

Where a defendant convicted of crime bases his motion for a new trial upon a number of the statutory grounds therefor, he has an absolute right to have all the grounds specified passed upon by the trial court; if it fails to do so but grants a new trial upon a ground not sustained on appeal by the state, the order will be reversed with directions to pass upon the motion in its entirety. State v. Hughes, 76 M 421, 424, 246 P 959.

Newly Discovered Evidence

Under former section authorizing new trial on ground of newly discovered evidence and requiring affidavits in support of such motion, a new trial would not be granted when the persons from whom the evidence was expected declined to make affidavits. State v. Gaimos, 53 M 118, 128, 162 P 596.

An affidavit of one of defendant's attorneys in support of a motion for new trial, asked because of newly discovered evidence, to the effect that he could not with reasonable diligence have discovered the affidavits of five persons who claimed to have been present at the place where the alleged assault occurred and whose testimony would tend to contradict the state's witnesses or corroborate appellant's version of the affray "and presented same upon the trial," was insufficient to show abuse of the court's discretion in denying the motion. State v. Prija, 57 M 461, 189 P 64.

Failure of defendant to show by his own affidavit that alleged newly discovered evidence was not known to him at the time of the trial warrants refusal to grant a retrial, affidavits of others in that regard being, as a general rule, insufficient. State v. Prouty, 60 M 310, 315, 199 P 281.

To constitute a showing of due diligence in discovering new evidence in a criminal case to warrant the granting of a new trial, movant is not required to allege in his supporting affidavits that he made inquiry of every person residing in the town in which the crime of which he was convicted was committed, some seventy-five miles from the county seat, by telephone or telegraph, as to whether they knew anything concerning the case. State v. Hamilton, 87 M 353, 368, 287 P 933.

Failure of trial court to grant motion for new trial in first degree murder case on alleged newly discovered evidence was not reversible error where counteraffidavit by county attorney showed that his office investigated each of the people named in the affidavits and that each of the parties denied that they had any evidence or information relative to the case. State v. Cor, 144 M 323, 396 P 2d 86, 101. (Dissenting opinion, 144 M 323, 353, 396 P 2d 86, 102.)

Timeliness of Supplemental Motion

A supplemental motion for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence is timely and properly before the court if made while the original motion remains undetermined when the applicant shows by affidavit that it was filed within thirty days after discovery of the alleged new evidence. State v. Hughes, 78 M 87, 89, 252 P 320.

95-2201. Liberal construction. This chapter shall be liberally construed to the end that persons convicted of a crime shall be dealt with in accordance with their individual characteristics, circumstances, needs, and potentialities; that dangerous offenders shall be correctively treated in custody for long terms as needed; and that other offenders shall be dealt with by probation, suspended sentence, or fine whenever such disposition appears practicable and not detrimental to the needs of public safety and the welfare of the individual.

95-2202. Sentence and judgment. (a) The judgment shall be rendered in open court.

(b) If the verdict or finding is not guilty judgment shall be rendered immediately and the defendant shall be discharged from custody or from the obligation of his bail bond.

(c) If the verdict or finding is guilty sentence shall be pronounced and judgment rendered within a reasonable time.

History: En. 95-2202 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Delay Due to Motions of Defendant—Nonprejudice

While ordinarily the trial court in a criminal case should pass judgment without delay, other than that provided by former statute, and in the absence of statute declaring that sentence must be pronounced at the same term of court at which the verdict of guilty is returned, where the verdict was returned on Nov. 18, 1938, and sentence was not pronounced until Jan. 19, 1939, the delay being caused by defendant's motions in arrest of judgment and for new trial and the hearings thereof, complaint may not be made that the court lost jurisdiction, or judgment not pronounced in the trial term. State v. Heaston, 109 M 303, 309, 97 P 2d 330.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Record of Arraignment

Record of arraignment was required to show that the former provisions as to the period of time between plea and sentence had been complied with. State ex rel. Biebinger v. Ellsworth, 147 M 512, 415 P 2d 728.

Time for Judgment

Former section providing, inter alia, for pronouncing judgment in felony cases at least two days after verdict meant that the defendant was entitled to two days after the verdict was returned before judgment was pronounced, provided the term of court lasted that long; but, if the term was not to continue for two days after the verdict was returned then the time for pronouncing judgment should be postponed to a date as remote as can reasonably be fixed within the then current term of court. State v. Lu Sing, 34 M 31, 40, 85 P 521.

When two days did not intervene between the rendition of a verdict of guilty in a capital case, and the pronouncement of judgment, it was presumed on appeal, in the absence of anything in the record to the contrary, that the court did not remain in session after the date on which the judgment was pronounced. State v. Lu Sing, 34 M 31, 40, 85 P 521.

Method pursued by trial judge, in passing sentence and rendering judgment in a prosecution for illegally manufacturing and illegally possessing intoxicating liquor where defendant was guilty upon both counts and waived the statutory time for pronouncing judgment and sentence, examined, held to have been in faultless adherence to the provisions of the code sections and not open to the objection that no judgment was ever made or entered and all that was done was an entry by the clerk in the minute book that the court did certain things. State v. Sorenson, 75 M 30, 34, 241 P 616.

Failure of court to wait two days after verdict before imposing sentence as required by former statute, was ground for setting aside conviction, and annulling plea of guilty. Harding v. State, 149 M 147, 424 P 2d 130

95-2203. Presentence investigations. No defendant convicted of a crime which may result in commitment for one (1) year or more in the state prison, shall be sentenced or otherwise disposed of before a written report of investigation by a probation officer is presented to and considered by the court, unless the court deems such report unnecessary. The court may, in its discretion, order a presentence investigation for a defendant convicted of any lesser crime or offense.

History: En. 95-2203 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Reading into Record

Trial court did not err in considering and in reading into the record in open court prior events of eighteen-year-old defendant's life as disclosed by his juvenile record under statute directing judge to have a written report by the probation officer or parole officer and to consider the same before sentencing a defendant, since defendant did not object to the reading into the record and since after reading into the record the judge had asked "Is there any legal excuse why judgment and sentence of court should not be pronounced against you?" State v. Manning, 149 M 517, 429 P 2d 625.

Report of Investigator

Where trial judge requested pre-sentence investigation, unsworn representations and recommendations set forth in investigator's unsigned report privately offered to and privately received and adopted by the trial judge were not evidence. Kuhl v. District Court, 139 M 536, 366 P 2d 347, 364.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Discretion of Trial Court

Trial court did not have discretion to determine for itself whether former provisions dealing with testimony as to circumstances in aggravation or mitigation of punishment should be applied. Kuhl v. District Court, 139 M 536, 366 P 2d 347, 352.

Examination of Witnesses in Open Court

Where defendant pleaded guilty to grand larceny, the extent of his punishment should have been determined by the exercise of a sound discretion on the part of the trial judge after the circumstances had been "presented by the testimony of witnesses examined in open court." Kuhl v. District Court, 139 M 536, 366 P 2d 347, 351.

95-2204. Content of investigation. Whenever an investigation is required, the probation officer shall promptly inquire into the characteristics, circumstances, needs, and potentialities of the defendant; his criminal record and social history; the circumstances of the offense; the time the defendant has been in detention; and the harm to the victim, his immediate family, and the community. All local and state mental and correctional institutions, courts, and police agencies shall furnish the probation officer on request the defendant's criminal record and other relevant information. The investigation shall include a physical and mental examination of the defendant when it is desirable in the opinion of the court.

History: En. 95-2204 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2205. Availability of the report to defendant and others. The judge may, in his discretion, make the investigation report or parts of it available to the defendants or others, while concealing the identity of persons who provided confidential information. If the court discloses the identity of persons who provided information, the judge may, in his discretion, allow the defendant to cross-examine those who rendered information. Such reports shall be part of the record but shall be sealed and opened only on order of the court.

If a defendant is committed to a state institution the investigation report shall be sent to the institution at the time of commitment.

History: En. 95-2205 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Examination of Witnesses in Open Court

The sentence of a defendant, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny, to four years in the state prison was reduced to one year by the supreme court where trial court passed sentence upon receipt of private reports without allowing defendant or his counsel to learn of the representations in the reports and a hearing to present evidence to refute such representations. Kuhl v. District Court, 139 M 536, 366 P 2d 347, 365.

If and when the trial judge requests a written report of investigation, he must be governed by statutes relating to such reports. Kuhl v. District Court, 139 M 536, 366 P 2d 347, 363.

95-2206. Sentence. Whenever any person has been found guilty of a crime or offense upon a verdict or plea the court may impose any of the following sentences:

- (1) Release the defendant on probation;
- (2) Defer the imposition of sentence for a period not to exceed three (3) years;
- (3) Suspend the execution of the sentence up to the maximum sentence allowed for the particular offense. However, if any restrictions or conditions are violated, any elapsed time shall not be a credit against the sentence, unless the court shall otherwise order.
- (4) Impose a fine as provided by law for the offense;
- (5) Commit the defendant to a correctional institution with or without a fine as provided by law for the offense;
- (6) Impose any combination of the above. The court may also impose any restrictions or conditions on the above sentences which it deems necessary.

Any judge who has suspended the execution of a sentence or deferred the imposition of a sentence of imprisonment under this section, or his successor, is authorized thereafter, in his discretion, during the period of such suspended sentence or deferred imposition of sentence to revoke such suspension or impose sentence and order such person committed, or may, in his discretion, order the prisoner placed under the jurisdiction of the state board of pardons as provided by law, or retain such jurisdiction with this court. Prior to the revocation of an order suspending or deferring the imposition of sentence, the person affected shall be given a hearing.

History: En. 95-2206 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Floating—Sentence To Leave County—Void as Attempted Exercise of Pardoning Power

The provision of suspending sentence on condition that defendant leave and remain out of county has no force or effect other than to suspend sentence, and court has no power to pronounce a sentence in the absence of specific statutory authority. The prisoner is, by law, subject only to the rules and regulations of state board of pardons, and floating is void as an attempted exercise of pardoning power. Ex parte Sheehan, 100 M 244, 255, 49 P 2d 438.

Jury May Not Suspend Sentence

While the jury may, if they see fit, assess and declare the punishment in their verdict, it is the court which pronounces judgment and sentences the defendant, and the court only can suspend the execution of the sentence and place the defendant on probation. State v. Simanton, 100 M 292, 310, 49 P 2d 981, overruled on other grounds in State v. Knox, 119 M 449, 453, 175 P 2d 774.

Justice Courts

Provisions of former act were clearly applicable to all persons prosecuted for public offenses in justice courts as well as district courts, irrespective of the fact that section appeared in portion of code dealing with district courts, and although a justice of the peace has no clerk as referred to in former sections, he may get blanks from the clerk of district court. Ex parte Sheehan, 100 M 244, 251, 255, 49 P 2d 438.

Revocation of Suspension

Where relator was sentenced to four years' confinement and the execution of the sentence was then suspended which suspension was later revoked, the sentence commenced to run for all purposes on the date when judgment of conviction was entered. Any time between imposition of suspended sentence and its revocation should have been credited to relator and failure to do so resulted in his illegal confinement. State ex rel. Wetzel v. Ellsworth, 143 M 54, 387 P 2d 442.

Subsequent Imprisonment

Where order placing petitioner on probation provided that he would be "jail-based" and referred to him as a "prisoner," the substance of the order and not its form or descriptive terminology determined its effect and meaning so that subsequent imprisonment did not place petitioner in double jeopardy in violation of the federal constitution or section 18, article III of the Montana constitution. In re Williams' Petition, 145 M 45, 399 P 2d 732.

Suspended Sentence, Effect Of

The effect of an order of the district court suspending the sentence of one convicted of a misdemeanor is to place him under the control and management of the state board of prison commissioners and subject to such rules and regulations as it may see fit to make. State ex rel. Foot v. District Court, 72 M 374, 377, 233 P 957.

Suspension of Sentence

Assuming that the court had the power to suspend the execution of accused's sentence and to place him upon probation, that power, too, must have been exercised at the time the sentence was pronounced. When an order suspending sentence is made, it is, in effect, a part of the judgment itself. It is the court's direction as to how the judgment shall be carried into effect. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 68 M 309, 310, 311, 218 P 558.

Under former section, the district court had authority to suspend sentence and place the defendant on probation whether found guilty of a crime or a misdemeanor. State ex rel. Foot v. District Court, 72 M 374, 377, 233 P 957.

Order of suspension must be made before the defendant is committed to the institution wherein he is to serve his sentence. State ex rel. Bottomly v. District Court, 73 M 541, 543 et seq., 237 P 525.

The statute providing for the suspension of sentences in criminal actions is designed to afford first offenders an opportunity for reformation and should be liberally construed. State ex rel. Bottomly v. District Court, 73 M 541, 543, 237 P 525.

Defendant was convicted of a violation of the liquor law and sentenced to serve sixty days in jail and pay a fine. He at once perfected an appeal, secured a certificate of probable cause and was admitted to bail. Five months thereafter his appeal was dismissed and the trial court on the day the certificate of dismissal was received suspended his sentence. Held, on application for writ of supervisory control, that defendant never having been committed, the court could properly, after entry of judgment, suspend the sentence at the time it did. State ex rel. Bottomly v. District Court, 73 M 541, 543, 237 P 525.

When Motion To Change Plea to Not Guilty Property Denied

Where defendant pleaded guilty on two charges of murder, was sentenced to life imprisonment on each, and three years later filed motions for leave to withdraw his pleas of guilty and substitute pleas of not guilty by reason of insanity caused by alcoholism, alleging in his affidavit that he pleaded on advice of his attorney, and was unaware of the effect of former section requiring consecutive terms if person had been convicted of two or more offenses before sentence had been pronounced for either held, that the evidence was sufficient to deny the motions, that the court did not abuse its discretion in finding him sane when he pled, that he was faithfully represented, and that he was aware that he couldn't escape jury trial and possible death sentence if he had done otherwise. State v. Hukoveh, 115 M 125, 131, 139 P 2d 538.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Repealed by Implication

Former chapter governing suspension of sentences repealed by implication former section governing when term of imprisonment commences, as far as any application to suspended sentence was concerned. State ex rel. Wetzel v. Ellsworth, 143 M 54, 387 P 2d 442.

95-2207. Withdrawal of plea on a deferred imposition. Whenever the court has deferred the imposition of sentence, and after termination of the time period during which imposition of sentence has been deferred upon motion of the court, the defendant or the defendant's attorney, the court may allow the defendant to withdraw his plea of guilty, or may strike the verdict of guilty from the record, and order that the charge or charges against him be dismissed.

History: En. 95-2207 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-2208. Judgment to pay fine constitutes a lien. The judgment shall be reduced to writing and signed by the judge. A judgment that the defendant pay a fine or costs constitutes a lien upon the real estate of the defendant, which lien dates from the date of the defendant's arrest.

History: En. 95-2208 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Constitutionality

A former statute, containing substantially similar provisions, held constitutional. Silver Bow County v. Strumbaugh, 9 M 81, 22 P 453.

95-2209. Entry of judgment and judgment roll. When judgment upon a conviction is rendered the clerk must enter the same in the minutes, stating briefly the offense for which the conviction was had, and the fact of prior convictions (if any), and must, within five (5) days, annex together and file the following papers, which will constitute the judgment roll:

- (1) The indictment or information and a copy of the minutes of the arraignment, pleas and motions.
- (2) A copy of the minutes of the trial.

(3) The instructions given or refused and the endorsements thereon.

(4) A copy of the judgment.

History: En. 95-2209 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Appeal Record

Under former subdivision similar to subdivision (1) except that no provision was made for inclusion of copy of minutes of arraignment and under former provision for settlement of bills of exceptions, the original and first amended information, and demurrers to them which were sustained, and a motion to dismiss the prosecution, and order overruling it, were not part of the appeal record where they were not embodied in the bill of exceptions. State v. Stickney, 29 M 523, 526, 75 P 201.

The "record of the action" in a criminal case cannot be brought up on appeal in the body of a bill of exceptions. State v. Morrison, 34 M 75, 79, 85 P 738.

The merits of an appeal in a criminal case will not be considered where the papers constituting the record are included in a bill of exceptions and not certified as the record nor identified in any way by the certificate of the clerk of the district court or the trial judge. State v. Farriss, 34 M 424, 425, 87 P 177.

The record on appeal in a criminal case must, among other things, contain the judgment roll in which must be included a copy of the judgment. The state, on the theory that an objection of defendant to the introduction of evidence on the ground of the insufficiency of the information is in effect a demurrer to the information and an order sustaining a demurrer constitutes the judgment, attempted to appeal from such an order as from the judgment, but the record did not contain a copy of the order in the form of a minute entry, which in such a case constitutes the judgment. Held, that the supreme court was without jurisdiction to entertain the appeal. State v. Nilan, 75 M 397, 400, 243 P 1081.

Copy of Order Constituting Judgment

An appeal by the state in a criminal prosecution from an order made at the close of the state's case in chief, directing the jury to return a verdict in favor of defendant, was not subject to dismissal on the ground that the record on appeal did not contain a copy of the judgment where it did contain a copy of the order which had all the attributes of a judgment and constituted the judgment. State v. Thierfelder, 114 M 104, 108, 132 P 2d 1035, overruled on other grounds in State v. Labbitt, 117 M 26, 35, 156 P 2d 163.

Failure to State Degree Not Fatal

A judgment is not rendered invalid for failure to state the degree of the crime for which defendant was convicted. State ex rel. Williams v. Henry, 119 M 271, 174 P 2d 220, 222.

Judgment Roll

Held, that while the trial court erred in permitting the state on a perjury trial to introduce the judgment roll in the cause in which the alleged false testimony was given, containing papers not properly part thereof under statute, the procedure amounted to a mere irregularity which could not in any manner have prejudiced the defendant. State v. Jackson, 88 M 420, 429, 293 P 309.

Where Record on Appeal Contained Requirements

On appeal from order sustaining demurrer to information, record consisting of information, demurrer and ruling thereon, notice of appeal, copy of minute entries and certificate of clerk of court was held sufficient; no bill of exceptions was necessary since no exception was required to ruling on demurrer. State v. Safeway Stores, Inc., 106 M 182, 197, 76 P 2d 81.

Where Statement of Degree of Offense Unnecessary

Since there was no indeterminate sentence legislation at the time of this conviction, it was not necessary to state in the judgment the degree of burglary of which the defendant was convicted. State v. Hill, 46 M 24, 126 P 41.

95-2210. Information from courts. It shall be the duty of the court disposing of any criminal case to cause to be transmitted to the board of pardons statistical data in accordance with regulations issued by the board regarding all dispositions of defendants whether found guilty or discharged.

History: En. 95-2210 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-2211. Review of sentence. Every sentence shall be subject to review in accordance with chapter 25, review of sentence.

History: En. 95-2211 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-2212. Sentence to be imposed by judge. All sentences under this chapter shall be imposed exclusively by the judge of the court.

History: En. 95-2212 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Correction of Error

An error made by the trial court in the imposition of sentence for crime may be corrected by it. In re Lewis, 51 M 539, 154 P 713.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Assessment of Sentence by Jury

Except for judgments rendered upon guilty pleas, former section requiring court to assess punishment if jury did not do so or assessed an unauthorized punishment was applicable only where jury had made every finding necessary to enable them to fix the punishment, but could not agree upon the extent of it within the limitations prescribed by the statutes. In such cases, if they failed or neglected to fix it, the court might declare it, but not otherwise. State v. Mish, 36 M 168, 177, 92 P 459.

The jury returned the following verdict: "We, the jury in the above-entitled action, find the defendant, Louis L. Fowler, guilty of the crime of sedition in the manner and form as charged in the information and fix and assess his punishment at the discretion of the court." The contention is made that it is rendered so defective by the misspelling of the word "discretion" that judgment should not be rendered upon it. There can be no doubt what the jury intended, viz., to find the defendant guilty as charged, and to leave the punishment to be fixed by the court. Former section authorized that to be done. If it be conceded, however, that the latter part of the verdict is unintelligible, this may be omitted entirely, leaving a categorical finding of guilty of the crime as charged in the information. Under former statute it was the duty of the court to eliminate that part of the verdict and to assess the punishment which in its discretion it thought proper, within the limits prescribed by the statute. (In re Collins, 51 M 215, 152 P 40; In re Gomez, 52 M 189, 156 P 1078.) State v. Fowler, 59 M 346, 355, 196 P 992.

Former statute empowering the trial judge to assess the punishment, when the jury had failed to agree thereon, though convicting the accused party, applied also when the attempt by the jury to fix the punishment was rendered unsuccessful by its omitting the minimum, after stating the maximum, number of years it would have the party imprisoned. In re Gomez, 52 M 189, 191, 156 P 1078.

Complaint was made of the verdict and of the judgment entered thereon, because the verdict rendered on the first and third counts purported to fix the punishment for each "at thirty days," without specifying where the time should be served. No objection was made by the defendant to the verdict at the time of its rendition, and the court was not requested to send the jury out again, under proper instructions, to supply the omission, if there were any. Therefore, whether a verdict in this form is in itself sufficient was not considered in view of former section and the holding of this court in In re Gomez, 52 M 189, 156 P 1078. State v. Marchindo, 65 M 431, 457, 211 P 1093.

Held, on certiorari, that the power given the district court to reduce the extent of punishment fixed by the jury in a criminal prosecution, must be exercised prior to or at the time judgment is pronounced, and that therefore an order reducing a fine and jail sentence after the judgment had been in process of execution for a number of days was void as in excess of jurisdiction, and an encroachment upon the pardoning power reposed by the constitution in the governor and the state pardoning board. State ex rel. Reid v. District Court, 68 M 309, 311, 218 P 558.

Accused has right to have jury assess punishment upon a correct statement of the law as to the penalty prescribed for the offense, and therefore an instruction that the penalty for unlawfully possessing and transporting intoxicating liquor was a fine of not more than $500, or imprisonment for not more than six months, or both such fine and imprisonment, whereas under section 11075, R. C. M. 1921, (since repealed) for the first offense a fine of not more than $500 could be imposed, was prejudicially erroneous. State v. Miller, 69 M 1, 6, 220 P 97.

Under chapter 202, Laws of 1921, (section 3202, R. C. M. 1921, since repealed) the jury may fix the punishment by their verdict by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or "by imprisonment for not more than three years, or by both such fine and imprisonment." The court instructed the jury that in case they found defendant guilty they must assess a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $3,000 and imprisonment for not less than one nor more than five years. Held, prejudicially erroneous. State v. Mark, 69 M 18, 27, 220 P 94.

In order to fix the punishment for the aggravated offense, it was indispensable that the jury know: (a) That prior convictions were charged and the nature of the offenses referred to in the charge; (b) that the charge was established by evidence or the admission of the defendant; and (c) what punishment was prescribed by law for the aggravated offense. To withhold from the jury all information concerning the charge of prior convictions would deny to the jury the right to fix the punishment and would, in effect, annul the provisions of former section. State v. O'Neill, 76 M 526, 533, 248 P 215.

While the jury may, if they see fit, assess and declare the punishment in their verdict, it is the court which pronounces judgment and sentences the defendant, and the court only can suspend the execution of the sentence and place the defendant on probation State v. Simanton, 100 M 292, 310, 49 P 2d 981, overruled on other grounds in State v. Knox, 119 M 449, 453, 175 P 2d 774.

95-2213. Merger of sentences. (a) Unless the judge otherwise orders, (1) when a person serving a term of commitment imposed by a court in this state is committed for another offense, the shorter term or shorter remaining term shall be merged in the other term, and (2) when a person under suspended sentence or on probation or parole for an offense committed in this state is sentenced for another offense, the period still to be served on suspended sentence, probation, or parole shall be merged in any new sentence of commitment or probation.

(b) The court merging the sentences shall forthwith furnish each of the other courts and penal institutions in which the defendant is confined under sentence with authenticated copies of its sentence, which shall cite the sentences being merged.

(c) If an unexpired sentence is merged pursuant to subdivision (a), the court which imposed such sentence shall modify it in accordance with the effect of the merger.

(d) Separate sentences of two (2) or more crimes shall run concurrently unless the court otherwise orders.

History: En. 95-2213 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Sequence of Consecutive Sentences

Where petitioner was sentenced to serve consecutive sentences for escape and using an automobile without the consent of the owner, and the warden executed the sentences in a sequence reverse to that indicated by the court, there was no infringement on his rights and his petition for writ of habeas corpus was denied. Petition of Cheadle, 143 M 327, 389 P 2d 579.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Consecutive or Concurrent Terms

Where defendant was sentenced to one year in prison on each of two counts of forgery without mention of whether the sentences were to run concurrently or consecutively, defendant was required to serve consecutive terms. Hensley v. State, 144 M 507, 398 P 2d 69.

95-2214. Credit for time served. Where defendant has served any portion of his sentence under a commitment based upon a judgment which judgment is subsequently declared invalid or which is modified during the term of imprisonment, such time shall be credited upon any subsequent sentence he may receive upon a new commitment for the same criminal act or acts. In calculating the time imprisoned, the person so convicted shall have the credit for all the time earned in diminution of sentence as provided under Montana statutes, section 80-1905, unless the sentencing authority in its discretion may choose to deny such credit.

Second Conviction

Relator was convicted of the crime of burglary in the first degree. After serving one year and six days he was released from prison pending appeal. The conviction was reversed upon such appeal and a new trial ordered. Upon the new trial he was again convicted and sentenced for the same period as the first, ten years. During his second incarceration he was not entitled to credit against the second sentence for time served under the first sentence. State ex rel. Nelson v. Ellsworth, 141 M 78, 375 P 2d 316, 318.

95-2215. Credit for incarceration prior to conviction. (a) Any person incarcerated on a bailable offense and against whom a judgment of imprisonment is rendered shall be allowed credit for each day of incarceration prior to or after conviction except that in no case shall the time allowed as a credit exceed the term of the prison sentence rendered.

(b) Any person incarcerated on a bailable offense who does not supply bail and against whom a fine is levied on conviction of such offense shall be allowed a credit of ten dollars ($10.00) for each day so incarcerated prior to conviction except that in no case shall the amount so allowed or credited exceed the amount of the fine.

History: En. 95-2215 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Forfeiture of Good Time Allowance

Under former provision that "no person convicted and sentenced before the effective date shall have his rights and earned good time reduced by the application of this act" which in no matter attempted to prohibit the board of prison commissioners from exercising their discretionary power as to the allowance or forfeiture of good time and their power to make such rules and regulations as were reasonable in connection with this power, the board could deprive a prisoner of his good time for parole violations. In re Pelke's Petition, 139 M 354, 365 P 2d 932, 934; In re Owens' Petition, 139 M 637, 365 P 2d 935.

95-2216. Jail work release program. (a) A court, after having sentenced a person to confinement in a county jail, may, in its discretion, upon request of the county attorney and sheriff of such county, and with the consent of the convicted person, order that any part of the imprisonment so imposed be served in confinement, with parole during the hours or periods the convicted person is actually employed.

(b) Upon the issuance of such an order under this act, the sheriff shall arrange for the convicted person to continue his regular employment without interruption in so far as is reasonably possible; provided, however, that said prisoner shall be confined in the county jail during the hours when he is not employed.

(c) The earnings of the prisoner shall be collected by the sheriff. From such earnings, the sheriff shall pay the prisoner's board and personal expenses, both inside and outside the jail and, to the extent directed by the court, pay the support of his dependents, if any, and any balance shall be retained until his discharge.

(d) The committing court may, in its discretion, upon request of the county attorney and sheriff of such county, reduce the sentence of the prisoner up to one-fourth ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) of the full term, if, in the opinion of the court, the prisoner's conduct, diligence and general attitude merit such diminution.

(e) In cases where the convicted person violates the conditions of said sentence, he shall be returned to the court; the court may then require that the balance of his sentence be spent in full confinement and, further, the court may cancel any diminution of sentence granted under this act.

(f) The court may, by order, authorize the sheriff of the sentencing county to arrange with a sheriff of any other county within the state of Montana, to have the convicted person transferred to the other county where it appears the convicted person can continue his regular employment in the latter county; provided, however, when such transfer has been made to another county, the sheriff of the sentencing county shall still collect all moneys earned by the convicted person, and shall dispose of said moneys as provided by subsection (c) of this section.

History: En. 95-2216 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Condition of Probation

Provisions in probation order permitting petitioner to have employment outside county jail, absolving the sheriff from liability in permitting petitioner to be absent from his custody without bail, and requiring that petitioner pay his own board at the jail from his earnings, while similar to some former provisions relating to convicted misdemeanants serving county jail sentences did not convert a condition of probation into a term of imprisonment. In re Williams' Petition, 145 M 45, 399 P 2d 732.

95-2217. Prisoner furlough program—purpose and intent. The purpose and intent of this act is to establish a program for the rehabilitation, education, and betterment of selected prisoners confined in the state prison; to increase their responsibility to society; to make it possible that they may, while serving their sentences, work gainfully to support their dependents in whole or in part; and providing for a minimum wage of one and 40/100 ($1.40) dollars an hour to be paid to said convicts while so employed; continue their education or training; and at the same time fulfill the obligations of the sentence of imprisonment imposed; placing the establishment, regulation, guidance, and control of such program under the direction of the warden of the state prison with the advice and consent of the state board of pardons, which program shall operate by supplementing and not replacing established penal procedures now or hereafter established by law. This act is to be liberally construed to effect the over-all objectives set forth above.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 288, L. 1969.

95-2221. Consideration of application—furlough plan—consent of sheriff necessary. (1) The board shall approve or deny the application of the prisoner after careful study of the prisoner's conduct, attitude and behavior in the prison in which the prisoner is confined, his criminal history, and all other pertinent case material.

(2) If the application is approved, the warden shall adopt a furlough plan for the prisoner, which shall constitute an extension of the limits of confinement.

(3) No prisoner shall be released without the written consent of the sheriff of the county receiving the prisoner.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 288, L. 1969.

95-2222. Disposition of prisoner's earnings—trust fund—schooling costs. (1) A prisoner employed in the community under a work furlough plan shall surrender to the sheriff his total earnings less payroll deductions required by law. The sheriff shall deduct from such earnings in the following order of priority:

(b) The actual and necessary travel and other expenses of such prisoner under furlough from actual confinement under the program; and

(2) If any prisoner released from actual prison confinement under the furlough program shall fail to comply with the rules and regulations of the furlough program, such furlough shall be canceled and such prisoner shall be returned to prison to complete his sentence. No prisoner shall be returned to prison to complete his sentence without first being charged with a violation of the rules and regulations of the furlough program in the district court of the county in which said violation took place and such prisoner shall be entitled to have counsel appointed to represent him at said hearing. Provided however, if said prisoner, while not disabled from working by temporary illness, is unemployed for a period of thirty (30) days, or more, after his availability for employment is reported in writing by the sheriff of the county to which said prisoner is released, to the Montana unemployment compensation commission office serving such area, and to the union to which said prisoner belongs, if any, then the warden, upon request of said sheriff and upon a showing having been made by the sheriff of said county in the district court that said employee has been so unemployed, or on a showing that said prisoner has become so disabled that he is unemployable, or when said warden shall revoke said furlough and said prisoner is returned to said prison, or if said prisoner is on an education furlough and said prisoner has demonstrated for a period of six (6) weeks or more that he is unable to benefit from such schooling or training, then upon such a showing being made by the sheriff of the county to which said prisoner has been furloughed in a district court of said county, then the warden shall revoke such furlough and said prisoner shall be returned to the prison.

CHAPTER 23

EXECUTION OF SENTENCE

- Section 95-2301. Commitment of defendant.
 95-2302. Execution of a fine.
 95-2303. Execution of death.
 95-2304. Lack of mental fitness of the defendant.
 95-2305. Proceedings upon finding of lack of mental fitness.
 95-2306. Proceedings when female is claimed to be pregnant.
 95-2307. Proceedings upon the finding of pregnancy.
 95-2308. Western Interstate Corrections Compact—contents.
 95-2309. Commitment or transfer of inmate to institution outside of state.
 95-2310. Effectuation of purposes of compact.
 95-2311. Hearings requested by other states—power of board of pardons and paroles and state department of institutions to hold.
 95-2312. Governor—power to enter into contracts.

95-2301. Commitment of defendant. Upon rendition of judgment after pronouncement of a sentence imposing punishment of imprisonment or death the court shall commit the defendant to the custody of the sheriff who shall deliver the defendant to the place of his confinement or execution.

History: En. 95-2301 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Authority To Detain

The certified copy of the judgment is the evidence of the warden's authority for detaining the prisoner. Stephens v. Conley, 48 M 352, 367, 138 P 189.

Proceedings in contempt are in their nature criminal, and the order adjudging one in contempt is in its nature a final judgment, but the sheriff cannot execute a judgment in a criminal matter or proceeding "without competent authority," as provided in section 16-2818; hence, where one has been committed for contempt, and the sheriff does not hold a certified copy of the order of commitment, he is not authorized to detain the person so committed. In re Mettler, 50 M 299, 305, 146 P 747.

95-2302. Execution of a fine. (a) If the judgment is for a fine alone, execution may issue thereon as on a judgment in a civil case.

(b) If the judgment is for a fine and imprisonment until fine be paid, the defendant must be committed to the custody of the proper officer, and by him detained until the judgment is complied with. The imprisonment must not exceed one day for every ten dollars ($10.00) of the fine.

History: En. 95-2302 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Alteration of Judgment

The warden of the state prison has no authority to change or alter a judgment of conviction in any particular. State ex rel. Nelson v. Ellsworth, 141 M 78, 375 P 2d 316, 319.

Cross-Reference

Penalty assessments for traffic offenses, sec. 75-5304.

Contempt

An attorney found guilty of contempt was properly subject to punishment by fine and imprisonment until the fine was paid. State ex rel. Coleman v. District Court, 51 M 195, 201, 149 P 973.

Credit for Fine

Where defendant was convicted of a felony under the first portion of a consolidated information and of a misdemeanor under the second portion and the trial court decreed that the sentences could be served concurrently, the sentence for the felony should be served in the state prison, credit for the misdemeanor fine should be given at the same time, and any remaining time under the misdemeanor at the end of the state prison term should be served in the county jail. State v. Bogue, 142 M 459, 384 P 2d 749.

Fine or Imprisonment

A judgment in a case of misdemeanor, imposing a fine of $500, and providing that in default of payment the defendant be imprisoned "for the term of one day for each $2 of said fine," is sufficiently definite and certain. State ex rel. Poindexter v. District Court, 51 M 186, 149 P 958.

The district court has the power, under former statute, to impose a sentence of imprisonment in the county jail for a certain number of days, defendant in addition to pay a fine in a stated amount, and, in default of payment, to stand committed one day for every two dollars of the fine after expiration of the term of imprisonment, until the fine is paid. In re Londres, 54 M 418, 170 P 1045.

A judgment that defendant convicted on three counts of the information charging violations of the liquor law pay a fine of $200 and serve sixty days in the county jail on each count, and that if the fines be not paid, he serve them out at the rate of one day for each two dollars of the fines, held not uncertain or ambiguous, it meaning that he be imprisoned for a total of 180 days, and serve one day for each two dollars of the fines aggregating $600. In re Pyle, 72 M 494, 498, 234 P 254.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW*Fine Only

Former section governing duration of imprisonment on judgment to pay a fine held applicable to a case where a fine only was the penalty imposed. State ex rel. Poindexter v. District Court, 51 M 186, 149 P 958.

Pauper Prisoner

Where the record discloses that a judgment has been rendered imposing fine, and imprisonment until fine is satisfied, the justice of the peace is without authority to issue an execution provided for by former section authorizing discharge of pauper prisoner after confinement of one day for every two dollars owed on fine, notwithstanding that section was applicable to some extent to practice in the justice courts. Petelin v. Kennedy, 29 M 466, 75 P 82.

95-2303. Execution of death. (a) The punishment of death must be inflicted by hanging the defendant by the neck until he is dead.

(b) In pronouncing the sentence of death, the court shall set the date of execution which must not be less than thirty (30) days nor more than sixty (60) days from the date the sentence is pronounced.

(c) A sentence of death must be executed within the walls or yard of a jail or some convenient private place in the county where the trial took place.

(d) The sheriff of the county must be present and shall supervise such execution which shall be conducted in the presence of a physician, the county attorney of the county, and at least twelve (12) reputable citizens to be selected by the sheriff. The sheriff shall at the request of the defendant, permit such priests or ministers, not exceeding two (2), as the defendant may name and only persons, relatives or friends, not to exceed five (5), to be present at the execution, together with such peace officers as he may think expedient, to witness the execution. No other persons than those mentioned in this subsection can be present at the execution, nor can any person under age be allowed to witness the same.

(e) After the execution, the sheriff must make a return upon the death warrant, showing time, mode and manner in which it was executed.

History: En. 95-2303 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196
L. 1967.

95-2304. Lack of mental fitness of the defendant. If, after judgment of death, there is good reason to suppose that the defendant lacks mental fitness, the mental fitness of the defendant will be determined in accordance with the provisions of chapter 5, Competency of the Accused.

History: En. 95-2304 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Sanity of One Sentenced to Death

Where, after judgment of death has been pronounced upon a defendant, there is good reason to suppose that he has become insane, the sheriff, with the concurrence of the judge of the court by which the judgment was rendered, may summon a jury to inquire into the question of his sanity but where during the course of the trial or before judgment of conviction is pronounced a doubt arises as to his mental condition, the procedure outlined by former sections was controlling. State v. Vetere, 77 M 66, 71, 249 P 666.

95-2305. Proceedings upon finding of lack of mental fitness. If it is found that defendant is mentally fit as provided in section 95-2304, the sheriff must execute the judgment; but if it is found that he lacks fitness, the execution of judgment must be suspended and the court shall commit him to the custody of the superintendent of the Montana state hospital, to be placed in an appropriate institution of the state department of public institutions for so long as such lack of fitness shall endure. When the court, on its own motion or upon application of the superintendent of the Montana state hospital, or the county prosecuting officer, or the defendant or his legal representative, determines after a hearing if a hearing is requested, that the defendant has regained fitness to proceed, the sheriff shall be directed by the court to carry out the execution. If, however, the court is of the view that so much time has elapsed since the commitment of the defendant, that it would be unjust to proceed with execution of the sentence, the court may suspend the execution of the sentence and may order the defendant to be discharged.

History: En. 95-2305 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2306. Proceedings when female is claimed to be pregnant. If there is good reason to suppose a woman against whom a judgment of death is rendered is pregnant, the sheriff of the county, with the concurrence of the judge of the court by which the judgment was rendered, must summon a jury of three (3) physicians to inquire into the supposed pregnancy. Immediate notice of this inquiry must be given to the county attorney of the county who must attend the inquiry and may produce his own witnesses.

History: En. 95-2306 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2307. Proceedings upon the finding of pregnancy. If it is found by the inquiry that the woman is not pregnant, the sheriff must execute the judgment; if it is found that the woman is pregnant, the sheriff must suspend the execution of judgment, and transmit the inquisition to the governor. When the governor is satisfied that the woman is no longer pregnant, he may issue his warrant appointing a day for the execution of the judgment.

History: En. 95-2307 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2308. Western Interstate Corrections Compact—contents. The Western Interstate Corrections Compact as contained herein is hereby enacted into law and entered into on behalf of this state with any and all other states legally joining therein in a form substantially as follows:

1. Purpose and Policy. The party states, desiring by common action to improve their institutional facilities and provide programs of sufficiently high quality for the confinement, treatment and rehabilitation of various types of offenders, declare that it is the policy of each of the party states to provide such facilities and programs on the basis of co-operation with one another, thereby serving the best interests of such offenders and of society. The purpose of this compact is to provide for the development and execution of such programs of co-operation for the confinement, treatment and rehabilitation of offenders.

2. Definitions. As used in this compact, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

(a) "State" means a state of the United States, or subject to the limitation contained in subsection 7, Guam.

(b) "Sending state" means a state party to this compact in which conviction was had.

(c) "Receiving state" means a state party to this compact to which an inmate is sent for confinement other than a state in which conviction was had.

(d) "Inmate" means a male or female offender who is under sentence to or confined in a prison or other correctional institution.

(e) "Institution" means any prison, reformatory or other correctional facility (including but not limited to a facility for the mentally ill or mentally defective) in which inmates may lawfully be confined.

3. Contracts.

(a) Each party state may make one (1) or more contracts with any one (1) or more of the other party states for the confinement of inmates on behalf of a sending state in institutions situated within receiving states. Any such contract shall provide for:

(i) Its duration.

(ii) Payments to be made to the receiving state by the sending state for inmate maintenance, extraordinary medical and dental expenses, and any participation in or receipt by inmates of rehabilitative or correctional services, facilities, programs or treatment not reasonably included as part of normal maintenance.

(iii) Participation in programs of inmate employment, if any; the disposition or crediting of any payments received by inmates on account thereof; and the crediting of proceeds from or disposal of any products resulting therefrom.

(iv) Delivery and retaking of inmates.

(v) Such other matters as may be necessary and appropriate to fix the obligations, responsibilities and rights of the sending and receiving states.

(b) Prior to the construction or completion of construction of any institution or addition thereto by a party state, any other party state or states may contract therewith for the enlargement of the planned capacity of the institution or addition thereto, or for the inclusion therein of particular equipment or structures, and for the reservation of a specific per centum of the capacity of the institution to be kept available for use by inmates of the sending state or states so contracting. Any sending state so contracting may, to the extent that moneys are legally available therefor, pay to the receiving state, a reasonable sum as consideration for such enlargement of capacity, or provision of equipment or structures, and reservation of capacity. Such payment may be in a lump sum or in installments as provided in the contract.

(c) The terms and provisions of this compact shall be a part of any contract entered into by the authority of or pursuant thereto, and nothing in any such contract shall be inconsistent therewith.

4. Procedures and Rights.

(a) Whenever the duly constituted judicial or administrative authorities in a state party to this compact, and which has entered into a contract pursuant to subsection 3, shall decide that confinement in, or transfer of an inmate to, an institution within the territory of another party state is necessary in order to provide adequate quarters and care or desirable in order to provide an appropriate program of rehabilitation or treatment, said officials may direct that the confinement be within an institution within the territory of said other party state, the receiving state to act in that regard solely as agent for the sending state.

(b) The appropriate officials of any state party to this compact shall have access, at all reasonable times, to any institution in which it has a contractual right to confine inmates for the purpose of inspecting the facilities thereof and visiting such of its inmates as may be confined in the institution.

(c) Inmates confined in an institution pursuant to the terms of this compact shall at all times be subject to the jurisdiction of the sending state and may at any time be removed therefrom for transfer to a prison or other institution within the sending state, for transfer to another institution in which the sending state may have a contractual or other right to confine inmates, for release on probation or parole, for discharge, or for any other purpose permitted by the laws of the sending state; provided that the sending state shall continue to be obligated to such payments as may be required pursuant to the terms of any contract entered into under the terms of subsection 3.

(d) Each receiving state shall provide regular reports to each sending state on the inmates of that sending state in institutions pursuant to this compact including a conduct record of each inmate and certify said record to the official designated by the sending state, in order that each inmate may have the benefit of his or her record in determining and altering the disposition of said inmate in accordance with the law which may obtain in the sending state and in order that the same may be a source of information for the sending state.

(e) All inmates who may be confined in an institution pursuant to the provisions of this compact shall be treated in a reasonable and humane manner and shall be cared for and treated equally with such similar inmates of the receiving state as may be confined in the same institution. The fact of confinement in a receiving state shall not deprive any inmate so confined of any legal rights which said inmate would have had if confined in an appropriate institution of the sending state.

(f) Any hearing or hearings to which an inmate confined pursuant to this compact may be entitled by the laws of the sending state may be had before the appropriate authorities of the sending state, or of the receiving state if authorized by the sending state. The receiving state shall provide adequate facilities for such hearings as may be conducted by the appropriate officials of a sending state. In the event such hearing or hearings are had before officials of the receiving state, the governing law shall be that of the sending state and a record of the hearing or hearings as prescribed by the sending state shall be made. Said record together with any recommendations of the hearing officials shall be transmitted forthwith to the official or officials before whom the hearing would have been had if it had taken place in the sending state. In any and all proceedings had pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision, the officials of the receiving state shall act solely as agents of the sending state and no final determination shall be made in any matter except by the appropriate officials of the sending state. Costs of records made pursuant to this subdivision shall be borne by the sending state.

(g) Any inmate confined pursuant to this compact shall be released within the territory of the sending state unless the inmate, and the sending and receiving states, shall agree upon release in some other place. The sending state shall bear the cost of such return to its territory.

(h) Any inmate confined pursuant to the terms of this compact shall have any and all rights to participate in and derive any benefits or incur or be relieved of any obligations or have such obligations modified or his status changed on account of any action or proceeding in which he could have participated if confined in any appropriate institution of the sending state located within such state.

(i) The parent, guardian, trustee, or other person or persons entitled under the laws of the sending state to act for, advise, or otherwise function with respect to any inmate shall not be deprived of or restricted in his exercise of any power in respect of any inmate confined pursuant to the terms of this compact.

5. Acts Not Reviewable in Receiving State—Extradition.

(a) Any decision of the sending state in respect of any matter over which it retains jurisdiction pursuant to this compact shall be conclusive upon and not reviewable within the receiving state, but if at the time the sending state seeks to remove an inmate from an institution in the receiving state there is pending against the inmate within such state any criminal charge or if the inmate is suspected of having committed within such state a criminal offense, the inmate shall not be returned without the consent of the receiving state until discharged from prosecution or other form of proceeding, imprisonment or detention for such offense. The duly accredited officers of the sending state shall be permitted to transport inmates pursuant to this compact through any and all states party to this compact without interference.

(b) An inmate who escapes from an institution in which he is confined pursuant to this compact shall be deemed a fugitive from the sending state and from the state in which the institution is situated. In the case of an escape to a jurisdiction other than the sending or receiving state, the responsibility for institution of extradition proceedings shall be that of the sending state, but nothing contained herein shall be construed to prevent or affect the activities of officers and agencies of any jurisdiction directed toward the apprehension and return of an escapee.

6. Federal Aid. Any state party to this compact may accept federal aid for use in connection with any institution or program, the use of which is or may be affected by this compact or any contract pursuant hereto and any inmate in a receiving state pursuant to this compact may participate in any such federally aided program or activity for which the sending and receiving states have made contractual provision provided that if such program or activity is not part of the customary correctional regimen the express consent of the appropriate official of the sending state shall be required therefor.

7. Entry into Force. This compact shall enter into force and become effective and binding upon the states so acting when it has been enacted into law by any two contiguous states from among the states of Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Hawaii, Idaho, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming. For the purposes of this article, Alaska and Hawaii shall be deemed contiguous to each other; to any and all of the states of California, Oregon and Washington; and to Guam. Thereafter, this compact shall enter into force and become effective and binding as to any other of said states, or any other state contiguous to at least one party state upon similar action by such state. Guam may become party to this compact by taking action similar to that provided for joinder by any other eligible party state and upon the consent of congress to such joinder. For the purposes of this article, Guam shall be deemed contiguous to Alaska, Hawaii, California, Oregon and Washington.

8. Withdrawal and Termination. This compact shall continue in force and remain binding upon a party state until it shall have enacted a statute repealing the same and providing for the sending of formal written notice of withdrawal from the compact to the appropriate officials of all other party states. An actual withdrawal shall not take effect until two (2) years after the notices provided in said statute have been sent. Such withdrawal shall not relieve the withdrawing state from its obligations assumed hereunder prior to the effective date of withdrawal. Before the effective date of withdrawal, a withdrawing state shall remove to its territory, at its own expense, such inmates as it may have confined pursuant to the provisions of this compact.

9. Other Arrangements Unaffected. Nothing contained in this compact shall be construed to abrogate or impair any agreement or other arrangement which a party state may have with a nonparty state for the confinement, rehabilitation or treatment of inmates nor to repeal any other laws of a party state authorizing the making of co-operative institutional arrangements.

10. Construction and Severability. The provisions of this compact shall be liberally construed and shall be severable. If any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any participating state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state participating therein, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

History: En. 95-2308 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2309. Commitment or transfer of inmate to institution outside of state. Any court or state agency having power to commit or transfer an inmate (as defined in section 95-2308, subsection 2 (d) of the Western Interstate Corrections Compact) to any institution for confinement may commit or transfer such inmate to any institution outside this state if this state has entered into a contract or contracts for the confinement of inmates in said institution pursuant to section 95-2308, subsection 3 of the Western Interstate Corrections Compact.

History: En. 95-2309 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2310. History: En. 95-2310 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2311. History: En. 95-2311 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2312. Governor—power to enter into contracts. The governor is hereby empowered to enter into such contracts recommended by the department of institutions on behalf of this state as may be appropriate to implement the participation of this state in the Western Interstate Corrections Compact pursuant to section 95-2308.

History: En. 95-2312 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

APPEAL BY STATE AND DEFENDANT

- Section 95-2401. Application of chapter.

95-2401. Application of chapter. (a) This chapter shall govern review in all criminal cases.

(b) All existing methods of review in criminal cases in the state are abolished. Hereafter the only method of review in criminal cases shall be by notice of appeal.

L. 1967.

95-2402. Suspension of the rules. In the interest of expediting decision upon any matter before it, or for other good cause shown, the supreme court may suspend the requirements or provisions of these rules on application of a party or on its own motion and may order proceedings in accordance with its direction.

95-2403. Scope of appeal. (a) Except as authorized by this code, the state may not appeal in a criminal case.

(b) The state may appeal from any court order or judgment the substantive effect of which results in:

  - (2) modifying or changing the verdict as provided in section 95-2101
- (c) (3);
- (3) granting a new trial;
  - (4) quashing an arrest or search warrant;
  - (5) suppressing evidence;
  - (6) suppressing a confession or admission; or
  - (7) granting or denying change of venue.

Authority for Appeal

The right of appeal in a criminal case, unknown to the common law, exists only by virtue of constitutional or statutory enactment. State v. Peck, 83 M 327, 329, 271 P 707.

Statutes granting the right of appeal to the state in criminal actions must be strictly construed and the right limited to the instances mentioned; if the right is not clearly and unequivocally conferred, an appeal does not lie, nor can the right, if conferred, be enlarged by construction of the statute. State v. Peck, 83 M 327, 329, 271 P 707.

Construction

Defendant was convicted in a justice court of engaging in the business of plumbing without obtaining a license; he appealed to the district court where, after trial, the court entered judgment that the statute in question was unconstitutional and discharged defendant. The state appealed. Held, that the judgment did not fall within any one of the provisions of former section, granting the state the right of appeal in a criminal case, and appeal dismissed. State v. Wright, 91 M 427, 429, 8 P 2d 646.

Limited Right of Appeal by State

The right of appeal by the state should be strictly construed and limited to those instances mentioned in the statute. Territory v. Laun, 8 M 322, 325, 20 P 652; State v. Northrup, 13 M 522, 530, 35 P 228.

The state has no appeal in criminal cases, unless the same is expressly granted by law. Territory v. Laun, 8 M 322, 325, 20 P 652; State v. Northrup, 13 M 522, 530, 35 P 228.

Where defendant was convicted in justice of peace court and appealed to district court in which court the action was dismissed on defendant's motion, state had no right of appeal. State v. McCluskey, 125 M 20, 229 P 2d 169.

A district court's order of dismissal of the complaint following an appeal from a conviction in a justice of the peace court did not fall within the provisions of former section and therefore was not an appealable order. State v. Becko, 125 M 76, 230 P 2d 768, 769.

Order Arresting Judgment

Regarding the substance of things, an order arresting judgment is, in its nature and results, a judgment for defendant. It is a denying of a judgment to the state, and a discharge and acquittal of defendant from any possible consequences that threatened to flow from the information. State v. Northrup, 13 M 522, 537, 35 P 228.

Order Made after Judgment

State could not appeal from an order of the district court sustaining a defendant's plea of former acquittal and jeopardy, after the reversal of a conviction for manslaughter under an indictment charging murder in the first degree. State v. O'Brien, 19 M 6, 47 P 103.

Order Setting aside Information

An appeal cannot be taken by the state from an order setting aside an information. State v. O'Brien, 20 M 191, 50 P 412.

Order Sustaining Demurrer to Information Constitutes Judgment

An order sustaining a demurrer to an information constitutes a judgment; former statute authorized appeal by state from adverse judgment on demurrer to indictment or information. State v. Safeway Stores, Inc., 106 M 182, 197, 76 P 2d 81.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Appeal from Directed Verdict

Former statute provided that the state might appeal in a criminal case, inter alia, from an order directing the jury to find for the defendant. At the close of the testimony in such a case the court ordered defendant discharged on the ground of failure of proof, the state appealing from the order. Held, under the rule of strict construction, that the order could not be held appealable as one "in effect" directing the jury to find for defendant and, such an order not being enumerated as one from which the state might appeal, the appeal would, on defendant's motion, be dismissed. State v. Peck, 83 M 327, 331, 271 P 707.

Demurrer to Complaint

Under former section authorizing state to appeal from adverse judgment on a demurrer to indictment or information, state could not appeal from a judgment for defendant on demurrer to a complaint charging a misdemeanor. State v. Morris, 22 M 1, 3, 55 P 360.

An order sustaining a demurrer to a complaint did not fall within any of the provisions of former section and therefore was not an appealable order. State v. Slater, 130 M 630, 302 P 2d 470.

Directed Verdict

Statute provided that the state may appeal in a criminal case, inter alia, from an order directing the jury to find for the defendant. At the close of the testimony in such a case the court ordered defendant discharged on the ground of failure of proof, the state appealing from the order. Held, under the rule of strict construction, that the order was not held appealable as one "in effect" directing the jury to find for defendant and, such an order not being enumerated as one from which the state might appeal, the appeal would on defendant's motion be dismissed. State v. Peck, 83 M 327, 329, 271 P 707.

An appeal by the state from the order of the court directing the jury to find for the defendant was expressly provided for by former section. State v. Rother, 130 M 357, 303 P 2d 393, 394.

95-2404. Scope of appeal. When may be taken by the defendant.

(a) An appeal may be taken by the defendant only from a final judgment of conviction, and orders after judgment which affect the substantial rights of the defendant.

(b) Upon appeal from a judgment, the court may review the verdict or decision, and any order or decision objected to which involves the merits, or necessarily affects the judgment.

History: En. 95-2404 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Appeals from Justice Courts

The supreme court does not have appellate jurisdiction to review the judgments or orders of the justice courts. State ex rel. Estes v. Justice Court of Jefferson County, 129 M 136, 284 P 2d 249, 250.

Denial of New Trial

On appeal under former statute, from the judgment of conviction only, an assignment of error for denial of defendant's motion for a new trial could not be considered. State v. Ritz, 65 M 180, 189, 211 P 298; State v. English, 71 M 343, 350, 229 P 727.

Denial of Petition for Writ of Error Coram Nobis

Leave to file an appeal from a denial of petition for a writ of error coram nobis by the district court was denied by the supreme court since no leave to file an appeal is required under the law and if an appeal was available from the district court order, the time therefor had not expired. Brown v. State, 140 M 289, 371 P 2d 262, 263.

Intermediate Orders

An order overruling a motion in arrest of judgment is an intermediate order affecting the judgment, and may be reviewed only on appeal from the judgment. State v. Beeskove, 34 M 41, 48, 85 P 376; State v. Brown, 38 M 309, 311, 99 P 954.

The supreme court on appeal from the judgment, may not review the sufficiency of the evidence to warrant conviction, in the absence of any intermediate order or ruling involving the merits or which may have affected the judgment. State v. Asher, 63 M 302, 308, 206 P 1091.

Motion in Arrest of Judgment

An appeal from an order overruling a motion in arrest of judgment does not lie on behalf of defendant. State v. Beeskove, 34 M 41, 48, 85 P 377; State v. Brown, 38 M 309, 311, 99 P 954.

Order after Judgment

Defendant may appeal from an order made after final judgment. State v. Fowler, 59 M 346, 196 P 992.

Order Denying Petition for Writ of Prohibition

Order of district court denying petition of defendant for writ of prohibition to restrain justice court from further proceedings in criminal action was not a judgment and could not be appealed. State ex rel. Aho v. Justice Court of Laurel Township, 131 M 585, 313 P 2d 542, 543.

Perfecting Appeal While New Trial Motion Pending

The act of defendant in a criminal prosecution in perfecting an appeal from the judgment of conviction while his motion for a new trial was pending, did not deprive the trial court of jurisdiction thereafter to pass upon the motion, nor the supreme court of jurisdiction to consider the subsequent appeal from the order denying the new trial. State v. Harkins, 85 M 585, 590, 281 P 551.

Question of Law

The defendant, on appeal from a judgment of conviction, may, by bill of exceptions, bring before the court errors in the decision upon questions of law arising during the course of the trial, exclusive of those embraced within the provisions of the statute providing for new trials. State v. Francis, 58 M 659, 666, 194 P 304.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Appeal from Judgment of Conviction Only

On appeal under former statute, from the judgment of conviction only, a specification of error based upon the order denying their motion for new trial on the ground of misconduct of one of the jurors, cannot be considered. State v. Maggert, 64 M 331, 337, 209 P 989.

On appeal from the judgment of conviction only an assignment of error for denial of defendant's motion for a new trial cannot be considered. State v. Ritz, 65 M 180, 189, 211 P 298.

Construction

Former section stating what might be reviewed on appeal by defendant was taken verbatim from the California code and was adopted with the construction placed upon it by the courts of that state. State v. O'Brien, 18 M 1, 6, 43 P 1091, 44 P 399; State v. Brantingham, 66 M 1, 7, 212 P 499.

Denial of Habeas Corpus

Former sections providing that defendant might appeal to supreme court from any judgment against him and stating that defendant could appeal from a final judgment of conviction did not authorize appeal from an order denying habeas corpus, since the complainant in such a proceeding was not a defendant, and the determination of the court was not a "judgment," within the meaning of those sections. State ex rel. Jackson v. Kennie, 24 M 45, 50, 60 P 589.

Directed Verdict

Former section providing the state might appeal from order directing jury to find for defendant was constitutional. State v. Thierfelder, 114 M 104, 116, 132 P 2d 1035, overruled on other grounds in State v. Labbitt, 117 M 26, 35, 156 P 2d 163.

Evidentiary Matters

Under former statute, rulings of the trial court upon matters of law in the exclusion or admission of testimony, during the progress of the trial might be brought before the supreme court by bill of exceptions on an appeal from the judgment without a motion for a new trial; but the statute did not permit the review, on an appeal from the judgment only, of matters embraced within any of the cases for which a new trial may be granted, except errors in the decision of questions of law during the trial, which might be reviewed either by appeal from the judgment or from an order denying a motion for a new trial. State v. O'Brien, 18 M 1, 5, 6, 43 P 1091, 44 P 399.

Judgment

Judgment mentioned in former section providing that defendant might appeal to supreme court from any judgment against him was the final judgment or other orders referred to in another former section stating when appeal could be taken by defendant and embraced only those judgments and orders which become res adjudicata and final as to all matters involved in the controversy; order denying habeas corpus was not such an order. State ex rel. Jackson v. Kennie, 24 M 45, 50, 60 P 589.

Motion for New Trial

Under former section permitting review of intermediate rulings, an appellant may by bill of exceptions bring before the supreme court for review any order or ruling of the trial court in admitting or rejecting testimony, or in deciding any question of law not a matter of discretion or in instructing the jury, but the sufficiency of the evidence to justify the verdict may be reviewed only on appeal from an order denying a new trial, unless the record discloses that there is no evidence even remotely to prove the elements of the crime charged. State v. Smart, 81 M 145, 148, 262 P 158.

Timeliness of Appeal

Part of defendant's appeal claiming that the trial court erred in denying motion of defendant for a mistrial was properly before the supreme court where it was taken within six months after the rendition of the judgment of conviction as prescribed by former statute. State v. Tiedemann, 139 M 237, 362 P 2d 529, 530.

95-2405. Procedure on appeal. (a) An appeal shall be taken by filing a notice of appeal in the court in which the judgment or order appealed from is entered or filed.

(b) Content of the Notice of Appeal. The notice of appeal shall specify the party or parties taking the appeal; and shall designate the judgment or order appealed from.

(c) Service of Notice of Appeal. The clerk of the district court shall serve notice of the filing of a notice of appeal by mailing a copy thereof to counsel of record of each party other than the appellant, or if a party is not represented by counsel, to the party at his last known address, and shall mail a copy of the notice of appeal to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk of the district court shall note on each copy served the date on which the notice of appeal was filed. If an appellant is represented by counsel his counsel shall provide the clerk with sufficient copies of the notice of appeal to permit the clerk to comply with the requirements of this rule. Failure of the clerk to serve notice shall not affect the validity of the appeal. The notice shall be sufficient notwithstanding the death of a party or his counsel. The clerk shall note in the docket the names of the parties to whom he mails copies, with the date of mailing.

(d) The party appealing shall be known as the appellant and the adverse party as the respondent but the title of the case shall not be changed in consequence of the appeal.

(e) An appeal from a judgment may be taken within sixty (60) days after its rendition.

History: En. 95-2405 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Copy of Transcript

Where person convicted in district court petitioned supreme court for writ of mandate to compel district to furnish "copy of trial and court record transcript" for purpose of appeal in forma pauperis, writ was denied where no timely application had been filed. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 124 M 234, 221 P 2d 436, 437.

Denial of Motion for Mistrial

Part of defendant's appeal claiming that the trial court erred in denying motion of defendant for a mistrial was properly before the supreme court where it was taken within time allowed by statute. State v. Tiedemann, 139 M 237, 362 P 2d 529, 530.

Motion of Motion for New Trial

Denial of state to strike defendant's third specification of error, contending that there was no substantial evidence to support the verdict or judgment of conviction, was granted where appeal was not taken within sixty days after the order denying the motion for a new trial. State v. Tiedemann, 139 M 237, 362 P 2d 529, 530.

Excuse for Failure To Take Appeal

Under former statute allowing six months to appeal from a judgment, death of defense counsel nearly a year after the trial and order of commitment was not sufficient showing to justify an original writ of habeas corpus in supreme court. Dryman v. State, 139 M 141, 361 P 2d 959.

Failure To File Timely Notice of Appeal

Where district court appointed counsel for the defendant and ordered preparation of the record for an appeal to the supreme court, all at public expense, defendant having had no voice in the choice, in the interest of justice it was incumbent upon the supreme court to consider the contended errors although court-appointed counsel failed to timely file the notice of appeal. State v. Frodsham, 139 M 222, 362 P 2d 413, 418.

Notice of Appeal

Motion of attorney general to dismiss appeals was well taken where appeals were not taken within time allowed by statute, no notice of appeal was filed or served, no proper record on appeal was filed and no papers on the appeals were served upon either the county attorney or attorney general. State v. Martin, 147 M 548, 416 P 2d 22.

Oral Request for Appeal Ineffective

Oral request of intention to appeal made orally in open court is wholly ineffectual to give the supreme court jurisdiction. State ex rel. Treat v. District Court, 124 M 234, 221 P 2d 436, 437.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Clerk's Duties

Requirements of former statute were that the clerk of the district court must, as soon as notice of appeal is filed, prepare a copy of the record and other papers and transmit the same within ten days from the date of the notice, or, in case there is a bill of exceptions to be settled, then within ten days of the date of settlement, to the clerk of the supreme court, without charge to the appellant. A praecipe enumerating the papers constituting such technical record need not be lodged with the clerk. State ex rel. Connors v. Foster, 36 M 278, 280, 92 P 761.

95-2406. Stay of execution and relief pending appeal. (a) Death. If an appeal is taken a sentence of death shall be stayed by order of the trial court until final order by the supreme court.

(b) Imprisonment. If an appeal is taken and the defendant is admitted to bail, a sentence of imprisonment shall be stayed by the trial court.

(c) Fine. If an appeal is taken, a sentence to pay a fine, or a fine and costs, shall be stayed by the trial court or by the reviewing court.

(d) Probation. If an appeal is taken and the accused was admitted to probation, he shall remain on probation or post bail.

History: En. 95-2406 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Probable Cause for Appeal

No appeal lies from a refusal of a district judge to grant a certificate of probable cause. State v. Broadbent, 27 M 63, 65, 69 P 323.

Under former statute authorizing stay in execution of judgment in noncapital cases if a judge of convicting court or supreme court certified that there was probable cause for appeal, petitions to a justice of the supreme court for certificates of probable cause must be verified by the oath of the petitioner, or of some person in his behalf. State v. Broadbent, 27 M 63, 65, 69 P 323.

Where the transcript discloses a fairly debatable question, the solution of which in defendant's favor by the supreme court would necessitate a reversal, a certificate of probable cause will be granted. State v. Broadbent, 27 M 63, 65, 69 P 323.

Execution of a judgment in a criminal case is not stayed by appeal, but may be stayed by filing with the clerk a certificate of probable cause issued by the judge or a justice of the supreme court. State v. Fowler, 59 M 346, 358, 196 P 992.

The effect of a certificate of probable cause granted to one convicted of crime pending appeal, is to suspend execution of the judgment and entitles defendant to his liberty upon furnishing bond, and the certificate should be granted by the district court whenever the question whether or not the conviction will be sustained on appeal is fairly debatable, thus avoiding the necessity of defendant applying to the supreme court for relief in that behalf. State v. Dahlgren, 74 M 217, 235, 239 P 775.

On appeal from conviction for embezzlement, presenting the question of former jeopardy, the trial court denied defendant a certificate of probable cause. Whereupon he applied to the supreme court for such certificate and for a stay of proceedings until a bill of exceptions could be prepared, settled and allowed (the supreme court needing the same to determine the question of probable cause). The stay was granted to present the bill of exceptions and transcript in aid of the application for the certificate of probable cause. State v. Parmenter, 111 M 290, 291, 108 P 2d 600.

A certificate of probable cause should be granted by the district court whenever the question of whether or not the conviction will be sustained on appeal is fairly debatable. State ex rel. Nelson v. Ellsworth, 141 M 78, 375 P 2d 316, 319.

95-2407. Effect of an appeal by the state. An appeal taken by the state in no case stays or affects the operation of the judgment or order in favor of the defendant until judgment or order is reversed.

History: En. 95-2407 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-2408. The record on appeal. (a) Composition of the Record on Appeal. The original papers and exhibits filed in the district court, the transcript of proceedings, if any, and a certified copy of the docket entries prepared by the clerk of the district court shall constitute the record on appeal in all cases.

(b) The Transcript of Proceedings; Duty of Appellant to Order, Notice to Respondent if Partial Transcript is Ordered; Cost of Producing. Within ten (10) days after filing the notice of appeal the appellant shall order from the reporter a transcript of such parts of the proceedings not already on file as he deems necessary for inclusion in the record. In all cases where the appellant intends to urge insufficiency of the evidence to support the verdict, order or judgment in the district court, it shall be the duty of the appellant to order the entire transcript of the evidence. Wherever the sufficiency of the evidence to support a special verdict or answer by a jury to an interrogatory, or to support a specific finding of fact by the trial court, is to be raised on the appeal by the appellant, he shall be under a duty to include in the transcript all evidence relevant to such verdict, answer or finding. Unless the entire transcript is to be included, the appellant shall, within the time above provided, file and serve on the respondent a description of the parts of the transcript which he intends to include in the record and a statement of the issues which he intends to present on the appeal. If the respondent deems a transcript of other parts of the proceedings to be necessary he shall within ten (10) days after such filing and service order such parts from the reporter or procure an order from the district court requiring the appellant to so do.

The cost of producing the transcript shall be paid by the appellant, or he shall make satisfactory arrangements with the reporter for the payment of such cost; but, if the appellant considers that any part of the record designated by the respondent for inclusion is unnecessary for the determination of the issues presented, he shall advise the respondent, and the district court may impose upon the respondent the cost of producing any part which it deems unnecessary for the determination of the issues.

The reporter shall certify the correctness of the transcript.

(c) Statement of the Evidence or Proceedings When No Report was Made or When the Transcript is Unavailable. If no report of the evidence or proceedings at a hearing or trial was made, or if a transcript is unavailable, the appellant may, within ten (10) days from the hearing or trial or such time extended as the district court may for good cause shown permit, prepare a statement of the evidence or proceedings from the best available means, including his recollection. The statement shall be served on the respondent, who may serve objections or propose amendments thereto within ten (10) days after service. Thereupon, the statement and any objections or proposed amendments shall be submitted for settlement and approval to the district judge who handled the proceedings, and as settled and approved shall be included by the clerk of the district court in the record on appeal. A judge may settle and approve such records after he ceases to be a judge. If such judge before the statement is settled and approved dies, is removed from office, becomes disqualified, is absent from the state, or refuses to settle and approve the statement, it shall be settled and approved in such manner as the supreme court may direct.

(d) Agreed Statement as the Record on Appeal. In lieu of the record on appeal as defined in subsection (a) of this section, the parties may prepare and sign a statement of the case showing how the issues presented by the appeal arose and were decided in the district court and setting forth only so many of the facts averred and proved or sought to be proved as are essential to a decision of the issue presented. If the statement conforms to the truth, it, together with such additions as the court may consider necessary fully to present the issues raised by the appeal, shall be approved by the district court and shall then be certified to the supreme court as the record on appeal and transmitted thereto by the clerk of the district court within the time provided by section 95-2409. Copies of the agreed statement may be filed as the appendix required by section 95-2418.

(e) Correction or Modification of the Record. If any difference arises as to whether the record truly discloses what occurred in the district court, the difference shall be submitted to and settled by that court and the record made to conform to the truth. If anything material to either party is omitted from the record by error or accident or is misstated therein, the parties by stipulation, or the district court, either before or after the record is transmitted to the supreme court, on proper suggestion or of its own initiative, may direct that the omission or misstatement be corrected, and if necessary that a supplemental record be certified and transmitted. All other questions as to the form and content of the record shall be presented to the supreme court.

Duty of Defense Counsel

Where court-appointed counsel failed to advise the clerk's office as to what would be required for the record on appeal from conviction of burglary and there was no record before the supreme court, defendant had been denied his right to effective representation by counsel on his appeal and the cause was remanded to the district court with directions to revoke appointment of present counsel and appoint a competent and effective counsel to properly prosecute the appeal. State v. Bunnash, 139 M 517, 366 P 2d 155, 158.

Record

The supreme court was without jurisdiction to consider an appeal where the record did not contain a copy of the notice of appeal. City of Butte v. Call, 23 M 94, 95, 57 P 726.

Where the record on appeal does not contain the judgment the appeal is subject to dismissal on motion. State v. Mott, 29 M 292, 308, 74 P 728.

The merits of an appeal in a criminal case will not be considered where the papers constituting the record are included in a bill of exceptions and not certified as the record, nor identified in any way by the certificate of the clerk of the district court or the trial judge. State v. Fariss, 34 M 424, 425, 87 P 177.

Record on appeal from an order sustaining a demurrer to the information, consisting of the information, demurrer and ruling thereon, notice of appeal, copy of minute entries and certificate of the clerk of court, held, sufficient as against contention that it should consist of a bill of exceptions duly settled; the record containing all that was required by former section, except instructions, none having been given; no exception being required to court's ruling on demurrer, bill of exceptions therefore idle act. State v. Safeway Stores, Inc., 106 M 182, 197, 76 P 2d 81.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW*Copy of Judgment

Where the record in a criminal case on appeal by the state from a judgment sustaining a demurrer to the information contains the minute entry allowing the demurrer, the appeal is not subject to dismissal on the ground that the transcript does not contain a copy of the judgment, the order entered in the minutes constituting the judgment in such a case. State v. Atlas, 75 M 547, 549, 244 P 477.

State's appeal from order made at close of its case in chief directing return of verdict in favor of defendant was not subject to dismissal on ground that record on appeal did not contain a copy of judgment since it did contain a copy of order with attributes constituting judgment. State v. Thierfelder, 114 M 104, 108, 111, 132 P 2d 1035, overruled on other grounds, in State v. Labbitt, 117 M 26, 35, 156 P 2d 163.

Judgment Rolls

The record on appeal in a criminal case must, among other things contain the judgment roll in which must be included a copy of the judgment. The state on the theory that an objection of defendant to the introduction of evidence on the ground of the insufficiency of the information is in effect a demurrer to the information and an order sustaining a demurrer constitutes the judgment, attempted to appeal from such an order as from the judgment, but the record did not contain a copy of the order in the form of a minute entry, which in such a case constitutes the judgment. Held, that the supreme court was without jurisdiction to entertain the appeal. State v. Nilan, 75 M 397, 400, 243 P 1081.

95-2409. Transmission of the record. (a) Time for Transmission; Duty of Appellant. The record on appeal, including the transcript necessary for the determination of the appeal, shall be transmitted to the supreme court within forty (40) days after the filing of the notice of appeal unless the time is shortened or extended by an order entered under subsection (c) of this section. Promptly after filing the notice of appeal the appellant shall comply with the provisions of section 95-2408 (b) and shall take any other action necessary to enable the clerk to assemble and transmit the record. If more than one appeal is filed, each appellant shall comply with the provisions of section 95-2408 (b) and this subsection, and a single record shall be transmitted within forty (40) days after the filing of the final notice of appeal.

(b) Duty of Clerk to Transmit the Record. When the record is complete for purposes of the appeal, the clerk of the district court shall transmit it to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk shall number the documents comprising the record and shall transmit with the record a numbered list of the documents, identifying each with reasonable definiteness. Documents in bulky containers and physical exhibits other than documents shall not be transmitted by the clerk unless he is directed to do so by a party or by the clerk of the supreme court. A party must make advance arrangements with the clerk of the district court for the transportation of bulky or weighty exhibits and with the clerk of the supreme court for their receipt. Transmission of the record is effected when the clerk of the district court mails or otherwise forwards the record to the supreme court. The clerk of the district court shall indicate, by endorsement on the face of the record or otherwise, the date upon which it is transmitted to the supreme court.

(c) Extension of Time for Transmission of the Record—Reduction of Time. The district court may extend the time for transmitting the record. The request for extension must be made within the time originally prescribed or within an extension previously granted, and the district court shall not extend the time to a day more than ninety (90) days from the date of filing of the first notice of appeal. If the district court is without authority to grant the relief sought or has denied a request therefor, the supreme court may on motion extend the time for transmitting the record or may permit the record to be transmitted and filed after the expiration of the time allowed or fixed. A motion for an extension of time for transmitting the record made in either court shall show that the inability of the appellant to cause timely transmission of the record is due to causes beyond his control or to circumstances which may be deemed excusable neglect. If a request for an extension of time for transmitting the record has been previously denied, the motion shall set forth the denial and shall state the reasons therefor, if any were given.

The district court or the supreme court may require the record to be transmitted and the appeal to be docketed at any time within the time otherwise fixed or allowed therefor.

(d) Retention of the Record in the District Court by Order of Court. The supreme court may provide by rule or order that a certified copy of the docket entries shall be transmitted in lieu of the entire record, subject to the right of any party to request at any time during the pendency of the appeal that designated parts of the record be transmitted.

If the record is required in the district court for use there pending the appeal, the district court may make an order to that effect, and the clerk of the district court shall retain the record and shall transmit a copy of the order and of the docket entries together with such parts as the parties may designate.

If the record is retained in the district court by order of either court, the clerk of the district court shall retain it subject to the order of the supreme court, and transmission of the copy of the docket entries shall constitute transmission of the record.

(e) Stipulation of Parties that Parts of the Record be Retained in the District Court. The parties may agree by written stipulation filed in the district court that designated parts of the record shall be retained in the district court unless thereafter the supreme court shall order or any party shall request their transmittal. The parts thus designated shall nevertheless be a part of the record on appeal for all purposes.

History: En. 95-2409 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2410. Docketing the appeal—filing of the record. (a) The clerk shall enter the appeal upon the docket at or before the time of filing the record. An appeal shall be docketed under the title given to the action in the district court with such addition as is necessary to indicate the identity of the appellant.

(b) Filing of the Record. Upon receipt of the record by the clerk of the supreme court following its timely transmittal, and after the appeal has been timely docketed, the clerk shall file the record without the necessity of a docketing fee. The clerk shall immediately give notice to all parties of the date on which the record was filed.

(c) Dismissal for Failure of Appellant to Cause Timely Transmission or to Docket Appeal. If the appellant shall fail to cause timely transmission of the record, any respondent may file a motion in the supreme court to dismiss the appeal. The motion shall be supported by a certificate of the clerk of the district court showing the date and substance of the judgment or order from which the appeal was taken, the date on which the notice of appeal was filed, and the expiration date on which the notice of appeal was filed, and the expiration date of any order extending the time for transmitting the record; and by proof that seven (7) days' notice in writing has been served on the appellant that application will be made for dismissal of the appeal. Instead of filing a motion to dismiss the appeal, the respondent may cause the record to be transmitted and may docket the appeal, in which event the appeal shall proceed as if the appellant had caused it to be docketed.

History: En. 95-2410 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2411. Effect of dismissal. The dismissal of an appeal is in effect an affirmance of the judgment or order appealed from, unless the dismissal is expressly made without prejudice to another appeal.

History: En. 95-2411 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2412. Ruling against respondent may be reviewed. Whenever the record on appeal shall contain any order, ruling, or proceeding of the trial court against the respondent, affecting his substantial rights on the appeal of said cause, together with any required objection of such respondent, the supreme court on such appeal shall consider such orders, rulings, or proceedings, and the objections thereto, and shall reverse or affirm the cause on said appeal according to the substantial rights of the respective parties, as shown upon the record. No cause shall be reversed by reason of any error committed by the trial court against the appellant, unless the record shows that the error was prejudicial.

History: En. 95-2412 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2413. Filing and service. (a) Filing. Papers required or permitted to be filed must be placed in the custody of the clerk within the time fixed for filing. Filing may be accomplished by mail addressed to the clerk, but filing shall not be timely unless the papers are actually received within the time fixed for filing. If a motion requests relief which may be granted by a single judge the judge may permit the motion to be filed with him in which event he shall note thereon the dates of filing and shall thereafter transmit it to the clerk.

(b) Service of All Papers Required. Copies of all papers, including any transcript, filed by any party and not required by these rules to be served by the clerk shall, at or before the time of filing, be served by the party or person acting for him on all other parties to the appeal or review. Service on a party represented by counsel shall be made on counsel.

(c) Manner of Service. Service may be personal or by mail. Personal service includes delivery of the copy to a clerk or other responsible person at the office of counsel. Service by mail is complete on mailing.

(d) Proof of Service. Papers presented for filing shall contain acknowledgment of service by the person served or proof of service in the form of a statement of the date and manner of service and of the names of the persons served, certified by the person who made service. Proof of service may appear on or be affixed to the papers filed. The clerk may permit papers to be filed without acknowledgment of proof of service but shall require such to be filed promptly thereafter.

History: En. 95-2413 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2414. Computation and extension of time. (a) Computation of Time. In computing any period of time prescribed by this chapter, by an order of court, or by any applicable statute, the day of the act, event, or default from which the designated period of time begins to run shall not be included. The last day of the period shall be included, unless it is a Saturday, Sunday or a legal holiday. When the period of time prescribed or allowed is less than seven (7) days, intermediate Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays shall be excluded in the computation.

(b) Additional Time after Service by Mail. Whenever a party is required or permitted to do any act within a prescribed period after service of a paper upon him and the paper is served by mail, three (3) days shall be added to the prescribed period.

History: En. 95-2414 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Cross-References

Computation of time, sec. 90-407.

Legal holiday defined, sec. 19-107.

95-2415. Motions. Unless another form is prescribed by this chapter, an application for an order or other relief shall be made by filing a motion in writing for such order or relief. The motion shall state with particularity the grounds therefor and shall set forth the order or relief sought. If a motion is supported by briefs, affidavits or other papers, they shall be served and filed with the motion. Motions for procedural orders may be determined ex parte. The supreme court may authorize disposition of motions for procedural orders by a single judge. If a motion seeks dismissal of the appeal or other substantial relief, any party may file an answer in opposition within seven (7) days after service of the motion, or within such time as the court may direct. Motions, supporting papers and any response thereto may be typewritten.

At the time of filing a motion counsel shall present a proposed order, together with sufficient copies for service upon all counsel of record.

History: En. 95-2415 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2416. Briefs. (a) Brief of the Appellant. The brief of the appellant shall contain under appropriate headings and in the order here indicated:

(1) A table of contents, with page references, and a table of cases (alphabetically arranged), statutes and other authorities cited, with references to the pages of the brief where they are cited.

(2) A statement of the issues presented for review.

(3) A statement of the case. The statement shall first indicate briefly the nature of the case and its disposition in the court below.

There shall follow a statement of the facts relevant to the issues presented for review, with references to the pages of the parts of the record at which material facts appear (see section (e) hereof).

(4) An argument. The argument may be preceded by a summary. The argument shall contain the contentions of the appellant with respect to the issues presented, and the reasons therefor, with citations to the authorities, statutes and pages of the record relied on.

(5) A short conclusion stating the precise relief sought.

(b) Brief of the Respondent. The brief of the respondent shall conform to the requirements of subsection (a), subdivisions (1) to (4), except that a statement of the issues or of the case need not be made unless the respondent is dissatisfied with the statement of the appellant.

(c) Reply Brief. The appellant may file a brief in reply to the brief of the respondent. The reply brief must be confined to new matter raised in the brief of the respondent. No further briefs may be filed except with leave of court.

(d) References in Briefs to Parties. Counsel will be expected in their briefs and oral arguments to keep to a minimum references to parties by such formal designations as "appellant" and "respondent." It promotes clarity to use names or descriptive terms such as "accomplice," "decedent," etc.

(e) References in Briefs to the Record. When a reference is made in the briefs to the record, the reference must be to particular parts of the record, suitably designated, and to specific pages of each part, e.g., Answer, p. 7; Motion for Suppression of Evidence, p. 3; Transcript, p. 231. Intelligible abbreviations may be used. If reference is made to an exhibit, reference shall be made to the pages of the transcript on which the exhibit was identified, offered, and received or rejected.

(f) Reproduction of Statutes, Rules, Regulations, etc. If determination of the issues presented requires the study of statutes, rules, regulations, etc., or relevant parts thereof, they may be reproduced in the brief or in an addendum at the end, or they may be supplied to the court in pamphlet form. No such reproduction is required, unless ordered by the supreme court.

(g) Length of Briefs. Except by permission of the court briefs shall not exceed fifty (50) pages of standard typographic printing or seventy (70) pages of printing by any other process of duplicating or copying, exclusive of pages containing the table of contents, tables of citations and any addendum containing statutes, rules, regulations, etc.

History: En. 95-2416 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2417. Brief of an amicus curiae. A brief of an amicus curiae may be filed only if accompanied by written consent of all parties, or by leave of court granted on motion. A motion for leave shall identify the interest of the applicant and shall state the reasons why a brief of an amicus curiae is desirable. A motion of an amicus curiae for leave to participate in the oral argument will be granted only for extraordinary reasons.

History: En. 95-2417 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2418. The appendix to the briefs. (a) Use of an Appendix. At any time before final decision, the supreme court may order an appendix to any brief. Also, either the appellant or respondent may, if he deems it desirable, prepare, file and serve with his brief an appendix.

(b) Contents of the Appendix. Unless otherwise ordered by the supreme court, an appendix shall contain:

- (1) the relevant docket entries in the proceeding below;
- (2) any relevant pleading and relevant portions of the charge, finding and opinion;
- (3) the judgment, order or decision in question; and
- (4) such other parts of the record as any party deems it essential for the judges of the court to read in order to decide the issues presented. In designating parts of the record for inclusion in the appendix, the parties shall have regard for the fact that the entire record is always available to the court for reference or examination and shall not engage in unnecessary designation.

(c) Arrangement of the Appendix. At the beginning of the appendix there shall appear a chronological list of the parts of the record which it contains. Each part of the record shall be listed by the descriptive title given to that part by the reference made to it in the briefs. The page or pages of the appendix at which each part of the record thus listed appears shall be set out opposite each listing in a column at the right, so as to permit immediate location in the appendix of the parts of the record referred to in the briefs and contained in the appendix.

The relevant docket entries in the proceeding below shall follow the list of contents. Thereafter, the parts of the record shall be set out in chronological order. The original paging of each part of the record set out in the appendix shall be indicated by placing in brackets the number of the original page at the place where the page begins. Omissions in the text of papers or of testimony must be indicated by asterisks. A question and its answer may be contained in a single paragraph.

(d) Reproduction of Exhibits. Exhibits may be contained in a separate volume, suitably indexed.

History: En. 95-2418 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-2419. Filing and service of briefs. (a) Time for Filing Briefs. The appellant shall serve and file his brief within thirty (30) days after the date on which the record is filed. The respondent shall serve and file his brief within thirty (30) days after service of the brief of the appellant. The appellant may serve and file a reply brief within fourteen (14) days after service of the brief of the respondent, but, except for good cause shown, a reply brief must be served and filed at least three (3) days before argument.

(b) Number of Copies to be Filed and Served. Six (6) copies of each brief shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court unless otherwise ordered by the court, and one (1) copy of each brief shall be served on counsel for each party separately represented. The clerk will not accept a brief for filing unless it is accompanied by acknowledgment or proof of service as required by section 95-2413.

(c) Consequences of Failure to File Briefs. If an appellant fails to file his brief within the time provided by this section, or within the time extended, a respondent may move for dismissal of the appeal. If a respondent fails to file his brief, he will not be heard at oral argument except by permission of the court.

History: En. 95-2419 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-2420. Form of briefs, the appendix, motions and other papers. (a) Form of Briefs, Appendices and Separate Volumes of Exhibits. Briefs, appendices and separate volumes of exhibits may be produced by standard typographic printing or by any duplicating or copying process capable of producing a clear black image on white paper. Typewritten copies of briefs, appendices and separate volumes of exhibits may not be submitted without permission of the chief justice of the supreme court, except in behalf of parties allowed to proceed in forma pauperis. Pica solid is the smallest letter and the most compact form of composition allowed for all printed matter. Briefs, appendices and separate volumes of exhibits shall be on white uncalendered book paper in book or booklet form. If produced by the standard typographic printing process, the pages shall be ten (10) inches long and seven (7) inches wide, with a margin on the outer edge not less than one (1) inch wide and on the inner edge not less than two (2) inches wide. If produced by a duplicating or copying process, the pages shall be eleven (11) inches long and eight and one-half (8½) inches wide, with a margin on the outer edge not less than one (1) inch wide and on the inner edge not less than two (2) inches wide. The pages shall be fastened at the side and numbered at the top.

(b) Typewritten Papers and Motions. Papers not required to be produced in a manner prescribed by subsection (a) of this section shall be plainly and legibly written by a typewriter with a new black ribbon and new black carbon paper of good grade, in double spacing, except that quotations may be single spaced, on one (1) side only of white typewriter paper, eight and one-half (8½) inches wide and thirteen (13) inches long, numbered at the bottom, with a ruled margin of one and one-half (1½) inches on the left-hand side of the page and one (1) inch on the right-hand side, and numbered lines, not more than thirty-two (32) lines to the page. The pages shall be bound at the left-hand side into volumes not containing more than two hundred fifty (250) pages; provided, however, that if the pages number fifty (50) or less they may be bound at the top.

In collating typewritten papers the copies shall not be mixed, but each copy shall consist throughout of uniform pages. Each page of every copy shall be opaque and each line of print thereon plainly legible. The difficulty of examining transparent, illegible and nonuniform typewritten copies has become so great that this section will be strictly applied and papers not complying with it will not be received.

(c) First Page and Cover. All papers shall be bound in cardboard or pasteboard covers, unless bound at the top under subsection (b) of this section, in which case they may be bound in cover paper. On the first page and cover of all papers must be stated the title of the supreme court, the title of the case as in the court below, adding to the words "plaintiff" and "defendant," the words "appellant" and "respondent" as the case may require, the names of counsel for appellant and respondent, the title of the papers, as "Appellant's Brief," "Appendix to Appellant's Brief," etc., and the venue from which the appeal is taken.

History: En. 95-2420 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2421. Oral argument. (a) Notice of Hearing — Postponement. The clerk shall advise all parties of the time and place at which oral argument will be heard. A request for postponement of the hearing must be made by motion filed reasonably in advance of the date fixed for hearing.

(b) Time Allowed for Argument. Upon oral argument of an appeal or original proceeding, forty (40) minutes will be allowed appellant or applicant and thirty (30) minutes to respondent. If counsel is of the opinion that additional time is necessary for the adequate presentation of his argument, he may request such additional time as he deems necessary by motion filed reasonably in advance of the date fixed for hearing. A party is not obliged to use all of the time allowed, and the court may terminate the argument whenever in its judgment further argument is unnecessary.

(c) Order and Content of Argument. The appellant or applicant is entitled to open and conclude the argument. The opening argument shall include a fair statement of the case, and the closing argument shall be limited to rebuttal of respondent's argument. Counsel will not be permitted to read at length from briefs, records or authorities.

(d) Nonappearance of Counsel—Failure to File Briefs. If counsel for a party fails to appear to present argument, the court may hear argument on behalf of a party whose counsel is present, and the case will be decided on the briefs and the argument heard. If no counsel appear for any party, the case will be decided on the briefs unless the court shall otherwise order.

(e) Submission on Briefs. By agreement of the parties, a case may be submitted for decision on the briefs, but the court may direct that the case be argued.

(f) Use of Physical Exhibits at Hearing—Removal. If physical exhibits other than documents are to be used at the hearing, counsel shall arrange to have them placed in the courtroom before the court convenes on the date of the hearing. After the hearing counsel shall cause the exhibits to be removed from the courtroom unless the court otherwise directs. If exhibits are not reclaimed by counsel within a reasonable time after notice is given by the clerk, they shall be destroyed or otherwise disposed of as the clerk shall think best.

History: En. 95-2421 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Necessity for Argument

Word "argument" in former statute providing that judgment might be affirmed, but not reversed, without argument meant argument, whether written or oral, and where a case had been submitted on briefs, the court was required to decide the cause upon its merits and reverse or affirm the judgment, just as it would have done if there had been a full oral argument, since the statute simply meant that if the appellant failed to disclose by appropriate argument wherein the lower court had committed prejudicial error, the judgment might be affirmed but not reversed. State v. Guerin, 51 M 250, 256, 152 P 747.

Where appellant in a criminal cause fails to file his brief and on the day set for argument no appearance in behalf of either side is made, the judgment appealed from will be affirmed. State v. Cassill, 72 M 381, 382, 233 P 908.

95-2422. Entry and notice of orders and judgments. The notation of a judgment or order in the docket constitutes entry thereof. Upon entry of a judgment or order, the clerk shall promptly mail to all parties a copy of the judgment or order, and notice of the date of entry thereof.

History: En. 95-2422 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-2423. Petitions for rehearing. A petition for rehearing may be filed within ten (10) days after the decision of the supreme court has been rendered, unless the time is shortened or enlarged by order, and the adverse party shall have seven (7) days thereafter in which to serve and file his objections thereto. Extensions of time will be granted only upon showing of unusual merit and in no event in excess of ten (10) days. A petition for rehearing may be presented upon the following grounds and none others: That some facts, material to the decision, or some question decisive of the case submitted by counsel, was overlooked by the court, or that the decision is in conflict with an express statute or controlling decision to which the attention of the court was not directed. Oral argument in support of the petition will not be permitted. No reply to a petition for rehearing will be received unless requested by the court, but a petition for rehearing will ordinarily not be granted in the absence of such a request. Six (6) copies of the petition, produced in accordance with section 95-2420 (a), shall be filed with the clerk.

History: En. 95-2423 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-2424. Calendar—withdrawal of records. (a) Placing Causes upon Calendar. Thirty (30) days after the appellant's brief has been filed, the cause shall be placed on the calendar as ready for oral argument.

(b) Setting Causes for Argument. Causes against defendants held in custody will be set for argument by the court in advance of causes against defendants on bail unless for good cause the court shall otherwise order.

(c) Permission to Take Record from Clerk's Office. The records and other papers of the supreme court shall not be taken therefrom except by counsel pursuant to a written order of a justice of the court, which order shall specify the time the same may be retained out of the clerk's office; provided, that the court or a justice thereof may require the same to be returned within a shorter period upon notice. The clerk shall preserve each order and counsel's receipt until the papers therein mentioned shall be returned.

History: En. 95-2424 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Appeal, When Tried

Where appellant filed his transcript, and subsequently received seven separate orders for extensions of time to file his brief, court would refuse appellant's application to vacate the hearing of the appeal. State v. Cockrell, 130 M 552, 305 P 2d 337, 338.

95-2425. Substantial and insubstantial errors on appeal. Any error, defect, irregularity or variance which does not affect substantial rights shall be disregarded. Defects affecting jurisdictional or constitutional rights may be noticed although they were not brought to the attention of the trial court.

History: En. 95-2425 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Technical Errors

A judgment of conviction will not be reversed for error in the trial proceedings that did not prejudice, or tend to prejudice, defendant in respect to a substantial right. State v. Rhys, 40 M 131, 134, 105 P 494.

A judgment of conviction will not be reversed unless the error prejudiced, or tended to the prejudice of, defendant. State v. Vanella, 40 M 326, 345, 106 P 364.

In criminal cases no judgment will be reversed for technical errors or defects which do not affect the substantial rights of the defendant and where the record is sufficient to establish the guilt of the defendant, a new trial will not be granted, even though there was error, unless it clearly appears that the error complained of actually prejudiced the defendant in his right to a fair trial. State v. Dixon, 80 M 181, 213, 260 P 138; State v. Ray, 88 M 436, 446, 294 P 368.

Technical Errors—Absence of Juror

Failure of a properly notified juror to be present when the jury was impaneled did not invalidate the trial as the defendant had the right only to reject jurors and not to select any particular juror. State v. Moran, 142 M 423, 384 P 2d 777.

Technical Errors—Admission of Evidence

An erroneous ruling of the court in admitting evidence which could not affect the substantial rights of the parties must be disregarded. Church v. Zywert, 58 M 102, 107, 190 P 291.

Technical Errors—Apex Juris

Where no substantial right of the defendant has been disregarded, a mere apex juris is not sufficient cause for the reversal or modification of the judgment. State v. Connors, 27 M 227, 229, 70 P 715.

Technical Errors—Challenge to Juror

Held in a prosecution for receiving stolen property that where a juror on his voir dire in answer to questions propounded by the state admitted that he was a close friend of defendant but could try him as if he were a stranger, but that he would like to be excused, and then stated that he would not convict him even if he believed him guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, thereafter, however, on examination by defendant's counsel, again asserting that he would vote for conviction regardless of his friendship for defendant if proper under the law and the evidence, the court's ruling excusing the juror may not be held reversible error even though it be conceded that technical error was committed in sustaining the challenge on an improper ground. State v. Huffman, 89 M 194, 198, 296 P 789.

Technical Errors—Curing Prejudice

Withdrawal of evidence in criminal case, of similar offenses, on motion or by instruction is ineffective to cure prejudice unless supreme court on inspection of record can say that the effect of the evidence was clearly removed; and where a general objection was interposed, failure to move to strike or withdraw it from jury's consideration is immaterial. State v. Simanton, 100 M 292, 309, 49 P 2d 981, overruled on related issue in State v. Knox, 119 M 449, 453, 175 P 2d 774.

Technical Errors—Defective Information

An information charging an attempt to obtain money by false pretenses, though defective in form and containing immaterial averments, is sufficient to sustain a conviction, when it is apparent that the defendant has suffered no prejudice. State v. Phillips, 36 M 112, 118, 92 P 299.

Technical Errors—Degrees of Offense

Where under the evidence submitted at a trial for assault in the second degree, the defendant might have been convicted of assault in either the second or third degree, but was found guilty of the lower degree, the judgment will not be reversed for a purely technical error in giving an instruction. State v. Tracey, 35 M 552, 555, 90 P 791.

Technical Errors—Endorsing Name of Witness

Where a county attorney violated express statutory injunction by endorsing the name of a witness as "John Doe Mitchell," whereas he knew his true name to be "James Mitchell," defendant was not entitled to a new trial in the absence of a showing that he had been prejudiced by the officer's delinquency. State v. McDonald, 51 M 1, 7, 149 P 279.

Technical Errors—Erroneous Instruction

Erroneous instructions are not cause for reversal in the absence of any prejudice. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 236.

Technical Errors—Evidentiary Exhibits

Where exhibits consisting of photographs of the automobile in which some of the shots resulting in the killing of deceased had been fired and of the body of deceased, a pistol taken from defendant after the shooting, revolver clips, etc., all of which had been admitted in evidence without objection by defendant, were taken to the jury room, at the close of the trial, apparently without the affirmative consent of defendant and without an order of court permitting it to be done, but there was no showing that by the procedure the jury were given any other information than that obtained at the trial, it may not be presumed that the procedure resulted to the prejudice of the defendant. State v. Cates, 97 M 173, 198, 205, 33 P 2d 578.

Technical Errors—Impeachment of Accused

The right of one on trial for crime forbidding his impeachment in any other manner than that prescribed by section 93-1901-11 is a substantial one. State v. Shannon, 95 M 280, 292, 26 P 2d 360.

Technical Errors—Improper Evidence and Cross-examination

Errors in the admission of improper evidence or in the permission of improper cross-examination have been held in and of themselves sufficiently prejudicial to justify the reversal of a judgment. State v. Patton, 102 M 51, 63, 55 P 2d 1290.

Technical Errors—Instructions to Jury

Under this case, held, on appeal from a judgment of conviction for forgery, that, while it was error to advise the jury in an instruction as to the purpose for which testimony of other like acts had been admitted, that testimony had been admitted relating to certain "forgeries," since whether or not a forgery had been committed was the fact to be determined by the jury, in view of other portions of the charge carefully safeguarding the rights of defendant, the inadvertent use of the term "forgeries" could not have worked to his prejudice. State v. Daems, 97 M 486, 500, 37 P 2d 322.

Technical Errors—Judge's Remarks

A remark of the trial judge in passing upon an objection to a question asked a witness for the defense in a criminal cause to the effect: "I don't think that is very material; let him answer," while improper, held technical error and nonprejudicial when considered in connection with the particular circumstances. State v. Cassill, 71 M 274, 283, 229 P 716; State v. Sedlacek, 74 M 201, 216, 239 P 1002.

Technical Errors—Larceny

In a prosecution for the larceny of two calves, refusal of the court to strike the testimony of a cattleman that two cows, the condition of the bags of which indicated that they had lost their calves but a short time theretofore, were acting as though they were looking for them, held not reversible error under the circumstances, among them that defendant killed the calves after being charged with their theft and thus blocked the test proposed by the stock inspector by getting the cows and seeing whether they would claim the calves. State v. Grimsley, 96 M 327, 335, 30 P 2d 85.

Technical Errors—Leading Questions

Under the rule that the supreme court will not reverse a judgment of conviction for mere technical irregularities not affecting injuriously the substantial rights of appellant, for alleged error in overruling objections to several questions claimed to have been leading but which were of no special importance but merely explanatory in character, a new trial will not be ordered. State v. Wong Fong, 75 M 81, 88, 241 P 1072.

Technical Errors—Necessity of Transcript of Evidence

In order to give effect to predecessor section to determine whether the erroneous instructions were merely technical errors, or affected the substantial rights of the accused, it was necessary that the supreme court have before it a transcript of the evidence. State v. Hay, 120 M 573, 194 P 2d 232, 237.

Technical Errors—Presence of Accused at Trial

The presence of defendant at his trial was a matter which affected the substantial rights of both parties and therefore the provision requiring the supreme court to give judgment on appeal without regard to technical errors or defects not affecting the substantial rights of the parties, had no application. State v. Reed, 65 M 51, 61, 210 P 756.

Technical Errors—Presence of Jurors

Where the record in a criminal cause did not show that the jurors were not all present when the verdict was delivered, and from the minutes no other fair inference could be drawn than that they were actually present at the time, the omission from the minutes of a statement that their names were called prior to delivery of the verdict was not an error which prejudiced defendant in his substantial rights. State v. De Lea, 36 M 531, 536, 93 P 814.

Technical Errors—Presumption of Prejudice

Query, as to whether the rule, that "error appearing, prejudice will be presumed," as announced prior to the adoption of the codes in 1895, was abrogated by statutes declaring that no judgment shall be held invalid for mere technical errors not affecting the substantial rights of the defendant. State v. Gordon, 35 M 458, 466, 90 P 173; see State v. Byrd, 41 M 585, 592, 111 P 407.

It ought no longer to be the rule in criminal cases in this state that, error being shown, prejudice will be presumed, as was held prior to 1895, when the codes were adopted. The former practice resulted in altogether too many reversals of criminal cases for technical errors which did not affect the substantial rights of the defendant. State v. Byrd, 41 M 585, 592, 111 P 407.

Prejudice to appellant in a criminal cause cannot be presumed, but must be made to appear, either affirmatively by the record, or by a denial or invasion of some substantial right from which the law imputes prejudice. State v. Hall, 55 M 182, 188, 175 P 267.

Prejudice in a criminal case will not be presumed, but rather must appear from the denial or invasion of a substantial right from which the law imputes prejudice. State v. Straight, 136 M 255, 347 P 2d 482, 488; State v. Bubnash, 142 M 377, 382 P 2d 830.

Technical Errors—Prior Conviction

A technical error in pleading a prior conviction will not work a reversal, if the punishment imposed does not exceed the limit which could properly be imposed. State v. Paisley, 36 M 237, 248, 92 P 566.

Technical Errors—Questions

In a prosecution for first degree assault, question posed by the prosecution relating to potential criminal bribery, if error, was technical error which did not provide a basis for a reversal, in view of fact that questions posed were not evidence, that they were answered in the negative and that the court had instructed the jury not to consider the remarks of counsel. State v. Gallagher, 151 M 501, 445 P 2d 45.

Technical Errors—Rape

In a prosecution for attempted rape, the introduction in evidence of the clothing worn by the prosecuting witness, though immaterial, was not reversible error, where there was no evidence that the articles were muddy, torn and blood-stained, as claimed, and thus likely to inflame the minds of the jurors, and where the original exhibits were not certified to the supreme court for inspection; prejudice cannot be presumed, but must be made to appear affirmatively. State v. Prouty, 60 M 310, 313, 199 P 281; Lindeberg v. Howe, 67 M 195, 199, 215 P 230.

Technical Errors—Supreme Court To Determine

It is for the supreme court to determine whether an error affects the substantial rights of the defendant. If the point can be decided from an inspection of the record, the court may act accordingly; if the defendant claims prejudice, it is his duty to demonstrate that fact from the record. State v. Byrd, 41 M 585, 592, 111 P 407.

To warrant the supreme court in interfering with the judgment in a criminal case, it must appear that the substantial rights of the defendant have been injuriously affected. State v. Crean, 43 M 47, 60, 114 P 603.

Supreme court will not reverse a judgment of conviction on account of technical errors or defects in the information, where defendant was fully advised of the nature of the charge against him to enable him to prepare to meet that charge, and his substantial rights were not affected by the defect. State v. Wehr, 57 M 469, 188 P 930.

Supreme court on appeal in a criminal cause must give judgment without regard to technical errors or defects or to exceptions which do not affect the substantial rights of the defendant. State v. McConville, 64 M 302, 309, 209 P 987.

If person has gone to trial under indictment on which witnesses' names were designated as Richard Roe and John Doe and convicted, the supreme court would be required to sustain the conviction if possible and burden would be on defendant to show prejudice. State ex rel. Porter v. District Court, 124 M 249, 220 P 2d 1035, 1043.

It is up to the supreme court to decide whether an error affects the substantial rights of the defendant, and the defendant must demonstrate prejudice from the record. State v. Straight, 136 M 255, 347 P 2d 482, 488; State v. Bubnash, 142 M 377, 382 P 2d 830.

Technical Errors—Unresponsive Answer

Though refusal to strike out an unresponsive answer in which the witness volunteers a statement of facts from which the complaining party has probably suffered prejudice will result in a reversal of the judgment, such refusal is harmless error where the objectionable statement was volunteered on cross-examination after having been twice before made on his direct examination. State v. Jones, 48 M 505, 515, 139 P 441.

Waiver of Error

References by county attorney as to the nature of the trial, an appeal from justice court, claimed as prejudicial error in the district court, was waived by counsel for defendant when he approved instructions to be given by the court which included reference to justice court proceedings and thereafter obtained deletion from the instructions of the phrase which read "and was found guilty following a jury trial." State v. Gilbert, 139 M 204, 362 P 2d 221, 224.

95-2426. Determination of appeal. On appeal the reviewing court may:

- (1) Reverse, affirm or modify the judgment or order from which the appeal is taken;
- (2) Set aside, affirm or modify any or all of the proceedings subsequent to or dependent upon the judgment or order from which the appeal is taken;
- (3) Reduce the degree of the offense of which the appellant was convicted;
- (4) Reduce the punishment imposed by the trial court; or
- (5) Order a new trial if justice so requires.

History: En. 95-2426 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Degree Presumed Correct

In the absence of testimony, it will be presumed on appeal that the trial court, in a burglary case, had evidence before it justifying a finding that, if guilty at all, the defendant was guilty of an attempt to commit burglary in the nighttime, which constitutes the first degree of the offense, and that the punishment inflicted was proper. State v. Mish, 36 M 168, 175, 92 P 459.

Where the judgment was silent as to the degree of burglary of which defendant was convicted and the sentence imposed was such as might be imposed for first degree burglary only, supreme court would presume, where no appeal was taken, that the court ascertained that defendant was guilty of burglary in the first degree. State ex rel. Williams v. Henry, 119 M 271, 174 P 2d 220, 222.

v. District Court, 130 M 57, 294 P 2d 907. (Dissenting opinion, 130 M 57, 294 P 2d 907, 911.)

Fair Trial Criterion

Where on appeal in a homicide case three of the justices of the supreme court, a majority, are of the opinion that the trial court committed error resulting in denial of a fair trial to defendant, but are unable to agree as to any one of the grounds urged by him in his assignment of errors being sufficient to warrant a reversal of the judgment, a retrial will be ordered; under such circumstances it is immaterial that the majority do not agree as to any particular error set forth in his assignment of errors—a mere procedural requirement — the real question being whether or not defendant had a fair trial. State v. Le Due, 89 M 545, 580, 300 P 919.

Mandate, on Remand, Binding

Where supreme court reversed conviction of defendant and remanded cause to district court with directions that if defendant have a new trial the district court should first make inquiry into the defendant's insanity but if the prosecution is dismissed that the district court deliver the defendant to the court of another county which has continuing jurisdiction over the defendant so that the latter court may inquire into his mental condition and make such disposition of the defendant as is required by law; and thereafter the prosecution was dismissed, the trial court then was compelled to deliver the defendant to the other district court and county attorney could not file a new information. The trial court was bound to follow the mandate of the supreme court as found in the remittitur and mandamus will lie to require that the district court follow such mandate. State ex rel. Kitchens

Modification of Judgment

A judgment of conviction for crime, which erroneously included payment by defendant of the costs of prosecution, is not on that account void as a whole; but the same may be modified by striking therefrom the provision as to costs, and, as so modified, be allowed to stand. State v. Stone, 40 M 88, 93, 105 P 89.

Reduction of Degree of Offense

Supreme court has the power to reduce a verdict of murder in the first degree to make it fit the crime established by the evidence, to wit, murder in the second degree. State v. Gunn, 89 M 453, 464, 300 P 212.

Reduction of Sentence

The sentence of a defendant, who pleaded guilty to grand larceny, to four years in the state prison, pursuant to section 94-2706, was reduced to one year by the supreme court where trial court passed sentence upon receipt of private reports without allowing defendant or his counsel to learn of the representations in the reports and a hearing to present evidence to refute such representations. Kuhl v. District Court, 139 M 536, 366 P 2d 347, 365.

Remand for New Trial

When a judgment of acquittal is reversed on appeal it is proper for the supreme court to remand the case to the district court for a new trial, where the defendant may then, if he desires, plead former acquittal in bar of such new trial. State v. Herron, 12 M 300, 30 P 140.

95-2427. Issuance of mandate, return of record and termination of jurisdiction. Upon termination of the appeal the supreme court shall remand the cause with proper instruction, together with the opinion of the court; and the clerk shall return all original documents to the trial court.

After the cause has been remanded to the trial court, the appellate court has no further jurisdiction of the appeal or the proceedings thereon, and all orders necessary to carry the judgment into effect must be made by the court to which the cause is remanded.

History: En. 95-2427 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Supreme Court's Loss of Jurisdiction

Where supreme court reversed conviction and the remittitur went down in due course and was filed with the lower court, the supreme court at that time lost jurisdiction in the case. Specifically it lost any jurisdiction it may have had theretofore to alter in any particular either the opinion or the mandate which followed upon that opinion, certainly unless the remittitur were first recalled. State ex rel. Kitchens v. District Court, 130 M 57, 294 P 2d 907, 908.

95-2428. Indigent appeals. (a) Upon imposition of any sentence in a criminal case a defendant may file in the trial court a petition requesting that he be furnished with a transcript of the proceeding at his trial. The petition shall be verified by the petitioner and shall state facts showing that he is at the time of filing the petition without financial means to pay for the transcript. If the trial judge who imposed sentence or in his absence any judge of the court finds that the defendant is without financial means with which to obtain the transcript of the proceedings at his trial he shall order the official court reporter to transcribe an original and copy of his notes of the proceedings at the trial. The original of the report of proceedings shall be filed with the clerk of the trial court and the copy shall be delivered to the defendant without charge.

(b) Application to the Supreme Court. If the petition provided for in subsection (a) is denied by the trial court, a petition so to proceed may be filed in the supreme court within thirty (30) days after entry of the denial. The petition shall be accompanied by a copy of the verification filed in the trial court and of the statement of reasons for denial given by the trial court.

History: En. 95-2428 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2429. Appeal by one defendant. When several defendants are tried jointly, any one (1) or more of them may take an appeal; but those who do not join in the appeal shall not be affected thereby.

History: En. 95-2429 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2430. Defendant discharged on reversal of judgment. If a judgment against the defendant is reversed without ordering a new trial, the appellate court must, if he is in custody, direct him to be discharged therefrom; or if on bail, that his bail be exonerated; or if money was deposited instead of bail, that it be refunded to the defendant.

History: En. 95-2430 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

CHAPTER 25

APPELLATE REVIEW OF LEGAL SENTENCES

Section 95-2501. Review division of the supreme court for review of certain sentences.
95-2502. Procedure for review.
95-2503. Review—decision.
95-2504. Scope of act.

95-2501. Review division of the supreme court for review of certain sentences. The chief justice of the supreme court of Montana shall appoint three (3) district court judges to act as a review division of the supreme court and shall designate one of such judges to act as chairman thereof. The clerk of the Montana supreme court shall record such appointment and shall give notice thereof to the clerk of every district court. This review division shall meet at least four (4) times a year or more as its business requires as determined by the chairman. The decision of any two (2) of such judges shall be sufficient to determine any matter before the review division. No judge shall sit or act on a review of sentence imposed by him. In any case in which review of a sentence imposed by any of the judges serving on the review division is to be acted on by said division, the chief justice of the supreme court of Montana may designate another judge to act in place of such judge. The review division shall hold its meetings at Deer Lodge, and may adopt any rules and regulations which will expedite their review of sentences. The division is also authorized to appoint a secretary and such clerical help as it deems adequate and fix their compensation.

History: En. 95-2501 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2502. Procedure for review. Any person sentenced to a term of one (1) year or more in the state prison by any court of competent jurisdiction may, within sixty (60) days from the date such sentence was imposed, except in any case in which a different sentence could not have been imposed, file with the clerk of the district court in the county in which judgment was rendered, an application for review of the sentence by the review division. Upon imposition of the sentence the clerk shall give written notice to the person sentenced of his right to make such a request. Such notice shall include a statement that review of the sentence may result in decrease or increase of the sentence within limits fixed by law. The clerk shall transmit such application to the review division and shall notify the judge who imposed the sentence, and the county attorney of the county in which the sentence was imposed. Such judge may transmit to the review division a statement of his reasons for imposing the sentence, and shall transmit such a statement within seven (7) days, if requested to do so by the review division. The review division may for cause shown consider any late request for review of sentence and may grant such request. The filing of an application for review shall not stay the execution of the sentence.

History: En. 95-2502 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2503. Review—decision. The review division shall, in each case in which an application for review is filed in accordance with 95-2502, review the judgment so far as it relates to the sentence imposed, either increasing or decreasing the penalty, and any other sentence imposed on the person at the same time, and may order such different sentence or sentences to be imposed as could have been imposed at the time of the imposition of the sentence under review, or may decide that the sentence under review should stand. In reviewing any judgment, said division may require the production of presentence reports and any other records, documents or exhibits relevant to such review proceedings. The appellant may appear and be represented by counsel, and the state may be represented by the county attorney of the county in which the sentence was imposed. If the review division orders a different sentence, the court sitting in any convenient county shall resentence the defendant as ordered by the review division. Time served on the sentence reviewed shall be deemed to have been served on the sentence substituted. The decision of the review division in each case shall be final and the reasons for such decision shall be stated therein. The original of each decision shall be sent to the clerk of the court for the county in which the judgment was rendered and a copy shall be sent to the judge who imposed the sentence reviewed, the person sentenced, the principal officer of the institution in which he is confined and the decision shall be reported in the Montana Reports.

History: En. 95-2503 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2504. Scope of act. A person who on the effective date of this act is imprisoned under a sentence to the state prison and who is not eligible for parole may, notwithstanding the partial execution of such sentence, file for a review of such sentence and of any other sentence imposed at that time; provided, that at the time of such request for review such person shall execute a written consent to such sentence as may be imposed by the review division on such review, including an increased term. No such application shall be considered if taken later than two (2) years after the effective date of this act nor in any case in which a different sentence could not have been imposed.

History: En. 95-2504 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

Compiler's Note

The "effective date of this act" is January 1, 1968. See note following sec. 95-2716.

CHAPTER 26

POST-CONVICTION HEARING

- Section 95-2601. Petition in the trial court.
95-2602. Proceedings commenced by petition.
95-2603. Contents of the petition.
95-2604. When motion may be made.
95-2605. Proceedings on the petition.
95-2606. Record must be kept.
95-2607. Successive petitions not allowed.
95-2608. Review.

95-2601. Petition in the trial court. Any person adjudged guilty of an offense in a court of record who has no adequate remedy of appeal and who claims sentence was imposed in violation of the constitution or the laws of this state or the Constitution of the United States, or that the court was without jurisdiction to impose such sentence, or that sentence was in excess of the maximum authorized by law, or is otherwise subject to collateral attack, upon any ground of alleged error available under writ of habeas corpus, writ of coram nobis, or other common-law or statutory remedy may move the court which imposed the sentence or the supreme court or any justice of the supreme court to vacate, set aside, or correct the sentence.

History: En. 95-2601 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2602. Proceedings commenced by petition. The proceeding shall be commenced by filing with the clerk of the court in which the conviction took place or the clerk of the supreme court a verified petition. The clerk shall docket the petition upon its receipt and bring the same promptly to the attention of the court.

History: En. 95-2602 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2603. Contents of the petition. The petition shall identify the proceeding in which the petitioner was convicted, give date of the rendition of the final judgment complained of, and clearly set forth the alleged violation or violations. The petition shall have attached thereto affidavits, records or other evidence supporting its allegations or shall state why the same are not attached. They shall identify any previous proceedings that the petitioner may have taken to secure relief from his conviction. Arguments and citations and discussion of authorities shall be omitted from this petition.

History: En. 95-2603 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2604. When motion may be made. A motion for such relief may be made at any time after conviction.

History: En. 95-2604 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2605. Proceedings on the petition. Unless the motion and the files and records of the case conclusively show that the prisoner is entitled to no relief, the court shall cause notice thereof to be served upon the county attorney in the county in which the conviction took place, grant a prompt hearing thereon, determine the issue and make findings of fact and conclusions with respect thereto.

The court may receive proof by affidavits, depositions, oral testimony or other evidence. In its discretion the court may order the petitioner brought before the court for the hearing. If the court finds in favor of the petitioner, it shall enter an appropriate order with respect to the judgment or sentence in the former proceedings and such supplementary orders as to reassignment, retrial, custody, bail or discharge as may be necessary and proper. If the court finds for the state the petitioner shall be returned to the custody of the person to whom the writ was directed.

History: En. 95-2605 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2606. Record must be kept. A court which entertains a motion pursuant to this chapter must keep a record of the proceedings and enter its findings and conclusions.

History: En. 95-2606 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2607. Successive petitions not allowed. All grounds for relief claimed by a petitioner under this act must be raised in his original or amended petition, and any grounds, other than constitutional grounds not so raised are waived unless the court on hearing a subsequent petition finds grounds for relief asserted therein which could not reasonably have been raised in the original or amended petition.

History: En. 95-2607 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2608. Review. Either the petitioner or the state may appeal to the supreme court of Montana from an order entered on the motion. The appeal shall be taken within six (6) months from the entry of the order.

History: En. 95-2608 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

CHAPTER 27

HABEAS CORPUS

- Section 95-2701. Who may prosecute writ.
 95-2702. Writ for purpose of bail.
 95-2703. Application for, how made.
 95-2704. By whom issued and before whom returnable.
 95-2705. Writ granted without delay.
 95-2706. Refusal to obey writ.
 95-2707. Content of writ.
 95-2708. Service of the writ.
 95-2709. Return, what to contain.
 95-2710. Production of person—exception for infirmity or illness.
 95-2711. Hearing on return.
 95-2712. Production of evidence—depositions.
 95-2713. Disposition of petitioner.
 95-2714. Appeal on order of judgment on habeas corpus.
 95-2715. Writ and process may issue at any time.
 95-2716. No release for technical defects.

95-2701. Who may prosecute writ. Every person imprisoned or otherwise restrained of his liberty, within this state, may prosecute a writ of habeas corpus to inquire into the cause of such imprisonment or restraint, and if illegal to be delivered therefrom.

History: En. 95-2701 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

habeas corpus, Petition of Erickson, 146 M 456, 409 P 2d 447.

Cross-Reference

Application of Montana Rules of Civil Procedure to this chapter, see Table A, M. R. Civ. P.

Child Custody

While the welfare of a child in the matter of its custody is of paramount interest in habeas corpus proceeding involving custody, neither such interest nor the child's wish will justify a court in denying its custody to the surviving parent, in the absence of a showing of unfitness or inability to support the child, and turning it over to a stranger. August v. Burns, 79 M 198, 213, 255 P 737.

Curable Defects in Process

Where committing order stated that defendant was convicted for the crime of burglary, together with a prior conviction of a felony, but defendant was properly convicted and sentenced for robbery, and had a prior conviction of felony, erroneous use of the word burglary, which had been the prior felony for which defendant had been convicted, did not constitute such defect as to allow for writ of

Defective Indictment Not Ground for Relief

On application for habeas corpus the court will not determine whether the indictment upon which complainant was convicted was defective, since the writ cannot be used as a substitute for a demurrer or a motion to quash, its inquiry being confined to a determination of the validity of the process on its face and whether the court had jurisdiction of the offense charged. State ex rel. Boone v. Tullock, 72 M 482, 493, 234 P 277.

Denial of Federal Constitutional Rights

A writ of habeas corpus is not available in the state courts of Montana to correct denials of federal constitutional rights. Brown v. State, 202 F Supp 29, 30.

Denial of Writ

The writ of habeas corpus is directed at unlawful imprisonment or restraint of liberty, and where, even if the writ had been issued, it would not have resulted in the release of petitioner from confinement since he was confined under a five-year sentence imposed concurrently with his original ten-year sentence, habeas corpus was denied. In re Wagner's Petition, 145 M 101, 399 P 2d 761.

Effect as Res Judicata

While a proceeding in habeas corpus involving the custody of a child is civil in its nature and the decision of the court awarding its custody is final, except for abuse of discretion, its decision is res judicata only as to those matters properly determined by it on the merits. August v. Burns, 79 M 198, 213, 255 P 737.

Insufficient Commitment to Jail

Where a justice of the peace upon adjudging one guilty of contempt for disobeying a subpoena imposed a fine of $100 and upon refusal of payment committed him to jail until payment be made, but thereafter accepted a cash bond in lieu of fine and imprisonment pending final disposition of a certiorari proceeding and appeal to supreme court, the objection that the commitment was insufficient under statute requiring imprisonment until payment of fine would not lie since if the sheriff should presume to hold contemnour thereunder the proper remedy would be habeas corpus. State ex rel. Mercer v. Woods, 116 M 533, 542, 155 P 2d 197.

Legality of Custody

Where a petitioner for habeas corpus was convicted of murder, and oral judgment was rendered, confining him to prison for twenty-five years, without any record being made, but at a special term, after notice to petitioner and his counsel, the minutes were corrected to show the judgment as rendered, and on the judgment thus entered a commitment was issued, the petitioner was legally in custody, for the purposes of the judgment, and not entitled to his discharge. In re Dye, 32 M 132, 136, 79 P 689.

Motives of Prosecution

On a hearing of a habeas corpus sued out for the liberation of one who is sought to be extradited for the violation in another state it is not admissible to hear evidence upon, or to inquire into, the motives or purposes of the prosecution. State v. Booth, 134 M 235, 328 P 2d 1104, 1111.

Not of a Criminal Nature

Habeas corpus is not a special proceeding of a criminal nature. State ex rel. Brandegee v. Clements, 52 M 57, 59, 155

P 271; see also State ex rel. Newell v. Newell, 13 M 302, 305, 34 P 28; State ex rel. Jackson v. Kennie, 24 M 45, 60 P 589, and State ex rel. Hepner v. District Court, 40 M 17, 104 P 872.

Petitioner, Not Defendant

The term "defendant" is not a proper designation for a petitioner in a habeas corpus proceeding. State ex rel. Jackson v. Kennie, 24 M 45, 50, 60 P 589.

Petit or Grand Larceny

Where a person, after a preliminary examination, is committed for grand larceny, and, upon his suing out a writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that he is guilty of petit larceny only, it appears from the evidence before the justice that he was guilty at least of petit larceny, and that there was a reasonable basis for the belief that he was guilty of grand larceny, it is the imperative duty of the court to remand him. In re Jones, 46 M 122, 125, 126 P 929.

Purpose

The purpose of a writ of habeas corpus is to determine the legality or illegality of the restraint alleged to be exercised; it is available only to persons unlawfully imprisoned or restrained of their liberty, and is independent of the legal proceeding under which the detention is sought to be justified. August v. Burns, 79 M 198, 213, 255 P 737.

Trial Court Jurisdiction

Where the court imposed a prison sentence for a misdemeanor, its judgment was void as being in excess of its jurisdiction, and the prisoner was entitled to habeas corpus. State v. District Court, 35 M 321, 326, 89 P 63.

On application for writ of habeas corpus, which presents the inquiry whether the trial court had jurisdiction of the subject matter of the prosecution and of the defendant and to render such a judgment as the law authorizes in the particular case, the presumption of jurisdiction is conclusive unless want of it appears on the face of the record, and express recitals of jurisdictional facts cannot be rebutted by evidence dehors the record. In re Shaffer, 70 M 609, 613, 227 P 37.

Law Review

The Writ of Habeas Corpus, 26 Mont. L. Rev. 57 (1964).

95-2702. Writ for purpose of bail. When a person is imprisoned or detained in custody on any criminal charge, for want of bail, such person is entitled to a writ of habeas corpus for the purpose of giving bail, upon averring that fact in his petition, without alleging that he is illegally confined.

History: En. 95-2702 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

When Bail Allowable

It is proper to allow bail, in a homicide case, in the absence of a showing, by the county attorney, that the proof of the defendant's guilt is evident or the presumption thereof great. State ex rel. Murray v. District Court, 35 M 504, 507, 90 P 513.

95-2703. Application for, how made. Application for the writ is made by petition, signed either by the party for whose relief it is intended, or by some person in his behalf, and must specify:

(a) That the person in whose behalf the writ is applied for is unlawfully imprisoned or restrained of his liberty, why the imprisonment or restraint is unlawful, the officer or person by whom he is so confined or restrained, and the place where, naming all the parties if they are known, or describing them if they are not known.

(b) The petition must be verified by the oath or affirmation of the party making the application.

History: En. 95-2703 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Denial of Speedy Trial

Petition for writ of habeas corpus by petitioner being held on detainer from another state, alleging that delay by other state in lodging a detainer deprived petitioner of right to a speedy trial, was denied on grounds that petitioner had deprived himself of a speedy trial by fleeing from the other state and his petition disclosed no factual basis as required by the statute on which to base the issuance of a writ. Petition of Ferguson, 150 M 178, 432 P 2d 773.

95-2704. By whom issued and before whom returnable. The writ of habeas corpus may be granted:

(a) By the supreme court, or any justice thereof, upon petition by or on behalf of any person restrained of his liberty in this state. When so issued it may be made returnable before the court, or any justice thereof, or before any district court or judge thereof.

(b) By the district courts or a judge thereof, upon petition by or on behalf of any person restrained of his liberty in their respective counties or districts.

History: En. 95-2704 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-2705. Writ granted without delay. Any court or judge authorized to grant the writ, to whom a petition therefor is presented, must if it appears that the writ ought to issue, grant the same without delay.

History: En. 95-2705 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

Mandamus To Compel Action by District Court

A writ of mandate to compel district court to take action on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus was denied by the supreme court where petitioner did not establish a clear legal right to have the writ of habeas corpus issued. Petition of John J. Tomich, 139 M 624, 365 P 2d 950.

95-2706. Refusal to obey writ. If the person commanded by the writ refuses to obey he shall be adjudged in contempt of court.

History: En. 95-2706 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196, L. 1967.

95-2707. Content of writ. (a) The writ must be directed to the person having custody of or restraining the person on whose behalf the application is made, and must command him to have the body of such person before the court, or judge, before whom the writ is returnable, at a time and place therein specified.

(b) The issue or issues to be determined upon return of the writ may be stated, either in the writ or in an order attached to the writ. If the issue or issues to be determined upon return of the writ are not stated therein, or in an order attached thereto then a copy of the petition must be attached to the writ.

History: En. 95-2707 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2708. Service of the writ. (a) The writ must be served upon the person to whom it is directed. If the person to whom the writ is directed represents a state institution, a copy of the writ shall be served upon the attorney general. If such person represents a county institution, a copy of the writ shall be served upon the county attorney.

(b) The writ shall be served by the clerk of court, the sheriff or any other officer directed to do so by the court.

(c) The writ shall be served in the same manner as a summons in civil actions, except when otherwise expressly directed by the court or judge.

History: En. 95-2708 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2709. Return, what to contain. The person upon whom the writ is served must make a return and state in his return:

(a) Whether he has the party in his custody or under his power or restraint.

(b) If he has the party in his custody or under his power or restraint, he shall state the authority for and cause of such custody or restraint. If the detention is by legal process a copy thereof must be annexed to the response.

(c) If he had the party in his custody or under his power or restraint at any time prior or subsequent to the date of the writ, but has transferred such custody or restraint to another, the return must state particularly to whom, at what time and place, for what cause and by what authority such transfer took place.

(d) The return must be signed by the person making the same, and, except when such person is a sworn public officer, and makes such return in his official capacity, it must be verified by his oath.

History: En. 95-2709 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2710. Production of person—exception for infirmity or illness. The person commanded by the writ shall bring the detained person according to the command of the writ unless it is made to appear by affidavit that because of sickness or infirmity such person cannot be brought before the judge without danger to his health. If the judge is satisfied with the truth of the affidavit he may proceed and dispose of the case as if the party had been produced, or the hearing may be postponed until the party can be present.

History: En. 95-2710 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2711. Hearing on return. (a) The court or judge before whom the writ is returned must, immediately after the return, proceed to hear and examine the return.

(b) The hearing on the writ may be summary in nature.

History: En. 95-2711 by Sec. 1, Ch. 196,
L. 1967.

95-2712. Production of evidence—depositions. Evidence may be produced and compelled as in civil actions. Depositions taken in accordance with the Rules of Civil Procedure may be read as evidence at the hearing on the writ.

L. 1967.
